

Special Semester Review Issue

Hicksville Man Shot in SUNY Albany Hostage Scuffle

By THOMAS F. MASSE
Statesman Editor in Chief

A Hicksville native is listed in serious but stable condition after confronting a lone gunman that took an entire class hostage for almost two hours at SUNY Albany yesterday.

Jason McEnaney, 19, was shot with a single bullet that tore through his abdomen, groin and thigh as the crisis culminated. Two other shots were fired before the gunman, Ralph Tortorici, 26, was wrestled to the ground by five other students in the classroom.

"The students were heroes," said SUNY Albany spokesman Joe Blumenthal. "There's no question that Jason McEnaney is a hero."

Tortorici, a psychology major, entered classroom LC5 in the university's Lecture Center at approximately 9:30 a.m. carrying a duffel bag. The bag contained a Remington .270 caliber semi-automatic rifle and boxes of ammunition.

Armed police were notified and immediately evacuated the rest of the building and sealed off the area. Authorities spoke to Tortorici by phone and arranged the release of Professor Hans Pohlsander and five students during the standoff.

"He demanded a number of things... to speak to the president, to speak to the governor, everything," said Albany Police Chief John Dale.

According to other sources, Tortorici's complaint regarded his student status and financial aid. The university has no record of any complaint from Tortorici on file. Two of the five students released said that Tortorici treated sophomore, who appeared nervous and fidgety.

According to Connors, the situation escalated to the point where Tortorici told McEnaney, "If you move one more time, I'm gonna put a bullet in your head."

Connors said that Tortorici began moving students around the room when the confrontation occurred.

"He [Tortorici] was standing with the gun to Jason's bellybutton and was yelling at him," Connors said. "Then he started yelling at some other people and when he turned his head, Jason grabbed the barrel of the gun, pushed it to the floor and it went off. Then, when the gun was pushed to the floor, it went off twice more."

At that time, five other students, including Connors, rushed Tortorici and subdued him. According to the Record in Troy, NY, the five students were situated in different parts of the room and had not coordinated the rush.

Albany Police found a knife on Tortorici's person when he was arrested. Tortorici suffered cuts in the scuffle and he and McEnaney were both taken to Albany Medical Center Hospital. McEnaney underwent surgery until approximately 5:00 p.m. and was listed in serious but stable condition last night.

As Tortorici was escorted to a squad car, he shouted "Government experiments" to the crowd that had gathered. According to Lisa Cramer, a student at SUNY Albany, See HOSTAGE, Page 2

"If you move one more time, I'm gonna put a bullet in your head."

- Gunman Ralph Tortorici to hostage Jason McEnaney

the hostages of the class on ancient Greece well, allowing them to study and smoke. However, nearing the end of the crisis, tensions apparently began to rise. Senior Mike Connors, 26 of Northport, said that Tortorici began picking on McEnaney, a

Polity Judiciary Nullifies Dec. 7 Senate Meeting

By THOMAS F. MASSE
Statesman Editor in Chief
AND THOMAS V. FLANAGAN
Statesman Staff Writer

Due to a Layout error, the wrong version of this story was printed in Monday's issue. The following is the correct story.

The Polity Judiciary nullified last Wednesday's Polity Senate meeting for not following proper procedure at a judiciary meeting last night, the judiciary said.

"The December 7 meeting is completely called out of order," said Associate Justice Vincent Bruzzese. "Everything that happened on December 7, never happened."

According to Bruzzese, the senate did not follow proper procedures from beginning to end. The decree handed down last night states: "Due to Ken Daube's objection before the end of the vote, we rule that the December 7th senate meeting is called out of order because of incorrect procedure by the senate chair Annette Hicks."

The procedure in question revolves around the December 7 call to order. Bruzzese said that parliamentary procedure dictates that the December 7 meeting should have followed directly from the meeting of November 30, which was adjourned due to loss of quorum.

When quorum is lost, the next meeting should be called to order by the same chairperson who adjourned the original meeting. At the time of reconvening, the chair should bring back to the floor the same order of business that was on the floor when quorum was lost.

The judiciary decree states the proper procedure. "Because quorum broke during motion 4, Ken Daube is the presiding officer of the next meeting. The first item of the agenda is motion 4 of the November 30th meeting; motion to overturn the chair's decision to not recognize Annette Hicks as a voting member of the senate body."

However, when the senate convened on December 7, Hicks assumed the chair and disregarded the state of business that was being discussed at the end of the previous meeting. She threw out motion four and asked that motion three, to make council members ex-officio, non-voting members of the senate, be made again. Hicks then entertained further discussion of motion three.

According to Bruzzese, Article II, Section L of the senate bylaws states that "anything from the senate can be overturned [by the judiciary] if someone makes an objection before the vote is counted."

Daube said he objected at the opening of the senate meeting on December 7. "Later on [in the meeting], I made a point of order stating that if we didn't follow proper procedure, it [the meeting] could be overturned by the judiciary," he said.

Crystal Plati, Polity president, disagreed. "A body has a right to suspend it's own procedure at any point through consensus of that body," she said. "There was consensus at that Senate meeting [December 7]; it was accepted that there was some misunderstanding or confusion about what happened at the last meeting [November 30]."

According to Plati, the Senate agreed that it would temporarily adjourn and have an open discussion without parliamentary procedure. When the Senate was ready to vote, it reconvened into formal session.

"The next meeting that they [Polity Senate] have will have to start off with Ken Daube as chair," Bruzzese said.

"I think it's unfair for the judiciary to make such a decision without consulting with the chair of the body itself," said Plati. "I'm not sure if that happened." □

Students surround Polity Vice President Annette Hicks after last Wednesday's Polity Senate meeting that was ruled "Out of Order" by the Polity Judiciary Sunday.

Statesman / John Chu

2 Hicksville Man Shot in SUNY Albany Hostage Scuffle

HOSTAGE, From Front Page

Tortorici, who has "enough credits to be a senior" once told her that he thought he had a microchip implanted in his head by the government.

"I saw him on TV being taken off," said Susan Craine, news editor of Albany Student Press, the student newspaper. "He was screaming and yelling and laughing. He didn't look like a sane man at all."

Tortorici has a Post Office box listed in Schenectady and has family in Guiderland outside of Albany; however, no permanent address could be acquired. He was arraigned last night for First and Second Degree Attempted Murder. Other charges may be brought against him later, police said.

An Albany Police spokesman said that Tortorici was carrying at least four boxes of ammunition, enough to kill everyone in the classroom.

According to the Record, McEnaney's family flew to Albany to be with him last night. McEnaney, a graduate of Bethpage High School, is a member of Sigma Chi fraternity and is a work-study student in the university's Human Resources department.

"He's a nice guy," said Rachel McEneny, an acquaintance of McEnaney, "but I never knew him as someone who would throw himself in front of a gun."

This story was supplemented with wire stories.

Statesman / John Chu

TAKE A BREAK! Sophomore Angelina Gonzalez (left) takes a study break, grabbing a free doughnut provided by the Stony Brook Alumni Association. Doughnuts, cookies, coffee and tea will be provided free to all students in the Melville Library from 8p.m. to 10p.m. on the nights before finals.

(516) 941-4545

STONY BROOK BEVERAGE, INC.
COLD BEER, SODA & KEGS

COKE 12 PK CANS
$2.99

PLUS TAX AND DEPOSIT • Expires 12/22/94

BUSCH 16 oz. TALLNECKS
$10.99 cs

PLUS TAX AND DEPOSIT • Expires 12/22/94

ROLLING ROCK 12 PACK

$6.99

PLUS TAX AND DEPOSIT • Expires 12/22/94

710 ROUTE 25A, SETAUKET

BETWEEN NICOLLS RD & BENNETTS RD

Happy Holidays

to Everyone from

The Stony Brook

Statesman

Have a Safe and Happy Break!

Statesman / Thomas F. Masse

When Old Man Winter strikes this season. Call Stony Brook's two new Snow Information Lines. The two lines will carry the most up-to-date information on adverse weather conditions and both campuses open/closed status.

STONY BROOK

BROADEN YOUR HORIZONS

Interested in studying at another U.S. college or university and still graduate from Stony Brook? The National Student Exchange gives you over 100 options in 46 states. You need to be matriculated at Stony Brook with at least a 2.5 g.p.a. and be a U.S. citizen or permanent resident.

For more information call

Barbara Fletcher, NSE Coordinator 632-6871

SECURITY GUARDS

Part Time/ Full Time

ALL SHIFTS

STUDY WHILE GETTING PAID

CALL 724-7189

A Fun, Full Service Restaurant. Open 7 Days — Lunch 'n Dinner
Just a hop skip & a jump from SUSB

Our Lunch Munch! Every Day!

$1.24
PLUS TAX

Bart's
grub'n firewater

1/4 lb.* Juicy
Steerburger or Turkeyburger served with anyone of our regular side orders!

*prior to cooking

Lake Grove
Rt. 25
588-1700

No Limit!!!
11:30 AM 'til 4:00 PM

Sorry no take-outs at this price.

"Let Each Become Aware"

Monday, August 29, 1994

Founded 1957

Welcome Back?

Stony Brook/Thomas F. Mackey

Classes begin today, but student may have a difficult time getting to them. Construction seems to be everywhere on campus, including on roads, walkways and buildings. Here, two early returning students circumscribe the area closed off near the former Central Hall, soon-to-be Student Activities Center. This construction has resulted in pedestrians' extreme inconvenience, there being no direct route from Physics, Math and Hartman Hall to Jarvis or Life Sciences.

Arson in Health Science Center

Third such crime in as many months has University Police puzzled

By Carl Curry
Stony Brook News Editor

A fire alarm in the Health Sciences Center prompted the University Police and Stony Brook Fire Department to respond to a deliberate fire set in the early morning last Saturday, according to university officials.

Assistant Director of University Police Paul Campagna said a fire alarm sounded at 1:15 a.m. in the Health Sciences Center. He said that the fire was set in the early morning last Saturday, according to university officials.

By Carl Curry

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Stony Brook News Editor

Dr. Kenny Welcome New Students at Convocation

Calls on students to keep lines of communication open and free

By Joe Prioli and Angela Mori
Stony Brook News Editors

The Main Stage of the Stony Brook Convocation was almost filled to make them better and when President-elect Dr. Shirley Strum Kenny addressed the freshmen, transfer students and their families at the New Student Convocation on Saturday.

The event, sponsored by the University Bookstore and coordinated by the Department of Student Union and Activities and Executive Area of Student Affairs, was Dr. Kenny's first personal address to the Stony Brook community.

"I want to say to the students, 'welcome,' this is going to be the greatest adventure of your life," said Dr. Kenny. Stony Brook's newest and first female president.

"When you start as freshmen or come to us as transfers, in many cases, you have a chance to explore what that career, what your life's work, and what your life's interests will be and I hope you will take every opportunity to use these chances."

Dr. Kenny emphasized the importance of communication between students and faculty and staff. "But that communication between my office and between you, who are new, is enormously important," she said. "If things are not perfect, it's your responsibility to make them better and remember the faculty and staff are your partners in making our place the best."

Dr. Kenny also stressed the significance of communication outside of the classroom and later in life. "You must be able to express your ideas to others or they're useless," she said. "You must be able to express them to large groups and small, and most importantly of all, one on one. You've got to be able to express your ideas or they die, aborted."

According to Dr. Kenny, this communication cannot be initiated without the foundation of a community, whether it be in a classroom, a residence hall or through a student organization. "Understand that a community is not created and handed to you," she stated. "It can't be done arbitrarily, artificially. It has to grow like a natural thing."

In order to create and develop one's community, Dr. Kenny recommended trying new and staff. "But that communication between my office and between you, who are new, is enormously important," she said. "If things are not perfect, it's your responsibility to make them better and remember the faculty and staff are your partners in making our place the best."

Dr. Kenny also stressed the significance of communication outside of the classroom and later in life. "You must be able to express your ideas to others or they're useless," she said. "You must be able to express them to large groups and small, and most importantly of all, one on one. You've got to be able to express your ideas or they die, aborted."

According to Dr. Kenny, this communication cannot be initiated without the foundation of a community, whether it be in a classroom, a residence hall or through a student organization. "Understand that a community is not created and handed to you," she stated. "It can't be done arbitrarily, artificially. It has to grow like a natural thing."

In order to create and develop one's community, Dr. Kenny recommended trying new and staff. "But that communication between my office and between you, who are new, is enormously important," she said. "If things are not perfect, it's your responsibility to make them better and remember the faculty and staff are your partners in making our place the best."

Dr. Kenny also stressed the significance of communication outside of the classroom and later in life. "You must be able to express your ideas to others or they're useless," she said. "You must be able to express them to large groups and small, and most importantly of all, one on one. You've got to be able to express your ideas or they die, aborted."

According to Dr. Kenny, this communication cannot be initiated without the foundation of a community, whether it be in a classroom, a residence hall or through a student organization. "Understand that a community is not created and handed to you," she stated. "It can't be done arbitrarily, artificially. It has to grow like a natural thing."

In order to create and develop one's community, Dr. Kenny recommended trying new and staff. "But that communication between my office and between you, who are new, is enormously important," she said. "If things are not perfect, it's your responsibility to make them better and remember the faculty and staff are your partners in making our place the best."

Dr. Kenny also stressed the significance of communication outside of the classroom and later in life. "You must be able to express your ideas to others or they're useless," she said. "You must be able to express them to large groups and small, and most importantly of all, one on one. You've got to be able to express your ideas or they die, aborted."

According to Dr. Kenny, this communication cannot be initiated without the foundation of a community, whether it be in a classroom, a residence hall or through a student organization. "Understand that a community is not created and handed to you," she stated. "It can't be done arbitrarily, artificially. It has to grow like a natural thing."

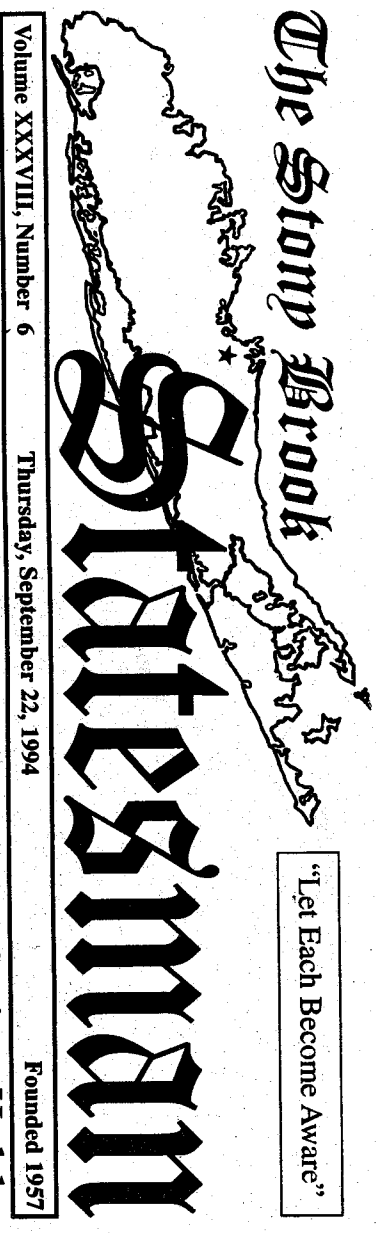

In order to create and develop one's community, Dr. Kenny recommended trying new and staff. "But that communication between my office and between you, who are new, is enormously important," she said. "If things are not perfect, it's your responsibility to make them better and remember the faculty and staff are your partners in making our place the best."

Dr. Kenny also stressed the significance of communication outside of the classroom and later in life. "You must be able to express your ideas to others or they're useless," she said. "You must be able to express them to large groups and small, and most importantly of all, one on one. You've got to be able to express your ideas or they die, aborted."

According to Dr. Kenny, this communication cannot be initiated without the foundation of a community, whether it be in a classroom, a residence hall or through a student organization. "Understand that a community is not created and handed to you," she stated. "It can't be done arbitrarily, artificially. It has to grow like a natural thing."

In order to create and develop one's community, Dr. Kenny recommended trying new and staff. "But that communication between my office and between you, who are

"Let Each Become Aware"

Volume XXXVIII, Number 6

Thursday, September 22, 1994

Founded 1957

Student Polity Association Holds First Semester Senate Meeting

Laskowski, SASU Lobby For Student Support

By Joe Prioli
Stony Brook News Editor

The Student Polity Association held its first senate meeting of the semester last night, beginning at 7:31 p.m. in the Student Union. Dr. Laskowski, Vice-President Anne Hickie is chairperson of the senate and directed the meeting which ran over two-and-a-half hours.

Dean Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

The question on many people's minds for the past month has been which conference would Stony Brook join. That question was answered last night when Dr. Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

The question on many people's minds for the past month has been which conference would Stony Brook join. That question was answered last night when Dr. Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

The question on many people's minds for the past month has been which conference would Stony Brook join. That question was answered last night when Dr. Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

The question on many people's minds for the past month has been which conference would Stony Brook join. That question was answered last night when Dr. Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

The question on many people's minds for the past month has been which conference would Stony Brook join. That question was answered last night when Dr. Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

The question on many people's minds for the past month has been which conference would Stony Brook join. That question was answered last night when Dr. Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

The question on many people's minds for the past month has been which conference would Stony Brook join. That question was answered last night when Dr. Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

The question on many people's minds for the past month has been which conference would Stony Brook join. That question was answered last night when Dr. Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

The question on many people's minds for the past month has been which conference would Stony Brook join. That question was answered last night when Dr. Laskowski announced his decision and asked the student senate to endorse a $10 raise in the Student Athletic Fee. "Two years ago, we asked you to support separating the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee," said Dr. Laskowski. "We need your help again. We have an opportunity we didn't have a month ago."

Two years ago, a referendum was put on the spring election ballot to remove the Athletic Fee from the Student Activity Fee. The referendum was passed with a 68 percent approval of 1217 votes. The referendum item not only gave the fee a $6 raise, but also gave the power to the division to raise the Athletic Fee at will. At that time in Spring 1993, the fee was $24, but is currently $50. "What we've come to ask of you tonight, is to help raise the Athletic Fee to $60

Africana Studies Drops Blackworld From Curriculum

Dr. McAdoo Removes Blackworld From AFS 283

By Carl Curry
Stony Brook News Editor

In a newsletter to the campus community, Blackworld responded to the decision of the Africana Studies Chairman to drop the newspaper as a means for students to earn community service credit. To further explain their situation and rally for support of the paper, the editorial board conducted a town meeting on Monday which also addressed the fact that The Community Outreach Program were also among the groups dropped.

"It used to be that each one of those groups got their credits for doing satisfactory work throughout the semester under the label of AFS 283," said Dr. McAdoo. "As of now Blackworld has no writing staff

The biggest problem for Blackworld is that it received most of its content from students registered in the 283 course. "We really needed to have this for credit because... we got our writers from the base of the class," said Dr. McAdoo. "Each semester there would be sign-up sheets where people can sign up for the first meeting, where you would have to do two articles, plus participate in a production, which includes cutting and pasting and things of that nature."

said Dr. McAdoo, "As of now Blackworld has no writing staff

The biggest problem for Blackworld is that it received most of its content from students registered in the 283 course. "We really needed to have this for credit because... we got our writers from the base of the class," said Dr. McAdoo. "Each semester there would be sign-up sheets where people can sign up for the first meeting, where you would have to do two articles, plus participate in a production, which includes cutting and pasting and things of that nature."

said Dr. McAdoo, "As of now Blackworld has no writing staff

The biggest problem for Blackworld is that it received most of its content from students registered in the 283 course. "We really needed to have this for credit because... we got our writers from the base of the class," said Dr. McAdoo. "Each semester there would be sign-up sheets where people can sign up for the first meeting, where you would have to do two articles, plus participate in a production, which includes cutting and pasting and things of that nature."

said Dr. McAdoo, "As of now Blackworld has no writing staff

The biggest problem for Blackworld is that it received most of its content from students registered in the 283 course. "We really needed to have this for credit because... we got our writers from the base of the class," said Dr. McAdoo. "Each semester there would be sign-up sheets where people can sign up for the first meeting, where you would have to do two articles, plus participate in a production, which includes cutting and pasting and things of that nature."

said Dr. McAdoo, "As of now Blackworld has no writing staff

The biggest problem for Blackworld is that it received most of its content from students registered in the 283 course. "We really needed to have this for credit because... we got our writers from the base of the class," said Dr. McAdoo. "Each semester there would be sign-up sheets where people can sign up for the first meeting, where you would have to do two articles, plus participate in a production, which includes cutting and pasting and things of that nature."

said Dr. McAdoo, "As of now Blackworld has no writing staff

The biggest problem for Blackworld is that it received most of its content from students registered in the 283 course. "We really needed to have this for credit because... we got our writers from the base of the class," said Dr. McAdoo. "Each semester there would be sign-up sheets where people can sign up for the first meeting, where you would have to do two articles, plus participate in a production, which includes cutting and pasting and things of that nature."

said Dr. McAdoo, "As of now Blackworld has no writing staff

The biggest problem for Blackworld is that it received most of its content from students registered in the 283 course. "We really needed to have this for credit because... we got our writers from the base of the class," said Dr. McAdoo. "Each semester there would be sign-up sheets where people can sign up for the first meeting, where you would have to do two articles, plus participate in a production, which includes cutting and pasting and things of that nature."

said Dr. McAdoo, "As of now Blackworld has no writing staff

Fires In James College Disrupt Students

Over 300 people evacuated their rooms at James College two weeks ago when fire broke out in two nights in a row. The two fires damaged room furnishings and temporarily disabled the alarm system in the hall where one of the fires occurred.

By John Chu
Stony Brook News Editor

Over 300 people evacuated their rooms at James College two weeks ago when fire broke out in two nights in a row. The two fires damaged room furnishings and temporarily disabled the alarm system in the hall where one of the fires occurred.

The first incident occurred on Monday, September 12 at about 12:00 a.m. when a fire alarm was pulled. Apparently, the edge of one of the mattresses in room D116 had caught on fire, but the mattress was removed and extinguished before the University Police and the Stony Brook Fire Department had arrived. The fire department checked the mattress and haven't yet determined the cause.

The second fire occurred in Room C322 the following night when wind blew a curtain on top of a halogen lamp and started burning. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

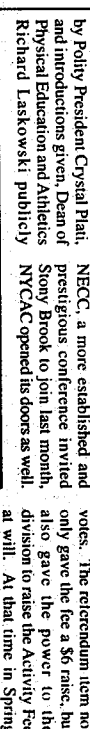

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

enough. The fire broke out at 1:35 a.m. when seniors Mary Skafidas and Jessica Spodick, were just preparing to go to bed. "I was in the bathroom," Skafidas recalled, "when [Spodick] looked up and saw the curtains on fire." Spodick ran out to the hall screaming that her room was on fire and pulled the fire alarm. Skafidas and Spodick attempted to put out the flames with their fire extinguishers, but it wasn't strong

Stony Brook/John Chu

Dean of Physical Education and Athletics Richard Laskowski beams after hearing support from senators during last night's senate meeting.

INDEX

NEWS

ABA Food Fair Files - Page 3
Police Battle Return of the Glory Hole - Page 8

FEATURES

Dr. C.N. Yang Celebrates His 72nd Birthday - Page 11
CD Boyne - Page 11
Milo Zazzazzazz - Page 11
Accompanying Beethoven's 7th Not a Bad Deal! - Page 15
New Restaurant Faces Food Fight - Page 17

SPORTS

Volleyball Wins Home Opener - Page 24
Looks Like NECC - Page 24
Announces 1994-95 Season - Page 24
Kim Canada... Again - Page 23
Sports Diva Triumphs at Return - Page 20
Stony Brook Picks the Pros - Page 19

CD Boyne - Page 11
Milo Zazzazzazz - Page 11
Accompanying Beethoven's 7th Not a Bad Deal! - Page 15
New Restaurant Faces Food Fight - Page 17

Volleyball Wins Home Opener - Page 24
Looks Like NECC - Page 24
Announces 1994-95 Season - Page 24
Kim Canada... Again - Page 23
Sports Diva Triumphs at Return - Page 20
Stony Brook Picks the Pros - Page 19

Announces 1994-95 Season - Page 24
Kim Canada... Again - Page 23
Sports Diva Triumphs at Return - Page 20
Stony Brook Picks the Pros - Page 19

Kim Canada... Again - Page 23
Sports Diva Triumphs at Return - Page 20
Stony Brook Picks the Pros - Page 19

Sports Diva Triumphs at Return - Page 20
Stony Brook Picks the Pros - Page 19

Stony Brook Picks the Pros - Page 19

Stony Brook Picks the Pros - Page 19

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
Thomas F. Masse

MANAGING EDITOR
Joe Fraioli

PHOTOGRAPHY EDITOR
John Chu

ASSOCIATE NEWS EDITORS
John Lowther

ASSISTANT NEWS EDITORS
Thomas V. Flanagan

ASSISTANT FEATURES EDITOR
Brooke Donatone

BUSINESS MANAGER
Frank D'Alessandro

ADVERTISING MANAGER
William Rainsford

GRAPHIC ARTIST
Alan Golinick

SENIOR STAFF

Carl Corry Erik Jenkins
Kris Doorey Angela Mori
Gaye DeRusso

CONTRIBUTING STAFF

Tom Berkin Steven Puentes
Dennis Cariello Sandra Saslovsky
David Chow Jason Seedorf
Jen Glaze Melanie Selwyn
Mike Kramer Altaf Shaikh
John Lee Sean Van Slyck
B. Madhusudan Eun Joo Allison Yi
Dominick A Miserandino Takuji Yoshizaki
Suzanne Murphy

The Stony Brook Statesman, the newspaper for SUNY at Stony Brook, is a non-profit literary publication that is produced twice-weekly during the academic year and bi-weekly during the summer. Statesman Association, Inc.'s offices are located in the lower level of the Student Union.

•For information about advertising, call 632-6480 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

•Editorials represent the majority opinion of the Editorial Board and are written by one of its members or a designee.

•Statesman welcomes letters, viewpoints and suggestions about newsworthy events and issues on or around campus and its community. Write to:

Statesman
P.O. Box 1530
Stony Brook, NY 11790
Room 075
Student Union
Campus Zip 3200.

Fax: (516) 632-9128.

e-mail: statesmn@ic.sunysb.edu

Viewpoints must be no longer than 1,000 words, and letters no longer than 500 words. Both must include the writer's name, address and phone number for verification. Anonymous letters will not be printed.

All contents
Copyright 1994,
Statesman Association, Inc.

The Stony Brook Statesman is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press since 1994.

Editorial

Surgeon General's Warnings Were Hazardous to Her Health

While taking part in a panel at the United Nations, Surgeon General Joycelyn Elders said that masturbation should be a topic covered in children's health education. The panel was part of World AIDS Day on Dec. 1 and sponsored by the World Health Organization. Her statement led to her dismissal last week by President Clinton.

Let's face it. With that remark, Elders was just itching to be fired.

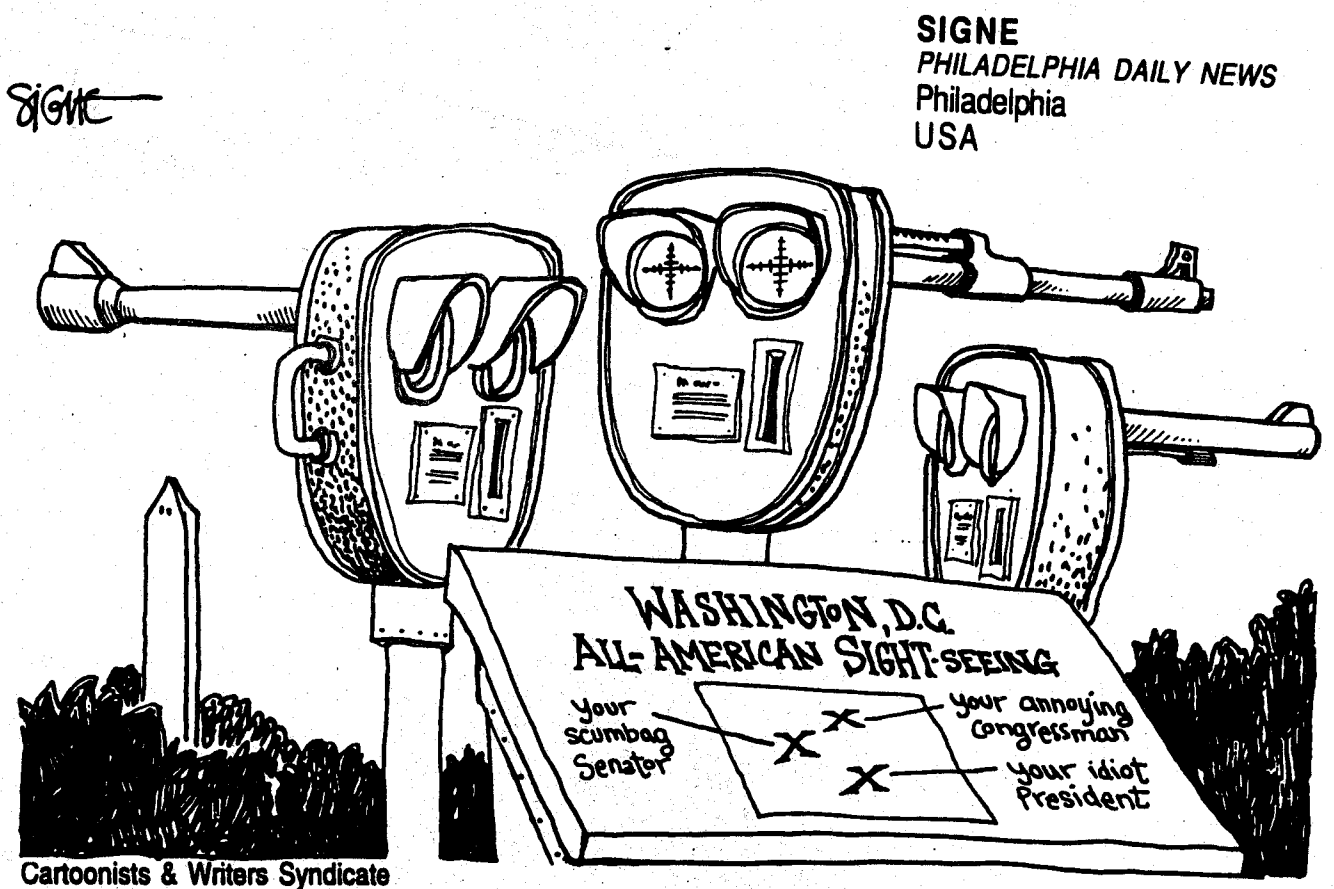

Elders has a certain frankness about her that makes her think she can say what she wants, when she wants, with no collaboration from her superiors.

With Clinton receiving enough pressure as it is, it was time for him to develop some morals and do away with Elders.

This is not the first time Elders has been in trouble with "Slick Willie." Fifteen months ago, Elders took a stand on the possibility of legalizing drugs. Not a smart move coming from the nation's highest public-health official. When one looks up Joycelyn Elders in a dictionary or encyclopedia, it says, "See Oxymoron." It was no surprise when her son was later busted for drug possession. This is also the same woman who told antiabortion activists to "get over their love affair with the fetus."

There's still one question that needs to be answered concerning Elders and Stony Brook. Who were the brainiacs that decided to give this woman an honorary degree from USB last spring? What was going through their minds? Maybe the committee was intrigued by her stance on the dangers of drugs. Or maybe it was her exceptional motherhood qualities. Or maybe they just liked her accent and wanted to hear her speak. Only places like Stony Brook would give a prestigious award to someone who needs to go back to school.

Cartoonists & Writers Syndicate

SIGNE
PHILADELPHIA DAILY NEWS
Philadelphia
USA

Distributed by Tribune Media Services

"The truth is more important than the facts."

- Frank Lloyd Wright

The Stony Brook Statesman

"Let Each Become Aware"

Volume XXXVIII, Number 8 Thursday, September 29, 1994

Founded 1957

President Kenny Outlines Strategies for Campus

Main Focus on Undergrads and National Image

By Carl Conroy
Student Union News Editor

University President Dr. Shirley Strum Kenny outlined strategies meant to establish a more cohesive campus community, as well as make the University a more prominent leader in higher education at the first University Convocation yesterday. The program was held in the main theater of the Staller Center for the Arts.

It was also the setting in which many students, faculty and staff were given recognition for the outstanding jobs they did during the 1993-1994 school year. The top University administrative and student officers, dressed in caps and gowns, gathered on stage to learn what the new president has in store for the institution in coming years and to witness the presentation of awards. Dr. Kenny - who was introduced by Interim Chancellor of the State University of New York Dr. Joseph C. Burke - is seen as the president that will focus more clearly on the undergraduate experience at Stony Brook and create a new enthusiasm in fields other than the sciences and graduate research. "People are really, from all that I have been able to gather, to continue to grow and develop, and in so many other aspects that waited for attention until the research excellence of Stony Brook had been firmly established," she said in her address yesterday during Campus Lifetime.

President of the Graduate Student Organization Anne Mayer noted the differences of Dr. Kenny to the three previous University Presidents. "She is a woman, and she is not physicist."

After an initial alarm that many graduate students experienced about the shift of academic attention, Mayer said that she supports Dr. Kenny's focus on undergraduate education. To calm the fears of many graduates, Dr. Kenny said that graduate research will not be neglected, but that there is a need

University Police Nab More Vandals

By Scott Meyers
Student Staff Writer

On September 24, inside the South P Lot, two non-students were arrested for being in possession of a pay telephone which was removed from the lot.

Police Lieutenant Steven Strecher was patrolling South P and found the two individuals, 24-year-old Joseph Caracciolo from Holbrook and 19-year-old David Soto from Coram at 5:15 p.m. with the telephone. With police back-up, Strecher proceeded to arrest them. The telephone's coin box had been pried open and the money had been removed. Both men were charged with one count each of criminal mischief, possession of stolen property, and possession of burglar tools. Each charge is considered a

A student examines the damage done by vandals to the pay phones near the stadium entrance. The two perpetrators were receiving under a year of imprisonment for each count.

University President Dr. Shirley Strum Kenny delivers her address to the University community at the First Annual University Convocation yesterday.

INDEX

NEWS
Politics Continues Athletic Fee Debate	- Page 4-5
Police Battle Drugs, Thieves Abundant	- Page 2
EDITORIAL
Opportunity is Knocking	- Page 8
FEATURES
According to Eve	- Page 14
Abusive Relationships	- Page 15
ENTERTAINMENT
SPORTS
Women's Soccer Having Best Season	- Page 20
Archery of the Week	- Page 20
Gortmley Also Earns All-Tournament	- Page 23

The Stony Brook Statesman

"Let Each Become Aware"

Volume XXXVIII, Number 11 Monday, October 10, 1994

Founded 1957

Roth Renovations Union Strike Delays Work For New Student Activities Center

By Michael Bush
Special to the Statesman

When Yuri Jim was a freshman at Stony Brook last year, she used to catch roaches in her room all the time. But that was in a different residence hall in a different quad. Now she's living in Whitman College, one of the newly-renovated residence halls of Roth Quad and Jim says she hasn't seen one roach. Yet.

"My suitcases and I think that the renovations came out very good," Jim said. "There's new carpeting and furniture in the rooms and they look much nicer than our old ones did."

Super senior Mike Henry left Stony Brook in 1987 and used to live in Roth Quad. He returned last year and is now living in a cooking suite in Gershwin College, another building in Roth Quad.

"The comparison between now and then is definitely like night and day," Henry said. "We've got bigger and better furniture now. They used to charge us a lot for a cooking fee and they barely gave us anything. Now they've finally given us something. The kitchens are great."

Monica Day, who came to Stony Brook three months ago, is the Roth Quad director. "There is a high demand for Roth Quad space," Day explained. "People want in here. When we opened this semester, we opened full."

There are about 1,000 students living in the quad, which means there are few vacancies, a situation that Day feels will be consistent throughout the spring and fall semesters.

For the past year Roth Quad, one of six housing complexes on campus, was shut down while undergoing renovations. At the beginning of this semester, it was reopened.

Outside Contractor Blamed for Unfair Legal Practices

By Joe Prato
Student Union Managing Editor

A union labor strike held by Local 282, the International Brotherhood of Teamsters, against J.J. Petroselli Realty Holding Corporation has resulted in an almost complete stoppage of production on the new Student Activities Center that was once Central Hall. The strike reached its one week mark last Thursday and is likely to continue into the near future, according to Robert Henfling, a former employee of J.J.P. Realty.

Henfling was employed as the on-site steward, (foreman), by J.J.P. Realty, a Ronkonkoma business in charge of building Stony Brook's new Student Activities Center. "The general contractor, J.J.P. Realty Holding Corporation, has a contractual agreement with Local 282 to employ one of our people and they terminated him," said Ralph

Members of Local 282 picket at the main entrance of the Student Activities Site. At far right is Robert Henfling.

Dr. Kenny Speaks On Hispanic Heritage Month

By Steven Puente
Student Staff Writer

The official start of Hispanic Heritage Month (HHM) kicked off Wednesday, with the Opening Ceremony. The theme of this year's Hispanic Heritage month is "Bonds of Unity."

The ceremonies opened with an introduction from Dania S. de la Campa, the HHM Programs Committee Chairperson. De la Campa began the ceremony by thanking the administrators who took time out to support HHM. She also

INDEX

NEWS
Campus Calendar: What to do to do it	- Page 2
Becoming a Graduate: Where's the Real Action?	- Page 3
EDITORIAL
Lead Editorial: Why Can't We Have the Day Off?	- Page 8
Letters: Do You Mean Problems With Policy?	- Page 9
FEATURES
Performance Review: Tales of the Last Four Years	- Page 11
Fred Carpenter: USB Grad Making Movies	- Page 11
The Live Outrage: Facts About F.A.T.	- Page 11
SPORTS
Football Shot Down By Bullies	- Page 20
Sports Briefs: Women's Soccer Makes Winning Record	- Page 19
Updated Trivia: Bugs	- Page 17

Join us! ! !

December 13-22, 1994

1st Annual Holiday

SALE-a-bration!!!

At the NEW University Bookstore

10% OFF

All books from our General Book Department!!
(Textbooks and Sale Books Excepted)

20% OFF

All Stony Brook Clothing and Gift Items!!

30% OFF

All Decorative Calendars!!
All Christmas Cards!!

Watch for our Buyback Special. . .
At the Sound of the Alarm. . . Win A Prize!!!

University Bookstore, Library Building, 632-6550

The Stony Brook Statesman

"Let Each Become Aware"

Statesman

Volume XXXVIII, Number 11

Monday, October 17, 1994

Founded 1957

Would-Be Thief Nabbed By University Police

Community Member Aids in the Apprehension of Weapon-Toting Bicycle Thief

By Thomas F. Masse
Student Editor in Chief

University Police, responding to a tip from an off-campus community member, arrested a suspect near Langmuir College.

The suspect was not carrying a weapon at the time of his arrest on Friday, October 7. He is currently being described as an Hispanic, non-student, male, who is not associated with the campus.

In his possession at the time of arrest was a hacksaw blade (in his hand) and a switchblade knife (in his pocket). He refused to identify himself and was not carrying any identification. As a result, the suspect was held for arraignment.

According to Assistant Director of University Police for Community Relations Doug Little, the suspect was chased onto campus by a community member who lives in the South Plant area of Stony Brook. The citizen waved down a University Police vehicle and alerted officers Roland and Torres that the suspect had been speaking around private property. The citizen chased the suspect from the property to the campus before seeing the police car.

University Police began searching for the suspect when they received a call from Langmuir College. A resident of the hall said that someone appeared to be stealing a bicycle. A radio call was sent out to patrolmen Oitic and Anthony Barone.

The two officers approached the area and noticed the suspect near the bicycle rack outside Langmuir. The suspect fled along the road, chased by the two patrolmen. According to the incident report, Officer Barone caught the suspect "after a brief pursuit."

Upon a routine personal search, the hacksaw blade and switchblade were found and confiscated. The suspect refused to identify himself and was arrested and held over for arraignment. This is standard procedure when a suspect cannot be immediately identified.

"This is another example of when people get involved," said Little. "That's how this arrest came about. The citizen waved

See ARREST, Page 3

Roth Quad Formally Re-Opens

By Joe Frazzetta
Student Managing Editor

Over 300 faculty, staff and students attended the formal re-opening of Roth Quad last Thursday, hosted by the Division of Campus Residences. The event was part of the Stony Brook's homecoming celebration.

The re-opening ceremony featured a ribbon-cutting ceremony in the quad followed by tours of the buildings. President Shirley Stumm, Sherry Stumm, Kennedy and local officials were among the speakers at the ceremony.

Speakers get ready to cut the ribbon in Roth Quad. From left to right, Dr. Fred Preston, Assemblyman Sullivan, President Kennedy and Assemblyman Weitz.

opened last fall. According to Dr. Bauman, Roth Quad houses approximately 1,000 residents, about 200 per building. Deputy Bauman III as he opened up the 1:30 p.m. ceremony. "It is through this standard and quality

See ROTH, Page 2

The introduction of the new Seawolves mascot is just one of many events that occurred during the Homecoming weekend. Please see our special pull-out section on pages 9-16.

INDEX
NEWS	Page 5
Polly Senate Votes On $10 Increase for the Second Time (reprint)	Page 5
How Did Your Semester Vote on the Increase?	Page 5
EDITORIAL	Page 5
Rockets Red Glare	Page 8
It's Our Job to Help Univ. Police	Page 17
FEATURES	Page 17
SPECIAL HOMECOMING COLLECTOR'S ISSUE	Pages 9-16
Latin Dinner's Rave Reviews	Page 18
CD Review of Jason's Lyric	Page 20
SPORTS	Page 20
Football Bullies Cadets at Homecoming	Page 21
Women's Rugby Sharpens Their Skills in Scrimmage	Page 23
Sports Trivia Challenge and Box Scores	Page 21

Volume XXXVIII, Number 15

Monday, October 24, 1994

Founded 1957

The Stony Brook Statesman

"Let Each Become Aware"

Statesman

Hillel, Chevre Vigil Remembers Bombing Victims

By Cary Conroy
Student Assistant News Editor

A day after one of Israel's most devastating terrorist attacks, in which 22 people were killed by a bomb that exploded on a bus in Tel Aviv, the Hillel Club and Chevre at Stony Brook organized a vigil during Campus Lifetime on Wednesday in front of the Stony Brook Union, in honor of their deaths. The demonstration also honored people injured or missing by acts of terrorism.

"It happened the very next day that Israel signed... a declaration of understanding with Jordan," said the Director of B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation and Jewish chaplain Rabbi Joseph S. Toppek. He said that the Hamas terrorist organization, who claimed responsibility for the massacre, has stated their goals as being "the liquidation of the state of Israel and the establishment of a fundamentalist Palestinian state."

"It is frustrating, the real radicals... those who won't settle for less than getting rid of Israel all together, which of course will not happen, so they are resulting to the only thing they know how," Rabbi Toppek said.

The Jewish students on campus responded. "When we, the Hillel Student Club and Chevre heard the news, we were both outraged and mortified by this massacre," said the Vice President of Hillel.

They felt our anger and stopped to listen to what was going on."

Why There Was No Concert

By Joe Frazzetta
Student Managing Editor

The cancellation of the 1994 Homecoming Concert was officially announced by Student Activities Board Executive Chair Stacy McLeod during the Thursday, October 6 SAB meeting.

The announcement came amidst rumors that the Homecoming Concert was cancelled weeks before the announcement and the Student Activities Board was not diverse in their planning of any of the previous concerts and events.

Despite many of the senators' complaints voiced during the previous night's senate meeting on Wednesday, October 5, none of the senators attended the SAB meeting after being invited by

Jennifer Glass. "We felt as Jewish students in America we needed to act right away, to show our strength and solidarity against terrorism and violence."

Ilan Ras, an Israeli student and Hillel activist, said that the event was organized to "raise awareness" about acts of terrorism. "We want to stop violence through measures of peace," he said after most of the crowd of about 75 had left.

Sarit Levy held a white lit candle inside a glass and sang contemporary Hebrew songs along with the group of students, faculty and staff that formed a circle to face each other.

She noticed people join the vigil when they saw the Hillel banner and Israeli flag. "People who were passing by wouldn't have known what it was if they hadn't seen the flag," she said.

"They saw the flag and stopped. They felt our anger and stopped to listen to what was going on."

As they were chanting, one man steadfastly held a blue cardboard sign with the New York Times front page article on the disaster. Another sign indicated names of Israeli soldiers missing in action, saying REMEMBER AND PRAY. For their safe return and others, including the dates they were last seen.

A petition to the Palestinians Liberation Organization leader Yasser Arafat asking for support

Members of Hillel and Chevre stand outside the Student Union on Thursday urging passers by to take notice of the threat to peace in the Middle East caused by terrorism. On Wednesday, 22 people were killed on a bus in Tel Aviv, Israel. The terrorist group, The Hamas, has claimed responsibility.

and in newspapers this bombed-out bus and bodies all over the place, they say, you know, that could be me."

"Israel is a place always in our thoughts and close to our hearts. We believe in peace, but not through terror," Glass said. Scott Nevins contributed to this story.

Senior Class Representative Cory Goodman. "What we thought to be a definite act, fell through," said McLeod. "At the last minute, Fox changed their filming schedule [with Queen Latifah]. Latifah currently stars in the Fox sitcom 'Living Single' and was scheduled to film in California the Friday of the concert. Although efforts were made by SAB and Student Union and Activities to arrange for the rap singer to perform on that Sunday, both organizations felt it was too much of a risk.

According to McLeod, the University only allows four concerts to be held at Stony Brook and any organization that wishes to host a show, must go through SAB first. With two weeks left before Homecoming, SAB looked into getting Collective Soul or Ice Cube to perform, but Collective Soul "wanted far too much than we could provide." McLeod also said that once the Beach Boys and Queen Latifah fell through, Student Union and Activities and University Police did not give any support to SAB. Student Union and Activities and Public Safety were not confident enough to do a show," she said. "So, without any University backing, we preferred to do a show on our own by SAB."

After the board was unable to attract any definite acts, they decided not to have a Homecoming Concert," said McLeod. "It's not in the spirit of what SAB is."

McLeod said that SAB wants

INDEX
NEWS	Page 5
Campus Calendar: So Many Events We Needed Two Pages	Page 2-3
EDITORIAL	Page 2-3
Elections This Semester Would Be Nice	Page 6
Latifah: Race Relations, O Grade, Room Changes, and More	Page 7
FEATURES	Page 9
Garry Shandling Reveals Himself	Page 9
Amuro/Vivian: Whore for Magisterium Ruins Data	Page 10
Tra Barry: Postmortem	Page 10
SPORTS	Page 10
Volleyball Places Second in NY Invitational	Page 15
Football Sunk by ISMAA	Page 16
Mary's Soccer Secures Winning Season	Page 15
Equestrian Showing Well	Page 15

NOTICE TO CANDIDATES FROM THE OFFICE OF CONFERENCES AND SPECIAL EVENTS

IF YOU ARE PLANNING TO PARTICIPATE IN THE UNIVERSITY COMMENCEMENT CEREMONY, PLEASE TAKE A FEW MINUTES TO READ THIS NOTICE.

A Commencement Planning Guide will be mailed to all candidates who plan to participate in the May 14, 1995 commencement ceremony. Candidates who apply for May '95, July '95 or August '95 graduation dates by the deadline of Friday, February 10, 1995, will receive the Planning Guide. The Guide will include specific information about caps and gowns, ticket distribution, where to line up, and other information that will be needed by those participating in the ceremony.

The Guide will be mailed to your Spring '95 local address. (December '94 graduates will receive the Planning Guide at their permanent home address.) Any change of local address between now and early February 1995 must be reported to the Registrar's Office to assure delivery of the Planning Guide and other related mailings.

The Planning Guide will be mailed the first week of April. Graduation candidates who have not received it by April 12th should alert the Office of Conferences and Special Events without delay.

IN ORDER TO OBTAIN TWO TICKETS FOR THE GRADUATION CEREMONY, CANDIDATES WILL NEED TO RETURN A CEREMONY ATTENDANCE FORM (CONTAINED IN THE PLANNING GUIDE) TO THE OFFICE OF CONFERENCES AND SPECIAL EVENTS, ROOM 440, ADMINISTRATION BUILDING, NO LATER THAN APRIL 26, 1995

The Stony Brook

Statesman

Volume XXXVIII, Number 16

Thursday, October 27, 1994

Founded 1957

"Let Each Become Aware"

Voter Rally Becomes Cuomo Rally, Pataki Bash

Chris Cuomo (center left) and actor William Baldwin (center right) look over the crowd as they await to address the students on the importance of voting.

Three Burglaries at Life Sciences

By John Lowmyer
Suffolk Assistant News Editor

During the last five months, the Life Sciences Library has been the target of three separate robberies in which computer equipment has been stolen. The robberies occurred on April 14, September 8 and September 30. The computer equipment that was taken is vital to biology and biochemistry students. A number of pieces of equipment that are extremely important to the students who use the library are the Pioneer CD-ROM changers, each of which holds six CD's. During each robbery a Pioneer CD-ROM was taken.

"All [the robberies] have occurred on a Thursday night, between 10:00 p.m. and 6:00 a.m., at which time the custodial services arrive," said Rosalind Walcott, head of the Life Sciences Library. Each robbery consisted of a "computer monitor, the Pioneer changers, six CD's, along with keyboards and surge protectors," said Walcott.

The three computers stolen consist of a 286 microprocessing computer valued at $1,000, and two 486 microprocessors valued at $3,000

William Baldwin, Chris Cuomo Discuss Issues

By Steven Pezzes
Suffolk Staff Writer

Yesterday, the University at Stony Brook held a voter rally in the Fine Arts Plaza during Campus Life. The rally was held in order to encourage the students to go to the polls on Election Day. Even though the event was delayed an hour because the guest speakers had various commitments to other universities, the students eagerly awaited the arrival of the special guests.

The rally, which featured actor William Baldwin and Christopher Cuomo, the son of the Mario Cuomo, was trying to get the college students of New York to participate in the voting process by holding voter rallies at Universities across New York and speaking with students about the importance of voting.

The event focused on the fact that the students represent a big part of the voting block in the state of New York and that we are being taken for granted.

The rally, which was supposed to be an non-partisan event, turned into a Mario Cuomo supporter rally, even though George Pataki was invited to participate in the event, but he declined.

"What we are hoping to do is to use people like me as a lightning rod to get people to the polls," said Baldwin.

William Baldwin and Chris Cuomo speak yesterday.

INDEX

NEWS

Police Battle Violence in Union, Again
-Page 2

POLICY BRIEFS

Editorial
-Page 5

LEAD BYRONIA

Who Do You Believe?
-Page 6

LITERATURE

More on Resnick, What About Greeks?
-Page 7

FEATURES

Violence in Relationships, The Gun Game
-Page 9

ENTERTAINMENT

All About Be
-Page 10

SPORTS

Football Prepares for WestConn Colonials
-Page 16

Men's Rugby Ties New Paltz
-Page 16

Arrival of the Wharf
-Page 14

Storia Buys
-Page 13

Volume XXXVIII, Number 18

Monday, November 7, 1994

Founded 1957

The Stony Brook

Statesman

"Let Each Become Aware"

Low Turnout at Rev. Jackson "Get Out the Vote" Rally

Reverend Jesse Jackson discusses issues and the importance of voting on Friday evening in the Fine Arts Plaza.

UC Berkeley Chancellor Speaks On Role of Asian-Americans

By B. MARISSON
Special to Statesman

The "Role of Asian-Americans in American Higher Education" was the title of a talk given by Dr. Chang-Lin Tien, Distinguished Teaching Professor and Chancellor of the University of California, Berkeley last Thursday.

Speaking in front of a packed room of people, including a number of professors, among them, Professor C.N. Yang, Nobel Laureate in Physics, Dr. Tien spoke of several of his experiences in the United States as a "poor, refugee, immigration student."

He recounted one professor whom he had as a student at the University of Louisville, Kentucky. The professor addressed him only as "Chanman" and Tien did not realize he was being insulted until he was told some time later by other students.

After contemplating what to do, he mustered up some courage, confronted the professor, and demanded to be addressed by name. The professor complained of having to remember all the new, foreign names and Dr. Tien gave him an ultimatum: Either call him by name or don't call on him. The professor never called on him after that.

By John Lowmyer
Suffolk Assistant News Editor

Jesse Jackson spoke to approximately 200 University community members on Friday at the Fine Arts Plaza. Although scheduled for 5:00 p.m., the event started over an hour late. Music blared throughout the academic mall before the Jackson camp arrived. By the time Rev. Jackson took the platform to speak to the small group of supporters, the darkness had fallen on the Plaza and a cold breeze required jackets.

The other featured speaker, Comptroller Carl McCall, was not present for the rally. No explanation was given for his absence.

Organizers of the event and security were not sure where Rev. Jackson would make his entry onto the Plaza. When he finally appeared, Rev. Jackson made his appearance by way of the Staller Center doors which lead out to the Fine Arts Plaza.

Rev. Jackson's first stop was the Staller Center, where he answered questions from the media pertaining to current issues in the news. A discussion concerning Susan Smith, the woman who falsely accused a black man of kidnapping her two children, was the main topic. The woman, from Union, South Carolina, drowned her two children, ages three and 14 months, by driving her car off a boat ramp into a local lake while her children remained belted inside. She conceived a story which involved a carpenter, who she described as a young black male.

"We called the Justice Department today asking the Attorney General to find out how many black men were questioned during this period of suspicion, based upon this stereotype," said Rev. Jackson to the group of reporters. "It just shows just how vulnerable black men are, and why stereotypes are so bad and so dangerous," he said. A News 12 reporter questioned Jackson.

UC Berkeley Chancellor Dr. Chang-Lin Tien (seated left) listens to the introduction being read by Prof. Shi-Ming Hu. Physicist C.N. Yang and his wife were among the distinguished guests present.

that took place three years ago at the Citrus Bowl when he represented Berkeley. As he stepped onto the stage, several people in the audience started to chant "Buy American, Buy American." This disturbed him deeply, because he is proud to call himself an American.

INDEX
NEWS
Election Results Held Up, Again -Page 4
Prospective Students Call 1-800-Ask-SUNY -Page 4
EDITORIAL
Lead Byronia: We Must Stop the Insanity Here's Where Some Student Money Goes -Page 7
FEATURES
LITERARY SUPPLEMENT
SPORTS
Plymouth State Upends Football, 37-31 -Page 12
Volleyball Seeded First in Region, USB to Host NCAA First Round -Page 12
Equine Nation Pile Up Points -Page 12
Storia and Scandals -Page 10-11

Attention!!!

Graduate Students,
Juniors and Seniors, &
Student Organizations

Advertise your tutoring services through the USB TUTORIAL REGISTRY

Do you or your student organization provide academic tutoring?, if so, you are invited to list your tutoring services free of charge with the USB Tutorial Registry. This publication will be made available to students at no charge. The production and distribution of the registry is a service of the newly developed USB Tutoring Center. We serve as a tutoring development and resource center to assist student organizations, graduate students, undergraduates, and academic departments in their efforts to provide tutoring to students - the Center does not currently provide tutoring to students. A primary goal of the registry is to assist students to identify and locate tutoring services offered by student organizations, graduate students, juniors and seniors, academic departments, and specialized tutoring offices on campus, e.g. the Math Learning Center and others. To list the tutoring services offered by you or your student organization, simply call 632-7090 for an application. We will gladly mail an application to you for your completion and return. Also, you may care to visit the office of the USB Tutoring Center located on the third floor in Melville Library, Rm. W-3520 to receive and complete an application. Your name or that of your student organization; the subject areas in which tutoring is offered; the times, days, and place where tutoring is available; and the tutoring fee, if any, that you charge will be communicated to hundreds of students across campus. The deadline to submit your completed application is December 21, 1994. We look forward to listing your tutoring services in our first edition of the registry scheduled for the 1995 Spring semester.

For further information contact: Dr. Howard J. Miller, Director of USB Tutoring Center,
W-3520 Melville Library, phone: 632-7090 (between 10am - 12pm, T, TH, & F).

REALITY CHECK

Student Health Service 1993-94 Study Results

Partying 3-4 times a week is normal here, isn't it?

Not according to the 87% of 802 USB students surveyed, who indicated they drank twice a week or less.

If partying is your top priority, you may have a problem...and there is help available... call 2-9338 for more information or for help.

brought to you by
CHOICE

Choosing Healthy Options In the College Environment,
The Alcohol, Tobacco and Other Drug Task Force,
The Student Health Service and Students Against Destructive Decisions.

The Stony Brook

"Let Each Become Aware"

Statesman

Volume XXXVIII, Number 22

Thursday, November 17, 1994

Founded 1957

Fatal Accident Claims Student's Life

Shari Nezami, 23, Press Managing Editor Killed in Crash

The scene of Saturday night's automobile accident at the intersection of Route 347 and Hallock Road which took the life of Senior Shari Nezami.

Five Officers Injured In Medical Center Arrest

By CARL COWLEY

Stonewall Staff Writer

Two people were arrested last Thursday night at the University Medical Center Emergency Room after assaulting five University Public safety personnel, University Police said.

A man, posing as an uncle to one of the patients in the Emergency Room, and his daughter, were charged with felony assault after refusing to leave when Security Service Assistants directed them out and then injuring three Security Service Assistants and two University Police officers in an ensuing fight.

Security Service Assistant Grace Spolin, who sustained minor injuries to her neck and shoulder, as well as a scraped knee, said the man had been arguing with the mother of the patient and got into a pushing match with the mother's husband.

When public safety officers got the situation under control, the daughter "got a little cocky" and things heated up, according to Spolin. She received a call for assistance from Jennifer Tammis. "From the tone of her voice you could tell there was something wrong," Spolin said. A Cicle 10-1 was issued, which brings all available officers to the scene.

Suffolk County officers, who were at the hospital for another call, assisted in detaining the suspects. University Police Officers Peter Chiribari and Susan Samel both sustained minor abrasions and contusions. Supervising Security Services Assistant Jerry Leigh was injured at his mouth and face and

By Thomas F. Masse

Stonewall Editor in Chief

A Stony Brook student was killed when the car she was in, driven by her husband, struck another vehicle Saturday night. Shari Nezami, 23, was taken to University Medical Center and pronounced dead at 12:25 a.m. Sunday morning.

Nezami, a senior in Religious Studies and the Managing Editor of The Stony Brook Press was a passenger in the 1987 Dodge, driven by Ronald M. Rothenberg. According to Suffolk County Police, at approximately 8:05 p.m., the couple was traveling westbound on Route 347 in Stony Brook, approaching the intersection of 347 and Hallock Road.

At the intersection, a 1991 Isuzu Suburban heading eastbound was making a left-hand turn on a green arrow signal. Rothenberg apparently ran the steady red light, swerving around cars that were stopped in both lanes at the intersection. The two vehicles reportedly collided head-

Shari Nezami

Residents Still In the Cold

By JOHN CHU

Stonewall Photography Editor

The source of the water main leak that shut off heat and hot water to Kelly and Roosevelt residents last week was detected early yesterday morning.

The leak was found under a paved road which leads to a parking lot behind Greeley College. "The road started to break up... it started getting larger and larger," said Bill Lynch, a West Campus Physical Plant worker. "When it broke up, all the steam came up."

Approximately 30,000 gallons of water leaked out of the broken pipe, a high temperature main which takes heated water into the buildings. The pipe carrying water out of the buildings is okay. Water that had filled the excavation site by Wagner College was pumped out and dumped into the sewer.

West Campus Physical

on.

Nezami was transported to University Medical Center where efforts to save her life apparently failed.

Suffolk County Police responded to the scene and arrested Rothenberg for disorderly conduct. The SCPD also charged Rothenberg with several motor vehicle law violations. Some reports have contended that Rothenberg had been traveling at high speeds along Route 347 prior to the accident. Suffolk County Sixth Squad Detectives are requesting witnesses to the accident or of Rothenberg's actions prior to the incident to call 854-8652. Detective Sergeant Charles Christ, who is heading the investigation, was unavailable for comment earlier this week. There were no reports of other passengers in Rothenberg's vehicle, and no details were available regarding the driver or passenger(s) of the Isuzu. Apparently, there were no other serious injuries.

Nezami and Rothenberg lived together at 105 Liberty Avenue in Port Jefferson.

INDEX

NEWS (pages 1-5)

Police: What to Do Where to Go, What to Do Page 2
Police: What to Do Where to Go, What to Do Page 3
Police: What to Do Where to Go, What to Do Page 3

CONCERT REVIEW: Gospel Choir Brings Down the House Page 8

ESS Museum and New Pine Barrens Project Page 8

DINING AND ENTERTAINMENT GUIDE Page 8

ALMA MATER: REVISITED Page 8

SPORTS (pages 13-16)

Football: Warmups Up for Wilkes U. ECACs Page 16

Equestrians Take First Semester Regional Lead Page 16

Heat and hot water has not been fully restored at Roosevelt Quad.

The Stony Brook

"Let Each Become Aware"

Statesman

Volume XXXVIII, Number 25

Monday December 5, 1994

Founded 1957

Student Shot Fatally By Cop

Officer's Gun Discharges After Pursuit Ends in Smith Haven Mall Parking Lot

Stonewall/John Chu

Ennea Moldovan and two other men were at the Dejez store in the Smith Haven mall Saturday when they were questioned about a credit card transaction. The three men had Suffolk police officers on a foot chase which ended fatally for Moldovan, who was killed by the discharge of an officer's handgun.

Benefit Concert Draw Big Stars To Stony Brook

By PAUL WRIGHT

Special to Statesman

The Staller Center for the Arts yesterday hosted the St. Charles Hospital and Rehabilitation Center Holiday Gala Concert. The event, whose proceeds went to St. Charles, featured recording artists Paabo Bryson, James Ingram, Roberta Flack, and Sheena Easton, all performing songs in the holiday theme.

The concert was to originally feature Stony Brook's own Patty Lapone, who was the first star of the Broadway musical Evita. Unfortunately, she had to cancel shortly before the Thanksgiving because of serious throat problems that would require surgery. This left St. Charles ten days to come up with a replacement.

David Roland, a hospital administrator, said "about three million phone calls" were made to talent and booking agencies. Roland said the hospital was very fortunate to find someone who could help.

The hospital requested the four artists, who were touring together at the time, to perform. Bryson, Ingram, Flack, and Easton made room in their schedule, which includes a performance tomorrow at Carnegie Hall, to come to Stony Brook and perform. The concert began with the four artists performing "Hark, Herald Angels Sing." Then, Bryson, Ingram, Flack, and Easton came on stage toward the end of the concert to thank the audience for their support. He then helped Sheena Easton and how precious."

What made the show for See CONCERT Page 5

Stonewall/John Chu

Billy Coleman (center) joined Paabo Bryson (right) and Sheena Easton (left) singing the song "A Whole New World" to the audience in yesterday's benefit concert at the Main Stage of the Staller Center

INDEX

NEWS (pages 1-7)

Temporary Pay Phone/ ATM Outage Page 3
Honor Societies Clean Up North P Lot Page 5
Club India Cultural Show Page 6

EDITORIAL (page 8-9)

President's Corner: Five-Year Plan Update Page 9

FEATURES

DECEMBER LITERARY SUPPLEMENT

SPORTS (pages 10-12)

Love of the Game Makes Volleyballers Winners Page 12

Sports Briefs: The Weekend in US Sports Page 10

Merry Christmas

and a

Happy and safe

New Year

from all of us in your student government to all of you!

Brought to you by your Student Activity Fee

Stalderman Features

Thursday, September 22, 1994

Milo Z: "The Basic Need to Howl"

By TOM BERNIN
Statesman Staff Writer

Milo Z's "Basic Need to Howl" is his debut release on Mercury Records. Milo and his entourage hail from the mighty NYC club scene where where rumor reports they put on a good live show. The 60+ minute CD is a mixture of funk, rock, and jazz. It is a nostalgic hybrid of funk and jazz that includes influences of groups like Sly and the Family Stone, the Neville Brothers, and the Tower of Power. But the mixture does not live up to its famous influences.

The recording is unoriginal, unimaginative, and unimpressive. The songwriting is a throwback to the overindulgent era of the 70's past the time when funk music was great. The whole mixture is "hit-you-over-the-head" funk with boring lyrics, misplaced horns, and basslines my grandmother could have played.

I could agree with going to a bar and listening to Milo Z and his gang for background music, provided that there was a drink special and the cover charge was less than five bucks. Listening to the whole ensemble live probably would give more of a nostalgic feeling coupled with a beer buzz, but this recording falls flat - buzz or no buzz. So for the price of a CD, I would just buy pitchers instead.

Don't misinterpret my feelings on funk and jazz. Sly and the Family Stone put down some of the best basslines and songs on record. If that's what your looking for I suggest searching for Sly and horn groups like the Tower of Power in your local record store; what I don't suggest is getting the watered down version in Milo Z. What Milo Z needs is a new name and he needs to get back to basics. □

Dr. Chen Ning "Frank" Yang
Photo Courtesy of the Department of Physics

Dr. C. N. Yang Turns 72

Stony Brook's Nobel Prize-Winning Physicist Reflects on the Last 50 Years

By THOMAS F. MASSE
Statesman Editor in Chief

Over 28 years ago, then-University President John Toll had a vision of making Stony Brook one of the great research institutions in the nation: "the Berkeley of the East." With that idea, Pres. Toll recruited a physicist from the Institute for Advanced Study in Princeton, NJ to head a rapidly developing physics program at Stony Brook. That physicist, the Nobel Prize-winning Dr. Chen Ning Yang celebrates his 72nd birthday today.

Dr. Yang was born in Hefei in the Anhwei Province in China on September 22, 1922. His father, a prominent mathematician himself, encouraged Chen to study math and the physical sciences. He received bachelors and masters degree in Physics in China and wanted to pursue his Ph.D. in the United States.

He was awarded a scholarship to study abroad, and in January of 1946, Dr. Yang entered the University of Chicago where he had followed another famed physicist. "I was an admirer of Enrico Fermi, so I wanted to write my thesis with him," said Dr. Yang. Upon arriving in the U.S., Dr. Yang thought that it would be difficult for his American friends to pronounce his given name. Having just read Benjamin Franklin's autobiography, he became a great admirer of the former statesman. Dr. Yang chose the nickname "Franklin" (most of his colleagues call him "Frank") because "during World War II there was a lot of talk about Big Ben, a clock in London, and I didn't want to be confused with a clock."

Dr. Yang received his doctorate in 1948, he stayed on as an instructor for one year and then moved to the IAS, a private research organization in Princeton. There he remained until 1966, when he was contacted by Pres. Toll.

"I had known [Pres. Toll] before, because he was in the same field as I," said Dr. Yang. "One day he called me up and said he would like to visit with me." Pres. Toll told Dr. Yang his plans of building one of the great state university research institutions and "he would be very happy if I could join him in this enterprise."

Dr. Yang weighed his options carefully over a few months and ultimately decided to accept the offer. He said that it was difficult leaving the IAS, an "ivy tower in the best sense of the word." However, the IAS was too removed from interactive society and anticipated that working with graduate and undergraduate students would

See ACTIVITIES, Page 13

Some Success at Student Activities Fair

By SCOTT NEWS
Statesman Staff Writer

In hopes of exposing new and returning students to the activities and clubs offered here at Stony Brook, different organizations dealing with Student Policy, religion, and other various student based associations, grouped together yesterday in the Fine Arts Plaza.

With temperatures ranging in the low 80's, and between the times of 11:00 am and 2:00 pm, perspired representatives from each organization attempted to enlist students for club memberships.

Also present were various newly formed groups, whose representatives visited tables and near by students in order to get signatures for petitions. These petitions will be used in hopes of becoming a part of the Student Policy Association. Of the approximate 30 clubs supported to be involved in yesterday's fair, several never showed and others left early. The following will be a small description of and/or an announcement of any upcoming events being held by the organizations that talked to The Statesman:

Blackworld

Blackworld is looking for columnists to contribute in each issue. You can give your opinions on topics such as politics, relationships, music, Stony Brook's campus, or anything else that interests you.

The next meeting is today, 9/22, in the Student Union, room 072.

Catholic Campus Ministry

The Catholic Campus Ministry holds meetings every Sunday at 5:00 pm in the Old Chemistry Building, room 116.

A new club to the Stony Brook campus, keep an eye for poster describing upcoming events.

Minorities in Medicine
Minorities in Medicine hold their

Young Japanese Orchestra Begins Its American Tour at Staller

Thursday, October 31, 1994

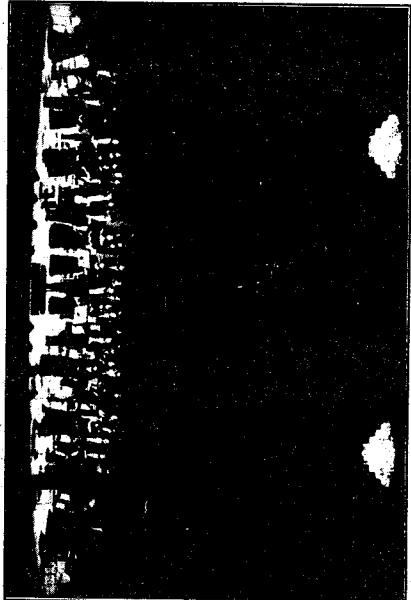

By JOE FRAMU
Statesman Managing Editor

The Staller Center for the Arts was graced with the presence of the Century Orchestra of Osaka Saturday night as the almost five-year-old ensemble made its American debut in Stony Brook.

Under the baton of Maestro Uriel Segal, the orchestra gave a stunning performance on the Main Stage, featuring violinist Kyoko Takezawa as guest soloist. The event was sponsored by the Long Island Lighting Company.

The Century Orchestra of Osaka was founded in December 1989 by the Osaka Prefectural Government under the auspices of the Osaka Foundation of Culture. In four years, the 65-member group was awarded Japan's Symphony Hall International Music Award and has received honors from critics and audiences alike. Chief Conductor Segal has been with the orchestra since its inception and is credited with creating the ensemble's prestigious rating in such a short time. Not only is the Century Orchestra in its adolescent stage, but its members are young as well, with the average age only 30.

The ensemble began with Schoenberg's Verklarte Nacht, Opus 4, featuring its solemn tone and deep bass.

The Century Orchestra of Osaka, conducted by Maestro Uriel Segal, performed on the Main Stage of the Staller Center Saturday night.

The orchestra was very successful in accentuating Schoenberg's sad and somber mood. The cellos attacked their notes with feeling and the violins showed their emotion by sounding like they were crying in many segments of the piece. The Century Orchestra, using only string instruments for the piece, captivated the soft tones and rising and falling action beautifully. After hearing their performance of the first piece, the women, dressed in black dresses, and the men, in black tuxedos, caused me to think they were clothed that way for a reason.

For his second score, Maestro Segal escorted violinist Kyoko Takezawa, the orchestra's guest soloist, onto the stage.

Ms. Takezawa was Gold Medalist of the Second Quadrennial International Violin Competition of Indianapolis and has performed with orchestras around the world. Now 28 years of age, Ms. Takezawa began playing the violin when she was three and made her American debut at age seven. Ms. Takezawa is currently under an exclusive contract with the RCA Victor Red Seal and her recent recording of Barok #2 with the London Symphony Orchestra has been released on video.

The second piece, Mendelssohn's Concerto for Violin and Orchestra in E minor, Op. 64, also saw the addition of bassoons, french horns, flutes, clarinets and timpani drums. Ms. Takezawa was dressed in pink and stood beside Maestro Segal, using no sheet music and facing the audience.

Ms. Takezawa's performance was vigorous and inspiring as she provided much of the driving action for the piece. The soloist gave such clean and clear attack to the piece, it was dynamic. One could see the fire and drive in Ms. Takezawa's eyes when they were open. The latter part of the concerto was very lively and very energetic, leaving the audience in awe. When the piece concluded, the audience showed their recognition by applauding for

See ORCHESTRA, Page 10

Selling Your Soul For a Second Chance

By BROOKE DONATONE
Statesman Assistant Features Editor

Some people may have to sell their soul to see this play.

The Master and Margarita was taken from a novel by Mikhail Bulgakov. It was performed at Calderone Studio Theater on a black box stage on October 22 and 23, 27, 29, 30, and a final performance at 10:00 p.m. tonight.

One title character, Margarita, was played by Colette Epplé, a first year M.F.A. candidate in Dramaturgy. Margarita cheered on her husband with the Master the renowned his name because everyone rejected his manuscript, hence losing his identity and was going to leave his husband. Revealing that she would do anything, she sold her soul to the devil in order to be reunited with her lover, the Master, because he vanished from her life after committing himself to an insane asylum. The play opens with God asking the devil to give the Master and Margarita their love back. "I'm here just a little extra kick of comedy, and the same with the pig because we fly down and want to be part of the ball," explained Joanna Tobin, a freshman English major, who played Natasha, Margarita's overzealous maid. Tobin bawled when Satan's bar and begs to attend the ball among all the other social deviants and murderers of former society.

Margarita (Colette Epplé) yanks the ear of her wise-cracking cat, Behemoth, in The Master and Margarita.

Director Olga Maslova commented on how she adapted the few chapters of Bulgakov's work into her writing of the play, "It's my favorite novel and it was spinning in my head all the time just demanding, 'do me, do me.'"

In her vision of the play turning

See MASTER, Page 12

Happy Holidays!

COLLEGE GRADS

TURN YOUR DEGREE
INTO A HIGHER DEGREE OF SUCCESS.

Congratulations on your first step to a successful career. If you're the kind of grad interested in a more lucrative lifestyle and are willing to dedicate yourself to discipline and hard work, don't miss this excellent opportunity! We're a full service Investment Banking organization looking for high caliber, ambitious, outgoing grads to help us expand our busy MASSAU COUNTY office. If you're ready to take that second step towards securing a prosperous future, we're ready to offer you one-on-one and group training, a paid training period, comprehensive training program and quick Series 7 registration.

No prior experience is necessary, only serious go-getters need apply. Successful brokers looking for a change for the better are welcome to apply.

Call Mr. Colao for an immediate interview at (516) 364-6700
or Fax him at (516) 364-6766.

INVESTMENT
BANKERS

THE HARRIMAN GROUP INCORPORATED

VILLAGE BEVERAGE KEGS, COLD BEER & SODA

751-8464

BUSCH 160Z TALLNECKS

$9.88 CS

PLUS TAX AND DEPOSIT • Expires 12/21/94

MILLER 12 PACK CANS

$5.49 CS

PLUS TAX AND DEPOSIT • Expires 12/21/94

MILLER 1/2 KEGS

$49.95

PLUS TAX AND DEPOSIT • Expires 12/21/94

202 Route 25A, East Setauket

Next to Mario's Restaurant

Look For Our Many Other In-Store Sales!!

Stony Brook Women's Health Services

Family Planning • Sterilization
• Pre Natal Care

Abortions: Awake or Asleep/confidential • safe
• moderate cost

Free Pregnancy Testing

Complete Obstetrical And Gynecological
Care By Licensed Obs/Gyn Specialists

APPOINTMENTS ONLY (516) 751-2222

2500 Nesconset Highway, Stony Brook

ACCEPTS MAJOR CREDIT CARDS

FALLEY
TRANSPORTATION
Services, Inc.

Full Service Repair Facility For Auto • Truck • Marine

22 Southern Boulevard
Nesconset, NY 11767

(516) 265-6148

15%
DISCOUNT
W/SUNY ID

(not applicable with specials)

Is Your Car Ready For The Trip Home?

BRAKE SPECIAL

$25.00 OFF
reg. price

- Inspect braking system
- Install new pads or shoes
- Cut rotors or drums
- Repack wheel bearings

Exp. 12/31/94

RADIATOR DRAIN/FILL

$24.95*

- Install cooling system
- Drain radiator
- Add up to 2 gallons anti-freeze

*Most cars

Exp. 12/31/94

OIL, FILTER, LUBE

$15.95*

- Add up to 5Qts Premium Motor Oil
- New Filter
- Lube Chassis (where applicable)

*Most Cars • Exp 12/31/94

A romance that was doomed...

from the beginning.

And destined...

to last forever.

michael KEATON geena DAVIS

SPEECHLESS

A new romantic comedy from MGM.

Opens December 16
at theatres everywhere.

METRO-GOLDWYN-MAYER PRESENTS A FORGE PRODUCTION A RON UNDERWOOD FILM
MICHAEL KEATON GEENA DAVIS "SPEECHLESS"
DONNIE BEDELIA ERNIE HUDSON CHARLES MARTIN SMITH GAILLARD SARTAIN AND CHRISTOPHER REEVE
BY MARC SHALMAN EDITED BY MARY KANE PRODUCTION DESIGNER HARRY COLOMBY EXECUTIVE PRODUCERS ROBERT KING
PRODUCED BY RENEY HARLIN AND GEENA DAVIS DIRECTED BY RON UNDERWOOD

PG-13 PARENTS STRONGLY CAUTIONED
MGM
ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

Stateman Features

Thursday, December 1, 1994

Raft of the Medusa to Hold Opening Night Tonight

By Joe Fraoli
Statesman Managing Editor

As lights are dimmed or completely shut off at 7:45 p.m. tonight in cities across the world in recognition of World AIDS Day, the Theatre Arts Department will be busy preparing for their opening night of the play, Raft of the Medusa. The play, the last of the semester for the department, is opening tonight at 8 p.m. in recognition of World AIDS Day.

Written by Joe Pinturo, Raft of the Medusa is a play that takes a look into a People With AIDS, or PWAs, for short, support group attended by 12 characters. The play is directed by Professor Tom Neumiller of the Theatre Arts Department. "There is a meeting of people with AIDS; a support group which takes place in the present time in New York City," said Prof. Neumiller. "What transpires... we learn about the problems of the disease and how the disease can divide as easily as it conquers."

The Medusa was a French ship that ran aground in mid sea in 1816. Though many survived in lifeboats, 150 people were unaccountably abandoned on a makeshift raft with little hope of survival. Gercault, a French artist, was so moved by this controversial tragedy that he captured the plight of the doomed group in a monumental painting depicting the dead, dying and those trying to survive on the raft. In the painting, the survivors are seen waving to a distant ship that does not see them. The painting, which is currently on display in the Louvre, can be seen on the flyers for the performance. "Pinturo is saying the people with AIDS are like the surviving waving to a distant ship that doesn't see them," said Prof. Neumiller.

Stage managing the production is senior Angela Famularo who also recognizes the importance of the play. "It's basically a story about how they [the characters] deal with the disease," she said. "A few people tell stories how they contracted the disease and it describes the diseases they get."

Famularo and the rest of the cast and crew have been preparing for tonight's performance for well over a month. "We started rehearsing on October 10, during the run of Tales," said Famularo referring to Tales of the Last Foretellers, the Department's first play of the year. In the play, Famularo performed the lead role of Cathy, the lonely and divorced mother.

Famularo was optimistic about the up-coming run of Raft of the Medusa. "It's been a long process, but it's finally here," she said. "I think that everybody's ready for opening night."

After tonight's performance, a candlelight ceremony will be held to recognize the men and women who died of AIDS. After every performance of the play, a representative of the University Medical Center Education Resource Center will facilitate a talk-back with the audience in the theatre. "It's very important to show them [the students] what this disease is about," said Famularo. "Even on campus now, AIDS has gotten so big and people still disregard it and [think] that it's not going to happen to them, or if they don't know somebody that has it, it's not a big deal."

Statesman / John Chu

See RAFT, Page 17

Interfaith Office Creates Unity Over the Holiday

By Jamie Martorana
Special to the Statesman
AND THOMAS VINCENT FLAUGAN
Statesman Staff Writer

Autumn-colored table cloths draped over each of the eight tables. A single vase with flowers and a single candle decorated each table-top. In one corner, a buffet offered three turkeys, pumpkin pie and other traditional November delights.

The Interfaith Thanksgiving Dinner and Prayer Service was nothing to gobble coming together. "It's important that we have unity," she said. "Unity was a central theme of the dinner. It was echoed by others."

The Rev. Diane Samuels, Protestant chaplain, bustled around a little after 6 p.m., nervous that students were coming in late. This was her first Interfaith Thanksgiving. "It's an opportunity in a community as diverse as ours to recognize other's traditions," she said.

Rabbi Joseph Topok, chaplain for B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, agreed, calling Thanksgiving the transcendent holiday of America. All faiths were represented at the service, Landry said, and this was reflected in the students. More than 50 students, from a variety of religious backgrounds, were in attendance when the service started. It did begin a little late, but since the turkey was being kept warm, nobody seemed to mind.

Guitar music was supplied by El Kato and Mike Liu, members of the rock band Primary Colors, which performs every Saturday at The Spot. Liu serves as music coordinator for Catholic Campus Ministry. Jim Steele and Patsy Acerno, both Catholic Campus Ministry music ministrars, provided vocals. The representatives from Interfaith were the Baptist Campus Ministry (Southern Baptist), B'nai B'rith Hillel Foundation, Catholic Campus Ministry, Islamic Society of North America, Protestant Campus Ministry, and Unitarian Universalist Campus Ministry. "It's great how the ceremony brings together different faiths, enriched by what other people believe," said the Rev. Katherine Lehman, Unitarian Universalist chaplain. But she did concede that spiritual enrichment didn't have to be the only reason to attend. "The food's terrific," she said.

Participants wait to be served at the Interfaith Thanksgiving Dinner.

Statesman / John Chu

Stateman Features

Thursday, November 10, 1994

Pulitzer Prize-Winning Diary at Staller Center

By Joe Fraoli
Statesman Managing Editor

The Department of Theatre Arts took hundreds of people back to a tiny attic in Amsterdam, Holland during World War II last week as they presented their first run of the classic tale, The Diary of Anne Frank.

Last Thursday marked the opening night of the department's second production with a cast of ten diverse students in Theatre II of the Staller Center. The Diary of Anne Frank is the story of a Jewish, teenage girl who spent about the last two years of her life along with her family, their friends the Van Daans, and

Mr. Dussel, the dentist, in a tiny room above her father's business during World War II. Anne was given a diary for her twelfth birthday, and the story of the group's seclusion has been recounted from her diaries. This past August marked the 50th anniversary of her final days in the "Secret Annex," as she liked to call the room.

Directed by Farley Richmond, chair of the Department of Theatre Arts, the performance adhered very closely to Frances Goodrich's and Albert Hackett's dramatized version of the manuscripts and was performed professionally.

See FRANK, Page 12

Kristallnacht Memorial March

By Steve Sakowsky
Stonewall Staff Writer

The Hillel Student Organization is commemorating Kristallnacht, an event which marks the beginning of the Holocaust in Germany. Twelve million people were killed in the Holocaust, including one million Jews.

The Night of Broken Glass, as the term for Kristallnacht was, began on November 9, 1938. It was on this night the Nazis went through synagogues and destroyed Jewish homes and synagogues. Many Jews were injured and murdered.

He told the group that the Germans have put up plaques to commemorate the location of synagogues before they were destroyed in the Holocaust. "Always use the word murdered," said Margulies. "Not perished, not killed, but murdered when referring to the many who were during that time. There is a difference."

There is a plaque in the busiest subway station in the city that lists the names of all the places destroyed in the Holocaust. "Of our Honor," it lists the names of all the concentration camps. "We said Margulies also said that the German people were very nice to me. They were surprised that I wasn't resentful toward them."

He also told the students that it was important that they go to Israel. "For the many who sang about it but never got to see what they were singing about," he was referring to "Hank's," which is the Israeli National Anthem. The anthem speaks of the beauty of the Jewish homeland. He finished his story with an emphasis on how happy he is to be alive, have children and grandchildren.

On Tuesday, Hillel continued their commemoration with the showing of the film Europa Europa, which shows the events of November 9-10, 1938. On Wednesday, a candlelight vigil was held outside the Student Union. The vigil's purpose was to remember the 91 Jews murdered, 7,500 Jewish homes and businesses and 267 synagogues that were destroyed. The vigil began around 7:00 p.m. outside the Union. After prayers and readings, there was a march across campus to the Roth Quad cafeteria. Along the way, a reading was conducted in the pit near the Staller Center along with readings in front of Humanities

A Night to Remember... Never Again

speaking to European children about his experiences concerning the Holocaust. "I met up with a few students who had never seen a Jew before," said Margulies. "They were amazed. I looked human. No horns," he said.

He told the group that the Germans have put up plaques to commemorate the location of synagogues before they were destroyed in the Holocaust. "Always use the word murdered," said Margulies. "Not perished, not killed, but murdered when referring to the many who were during that time. There is a difference."

There is a plaque in the busiest subway station in the city that lists the names of all the places destroyed in the Holocaust. "Of our Honor," it lists the names of all the concentration camps. "We said Margulies also said that the German people were very nice to me. They were surprised that I wasn't resentful toward them."

He also told the students that it was important that they go to Israel. "For the many who sang about it but never got to see what they were singing about," he was referring to "Hank's," which is the Israeli National Anthem. The anthem speaks of the beauty of the Jewish homeland. He finished his story with an emphasis on how happy he is to be alive, have children and grandchildren.

On Tuesday, Hillel continued their commemoration with the showing of the film Europa Europa, which shows the events of November 9-10, 1938. On Wednesday, a candlelight vigil was held outside the Student Union. The vigil's purpose was to remember the 91 Jews murdered, 7,500 Jewish homes and businesses and 267 synagogues that were destroyed. The vigil began around 7:00 p.m. outside the Union. After prayers and readings, there was a march across campus to the Roth Quad cafeteria. Along the way, a reading was conducted in the pit near the Staller Center along with readings in front of Humanities speaking to European children about his experiences concerning the Holocaust. "I met up with a few students who had never seen a Jew before," said Margulies. "They were amazed. I looked human. No horns," he said.

Statesman / John Chu

He told the group that the Germans have put up plaques to commemorate the location of synagogues before they were destroyed in the Holocaust. "Always use the word murdered," said Margulies. "Not perished, not killed, but murdered when referring to the many who were during that time. There is a difference."

There is a plaque in the busiest subway station in the city that lists the names of all the places destroyed in the Holocaust. "Of our Honor," it lists the names of all the concentration camps. "We said Margulies also said that the German people were very nice to me. They were surprised that I wasn't resentful toward them."

He also told the students that it was important that they go to Israel. "For the many who sang about it but never got to see what they were singing about," he was referring to "Hank's," which is the Israeli National Anthem. The anthem speaks of the beauty of the Jewish homeland. He finished his story with an emphasis on how happy he is to be alive, have children and grandchildren.

On Tuesday, Hillel continued their commemoration with the showing of the film Europa Europa, which shows the events of November 9-10, 1938. On Wednesday, a candlelight vigil was held outside the Student Union. The vigil's purpose was to remember the 91 Jews murdered, 7,500 Jewish homes and businesses and 267 synagogues that were destroyed. The vigil began around 7:00 p.m. outside the Union. After prayers and readings, there was a march across campus to the Roth Quad cafeteria. Along the way, a reading was conducted in the pit near the Staller Center along with readings in front of Humanities

Participants wait to be served at the Interfaith Thanksgiving Dinner.

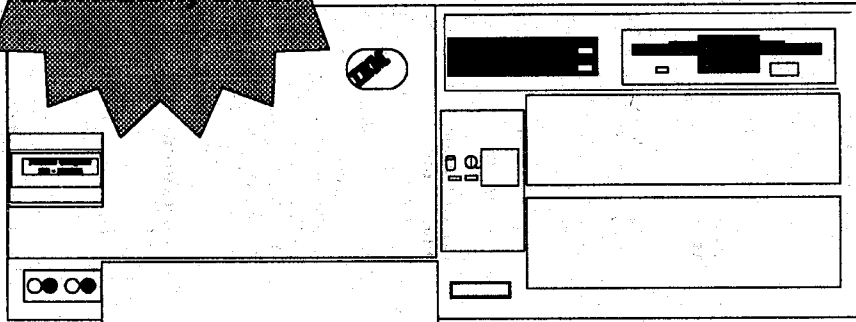

Participants wait to be served at the Interfaith Thanksgiving Dinner.

Computer Corner • ECC Building (Next to Javits Lecture Center) • 516-632-7630

jingle Bell

Special Offerings for Students, Faculty, & Staff at SUNY Stony Brook

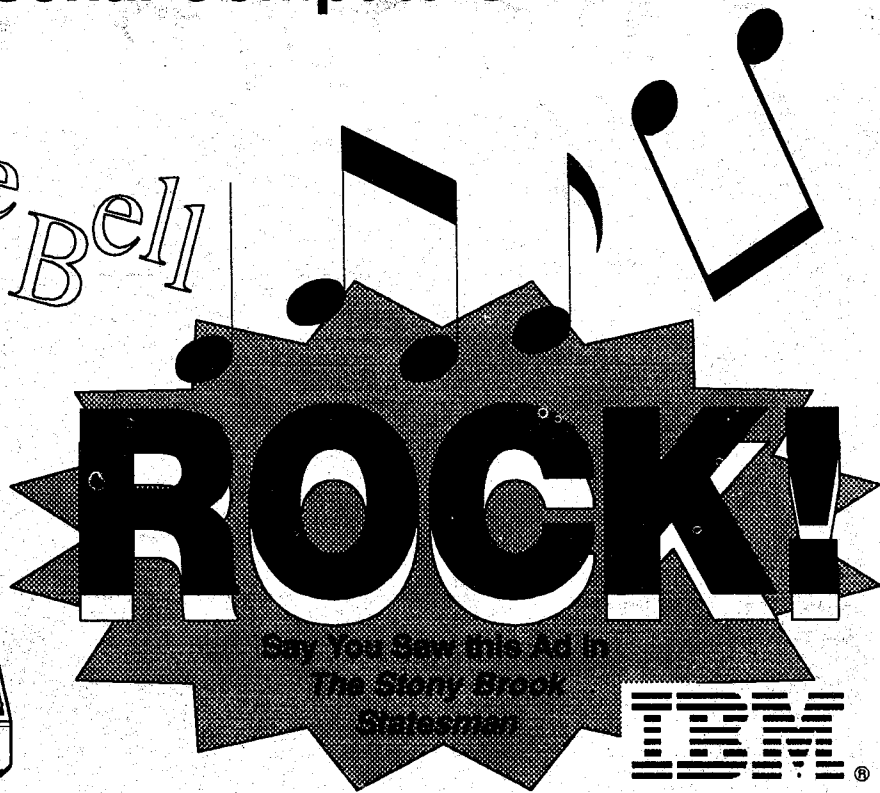

PC 350

Come and Ask About
IBM Personal Computers!

jingle Bell

jingle Bell

Special Collector's Pull-Out Section

INDEX

FALL SPIRIT NIGHT '94 Event Draws Enormous Crowd for Most Spectacular Event of the Year.
-Page 10

CARIBBEAN CRUISE COPY
Homecoming concert forgotten as participants were able to gamble for fun, play shuffleboard, and dance the night away
-Page 11

CENTERFOLD
A photographic collage of Stony Brook Homecoming '94. Among photos of other events are those of the football game, the Homecoming Parade, the Distinguished Alumni/Outstanding Professor Brunch, and many others.
-Pages 12-13

REUNIONS, REUNIONS
While there was a vast variety of events to choose from, many alumni chose to spend time with their former classmates.
Reunions were held in the Union, across campus, and across the tracks.
-Page 14

RUNNING FOR A CAUSE
Nearly 200 people of all ages participated in the 5K run on Sunday intended to raise money for scholarships. Results of the top three finishers in each category accompany the story.
-Page 15

MORE PHOTOS
Photos and short stories on Homecoming competition winners, the Homecoming king and queen, and the new Seawolves Mascot appear in the second half of this supplement.
-Pages 14-15

Top: The Bridge was prime real estate for viewing the Homecoming Parade on Saturday morning. Bottom-Right: Later in the day, some Seawolves FANGaics show some spirit at the football game. Bottom-Right: Also at the game was SportsChannel. Stony Brook athletics have now been on cable television twice.

Homecoming '94

Editorials
"Resign, Annette, Resign"

Our headline was suggested by an official of our student government.

Among other phrases heard after last night's Polity Senate meeting, the last of the semester, were "It was the worst meeting in Polity history," "It was a blow to American - or even Canadian - jurisprudence," and "They [the Council] have no regard for the students."

Enough is enough. Last night, the council demonstrated that they hold office for one reason: themselves. The general student population no longer factors into the equation. Last night, the council voted for themselves.

Last week, a motion was brought to the floor of the senate to revoke council members' voting privileges in the senate. Polity Vice President Annette Hicks, the chair of the senate, deferred her chair to Commuter Vice President Kenneth Daube, explaining that she was biased on the motion and could not, in good faith, carry out her duties. In the midst of a roll call vote that likely would have passed the motion, Tameka Reid, Polity Treasurer, left the meeting breaking quorum in an attempt to block the vote.

Last night, the item was brought back to the floor. This time Hicks ignored Daube's formal request for her to defer the chair, even though she is still biased. Although procedure would have Hicks continue the roll call vote where it left off when quorum was broken last week, she decided on her own volition to completely disregard the previous vote. As a result, three votes cast by senators that were unable to attend last night's meeting were discounted, once again changing the course, validity and integrity of the vote.

The motion was to take away the council's voting privileges in the senate. In a fair vote, when a party is directly affected by the outcome, that party must abstain from the vote. However, all five council members present voted "no." The result of the vote was 15-15-2, a tie.

The chair of the meeting, not possessing a vote in the original tally, casts the deciding vote. "Oddly enough," Hicks, who last week admitted bias and deferred the chair and is a member of the should-have-abstained council, did cast the deciding vote. She voted no.

She voted for herself. She voted against the students. Had Hicks deferred the chair, the motion would almost surely have passed. Then again, had the rest of the council abstained, as they should have, the vote would have been 15-10-7: motion passes.

Any way one looks at it, the council protected its own best interest, once again railing the students. The students wanted the motion passed. The council did not. No sooner had the results of the vote been declared, Senior Representative Corey Goodman, another council member, motioned to adjourn in an attempt to block further discussion and a motion to reconsider. Though many senators vehemently objected to the motion and no one heard a second to the motion, Hicks immediately adjourned the meeting, crushing the student cause.

Now that it is clear that the council is working for themselves and not for the students as their positions charge, it is time for change. Annette Hicks, whose offenses are too lengthy to list, must resign.

Shareen King, who has missed more meetings than the rest of the Council members combined, must resign. Corey Goodman, who drove the final nail into the motion's coffin, must resign. Tameka Reid, who caused this farce to be stretched out another week by breaking quorum, must resign.

Polity President Crystal Platt, one of the few (two) council members that ever shows concern for the students, was the only Council member present deserving any merit. Platt maintained her composure throughout the discussion of the motion.

At one point in the discussion, Hicks explained that Polity was not set up in the fashion of the United States' three branches of government. She continued to assert that Polity followed more of a Canadian form of government.

Apparently, Hicks got the words "Canadian" and "Communist" confused, for the Canadian government still operated with some form of Democracy. Polity is a pure dictatorship. Rule of many by few for fewer.

The self-service must end. The statement said that the official election results had been tallied three weeks ago. The proclamation further stated that they were given to the Statesman for publication during that time period.

See BOARD, Page 9

"Diplomacy is the art of saying 'Nice Doggie!' till you can find a rock."

- Wynn Catlin

EDITOR-IN-CHIEF
Thomas E. Hennes

MANAGING EDITOR
Joe Fitchell

PHOTOGRAPHY EDITOR
John Chu

ASSOCIATE NEWS EDITORS
John Lowther

ASSISTANT NEWS EDITORS
Thomas V. Farnagan

ASSISTANT FEATURES EDITOR
Brooke Donahoe

BUSINESS MANAGER
Frank D'Alessandro

ADVERTISING MANAGER
William Reinhardt

GRAPHIC ARTIST
Alan Goshick

SENIOR STAFF

Carl Conry
Kris Dooley
Gayle DeLuise

CONTRIBUTING STAFF

Tom Berlin
Dennis Cardillo
Jon Glaser
Mike Kerner
John Lee
B. MacIntyre
Donald A. MacIntyre
Suzanne Murphy

The Stony Brook Statesman, the newspaper for SLNY at Stony Brook, is a not-profit literary publication that is produced twice-weekly during the academic year and bi-weekly during the summer. Statesman Association, Inc.'s offices are located in the lower level of the Student Union.

For information about advertising, call 632-4400 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.
Editorial represent the majority opinion of the Editorial Board and are written by one of its members or a designee.
Statesman welcomes letters, viewpoints and suggestions about noteworthy events and issues on or around campus and its community. Write to:
Statesman
P.O. Box 1530
Stony Brook, NY 11790
or Student Union
Room 075
Campus Zip 3200.
Fax: (516) 632-9123.
E-mail: statesman@ic.sunysb.edu
Viewpoints must be no longer than 1,000 words, and letters no longer than 500 words. Both must include the writer's name, address and phone number for verification. Anonymous letters will not be printed.

All contents
Copyright 1994,
Statesman Association, Inc.

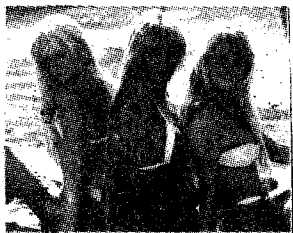

The Stony Brook Statesman is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press since 1994.

1095 RTE. 25A
STONY BROOK NY
11790
751-9734

THURSDAY UNIVERSITY NITE IS LADIES NITE

LADIES
FREE Admission
FREE Champagne

DJ DANCING
AND LIVE MUSIC
BY LI'S TOP PARTY BANDS
"HAPPY HOUR" STARTS
AT 3:00

2 - FER BAR DRINKS
AND DOMESTIC BEER

JOIN US FOR A SUNY XMAS PARTY AND HAVE YOUR PICTURE TAKEN WITH SANTA !

The Management and Staff of the Park Bench would like to extend their wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

The Staff of the Statesman

Would Like To Wish
The Students,
Faculty and Staff a
Merry Christmas
and A Happy and Safe New Year!

See Everyone Next Semester!

Question
The Knowledge

A FILM BY JOHN SINGLETON

HIGHER LEARNING

COLUMBIA PICTURES PRESENTS
A NEW DEAL PRODUCTION

A FILM BY JOHN SINGLETON
'HIGHER LEARNING'

STARRING JENNIFER CONNELLY ICE CUBE
OMAR EPPS MICHAEL RAPAPORT
KRISTY SWANSON
AND LAURENCE FISHBURNE

MUSIC BY STANLEY CLARKE

CO-PRODUCED BY DWIGHT ALONZO WILLIAMS
PRODUCED BY JOHN SINGLETON AND PAUL HALL

WRITTEN AND DIRECTED BY JOHN SINGLETON

At Theatres Soon

PEARL

THE WORLD'S LARGEST
ART, CRAFT AND GRAPHIC
DISCOUNT CENTER

FREE Airbrush & Compressor Demo Monday, Dec. 19 at 1 PM!

PÉBÉO T-7 PROFESSIONAL GOUACHE SET

Rich in pigment and very opaque. 16 piece set plus one large white.

List: $185.00

PEARL: $89.95

Pearl Gift Certificates are available in any dollar amount!

What better gift for the creative people on your list!

25% OFF
OUR EVERY DAY LOW
PRICES ON ALL CHRISTMAS ITEMS!

WATERMAN LAUREAT FOUNTAIN PEN AND ROLLER BALL SETS

The write gift! A 3-in-1 pen that meets any writing need. Modern and comfortable.

List: $120.00

PEARL: $59.99

SHEAFFER.

Calligraphy Set

2 Sheaffer fountain pens, 3 calligraphy nibs-broad, medium, and fine. Practice pad, Step-By-Step guide, 14 ink cartridges, and 3 reusable grids.

List: $18.50

PEARL: $9.95

3 PIECE DRAFT- ING PACKAGE

You get an adjustable height drafting table, an adjustable chair, and a swing arm lamp.

List: $349.95

PEARL: $159.99

2411 Hempstead Tpke.
East Meadow, New York
(516) 731-3700

Custom framing and mat cutting available!

Special Holiday Hours!
Mon. - Fri.: 9:30am - 6pm
Sat.: 9:30am - 6pm
Sun.: 11am - 5pm

Not responsible for typographical errors.
No free delivery on sale items • All sale items are while supplies last.
All items may not be available at all locations • Sale ends Dec. 26, 1994
For over 60 years Pearl has been supporting the creative community.

Look for the Pearl location nearest you in the NYNEX Yellow Pages.

Statesman SPORTS

Thursday, December 1, 1994

Seawolves Scoff at Golden Lion Roar Women Hoopsters Win Laughter, 74-52

By Dan Camilla
Stonewall Staff Writer

In game four of the Dickinson Era of Stony Brook women's basketball, the Seawolves brought their season record to 2-2 after trouncing the Dowling Golden Lions, 74-52.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

Seawolves 74
Golden Lions 52

Scoring eight of her season-high 22 points during a 22-0 five-minute run, giving the Seawolves a 38-15 lead with four minutes remaining in the first half. Elch also led the team with 18 rebounds. Richshawna Simms also chipped in with impressive work, scoring 18 points while pulling down 10 rebounds, six offensive. Freshman Donna Kennedy added 12 points and three assists to her season totals.

Stony Brook was able to capitalize on the numerous Dowling turnovers. Dowling's 26 turnovers were one-half of their downfall. The other was that although they clearly had a size advantage, they could not meet the rebounding challenge the Seawolves presented. Stony Brook out-rebounded Dowling 51-27 and destroyed them on the offensive boards, 26-11. The run late in the first half. However, Stony Brook's passing game left them, partially because of the relative inexperience of new starting point guard Marissa Baran, and impact for the loss of field general Kim Canada due to a soccer-season knee injury.

Baran played well at times, making very imaginative passes and making great attempts to distribute the ball. In any event, Baran's lack of resourcefulness when attempting to defeat Dowling's full-court press caused Stony Brook great problems in developing offensive opportunities with respect to the time clock. By calling time to ten seconds off of the clock before getting past the time line, Stony Brook was put at a disadvantage all night. This led to rushed passes and to poor shot selection. The Wolves hurt themselves with an assist to turnover deficit of minus seven (seven turnovers which can be attributed to Baran, though she did have six assists), and a 38-2 shooting percentage.

Had it not been for the Seawolves rebounding creating the fourth chance opportunities, the Seawolves, Page 20

Seawolves/Jane Chubbing of Dowling last night.

Men's Hoops Off to 3-0 Start

DUCKETT, HENNESSY LEAD 'WOLVES OVER MOLLOY AND MERCY

By Ken Dooney
Stonewall Staff Writer

The men's basketball team cruised to two victories over Division II opponents last week to up its record to 3-0. Sophomore shooting guard Brian Hennessy and junior forward Ron Duckett paced the Seawolves' 80-65 victory over Mercy College, 79-70 last Tuesday, and 80-65 over Molloy College Sunday.

MEN'S BASKETBALL

Seawolves 80
Mercy 65
Molloy 70

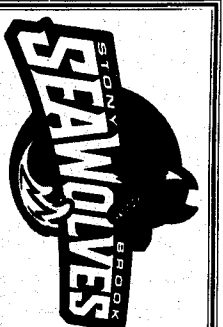

including 10 points from the foul line. Stony Brook led by as many as 15 points early in the second half, but Mercy closed the gap to five with less than three minutes remaining. Mercy began to foul, but Duckett nailed seven-of-eight free throws in the final 1:15 to seal the victory for Stony Brook.

Seawolves Hit the Road

After opening the season with three consecutive home games, the Seawolves travel to Washington, D.C., to compete in the Gallaudet Tournament this weekend. Friday the Wolves play Lincoln University at 6 p.m. Saturday they will play either Gallaudet or Philadelphia Pharmacy.

Junior Ron Duckett poured in points and ripped down rebounds consistently during the Seawolves' last two victories.

Statesman SPORTS

Thursday, December 8, 1994

Men's Hoops Holds On, Beat Monarchs 79-74

16-4 Run Early in Second Half Gave 'Wolves Lead to Protect in Stretch

By Ken Dooney
Stonewall Staff Writer

Junior forward Ron Duckett led all scorers with 21 points and freshman point guard Larry Gibson added 17, including 13 in the second half, as Stony Brook upped its record to 4-2 with a 79-74 win over Kings (PA) College last night at the Indoor Sports Complex.

MEN'S HOOPS

Seawolves 79
Kings College 74

The Monarchs shot 64 percent from the field in the opening half to take a 39-37 lead into the lockerroom. In fact, the Kings College led by seven visitors lead by seven midway through the half, but Stony Brook's freshman forward Robert Young scored eight consecutive points in a three-and-a-half minute span to keep the Wolves within striking distance.

The Seawolves trailed 45-41 just two minutes into the second half, but went on a 16-4 run, keyed by a three-point play by Gibson, to take a 57-49 lead.

"Larry had a very good game tonight," head coach Bernard Tomlin said. "He is a very good leader on the court and made a lot of good decisions tonight." Gibson also handed out a game-high seven assists.

Stony Brook had a 71-59 lead, but sealed the game with clutch free-throw shooting as Kings nailed five three pointers in the final 90 seconds. The Seawolves made 11 of 12 foul shots in the span, including four by Duckett in the final fifty seconds.

"This was a very important victory for us," Tomlin said. "We let one slip away from us this weekend at Gallaudet, but we were able to shake it off and come back tonight." "We played a little sluggish in the first half," Tomlin added. "Our game plan was for us to be very aggressive towards the ball, but we just didn't accomplish that. We made some adjustments at halftime and made things happen with our defense in the second half."

Senior center Michel Savane added 15 points and six rebounds for the Seawolves, while Young finished with 12 points and a team-high nine rebounds. Junior swingman Brian Hennessy handed out six assists.

"Right now everyone is contributing for us," Tomlin said. "Ronnie (Duckett), Rob (Young) and Michel (Savane) all played great games. Tonight was Michel's best game so far this season. He is starting to play with fire and intensity. Marc Biot continues to play well for us. He had a key three-point play."

Notes: Duckett was named to the all-tournament team this past weekend at Gallaudet. Last night's game was the first time Stony Brook and Kings ever opposed one another. Attendance was reported to be 450.

Stony Brook is now 4-0 at the Indoor Sports Complex this season and 42-15 since it opened in 1990. Tickets are now available for the Seawolves game against Western Connecticut, January 22, at Madison Square Garden. For more information, call 633-7205.

Quotes: "I just have to stay out of foul trouble," Young said. "I have been hurting myself and the team by getting into early foul trouble. If we continue to play like we did tonight we should be able to come home with a title from Nazareth." "We seem to be really hungry after losing twice this past weekend," Gibson said. "We were a Senior Center Michel Savane pumped in 15 and pulled in six boards in the Seawolves' 79-74 win over visiting Kings (PA) College.

Hockey Evens Record With Win Over CCM, 3-2

By Jen Glaze
Stonewall Staff Writer

DIX HILL—Chris Garofalo scored two goals in the hockey game against Morris Community College to help win the last game before the winter break last night.

HOCKEY

Seawolves 3
CCM 2

Stony Brook led the first period scoring. In the first five minutes of the game CCM tied it up in the second period and it stayed 1-1 for the duration of the period. In the third period, Stony Brook scored two goals regaining the lead for good. With three minutes in the period left CCM scored a second goal. In the last minute of the game CCM pulled the goalie but still could not score with the extra skater. Junior goaltender Chris Livingston made several saves against breakaways. Stony Brook assistant coach Brian Karp said "We played with a skeleton crew of Livingston was the backbone."

Stony Brook was missing a few players because of injuries. Chris Garofalo said "No matter how many players they have, the team always comes together." Also, the third and fourth lines have been showing what they can do." Brendan Lever scored the third goal for the Seawolves in the third period that kept the team ahead. Lever is a freshman and is said to be a quality player by his teammates.

Notes: Dennis Dietrich assisted Garofalo in the first goal of the game. She is the only woman on the team. Dennis said "The men are great. It feels great knowing that when you're out on the ice, the whole team supports you." She competes on the Stony Brook team at the Island Waves Girl Hockey Club out of Freeport. She admits to playing with the Stony Brook team is harder than playing on the women's team, but she said "If you can't take it, you shouldn't be there."

Her brother inspired her to be a hockey player. She said, "everything I want to be is what he is." She feels her coaches and teammates are fair. She sits the bench sometimes, most of the game, but she is only a freshman and she's still learning.

Next: The Seawolves travel to Rochester to participate in the Nazareth Tournament this weekend. Friday night Stony Brook plays Keuka College and Saturday they will play either Nazareth or Roberts Wesleyan.

In 1991, the Patriots finished third at the tournament losing to Keuka in the opening round, but beating Nazareth in the consolation game. Stony Brook's next home game will be December 28 against UMass-Boston in the Student Life Invitational.

Next: The hockey team now holds a 4-1 record. The team needed this game to put them into the playoffs. The teams next game will be on January 18 against Wagner in Staten Island. The Seawolves' next home game is February 16 against Seton Hall in Dix Hills.

Planned Parenthood® gives you choices.

- Birth Control • GYN Care
- Pregnancy Testing & Counseling
- Testing & Treatment for Sexually Transmitted Diseases

Services are strictly confidential. Fees are based on your ability to pay. Se habla español.

Planned Parenthood®
of Suffolk County, Inc.

Appointments Monday – Saturday. Evenings, too!

Amagansett
Montauk Highway at Cross Highway
267-6818

Huntington
755 New York Avenue
427-7154

Patchogue
450 Plaza Waverly Avenue
475-5705

Riverhead
540 East Main Street
369-0230

Smithtown
70 Maple Avenue
361-7526

West Islip
180 Sunrise Highway
893-0150

Season's Best!

Classifieds

FOR SALE

MICROFILM PROJECTION MACHINE FOR SALE BEST OFFER!!!!!!
CALL 632-6480 FOR MORE INFORMATION

1989 Hyundai Excel-Great condition in & out, 5-speed, stereo cassette, hitchback. Perfect for student! $1,100 negotiable. During the day: 499-6500 ext. 566 and at night: 474-4795

5 acrea - Delaware County, New York. Camping, hunting, fishing, boating. Beautiful mountain views. all level with private road frontage. walk to Delaware River. Secluded mountain acreage. $12,500 negotiable. 666-8107 evenings. 632-6480 days. Ask for Frank.

HELP WANTED

Working Mom Needs HELP!
Room and Board in exchange for Babysitting two children before and after school. Some evenings possible. MUST be flexible, reliable, trustworthy. Warm friendly atmosphere.
Ronkonkoma 467-3380
Take a study Break. Work for a couple of hours during lunch and/or dinner. Earn Some Cash at SUBWAY. Call 750-1444 and ask for Peter.

The Princeton Review is looking for part time instructors for its SAT and MCAT courses. SAT applicants should have high standardized test scores along with a gregarious personality, and MCAT applicants should have a strong background in Bio, Phys, and Chem. Graduate Students pref. SAT teachers start at $16/hr and MCAT teachers at $19/hr..

Mail or fax resume to: The Princeton Review, 775 Park Avenue, Huntington, NY 11743. Attn: Ivana Savor. Fax: (516) 271-3459

Day/night waitresses, waiters - competitive wages, pleasant working conditions. Apply in person Monday through Thursday and Saturdays after 3pm at The Park Bench 1095 Route 25A, Stony Brook.

BUSPERSON/WAITERS/ WAITRESSES P/T,F/T IMMEDIATE. ST. GEORGE'S GOLF & COUNTRY CLUB STONY BROOK NY 751-0388

Drivers NEEDED! HIGH PAY, PLUS TIPS. CLEAN LICENSE REQUIRED. APPLY AT STATION PIZZA. ASK FOR BOB, OR CALL 751-5543

DRIVER FOR SHUTTLE VAN, PART-TIME, THURSDAY AND FRIDAY - NIGHTTIME HOURS. GOOD PAY PLUS GRATUITIES. STONY BROOK AREA. CALL 751-9734.

Prosperous new company seeks ambitious & reliable persons to promote & sell medical supplies to large national client base. P/T, F/T Min. 20hrs per week. Flexible work schedules. Sales experience preferred but will train. Salary plus commission Call 800-377-2436

Help Wanted

WAITRESSES/ WAITERS,

BIG BARRY'S

Lake Grove, Rt. 25

Food preparers, cooks, waitresses - Full Time/ Part-Time, Flexible Schedule. Quality Oriented and Must Train With Us!
Village Way Restaurant
106 Main Street
Pt. Jefferson Village
928-3395

Deli Counter/Delivery Person. $7 - $12 per hour depending upon experience. Day and night shift. Apply in person at the University Sub & Grill (next to The Park Bench) Mon - Thurs. & Saturday after 3pm. 1095 Route 25A, Stony Brook.

Full Time/Part-Time help needed. Up to $6.00 per hour to start. Flexible hours. Apply at the Stony Brook McDonalds
2324 Nesconset Highway

MARKETER TO WORK FOR HEFFRON'S CAFE & BAR IN HAUPPAUGE. MAKE YOUR OWN HOURS - EARN LOTS OF $$$ IN COMMISSIONS. CALL KATHY AT 979-7855

Telemarkets wanted for evening shift 5-9pm. Salary $6-$10 per hour. Bonuses, commissions and incentives. 689-6259 leave message.

$25 per hour plus residuals, coordinating memberships, no cold calling, casual atmosphere, flexible hours for students, no experience necessary. Call Kelly at (516) 979-1300.

SERVICES

BOOK YOUR HOLIDAY PARTIES NOW! CREATIVE CATERING WITH CASUAL PRICES. PLANS TO FIT ALL BUDGETS. BOTH ON & OFF PREMISE. CALL THE PARK BENCH CATERING DIVISION 9AM-5PM MONDAY - SATURDAY AT 751- 9734

RESEARCH INFORMATION

Largest Library of information in U.S. - all subjects

Order Catalog Today with Visa / MC or COD

ORDERING HOT LINE 800-351-0222

or (310) 477-8226

Or, rush $2.00 to: Research Information

11322 Idaho Ave., # 206-A, Los Angeles, CA 90025

Allstate®
You're in good hands.

Allstate Insurance Company
Coventry Commons Mall
1320 Stony Brook Road
Stony Brook, NY 11790
(Stony Brook Rd. & Route 347 Next to TCBY)
Bus (516) 689-7770
Fax (516) 689-7236

GARBER TRAVEL

wants to send you
HOME FOR THE HOLIDAYS!

We guarantee the Lowest Available Airfare
to your Hometown!

call your nearest Garber Travel Agent at:
Library Plaza
S.U.N.Y. at Stony Brook 632-7799

LOST

Ward Melville High School, School Ring. It's gold with an emerald stone. Picture of high school on one side and picture of baton twirler on the other side. Initials CMGS are engraved on the inside. If found please return to Claudia Schlitz. Call at 2-7000

TRAVEL

***SPRING BREAK 95***
America's #1 Spring Break Company!
Cancun, Bahamas, Daytona & Panama!
110% Lowest Price Guarantee! Organize 15 friends and TRAVEL FREE! Earn highest commissions! (800) 32-Travel

Wanted!!!

Individuals and Student Organizations to Promote SPRING BREAK '95. Earn Substantial MONEY and FREE TRIPS. CALL INTER-CAMPUS PROGRAMS 1-800-327-6013

FOR RENT

Mt. Sinai - Beautiful 1 Bedroom apt. EIK, Den. Single person, non-smoker, no pets. One month rent plus security. $650 ALL. Call 331-9730 (daytime) 473-7778 (evenings)

SKI

Ski at GORE, Downhill/ Cross Country. Three Bedroom Contemporary Townhouse, Mountain/ Lake view. Now thru March. Book early! 689-9409; 7513868(eve)

Statesman Sports

Monday, October 17, 1994

Seawolves Bully Cadets, Win Homecoming Game, 21-6

Both Teams Plagued By Mistakes, Brook's Defense Makes Stands

By Thomas F. Massie
Stonewall Editor in Chief

A failing fourth-down conversion (Norwich was 2-5 on fourth-down conversions. Conversely, in the third quarter, Stony Brook drove for 95 yards on nine plays in 1:50 for a touchdown.

As for oddities, with five minutes left in the game, it was obvious that Stony Brook was about to punch into the Norwich endzone, having the ball first-and-goal on the two. After two unsuccessful rushing attempts, two touchdowns called back on penalties, an incomplete pass and an intentional grounding penalty, Stony Brook had the ball fourth-and-goal on the thirty-six.

FOOTBALL

Seawolves	21
Norwich	6

The real story of the game itself was Stony Brook's defense. "People don't realize this," said head coach Sam Kornhauser. "But, we're good on defense."

Neither team played particularly well. They combined for four fumbles (two each, one each lost), three interceptions (two by Stony Brook, one by Norwich) and 23 penalties (Stony Brook, 14 for 128 yards; Norwich nine for 77 yards).

Another view of the game showed a number of oddities and extreme contrasts between the two teams. From the first quarter through the middle of the second, Norwich embarked on an 17-play, 8-minute 28 second drive for 51 yards. At the end of the drive, the Cadets turned the ball over after

It was a game of mistakes and oddities, but the Wolves put it away early against Norwich during Homecoming, winning 21-6. Above, sophomore John Chapman and sophomore Sal Prestanini show why Stony Brook won the game: defense.

Men's Soccer Beats Lehman, Concordia

By Neil McKenna
Stonewall Staff Writer

On Wednesday, men's soccer broke a four game losing streak, beating visiting Lehman College 1-0. The victory improved the team record to 7-6-0, which puts the team over .500.

MEN'S SOCCER

Seawolves	1
Lehman	0

The game was scoreless until 25 minutes into the second half when Stony Brook's Seawolves scored the only goal to seal the victory.

Forward Philip Chastang came off the bench to get the assist.

Chastang curled a perfect cornerkick into the box where sophomore stopper Erik Rodriguez skillfully headed the ball into the right side-netting.

Senior goalkeeper Corey Derosa, and the rest of the defense, recorded their fourth clean sheet of the season.

For Homecoming, the Seawolves outplayed and outscored Division II Concordia for a thrilling 2-1 overtime win.

Five minutes into the second half, freshman Ryan Jinx threaded a pass through the defense. Brian Mosik met the ball full stride and was headed for the goal. Beating one defender, Mosik was almost home, but was viciously taken down from Brook got the call and received a penalty kick.

Captain Ron Palillo came up from the backline to take the kick. "I just planned on kicking it hard and to the corner and if the keeper got it, he got it," said Palillo. The keeper didn't get it and Stony Brook won 1-0.

Ten minutes later Concordia evened the score. Rounding the corner, Concordia's right-wing ripped a shot at Derosa deflected six-yard line. Derosa deflected the shot but Concordia's Matt Flower was there to poke in the rebound.

Graduate student Brian Mosik, whom coach Sansom said, "Played his best game in four years for us today," rifled a "world cup" shot from 25 yards out. Unfortunately, "The keeper made a world cup save," said Mosik. The game went into overtime tied 1-1.

Concordia had the first opportunity to go ahead in overtime when the referee awarded them a penalty kick. Their best player stepped up to take the kick. Stony Brook fans in the stands were giving him the "hannny." He missed the kick wide right off the post. Derosa said after the game, "I didn't matter that he hit the post. I had it covered even if it was on net."

With five minutes left in the second overtime, it looked as

Volleyball Places Third in First Annual Seawolf Classic

By John Lee
Stonewall Staff Writer

The volleyball captured third place in the first annual Seawolf Classic volleyball tournament in the Indoor Sports Complex.

After coming off a victory from Friday's game against the Bates Bobcats, the Seawolves volleyball team (16-9) was defeated in four games by the Mercy Lady Flyers (21-7) 15-5, 10-15, 2-15 and 8-15.

"We could have done better," said head coach Teri Tiso when asked about the performance of the team. Mercy came out with a strong offensive attack which eventually overpowered the defense of the Seawolves. "We need to block more aggressively and be tougher at the net," said Coach Tiso. "We're still a young team. There's a lot of room for improvement."

Statesman Sports

Monday, November 14, 1994

Spikers Advance to "Great Eight"

Wolves Beat Williams and EastConn, Play at Ithaca Saturday

By Kris Drouha
Stonewall Sports Writer

The volleyball team advanced to the NCAA Division III Great Eight with two relatively easy victories this weekend in the Northeast Regional.

Friday, the Seawolves cruised past Williams (MA) College 15-12, 15-9, 15-2. Then on Saturday, Stony Brook swept second-seeded Eastern Connecticut 15-12, 15-9, 15-2.

VOLLEYBALL

Seawolves	15-15-15
Williams	12-9-2
EastConn	12-6-4

Every one played super this weekend. "We were all in," said coach Teri Tiso. "We are really pleased and we seem to be peaking at the right time. I still can't believe that we won this. We've been working one day at a time to get here and now we've won. After we started 5-5 our goal was just to get an NCAA bid and now we are one of the eight teams in Division III still playing."

The Seawolves fell behind 3-2 in the opening game Saturday, but scored the next nine points, including a string of six with sophomore Jolie Ward serving.

With a 2-0 lead, winning the match was only a formality and it showed as Stony Brook cruised to a 15-2 win.

The Warriors battled back to get within 13-12, but freshman Kim Lombardo served an ace to get Stony Brook to game point. The visitors earned a timeout, but lost its service on a kill by Ward. With senior co-captain Tina Salak serving, Ward dug the return, and Lombardo set junior co-captain Maura Gormley for the kill.

The second game was a game of streaks with the Wolves having the final flurry of points. Stony Brook jumped in from 5-0 then after ECSU tied it at 10-10, then again 6-3.

The Warriors refused to give up and took the lead at 7-6, the final time they would lead in a game. With the game knotted at eight, sophomore Christy Innes won. After we started 5-5 our goal was just to get an NCAA bid and now we are one of the eight teams in Division III still playing."

The Seawolves fell behind 3-2 in the opening game Saturday, but scored the next nine points, including a string of six with sophomore Jolie Ward serving.

With a 2-0 lead, winning the match was only a formality and it showed as Stony Brook cruised to a 15-2 win.

Football Destroys River Hawks, 54-0

Wolves Seeded First in ECAC's to Host Wilkes U Saturday

By Thomas F. Massie
Stonewall Editor in Chief

No sooner than UMass-Lowell's Eric Crowley punted on fourth-and-eight from the Lowell 37, the game was over. "The Seawolves dashed the distance, capped by a five-yard scamper by freshman Bobby Kane at the 10-22 mark, and never once looked over their collective shoulder."

FOOTBALL

Seawolves	54
UMass-Lowell	0

Wolves steamrolled the visiting River Hawks en route to a 54-0 victory and a number one seed in the ECAC Metropolitan (NY/NJ) Championships.

"Last week you asked me if the season was over," said head coach Sam Kornhauser. "No. Not at all. The season's not over."

"I'm sorry we couldn't make it to the NCAA playoffs," said sophomore running back Jeff Morgan. "But the ECAC's are okay. It's another week of practice."

"These guys weren't that good, but a win's a win," said senior quarterback Timm Schneider.

Sophomore Jolie Ward spikes home the launch winner against Williams (MA) College Friday night. The Wolves swept Williams and then EastConn on Saturday to advance to the Great Eight in NCAA Div. III.

Stony Brook sprang to a 36-0 first quarter lead on the strength of Kane's legs (16 at, 57 yds, 3 TD), Schneider's arm, and freshman Neil Monie's foot. Schneider (18 at, 14 comp, 185 yds, 3 TD) had freshman running back Scott Murphy from six out, senior receiver Mike Bahir from one, and sophomore receiver Glenn Sachz from seven for the commanding lead.

Monie (0-1 FG, 6-8 PAT) connected on the PAT after Kane's plunge, but missed after Murphy's and Bahir's scores, connecting again after Sachz's.

Only 2:27 into the second quarter, Morgan (14-105-1) galloped 26 yards for a six-point, Kane finished the scoring in the Brook's record-breaking first half (40 points in one half) with a four-yard thrust. Monie hit both extra-point kicks.

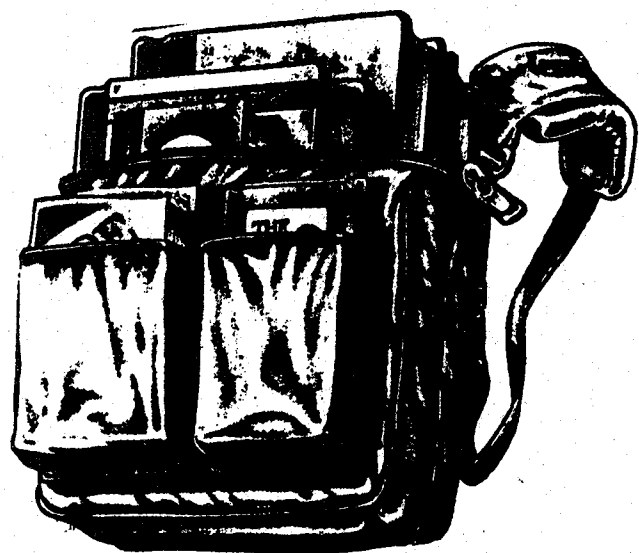

The starters handed off to the younger players in the second half, but not until after Kane scored his third of the day, diving in from one out.

See FOOTBALL, Page 17

See VOLLEY, Page 23

See SOCCER, Page 23

GET 'EM OFF YOUR BACK

SELL YOUR BOOKS

We buy all books with current market value.

TOP PRICES PAID

STONYBOOKS, INC.

STORE HOURS:
MON-THURS 9-5
FRI 9-4

689-9010

1081 ROUTE 25A, STONY BROOK

The Stony Brook Statesman Thursday, December 15, 1994

REMEDY YOUR MCAT ANXIETY

Does the thought of the MCAT make you ill? Don't worry, The Princeton Review has a prescription for relief.

Our MCAT course treats test-taking as a skill. We provide insightful strategies, as well as a healthy review of MCAT concepts. Charting your progress is easy with four full-length practice exams.

*Boost your shot at med school;
contact us for more details.*

THE PRINCETON REVIEW

(516) 271-3400
info.li@review.com

The Princeton Review is not affiliated with Princeton University or AAMC.

Dumb happens.

This Chrismass. ~~Crismas~~. Winter.

©MCMXCIV New Line Productions, Inc. All Rights Reserved.

Statesman SPORTS

Thursday, December 15, 1994

ATHLETE OF THE WEEK

By JASON SEEDORF
Statesman Staff Writer

Pauline O'Conner, a junior diver from Huntington, NY, was a double winner for the University at Stony Brook women's swim team on Wednesday. She captured the 3 meter and 1 meter diving events in a 105-138 loss to NYU.

In the 3 meter dive, O'Conner set a new university record with a score of 262.40 points, and qualified for the NCAA Women's Diving Championships to be held in March.

O'Conner previously qualified for the NCAA's in the 1 meter diving event against Queens in the first meet of the season. She also captured the 1 meter competition versus NYU with 238.05 points.

This weekend, O'Conner won the Boston Invitational Mug Meet's open diving competition with 325 points.

For her outstanding performances this past week, O'Conner has been named the Stony Brook Athlete of the Week.

"In our meet versus NYU and in the Boston Invitational, Pauline was very consistent with all her dives," said diving coach Larry Sawyer. "This weekend was a good test for her because

PAULINE O'CONNER

STATESMAN STONY BROOK ATHLETE OF THE WEEK
December 5 - December 11

Statesman / John Chu

of the tough competition. Until this meet, she has not had many divers push her in our meets."

"I was pleased with both of my overall performances this past week," O'Conner said. "It was nice to break a school record and qualify for nationals, all in the same meet."

"Pauline's dedication, and desire to win has made her into an excellent diver," Sawyer said. "She is a very competitive person who hates to lose."

"He is always pushing me to work harder in practice," O'Conner said of Sawyer. "He keeps me motivated and knows how to get me to do things in practice."

"This season the team has had a lot of strong individual performances," said Sawyer. "The athletes are really picking up their work level as they are preparing for the move to Division II and the tougher competition."

Following a 114-74 victory over Manhattanville on Saturday, the Seawolves are 5-3 and look forward to a successful conclusion to the 1994-95 season. "The team has really been performing well this season," said O'Conner. "If we continue to get stronger as the season progresses, we should have a good chance at winning the Metropolitan Championships."

In addition to team success, Sawyer believes that O'Conner has the work ethic necessary to do well in the NCAA's this March.

"Pauline is going to start working on the more difficult 3 meter dives she will need to compete at nationals," Sawyer said. "On the first day of practice, Pauline told me she wanted to win nationals. That is a high goal to set, but she works hard enough to achieve it."

"I need to improve on my dives and start attempting some of the more difficult ones if I want to be successful at nationals," said O'Conner. "I will be coming back to the university three weeks before the spring semester begins to practice. Hopefully with the extra work I will be able to achieve my goal." □

SPORTS BRIEFS

By KRIS DOOREY

Canada Named to All-Star Team

Sophomore forward Kim Canada was recently named to the NCAA Division I All-Northeast Region All-Star Soccer Team. Canada was one of only 13 players named to the squad. She led the Seawolves in scoring with 17 goals and 40 points. She also scored five game-winning goals, to tie a University record, and she now stands third on the all-time scoring list with 78 points.

MEN'S BASKETBALL NOW 5-3

Brian Hennessy continued to put up some impressive numbers as the Seawolves finished third in the Nazareth Tournament in Rochester last weekend. Hennessy scored 33 points and grabbed six rebounds to lead the Wolves past Roberts Wesleyan, 95-74, in the consolation game. Ron Duckett added 21 points and seven rebounds, while Gary Comer contributed 11 points and six boards.

In the opening round, the Seawolves were downed by Keuka College, 91-74. Duckett paced the Wolves' attack with 18 points, while Comer added 15 off the bench. Robert Young scored 13 and collected a team-high seven rebounds.

WOMENS SWIMMERS 5-3

Amy Romano was a triple winner as the Seawolves downed Manhattanville, 114-74, on December 7. Romano captured the 100 butterfly, 100 freestyle and also swam a leg on the victorious 200-medley relay team. Nikki Barnes and Kristen Bernard were both double winners.

Wednesday, the team swam past New York University, 138-105. Bernard was a triple winner and teammate Pauline O'Connor (see Athlete of the Week) was a double winner for the Wolves.

Mens Swimmers, 4-1, Win Twice

Stony Brook cruised to a 137-99 win over New York University Wednesday to break a four-year losing streak against the Violets. Larry Sullivan, Peter O'Conner, Ryan Gillespie and Mark Sutura were all double winners for Stony Brook.

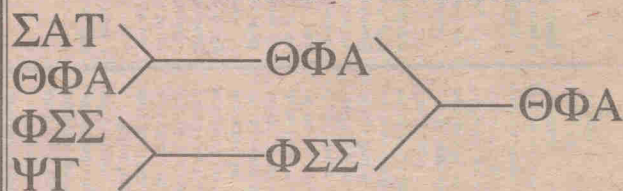

Earlier in the week, the Seawolves drowned Queens College, 128-106. Sullivan led the way with three wins, while Jason Weed collected two firsts. □

*Happy
Holidays*

TKE Bowl Flag Football MEN'S BRACKET

WOMEN'S BRACKET

Congratulations to
TKE and ΘΦΑ

Tau Kappa Epsilon recently hosted the second annual TKE BOWL flag football tournament. The tournament was intended to promote greek life. This year, a women's bracket was added and Theta Phi Alpha emerged as the champion. Tau Kappa Epsilon won the men's bracket for the second year in a row.