STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK AT STONY BROOK STONY BROOK, N.Y. 11794

tony Brook was established little more than two decades ago as New York's, State University Center for the downstate area. Today the State University of New York at Stony Brook is recognized as one of the nation's finest universities. For the students who attend classes here and the faculty who teach here, the campus is an 'integral part of every day. The campus is located about sixty miles east of Manhattan on the wooded north shore of Long Island. Pictured here is the Math Tower.

At Stony Brook, learning takes place outside as well as inside the various classrooms and lecture halls. We have one hundred student clubs and organizations and that figure is expanding. All activities play a role in the learning and growing experience that Stony Brook University offers.

This yearbook is designed to give you an insight into our world.

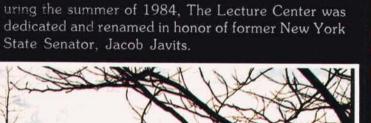

SPECULA 1985

5 tony Brook has come of age. Since it was founded in 1957, the State University of New York at Stony Brook has earned a reputation for educational excellence and boasts some of the world's most eminent scholars as faculty members. Physically, its ninety six buildings have been erected over 1100 acres of land. Now, in its twenty-seventh operating year, the university has developed traditions and practices, some new and unique to the school and others which are as traditional as the idea of a university education

As Specula '85 examined the university this year, it saw Something Old and Something New. The focus in this yearbook is an examination of developing traditions on campus. Some, such as the crowning of King and Queen at Homecoming, the return of the Greeks, Senior Week activi ties, and a Spelling Bee are both old and new. For Stony Brook, the inclusion of these time-honored college events is Something New. Old and New came in conflict when new maps with buildings labeled with old names were given to new students who were unable to locate their classes in buildings which had new names affixed to their faces. Old students seemed equally confused. The old sorority and fraternity system was an innovation on campus.

As Stony Brook reached maturity, its curriculum develop ment and implementation reached forward toward a rapidly accelerating technological age, while the people of Stony Brook looked back to find traditions to enhance campus life.

The Frank Melville Memorial Library, the main library building, provides both an intellectual and physical focal point for the campus and is one of the largest academic libraries in the nation. Collectively the University libraries contain more than 1,300,000 bound volumes and 1,700,000 publications in microformat. 5 tony Brook students gain an important part of their education outside the classroom as they participate in the many social and cultural activities available on campus. More than 100 student clubs and organizations provide opportunities for undergraduates to meet socially with others having similar hobbies or backgrounds, to develop skills that enhance their academic work, to pursue their intellectual interests beyond the classroom and to work together on projects and causes.

The first three offer undergraduate programs for upper-division students. Although the Schools of Medicine and Dental Medicine offer only graduate level proffesional programs, individual faculty members offer courses and supervise research projects for undergraduates in the College of Arts and Sciences.

ollege of Arts and Sciences, the University's largest academic unit, awards B.A. and B.S. degrees. It of fers 34 different majors in the arts and humanities, social and behavioral sciences and the natural sciences and mathematics. The majors may be used either as preparation for professional work in the same field or as the basis for any other career. Every major includes a mechanism for qualified students to undertake individual reading, research, or creative projects; some provide intership opportunities.

he flashing lights and strange noises attract many students to the video game room in the lower level of the Union. Especially during exam time, when students need to blow off steam, this arcade is open into the early hours. The arcade is located near The Rainy Night House, the bowling alley, the billiard tables the post office and the Commuter College he Stony Brook Union is the campus center for hundreds of activities planned by students. Its nine meeting rooms, auditorium, ballroom, art gallery, spacious lounges and courtyards provide space for Polity, the undergraduate student government. The Union is also a gathering place for students between classes. Some students gravitate to the bowling alley or the billiards room, while others prefer to relax, watch television, read or mingle with friends and other members of the campus community in the comfortable lounges. Errands can be readily attended to, since the building houses many vital campus services.

ungry students, whether looking for a quick snack or a complete meal, can satisfy their appetite in one of the Union's eateries – a cafeteria, a delicatessen, a coffee house, a cookie-candy counter and a restaurant utritious meals to satisfy a variety of diets are avai able on campus for resident and commuter student through meal plans and on a cash-per-meal basis. Stu dents can find food in several locations outside of residential colleges.

each residential college has public lounges, laundry rooms, and recreational activities. Resident students do not have to go far to find entertainment, refreshments or places to socialize. Social and educational activities are sponsored by the student government body in each residence hall and the Residence Life staff add to the liveliness of on-campus living. The residence halls are also places to study with friends.

variety of student-operated businesses are located within many of the residential colleges. It is easy to take a break from studying and then get back to work when such pleasant places to relax are only a few steps away.

ommuting students have a special place in the Union. The Commuter College, a student-run organization, plans activities from daily movies to trips to Broadway plays.

he Stony Brook campus has a number of libraries established to meet the information needs of students and faculity. The Frank Melville Jr. Memorial Library, the main library building, provides both an intellectual and physical focal point for the campus and is one of the largest academ ic libraries in the nation. The architecturally distinctive Mel ville building houses collections serving the social sciences, humanities, fine arts and music. These collections are particularly strong in English, Western Eurpoean, and Latin American History.

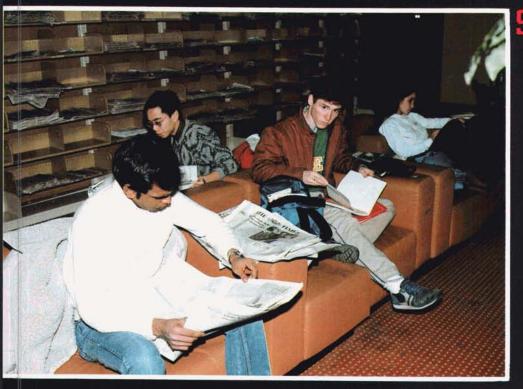

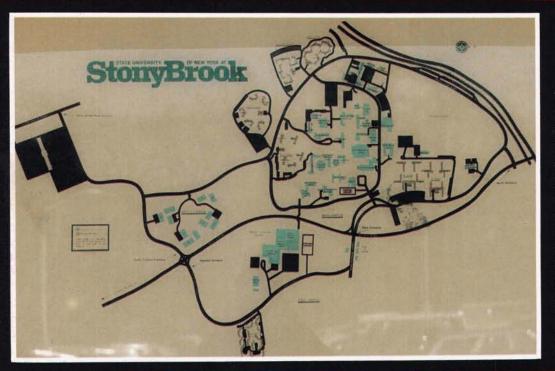

T here are five branch science libraries. Four of these – chemistry, earth and space sciences, engineering and mathematics/physics – are located in departmental buildings. The fifth, biology is located in its own building.

There is also a Health Sciences Library in the Health Sciences Center. Collectively, the University libraries contain more than one million three hundred thousand bound volumes and one million seven hundred thousand publications in microformat.

pecial departments include rare books and manuscripts, current periodicals, government documents, maps, microforms and legal materials. Other facilities of note are a music listening center, a student lounge and a variety of individual study carrels. Although the number of study carrels has dwindled in the past few years there are still a few left. The full range of library services, including open stack priveleges and database searches, are available to all students.

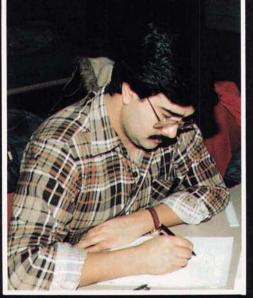

he campus itself – where we use books, lectures, films, and all the other aids to learning which stretch our minds to faraway places and times - blends urban and rural vistas. As you explore our cam pus, you will find an apple orchard, duck pond, spacious plazas, bicycl paths and groves of trees. Thes samples of recreational pleasur complement the buildings that hous classrooms, offices, laboratories, and studios. Just across the Long Island Rail Road tracks, which mark th northern boundry of the campus, convenient cluster of small shops pubs, and inexpensive restaurants ca ters to the campus community' needs.

tony Brook has the variety of personalities, cultures and facilities characteristic of a major urban university.

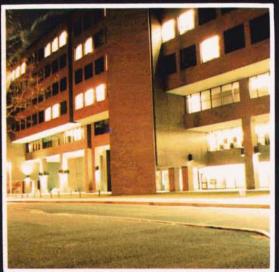

everal thousand Stony Brook undergraduates and graduate students participate in intercollegiate and intramural sports each year. Five club teams represent Stony Brook in intercollegiate competition in ice hockey, rugby, bike racing, and horseback riding. A new club team is the wrestling club. During the 83-84 year Stony Brook added three varsity teams to its schedule under regulations of the National Collegiate Athletic Association (NCAA) and Eastern College Athletics Conference (ECAC). They are football and lacrosse for men and soccer for women. Intramural sports are an important part of Stony Brook life, with both competitive and recreational activities for men and women. Hundreds of students each semester join the coed league or the separate leagues for men and women. Team sports include touch football, soccer, basketball, volleyball, innertube basketball and softball. Individual and dual sports include cross-country, badminton, tennis, paddleball, table tennis, squash, swimming, track and field, bowling, golf, holein-one and handball.

fficers of Public Safety serve as security at Commencement, direct traffic during important events, and guard the campus community. Recently these officers were given permission to use Mace.

ecause of the diversity of our academic offerings, it is impossible to describe a "typical" Stony Brook student. We can identify, however, a spirit of independence, competitiveness and ambition that motivates them to succeed. Among the 2,742 candidates for graduation in May 1984 (some of whom had double majors) the four most popular majors were economics, psychology, biological sciences and electrical engineering in that order.

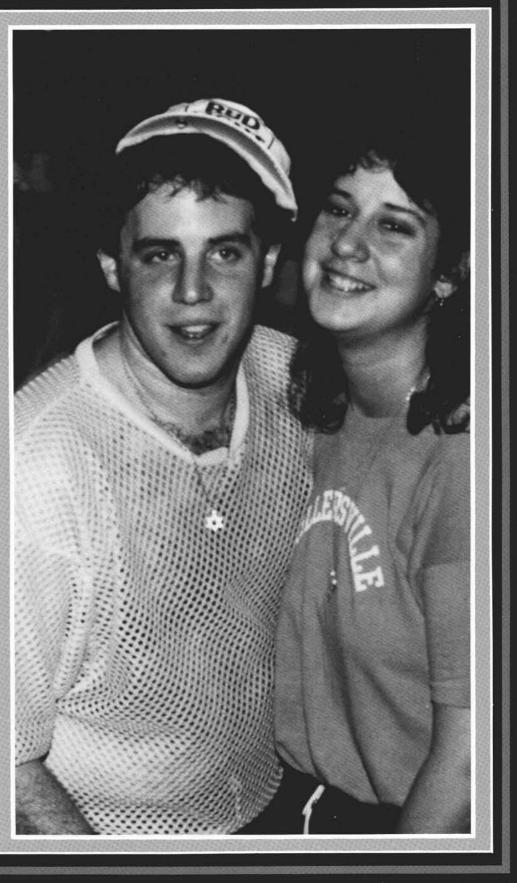

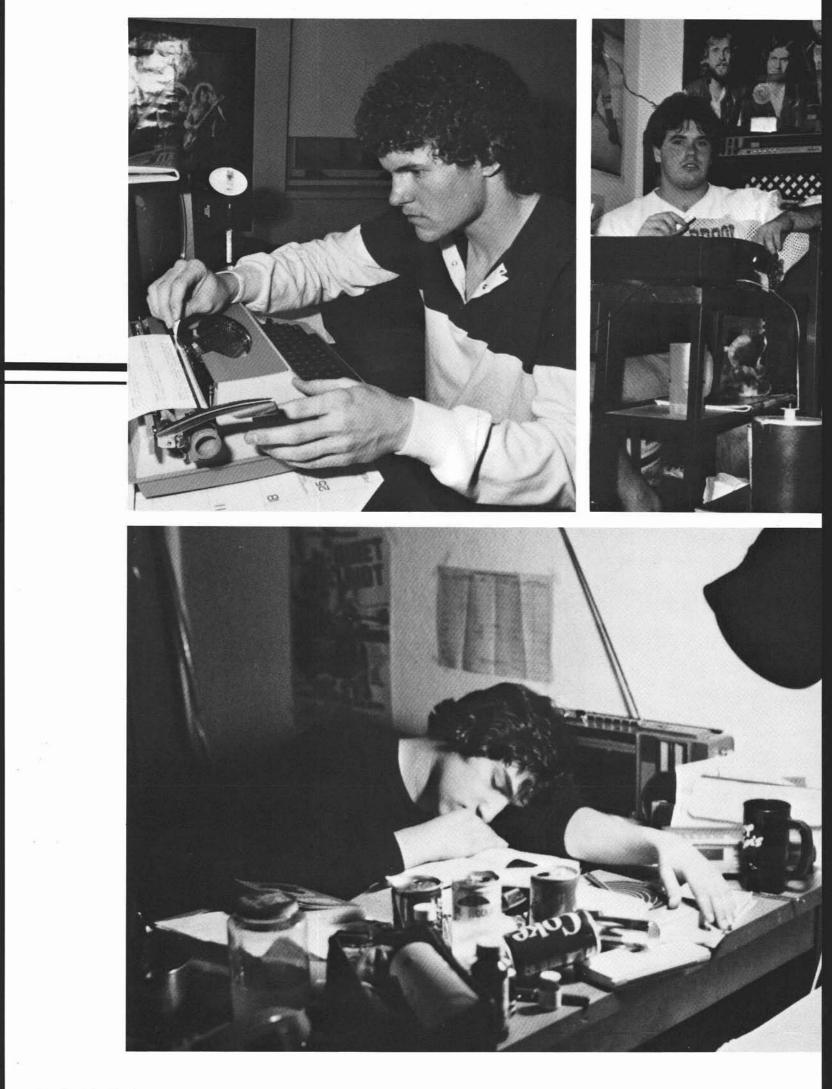

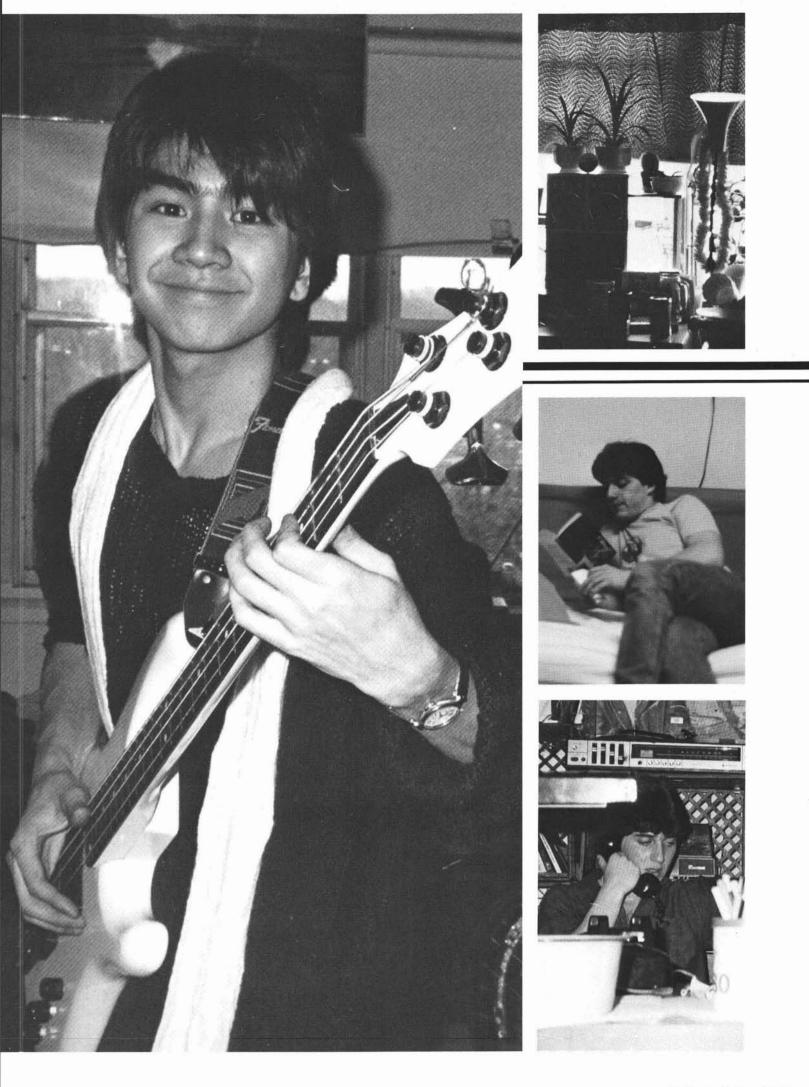

ommencement The be ginning of endless possi bilities. This is where the four years of the Stony Brook experience becomes the knowledge that we are intelligent and valuable people. Stony Brook is not just a center for academic education, it is a forum for new ideas and time honored traditions. Each graduate will go on to different areas, to graduate school, or dif ferent professions, but all will be State University of New York at Stony Brook alumni.

ASIAN INVASION— OVERVIEW OF SB'S POPULATION

REPRINTED FROM ORIENT EXPRESS, VOL. I.

By Michelle Lee

In case you haven't noticed, there are alot of Asian people here- approximately two thousand. They come from all walks of life, from different backgrounds and from various Asian cultures. The Asians in Stony Brook consist mainly of Chinese, Vietnamese, Korean, Indian, Philippino, and Japanese students.

One of the reasons for this multitude of Asians in Stony Brook is due to the fact that Stony Brook offers high quality education.Stony Brook is recognized as one of the top S.U.N.Y. schools in the state and among the top state universities in the nation.

There are a vast array of programs one can take up here, but the engineering and technical programs seem to be a popular choice among Asian students. The three most popular majors taken up by Asians in Stony Brook are eletrical engineering, economics, and applied math and statistics. Stony Brook not only offers challenging educational programs, but it is also several thousand dollars less expensive than comparable private institutions. Another reason why Stony Brook attracts so many Asians is due to its close proximity. The majority of the Asian come from the five boroughs of New York, particular Queens.

What about the Asian social life? There is plenty! The Student Polity Association (student government) has sponsored many clubs such as [C.A.S.B.], Chinese Association of Stony Brook, [S.O.Y.K.], Spirit of Young Kora ans, [L.A.S.B.], Indian Association of Stony Brool [P.A.L.], Philippino American League, and [A.S.A. Asian Students Association. These clubs through the social and cultural events try to fulfill the needs of the Asian community here on campus.

These clubs offer such events as food festivals, gam festivals, sporting events, talent shows, and a host of parties- just to name a few. Membership or involvement in these programs is open to all who desire.

Amidst an American society here in Stony Brook, man of the Asian individuals work hard to maintain the cutoms and traditions of their heritage and at the same time strive to live up to their Americanized dreams.

SKYDIVING

This Summer the Parachute Club president put in an ad presenting the skydiver(male variety).One of the female skydivers retaliates with...

Skydiver (Female Variety)

Between the insecurity of childhood and the insecurity of second childhood, we find the skydiver. Skydivers are found everywhere: in bars, under bars, behind bars, looking through bars, in trouble, in debt, in love, and in the air.

Skydivers come in assorted sizes, shapes, and weights, in states of sobriety, misery and confusion. Men love them, fathers worry about them, unemployment checks support them, and by some coincidence, they manage to get along with each other. The skydiver is laziness with a deck of cards, a millionaire without a cent, bravery with a smile.

The skydiver is a composite, sly as a fox, pretty as a dove, sweet as sugar (provided she's in the air), and crazy as Don or Hawkeye. When she wants something, it is usually free jumps, more money, more beer and more men. She dislikes getting up early (especially at 4 o.) Saturdays), small planes, hot-shot pilots (who never hit the DZ), the week before payday and packing chutes. She likes boys, men, males and all members of the opposite sex.

No one can think of you so often and write so seldom. No one can get so much fun out of your old letters, old jumpsuits and yellow boots, and skydiving movies.

The skydiver is a magical creature, you can lock her out your house but not out of your heart.

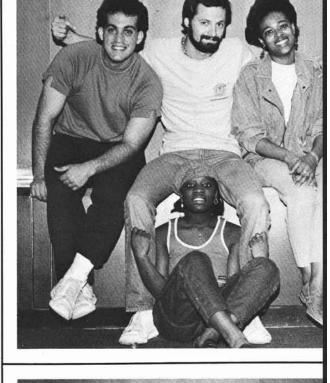

You can take ger off your mailing list, but not out of your mind.

Our meeting are Wednesdays at 7:00 pm in Union Room 213 FFI call Dan at 246-3673 Our next jump is the weekend of Dec. 1

I-Con Attracts 1,600 Fans

By Jeff Leibowitz and Howard Breuer

Nore than 1,600 science fiction fans packed the Javits Lecture Center this past weekend for the fourth annual I-CON, billed as "New York's biggest convention of science iction, fact and fantasy."

Larry Niven, renowned science fiction writer and winner of nany Hugo and Nebula awards, was the guest of honor at I-CON (Island Convention).

Mark Lenard, known for his role as Sarek, father of Spock n Star Trek television episodes and the movie "Star Trek II," was the special guest.

Like I-CONs of previous years, the convention featured a vide assortment of science fiction movies, as well as panels of renowned science fiction writers, artists and comic book ditors. The convention also featured scientists, many more han in previous years.

Iniversity President John Marburger, who is also an expert theoretical physicist, was the science guest of honor at the convention. He gave a lecture on "photon technology" and presented awards to artist guest of honor Tim Hildebrandt, author Raymond Z. Gallun, who he called an "important old timer" (he is 92), and to Larry Niven. "As a physicist myself, I can appreciate the way Larry has written physics into his novels," Marburger said.

According to Dan Hank, co-producer of the convention, Marburger had been invited to previous I-CONS, but was unable to attend because of scheduling problems.

Hank and co-producer Ralph Schiano presented Marburger with a special award. "I don't have as many as Larry so this one will stand out more prominently," Marburger said.

"It was nice for the two of them [Marburger and Niven] to meet," said Schiano, adding that Marburger is a big fan of Niven's work. "And it was good that Marburger could attend this convention. It gives us the feeling that the University recognizes I-CON as a significant event."

CARIBBEAN STUDENTS' ORGANIZATION

From the 19th-21st of April, The Caribbean Students' Organization celebrated Caribbean Weekend. The festivities began in the Union Fireside Lounge. The day started at noon and the weather was beautiful, which lifted the spirits of all involved (including the onlookers). The Union was crowded, food was on sale, and reggae and calypso music played in the background. There was a parade which started at the Cultural Center and finished at the Union. The people in it were dressed in different costumes. They were accompanied to the Union by a large steel band which stopped playing about 20 minutes after the arrival at the Union.

"You can't miss it. It's got Gay Pride stuff all over it," Indeed, as the voice on the phone said, the door of the Gay and Lesbian Alliance in the Stony Brook Union basement is bold in its display. The walls of the small office are similarly covered with flyers, posters and notices about Gay Day, Gay Fest, and Gay Pride. I am told the GALA director Craig Dean is off on a last minute errand as Gay Fest Coordinator but will soon return. Wholly uncomfortable, this supposedly mature reporter searches the faces of the young men and women in the office for that "certain telltale stamp" of abnormality. Finding nothing but my own foolishness I sit down to wait. As one member flips through "The Advocate", a Gay magazine, he says, "Oh, leather. My brother's into leather. Maybe he should be gay and I should be straight." I laugh, confident that I have just passed a crash-course in Prejudice and Stereotying. Craig Dean put me completely at ease with his lively, open, happy-go-lucky personality. As a senior majoring in Political Science and Sociology, Craig intends to go to Law School and later enter the political arena.

Q: Give a brief history of the organization.

A: The organization was founded eleven years ago. The original title was the Gay Student Union but was changed three or four years ago to Gay and Lesbian Alliance because a lot of women didn't like it because it didn't include the word Lesbian. We were one of the first gay organizations in a SUNY school and we're one of the few gay oranizations in this area.

Q: How many members do you have?

A: We have fifty active core members and about two hundred people who come to our parties and any social events we have. There are approximately on campus about 1800 gay people. The statistics show 1 out We've had no problems with Admin-of 10 people are gay but it's 1 out of 7 on college campuses. Our organization tries to represent them as much as possible.

Q: Do you get much Polity funds?

A: Yes. This year we have had our biggest budget.

Q: So there's never been any problems getting money?

A: No. There's an Executive Order from Governor Cuomo that prohibits discrimination against sexual orientation in state agencies. And since this is a state university, that applies to us. So anybody who comes out as part of the gay community and experiences discrimination, as a student in a state university any discrimination or harassment is clearly against the law and can lead to expulsion, suspension, or loss of a job.

Q: Speaking of harassment, could you tell a little about that famous door incident?

A: Last semester, we were attacked by the MAFIA or The Men Against Fags In America. They took our door off that threw it into Roth Pond. They spray painted "MAFIA" on the walls. They destroyed our bulletin board and wrecked the place. But I think it was mostly some silly college kids.

Q: How many minority members do you have that come out to support you organization?

A: It's about the same number as the proportion of people of color in general. We have some black men and black lesbians. We also represent Graduate students because there's no gay organization for Graduate students or for the School of Social Welfare or the Professional schools or the staff either. So we are the only gay support group in the university.

Q: What kind of support does GALA get from the Administration?

A: A tremendous amount of support.

istration. In fact, the Office of the Vice President of Student Affairs is reimbursing us for printing costs for Gay Fest. The only time we receive hassles is from students. We ge crank calls. When we have meetings they're outside peeking in. These are just minor incidents. We really have very good support on campus. We also get good support from States man, The Press, and Blackworld in terms of printing our ads. The policy of the University is to prohibit dis crimination on the basis of race creed, and sexual orientation.

Q: Do your members have any problems coming out?

A: We have a group that is very varied. We have people who are very discreet and that's respected. That's one very important thing we like to emphasize: discretion is respected and we're very supportive about that. We also have peolple who come the university already out. As well as providing support for gay people, we are also a progressive movement. With events like Gay Fest, we let people know that there's a gay culture and there are alternative lifestyles. We want the staff as the University as well as the students to approach us and respect us as a legitimate alternative lifestyle. We're just students like everybody else. We just happen to be gay.

Craig Dean stresses the importance of a gay support group especially for minorities. After all, black homosexuals are discriminated against on two fronts and black lesbians on three. It is important that homosexuals come to grips with their life styles in order to live comfortably and productively.

A Weekly Dose Of Drama

by Scott Mullen

While watching "Lunchtime Theater", one thing becomes very evident: there is a whole lot of talent in Stony Brook's Theater Department.

"Lunchtime Theater" is a group of Stony Brook undergraduates, mostly theater majors, who are trying out their directoral and acting skills in front of a live audience every Thursday afternoon in Theater III of the Fine Arts Center.

It is the brainchild of Bill Breuhl, chairperson of the Theater Art Department. Breuhl realized that he had a golden opportunity: to give his students the experience of performing in front of a live audience, while letting the audience experience some fine performances.

Lunchtime Theater is really Breuhl's Directing I class, but don't let that scare you off. The string of prerequisites for this course is long and impressive, and it would appear that all of these students got A's in every one.

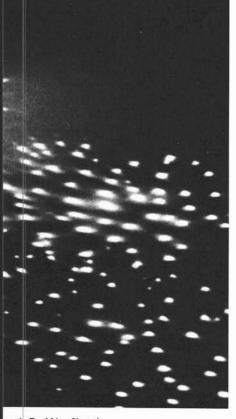

There are many good things about Lunchtime Theater. Its noon-1 pm time slot on Thursdays makes it available to everyone who wants to wallow in some fine drama, and admission is free.

And the performances . . . Every week, they present five or six short scenes from different works, each directed by a different student. Two weeks ago, these ranged from the dramatic ("The Shadow Box") to the moving ("Am I Blue") to the comedic ("Buried Child") and the bizarre (e.e. cummings' "Santa Claus"). It doesn't matter that these scenes are taken out of their context – they are still spellbinding. For anyone interested, these scenes will be repeated on Dec. 13; tomorrow and next week, they are presenting other segments, ranging from "Prisoner of Second Avenue" to the award winning "Night Mother."

Perhaps the most fascinating part of the whole afternoon is the conversations afterward. In the grand tradition of audience participation, the crowd is invited to stay for a heady session of criticism and commentary. The banter between the actors, directors, and audience is so incredible that even us non-theater majors can't help but learn a lot about the acting and directing process; things that you take for granted are spelled out, and one begins to get an inner vision of the theater world. It's wild.

So if you ever find yourself between classes on a Thursday afternoon, looking for a place to sit and rest for a spell, check out "Lunchtime Theater." These are your fellow students, doing what they love, and it's a heck of a way to spend a lazy Thursday afternoon.

DIRECTOR'S NOTES

Bertolt Brecht saw the street people, the gangsters, and the ruling establishment of Germany in the Twenties as a society alienated from itself, living on mutual exploitation, empowering the most ruthless at the expense of the poorest. He set the piece in a mythical London of the turn of the century. We see this same piece as an expression of our own society and we see that the same sins the Germans committed as sins of our own. Let the sinless see it otherwise. The difference in our play is that we see the sins of our society leading to a future mythical London blasted apart in the fury of mutual assured destruction ... and what shall we be doing then? The same old game.

Pessimism? Perhaps. More likely an optimism that we shall have a society of any kind after that fury is spent. But the bad

LISA ALTONEN (Coaxer) was most recently seen as Lady Chutney in Lust, Murder and Ancient Druid Architecture in the Annual Off-Off Broadway Theatre Festival. Most recently, she has served as stage manager for The Misanthrope at Theatre Three, and Sidewalk Scenes at SUNY at Stony Brook. Lisa will receive her M.A. in Theatre from SUNY at Stony Brook in May.

MARTHA BANTA (Ingrid) is a freshman, appearing in her second Stony Brook production. She has worked as a student director in community theatre upstate, and has appeared in 15 musicals during her high school career.

HUSEYIN R. BAYAZIT (Beggar) was born in Turkey. He has been studying Computer Science and International Relations in the United States for over two years. He is a professional folk dancer, and has been onstage since the fifth grade.

LOUIS BELLUCCI (Walter) is a fourth year junior. His "flawless concentration" and "captivating movement" have enhanced University Theatre's Our Town, and Stony Brook Players' Grease.

DENNIS BRITTEN (Tiger Brown) is a graduating senior Theatre Arts major, concentrating in playwriting and directing. A member of the Dramatists Guild, his play If Wishes Were Horses has been produced Off-Broadway. He has directed Off-Broadway and is on the Board of Advisors of Stage Left Theatre Company.

TERESA CALISE (Mrs. Peachym) is making her debut at SUNY at Stony Brook. She has performed in regional theatre productions of HMS Pinafore, The Importance of Being Earnest, Little Murders, and The Crucible. Most recently she portrayed Gianetta in The Gondliers.

LAURA CONVISER (Polly) is a graduating senior, most recently seen in the Children's Theatre production Sidewalk Scenes. Last summer, she appeared as Gwen in Fifth of July. She has also appeared in Hair and Jesus Christ Superstar.

THOMAS A. EICHACKER (Street Singer) is a retired lifetime resident of Setauket making his stage debut. He is an enthusiastic gardener and fisherman, and has found a new love: theatre.

ANDREW FETHEROLF (Peachum) includes among his favorite roles Tom in The Glass Menagerie, Tony in She Stoops to Conquer and Sidney Black in Light Up the Sky. Last semester he portrayed Mr. Webb in Our Town. He looks forward to graduating and then settling down to work. Thank you Mom and Dad.

DEIRDRE HANBURY (Lucy) is a sophomore. She appeared as Sheila in Stony Brook Players' production of Hair, and created the role of Amy in DS Cooper's Red Tapestry. Last semester she portrayed Mrs. Webb in Our Town, and Alison in Look Back in Anger.

TYRONE HENDERSON (Smith) is a senior at Stony Brook. He has been very active in the Stony Brook Theatre Department appearand the good always exist together. The worst and the best inhabit the world together and that I think is the essence of the play: the tension caused by opposites tearing the center apart. The most criminal deeds have a quality of heroism about them, the most dastardly values have an amusing side. The loveliest music carries the grimmest message. The most interesting people lead the most ravaged lives.

And maybe that is where the greatness of the piece lies: there is no simple message. It starts out in a simple cartoon way and leads to complexity and mystery and ends in simplistic liberation — the liberation we all secretly hope will lead us away from cynical pessimism.

- Bill Bruehl

CAST

ing in productions of Venetian Twins, Hair and Fifth of July. This semester he has been involved with Lunchtime Theatre's Sidewalk Scenes and Antigone.

ROSEMARY JOHNSON (Sue) is a senior Music major at Stony Brook, and is currently studying classical voice with Doris Cross of Yale. She looks forward to singing professionally.

DIAHANN KELLY (Molly) is a graduating senior. She is on the Stony Brook Women's Track Team, and is president of Zeta Phi Beta sorority. Diahann's performances include roles in For Colored Girls, Stage Door, Dodo, Our Town, and Tar Baby. After graduation, Diahann will be an officer in the U.S. Army.

MICHAEL PERAGINE (Filch) is a sophomore Theatre Arts major. He was last seen in the Children's Theatre production, Sidewalk Scenes. Michael would like to thank Peter and Sigi, without whose love and support this performance would not be possible.

RAPHAEL PEREZ (Macheath) is a Theatre Arts major. He has appeared in several Stony Brook Players productions, as well as Manuel in the American Theatre Festival's production of The Gingerbread Lady. He dedicates his performance to his wife Christina, and their expected baby.

MATTHEW P.J. PHILLIPS (Money Matthew) is currently a junior at Stony Brook majoring in Theatre Arts. Threepenny Opera marks Matt's stage debut here at Stony Brook. Some of his previous credits include Oliver, Brigadoon, and West Side Story, as well as Cinderella at the Airport Playhouse.

JAMES QUINN (Beggar) is a senior Theatre Arts major. He has been seen at Stony Brook in South Pacific, Little Women and, most recently, as Wally in Our Town. He would like to thank his parents.

ELIZABETH RAND (Betty) is a senior Theatre Arts major. She is a former go-go dancer, who has appeared onstage in New York and London. She plans to have a professional career in theatre.

MICHELE RIBERA (Vixen) is a senior Theatre Arts major. She has appeared in Vanities, The Maids, Jesus Christ Superstar, Our Town, Tricks Trilogy and, most recently, Look Back in Anger. She choreographed DS Cooper's Red Tapestry, and is currently choreographing Annie for the Shoreham School System.

JONQUIL SALEHEEN (Dolly) officially decided to enter the acting profession on January 11, 1985. She plans on continuing her studies at Yale. She would like to dedicate this performance to Marc Covitz.

PAM TAVOLACCI (Jenny) is a part-time student in the Graduate Theatre Arts program. She is also a mother and a housewife, an amazing accomplishment. Her performance is dedicated to her daughter Annie and her husband Joe.

STUDENT PRODUCTION STAFF

LINDA SHIREY (Production Stage Manager) is a graduate student in Theatre Arts. Since attending Stony Brook, she has directed No Exit and Look Back in Anger. This semester she enjoys teaching Theatre 101 and studying for the Masters exam.

DENISE PURICELLI (Musical Director) has arranged and premiered new works for the Equity Library Theatre's "Lincoln Center Series" and for the New York Stage Works. She has recorded original soundtracks for several professional productions including Henry James' The Innocents. She has played at the Winter Garden, The 78th Street Theatre, The Manhatten Theatre Club and other theatres. She is currently pursuing a Master's degree in piano performance at Stony Brook with Gilbert Kalish.

SIMON SAAD L'HOESTE (Stage Manager) was born in Colombia and is currently a Theatre major at Stony Brook. He hopes to become a director and is especially interested in Opera and South American Indian ritual theatre. He is working professionally during the summers in opera and with theatre companies both in his native country and in the United States. MICHAEL WEISS (Assistant Scenic Designer) is a senior, majoring in Theater Arts. He has completed work as Assistant Scene Painter on major productions, such as Shakespeare's A Mid-Summer Nights Dream for the Stevens Center of the North Carolina School of the Arts, and The Nutcracker for Balletmet, Columbus, Ohio.

ERIC AMBROSIO (Assistant Lighting Designer) is in his final semester at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. Some of his work includes assistant technical director for The Pearl Lang Dance Company; assistant scenic artist, Santa Barbara Ballet and Metropolitan Opera Ballet of Ohio; technical director for Three Play, and sound designer for The Fifth of July, The Venetian Twins and The Dutchman. He has been employed by the Fine Arts Center for the past three years.

VICTOR J. LOGIUDICE, JR. (Assistant Costume Designer) is a graduating senior of Theatre Arts. Victor's emphasis has been in acting and directing and this is his first attempt at costuming. Victor's credits include Woman on Fire, Light Up the Sky, Our Town, and will be directing Mass Appeal for Stony Brook Drama in April.

PROFESSIONAL PRODUCTION STAFF

BILL BRUEHL (Director) has been involved with theatre and the teaching of theatre arts all of his life. He has directed more than fifty productions and The Threepenny Opera is the only play he has directed for a second time. These days his creative energies are directed mostly toward playwriting.

G.W. MERCIER (Scenic Designer) is a free freelance set and costume designer based in New York. Most recently his work was seen for the Highlight Theatre production of Heroes by Stephen Poliakoff. Also for Highlight he designed The Caretaker and The Woods. This past summer for the American Theatre Festival he designed The Gingerbread Lady and Side by Side by Sondheim. Mr. Mercier is the resident scenic designer for the National Playwright Conference at the Eugene O'Neill Theatre Center. Working extensively in regional theatre, his work has appeared for the Double Image Theatre in New York, The Hartford Stage Company, The Yale Repertory Theatre, The Oregon Contemporary Theatre, Williamstown Theatre Festival, San Francisco Conservatory of Music, Hertz Music Hall and The Zellerbach Playhouse. Mr. Mercier is an Assistant Professor at Stony Brook. He holds a M.F.A. from the Yale School of Drama.

ROBERT HELLER (Lighting Designer) most recently designed the lighting for Highlight Theatre's productions of Caretaker and Heroes. Last summer he designed Side by Side by Sondheim and Gingerbread Lady for the American Theatre Festival at Stony Brook. Last year he won a Harold Award for Lighting Design for The Woods.

M.S. WOOD (Costume Designer) reacting against the mundane dress of Mid-western suburbanites, started designing clothes at the age of eight. Living in the midwest most of her life, she was happy to move east where people all look so different. She designed Caretaker last fall.

MARK SULLIVAN (Technical Director) is a 1983 graduate of the Yale School of Drama. Mark was the lighting designer for the American Theatre Festival at Stony Brook's production of Fifth of July, the scenic designer for the University Theatre's production of Our Town and technical director for The Caretaker. He most recently designed the set for Antigone for the University Theatre.

DIRECTOR'S NOTES

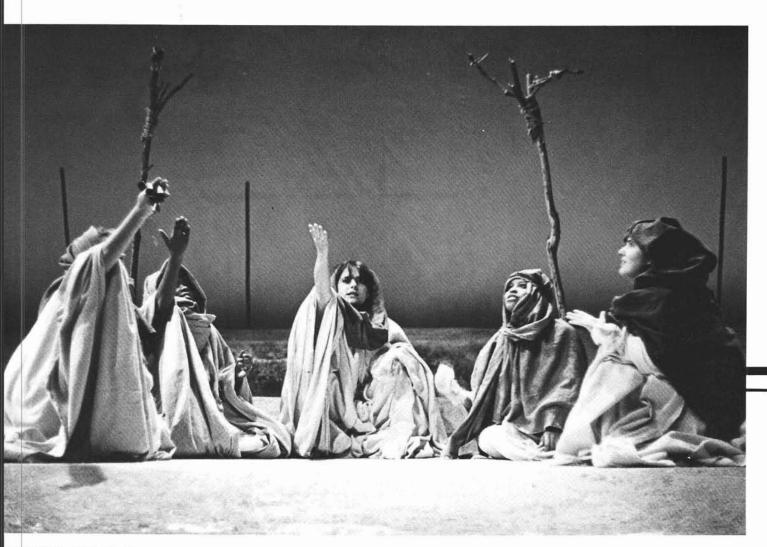

At curtain, the only sons of Oedipus - banished King of Thebes - lay dead on the battlefield. In a struggle for the throne of Oedipus, they killed each other. Creon, Oedipus' brother in-law, thus ascends to the throne. The two surviving children of Oedipus and Jocasta, Antigone and Ismene, have only recently returned from Colonus where they witnessed their father's mysterious death.

While the Greek city of Thebes is well-known to modern audiences, particularly to those familiar with the tragedy of the house of Oedipus, the existence of the ancient city of Thebes in Egypt is a less well-known fact. Before Egypt was called Egypt or Ethiopia, the ancient cities of Thebes and Memphis were seats of knowledge and sophisticated architecture, while the cities of Rome, Athens, Antioch, Jerusalem and Babylon had yet to be dreamed of. The foundation of Thebes goes so far back in prehistory that not even a general stone age period can be suggested. The name itself (originally Nowe) is the name of the imperial sceptre of the formerly great temples of Thebes were prehistoric ruins even 5000 years ago. No other city on earth ever had so many temples.

Thebes was called the "Mother of Cities" or the "City of 100 Gates" and was one of the chief centers of religion. The ancient religion that gave birth to science and learning, art, engineering, architecture, the resources for a national economy and political control — that same religion was the mother of history, of writing, or music, the healing art, the song and the dance. As the city of Amon, the king of the Gods (later Zeus) and of his wife, the great goddess, Mut, the temples and monuments to them alone had to be on a massive scale. There was also the war god of Thebes, the source of the power of the mightiest armies, the proudest and most fearless warriors. From this center of empire alone 20,000 war chariots could be put into the field.

Invaded by adventurers who crossed the Mediterranean Sea, torn by civil war, and weakened by famine and incest, Thebes declined during the first through the fifth dynasties (3100-2345 B.C.). It is in the midst of this decline that this production takes place.

ANTIGONE

ROBERT ANTIS (Theban) appeared as Slab Dog in Lust, Murder and Ancient Druid Architecture for the Samuel French playwrighting competition in New York City. Other credits include No Exit, Working, Anything Goes, Luv, How to Succeed in Business and Guys and Dolls.

VICENT V. BROOKS (Haemon) a junior at Stony Brook, is currently majoring in Political Science with a minor in Theatre Arts. His participation in theatre includes performances in Dutchman and God's Trombones as well as Stage Manager for Tar Baby (which will be performed at the U.N. in February).

DERRICK J. CARR (Teiresias) is a senior majoring in Social Sciences and Africanna Studies. He has appeared at Stony Brook in God's Trombones and Dutchman. Derrick intends to begin graduate school next fall to receive a masters in Business and Accounting.

DONALD COOPER (Guard) a graduating Theatre Arts major has acted in Bus Stop, She Stoops To Conquer, and The Venetian Twins (1983 Three Village Herald Harold Award for Best Supporting Actor). He last appeared as The Stage Manager in Our Town.

IBERKYS DALMASI (Theban) is a graduating senior. She is a Psychology major with a minor in Family Studies in Childcare. Iberkys is planning to go to medical school in her native country, Dominican Republic. Her future plans are to be a Pediatrician specializing in Obstetrics and Gynecology.

STACEY DARAIO (Theban) joined the Stony Brook Theatre Department after returning from a six year stay overseas. She was most recently seen as Emily in Our Town for which she was nominated Best Actress by the Three Village Herald.

LISAANNE DEMOGA (Theban) is a sophomore transfer student from Northeastern University majoring in Theatre Arts. She was Assistant Stage Manager on last semester's Children's Theatre production of Sidewalk Scenes. Antigone marks Lisaanne's stage debut at Stony Brook.

PATRICIA FIORE (Ismene) is a graduating Theatre Arts major with a performance concentration. Her performances at Stony Brook include Woman on Fire, Irene Livingston in Light Up The Sky, Mrs. Gibbs in Our Town and the Original collective creation of Children's Theatre Company's Sidewalk Scenes. Patricia plans to continue her acting studies at Yale.

TYRONE HENDERSON (Messenger) is a senior at Stony Brook. He has been very active in the Stony Brook Theatre Department appearing in productions of Venetian Twins, Hair and Fifth of July. This semester he has been involved with Lunchtime Theatre, Sidewalk Scenes and will direct Neil Simon's Odd Couple.

DENYCE HOLGATE (Theban) will graduate this summer. She has appeared in The Other Season's production of Tar Baby and has assisted on this production as well as Stony Brook's production of Dutchman and God's Trombones.

LAUREN MEYERS (Antigone) is a junior Theatre Arts major. She sings, dances, plays piano and loves comedy. Her Stony Brook credits include roles in four one act plays, Colombina in The Venetian Twins and Shirley Tally in Stony Brook's American Theatre Festival's production of Fifth of July. Lauren will next be seen in Brecht's Threepenny Opera.

MONICA PERAGINE (Theban) spends her time pursuring as much of everything as she can. That she can't do everything makes her a learner as well as a doer. Her major interest is acting. Developing her resources is everything. She prays that she never loses the courage to grow.

TERRENCE RIOUS (Theban) is a senior at Stony Brook. He enjoys racquetball, tennis, and freelance modeling. He has worked as a part time actor on the T.V. soap opera Another World and is very interested in pursuing acting as a hobby.

TIM ROEPE (Theban) received theatre training here at Stony Brook and H.B. Studio in New York City. He would like to dedicate his performance to sincere creativity and originality in all fine arts.

RICHARD SCHINDLER (Creon) is a graduating Theatre Arts major. He played Tyler in Light Up The Sky. Other credits include Cabaret (Encore), Gianni Schicchi (Lyric Opera), The Balcony (NYC) and others both locally and in New York City. He dedicates his performance to his wife, Robbie.

JIMMY SMAGALA (Theban) is a fourth year transfer student with an A.S. degree in Liberal Arts. His main interest is theatre arts, which he has been studying for three semesters at Stony Brook. Antigone marks his debut appearance on the Stony Brook stage.

TAR BABY a paradigm for our time

TAR BABY is divided into three PATTERNS:

PATTERN ONE (The Present) is for Dr. Eleanor W. Traylor, who is the scribe, the spirit and the moral vision of our time.

PATTERN TWO (The Ancestors) is for Kimako Baraka, who with her generous life, made us all richer; and because of her brutal death made us all aware of the senseless violence we perpetrate upon each other.

PATTERN THREE (The Future) is for Shani Anitra Yalode Dickerson, whose young life spans the very time we sing of in this paradigm and whose future we are all working to preserve.

DIRECTOR'S NOTES

In the early 1970's a talented group of artists in Washington, D.C. worked together and achieved a magical form of theatre steeped in African tradition and fired by the social turmoil of the time. These collaborative productions received national attention and acclaim long before Ntozake Shange flew into the public eye and was made spokesperson for a generation. Today, the above-mentioned group of artists is scattered across the world, and the form of theatre they perfected - the choreo-poem, the songstep, the sunflight - is strictly avoided for fear of being labeled derivative. However, one night recently it occurred to me that ten years have passed since the voice of the woman of color has been raised in ensemble. That voice is more multifaceted, mature and confident that it was ten years ago; thus this production seeks to amplify the grown-up voice of the woman of color.*

"Much of the text of TAR BABY is drawn from Confirmation, a recently published anthology edited by Amina and Amiri Baraka.

THE TWO OF US

WHO'S WHO . . .

MICHAEL FRAYN (Playwright) - Michael Frayn's roles in life have been as numerous as those that the actors in The Two Of Us are called upon to play. He studied philosophy at the University of Cambridge, served as an interpreter for Army Intelligence in Moscow, and was a columnist for The Guardian and The Observer, subsequently winning a National Press Award. He wrote five novels and won the 1966 Maugham Award and the 1967 Hawthornden Prize.

In 1970, at the age of thirty-seven, his first play, The Two Of Us, was produced at the Garrick Theatre, performed by Richard Briers and Lynn Redgrave. Since then, he has scripted and presented many television programs – documentaries on Berlin, Vienna, Jerusalem and suburbia – and translated Chekhov and Tolstoy for the National Theatre (London) and the Royal Exchange Theatre (Manchester).

Frayn's major role now is that of dramatist. Noises Off has enjoyed long runs in New York and London; Benefactors was "Play of the Year" in London in 1982; Make And Break, Clouds, Donkey's Years and Alphabetical Order have all played in London's West End and in several regional theatres.

PETER CROOK - studied with Tadashi Suzuki at the International Theatre Festival in Toga Mura, Japan, and is a graduate of the Pacific Conservatory of Performing Arts and the Julliard School. Mr. Crook was Mozart in Amadeus on Broadway and Snug the joiner in A Midsummer Night's Dream at the New York Shakespeare Festival. He was last seen in The Mysteries at Hartford Stage.

ANNALEE JEFFERIES - studied at the Royal Academy of Dramatic Arts in Lodon. In addition to extensive work in regional theatre and a Far Eastern tour, Ms. Jefferies was standby for three roles in the Broadway production, The Wake Of Jamie Foster and was seen as Jean Muir in Behind A Mask, Off-Broadway. She will be seen as Sissy Spacek's younger sister in the film, Violets Are Blue, to be released this year. Her favorite roles, however, are partner to Bob, and Mommy to Willie Pace Webb.

JOHN RUSSELL BROWN (Director)- is an Associate of the National Theatre of Great Britain, London. In the United States, he has directed at the Pittsburgh Playhouse and for Channel 13 TV in New York City. In the summers of 1982 and 1983, he directed plays for the National Theatre's summer residency at the Greer Garson Theatre, Santa Fe, Brian Friel's Faith Healer, and Christopher Hampton's Treats. Among many productions in the United Kingdom have been Barry Collins' Judgment with Ben Kingsley at the National, and Patrick Suskind's The Double Bass at the National and in Edinburgh. For Highlight Theatre at Stony Brook, he has directed The Woods, The Caretaker and most recently, Heroes.

G.W. MERCIER (Scenic Designer)- is a freelance set and costume designer based in New York. Most recently his work was seen for the University Theatre production of The Threepenny Opera. For Highlight Theatre he designed Heroes, The Caretaker and The Woods. His work also includes The Gingerbread Lady and Side By Side By Sondheim for last summer's American Theatre Festival. Mr. Mercier is the resident scenic designer for the National Playwright Conference at the Eugene O'Neill Theatre Center. In regional theatre, his work has appeared for the Doub¹ Image Theatre (New York), the Hartford Stage Company, Yale Repertory Th atre, the Oregon Contemporary Theatre, Williamstown Theatre Festival, S. Francisco Conservatory of Music, Hertz Music Hall and the Zellerbach Playhous Mr. Mercier is the resident designer for Highlight Theater and is an Assista Professor at Stony Brook. He holds a M.F.A. from the Yale School of Dram

ROBERT HELLER (Lighting Designer) - most recently designed the lighting f Highlight Theatre's productions of Heroes, The Caretaker, and University Th atre's The Threepenny Opera. Last summer he designed Side By Side By Sor heim and The Gingerbread Lady for the American Theatre Festival at Sto Brook. Last year he won a Harold Award for Lighting Design for The Woo

SIGRID INSULL (Costume Designer) - has designed for Broadway, Off-Broa way and numerous regional repertory theatres. She is currently designing t costumes for a movie for television, A Hard Road To Glory. She is a member United Scenic Artists in New York and teaches Costume Design at Stony Broc

ARTHUR C. CATRICALA (Stage Manager) - Mr. Catricala has managed won at such theatres as the American Premier Stage of Boston; Lucille Lortell's Wh Barn Theatre, Connecticut; and Circle Rep in New York City. Mr. Catricala a works as a script supervisor for film and television and has most recently compl ed work on the national industrial commercial for Orlane Cosmetics of Paris. N Catricala was assistant stage manager for Highlight Theatre's productions of 7 Caretaker and Heroes.

MARK SULLIVAN (Technical Director) - is a 1983 graduate of the Yale Scho of Drama. Mark was the lighting designer for the American Theatre Festival Stony Brook's production of Fifth Of July, the scenic designer for the Univers Theatre's production of Our Town and technical director for The Caretaker. most recently designed the set for Antigone for the University Theatre.

WILLIAM J. BRUEHL (Producer) - is the Chairman of the Department Theatre Arts. His long involvement in theatre has included the direction of mo than fifty productions. As writer, director and producer of Woman On Fire, received Best Play of 1983 from the Three Village Herald. Currently he is work on a full-length opera, with his partner, the composer Daniel Deutsch. The Thr penny Opera, a University Theatre production, is his most recent project.

ROBERT ALPAUGH (Managing Director) - was most recently the Product Director for the American Theatre Festival at Stony Brook, where he also direct the Festival's production of Side By Side By Sondheim. Mr. Alpaugh, with years of varied theatrical experience, brings a wide range of expertise to his at of specialization - Production and Management. As General Manager of the Wh Theatre Company, he produced and managed over 13 projects. He has produce one person shows with Colleen Dewhurst (in association with Cheryl Crawford a Lita Starr), Delores Gray, and Jeffrey DeMunn. Track, Cross-Country Running In Full Stride

Men Ready to Start Anew

By Jim Passano

The Stony Brook mens cross-country team is preparing for another season under the guidance of Gary Westerfield. Westerfield has led the team for several years now and under his watchful eye the Patriots are looking forward to an exciting season.

Many of the Veterans are coming back, with eight of the top runners from last season returning, according to Westerfield. At the moment the squad has 21 runners and when the roster is completed there will be about 25 runners.

The Patriots have a arduous schedule this year, according to Westerfield. "We have several difficult meets this season. Some that come to mind are the one against King's College on September 4th. Also, there is the New York Institute of Technology invitational," he said.

This year's squad has a fine example to follow. Last year's team took second in the New York Institue of Technology invitational and at King's College tournament they ranked fourth. Westerfield cited several meets that he said will be difficult for Stony Brook. "Our own invitational will be tough. We will be going against Rider College in New Jersey," Westerfield said.

If the team makes the Nationals or the Regionals there will be even more tough competition because this season's best college teams will be in attendance. Women Fare Well

During the summer, members of the Stony Brook women's track team traveled to Carleton University, in Northfield, Minnesota for the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) Nationals competion held from May 21-May 26.

Stony Brook finished twenty-second as a team in a field of over 100 schools represented and placed second in the nation in the discus competition.

The Patriots went to Minnesota to compete in the discus, shotput and the 800m and 1500m events. They made it into the finals for the discus, but just missed their needed qualifying times to make finals competition, said Kim Hovey, coach of the women's winter track team.

Stony Brook took second place in the finals on a 145'3" discus throw by Cheryl Hunter. Hunter now holds the Stony Brook competition record for discus throw in the history of the event. She bested her previous record of 138'8" with that toss.

Lilla Sexton, last year's most valuable player for the winter track team, placed 11th in the shotput; Hunter also competed in the shotput event.

Mary Dolan and Marie Bernard competed in the 800m competition. They finished in 16th and 17th places, respectively. Bernard, was last year's winter track most improved player for the 1983-1984 season. Unfortunately, their efforts didn't warrant them a place in the finals competion.

Barbara Gubbins ran the 1500m race. She placed ninth in the nation.

Women's X-Country Set To Race

By Paul Heilker and Jim Passano The Stony Brook women's cross-count team is enthusiastically awaiting the offic start of its season this Saturday at the F Fields Festival in Manhattanville.

Coach Dudzick says this year's team is ve solid, with most of the runners being expe enced returnees. The twelve person squad also well prepared for this season, he sai

Most of the runners ran long and hard ov the summer, with three actually working f a running school upstate near Lake Georg whre they each averaged 100 miles a wee With their summer mileage being honed racing peak through their daily 7AM wor outs, the veteran 1984 team is hoping to I faster than last season's.

This fall's season features several "b meets," a chance for revenge, and some hig goals the team has set for itself. They hop to have hit their stride and be running well b Sept. 23 so they may avenge last year's e tremely close loss to the California State Co lege of Pennsylvania at the Trenton Sta Invitational.

Two weeks later, they will press the hon team advantage as they host the Stor Brook Invitational. But all the while, th team's eyes will be focused on the big on the NCAA Regional Qualifying meet at Har ilton College on Nov. 10. Their goal is qualify the whole team for the champio ships the following Saturday at Ohio – We leyan University.

Last year, only one Patriot runner made that far, Barbara Gubbins, who is unable t participate this year because of oth commitments.

The loss of Gubbins has been somewhat o set by the strong pre-season showings by s niors Maureen Keyes and Donna Lyons, an sophomore Laura Whitney.

Further help comes in the form of soph more Mary Dolan, whom Coach Dudzick d scribed as an "excellent runner." Dudzic said, "This year's team is certainly faste than last year's. We're looking forward to very good season." TATESMAN-Monday Sept 10, 1984

SBX-COUNTRY TEAMS PLACE FIRST

he so-called hill and dalers from Stony rook did well right from the start of the ree mile race. At the sound of the gun, atriots held the first, third, fourth and fifth ositions. The pack opened up very quickly ind by the mid-first lap, four Patriots aura Whitney, Donna Lyons, Mary Dolan, and Maureen Keyes — had a nice lead on ana Carusso of Montclair State. Traveling osely behind her was Megan Brown of tony Brook, who would eventually finish in with place.

he pack stretched out even more by the ompletion of the first lap around the two ile loop course that has uneven paved surces and wooded trails. Stony Brook still eld the first four ranks, although Lyons had opped slightly back and would eventually hish 10 seconds behind her teammates. Caso still held fifth, trailed by Brown, and Sue orroda of Stony Brook was running in the umber eight spot.

s the runners started the second lap, the ack stretched out even further, but all the ony Brook runners were displaying a good ride. The top three — Dolan, Keyes, and hitney — were still running together with yons sporting a strong hold on fourth. The ats were all in good form, and even the last ony Brook runner across the finish line had respectable 21:55 time for the three miles.

olan, Keyes, and Whitney finished first, cond, and third, in that order, with identil 18:08 finishing times. Lyons came in at 3:18 to add a fourth place ranking to the am score. Coming in sixth with the fifth of re team victories for Stony Brook was rown, with an 18:50 finishing time.

brroda, who ran in the eight spot a good lf of the race, placed seventh. Her time as 19:12. The next four Patriot finishers aced in the teens with 21:15 or better nes. They were Chris Tierney (15th), Lau-Lackich (16th), Liz Kreinsen (17th) and erry Kehoe, who came in 19th. Christine rne finished in the number 21 spot. Montair runner Carusso took the fifth place time of 18:32, as Vassar took second in team cometition with 77 points.

The course for the race was good, according to Brown. "It was pretty flat. There were some small hills, making it challenging, but not too tough," she said.

Westerfield said that "It was a good spectator course. You could see the runners at several points from a vantage spot on the hill that was behind the gym." Dudzick commented that "it (the course) was accurate."

The men's team also finished first, in the joint meet. they were supported by strong finishes from Steven Brown, John Pahta and Gary Paperno, a transfer student from Adelphi University.

The race opened with a tight pack of runners, but the red and grey of the Patriot uniforms was out front. The pack dispersed a little as the runners made their way around the first lap. At this point, three of the four leaders in the pack were Patriots.

Nearing the completion of the first lap, Patriot Brown and St. Thomas Aquinas runner Brian Crowley were out in front, while the Pats had a grip on fourth through 11th places amongst the spread out group of runners.

Mid-way through the second lap, Brown had fallen slightly behind Crowley and other Patriot runners held the fifth through eighth positions, as well as the 10th.

The five-mile trek for the men's division teams, showed in a strain on the faces of the runners as they passed by. As the runners finished the second lap, the pack leaders were stretched out, running single file.

First place runner Crowley came in at 25:26 on the official clock. Brown, finishing with a 25:43 time, took second. Following Brown in Patriot finishes, Pahta came in fourth, Paperno in sixth and senior Dan Riconda in eighth. The men's cross country team wound up the meet with 20 points, giving them a 49 point victory margin over second place St. Thomas Aquinas College, whose team ended up with 69 points. Five other teams qualified for team scoring. In order of rank, the teams were: Vassar (83), Kings College (138), Hofstra University (152), SUNY Maritime (165) and the hosting Manhattanville College team (204). The rest of the competing teams failed to have five finishing runners apiece and, therefore, did not qualify for team scoring.

After the successful outing, several players did express caution of looking at the victory as an easy road to the regionals competitions. Danny Runez, a junior who ran a 33:13.7 five-mile time Saturday, said, "It's too early in the season to tell how we'll end up. Nobody was really in shape, but it was a good way to start off the season. What we're gearing ourselves for is the regionals." The NCAA regionals will be held at Hamilton College on Nov. 10.

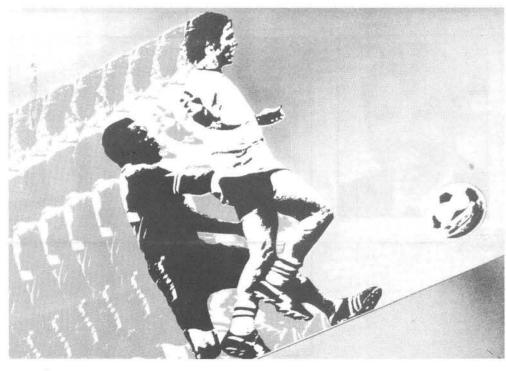

As to the degree of difficulty of the men's course, Brown believes that "it was a nice course to race on." He feels that this team has a very good chance of making the qualifying competitions. "This is the best team we've had. Our goal is to made the nationals," he said. "Although it's early in the season, it looked good and we're hoping to stay healthy." This is Brown's fourth year as a runner and he is hoping to make the national competitions after three previous close misses.

In Westerfield's opinion, "The big races are in November. Let's shoot for qualifying the whole team."

SB Soccer Season Opens With 1-0 Win

By Jim Passano

The Stony Brook men's soccer team had their first official game last Saturday, when they traveled to SUNY Binghamton, and came back home with a 1-0 victory.

The Patriots lone score came 13 minutes into the second half of the game. Mike Bellero, a midfielder, was accredited with the goal and the assist was given by first year player Mike Marsh.

The Binghamton team is one of the best Division III organizations in the state, according to the head coach of Stony Brook's team Shawn McDonald. "They were ranked sixth in the state last year. We beat them last season as well, by a 2-1 margin. Last year, the team was not ranked," he said. "We're hoping that beating them this year will rank us in the top ten."

Binghamton outshot Stony Brook by a wide margin and was in control of the ball during most of the game. But, according to McDonald, "They were shooting from out about 30 yards or more." McDonald said that the team played a very defensive game and scored both their goals on counterattacks. The other Patriot goal was called back on a pushing charge. He described counterattacks as "defending until you can go upfield with the ball and make a score. It is somewhat similar to a fast break in basketball."

Unlike last season when the Patriots were victorious at home, Binghamton had the home team advantage and the victory "clearcut," according to McDonald.

Coach McDonald credits much of the team's victory to the defensive part of the squad. "Matt McDade did an outstanding job as goalkeeper," he said. McDade had 12 saves added to his record Saturday.

Defenders Paul Doherty, Vinny Paez and Pete Zamboni gave "a tremendous effort" to the game, according to McDonald. Offensively, McDonald notes the efforts of the two men who scored the winning goal, Mike Marsh, who was injured in the second half, and Mike Bellero. Bellero, although a midfielder and goalscorer, hustled on defense, McDonald said.

This was one of the five games this season that the Patriots will find tough, according to their coach, "We have some difficult games this season and this was one of them. It's especially nice that we won it," he said.

Patriots Gear Up For Clasl With Hofstra

By Jim Passano

Friday night, under the lights, the Ston Brook Patriots will be playing their first gam of the season. It will be an away game agains Hofstra University's Flying Dutchmen.

Game time is 7:30 PM, and Coach Sar Kornhauser's Patriots are "as prepared a we can be," Kornhauser said. The team ha studied the Dutchmen's game plan, both o fensively and defensively, and "we know what they do," Kornhauser said.

Stony Brook has a lot of talent on this year squad, but they lack the depth of players which the Hofstra roster certainly carries "They're tremendously aggressive on o fense. They have five or six backs they ca throw against us," Kornhauser said, addin that "their defense is extremely tough."

Hofstra is rated as one of the best teams i the country. They are a strong team an their strength showed in their recent 56-1 victory over Iona, another tough Division I team.

The Patriots strategy for this game is to pla their game the best they can and let Hofstr play theirs, according to Kornhauser. "Ou intent for this game is to just play the bes ball we can and hope that offensively an defensive we can outplay them (Dutch men)," he said.

The Patriots have their starting lineup pre pared for Friday night. Leading the offense i the veteran fleetfooter, Ray McKenna. Chri Brown and Jorge Taylor will be slotted be hind the quarterback; and handing the ba off to McKenna will be center Mike Stellato Defensively the Pats look solid as well. Pau Scott and Scott Strough have the end positions, while Paul Emannuel and Jerry Luck will play defensive backs.

Sports enthusiasts who would like to attend the game, can travel on a spectator bus leav ing the gym Friday afternoon. The transport tation is free and tickets can be purchased a the ticket window at Hofstra. iday, September 14, 1984

Tennis Suffers Loss To Fordham

By Jim Passano

he Stony Brook women's tennis team traved into the Bronx yesterday to take on ivision I ranked Fordham University. Howver, the Patriots came out on the short end the score, but it did not reflect the team's solity, according to Coach Rich L'Hommeeu. "We were missing our number one ayer, and several of our girls were inred," he said.

nrisse Goodman, last season's starting sines player, was again number one for the st match of the season, when Deidre Ettus as unble to play due to foot injuries. Goodan played her match against Fordham's st singles player, Elisa Frei. L'Hommedieu describes Frei as a "touch competitor". Frei took the first set from Goodman six games to two. In the second and final set, the two battled to a 6-6 tiebreaker, which Frei took in a 12 point run-off play.

Playing in the number two spot was senior Lisa Pisano. Pisano challenged Fordham's Julie Tighe, but unfortunately lost both sets of their match, 6-0, 6-1. In the third and final singles match, Ericka Iten went against Susan Tully. Although Coach L'Hommedieu said, "she will be super for the team this season," Iten was unable to handle the backhanded slice shots from Tully's racket that dropped in the front court area.

In the doubles matches, again, Stony Brook

Sports And Studies: Is There A Chemistry

By Jeff Eisenhart and Jim Passano an student athletes successfully divide their me between scholastic work and team comitments? Students attempt to strive for it, d coaches hope for it. As the new academyear begins, many student-athletes are ced with a dilemma: will team sports reain an active part of their life? Many stuents are afraid that if they commit emselves to something outside of academs they won't do well, according to Head aseball Coach Mike Garafola, a Stony ook Alumnus.

itudents come to me and say thay then ed all their time to study. I don't think at's right. Almost everybody can find two uurs a day that they goof around," said arafola "I found that I did better in my asses during the season than when I wasn't a team," added Garafola "It forces you to alize the value of your time and to budget in a more sensible fashion."

any of Stony Brook's current student athes seem to think that they can make the cessary adjustments. Andy Pargament, a tcher on the varsity baseball team said 'here's enough time for it (studying). You miss a couple of classes, but you study more at night." Pargament added, "It's a good experience mixing academic and extracurricular activities."

Tabare Borbon, a member of both the baseball and basketball teams, said the key to playing varsity sports and academics is "you have to make sure you put in enough time studying." He said based on his own personal experience. "I'd make sure my program was set where I had time to study."

Those feelings are in line with other campus athletes. Maurice Gainey, another member of the baseball team, said that he can achieve the desired balance between his class load and being out on the field from 4PM to 6PM five times a week.

"I figure on putting in two to two and half hours a day playing ball. I love baseball and get satisfaction out of playing it," Gainey said. "If I can get satisfaction out of the game, then I can get satisfaction out of my books.

Gainey found it hard to imagine how it would be any different if he wasn't playing basebal. "After this, I play basketball in the winter and then baseball again in the spring," he said.

Not all, however, find that sought blance. Dan Hart, a transfer student from Brooklyn College has tried to find that balance between playing sports and his schoolwork. "It seriously hurt my grades. I seemed to live, dream and wake up to football," Hart said. "I would never do it again. Sure, playing football is great, but who wants to have no free time to themselves?"

Another player experiences similar difficulties. Phil Russo, a former member of the Patriot soccer squad, said that there is a large time requirement for his sport. "You have to practice three hours a day, six days a week. By the end of the day you're so tired you don't even want to study, he said."

Russo also cited road trips as another big problem. "Road trips take a whole day away from you and you can't do anything about it," he added.

SB WOMEN'S TENNIS DROPS THIRD

By Jim Passano

The Stony Brook women's tennis team was defeated for the third time this season yesterday, in what Patriot Coach Rich L'Hommedieu described as a "war". The lady raqueteers were put down by Wagner College in a 6-3 match in Staten Island.

In the first singles match, Chrisse Goodman was able to overcome her opponent in two sets. Goodman took the first set 7-5 and also the second 6-4. Team member Lisa Pisano felt that Goodman's win was impressive. "Chrisse was down three-love in the first set and played really well," she said.

Unfortunately, Pisano was not as lucky as Goodman, as she lost the second singles match. She dropped the contest in three sets. In the first set, Pisano lost 6-4. The other two sets were split, each with a 6-4 final game score.

Playing in the number three spot, Ericka Iten lost in two sets with identical 6-4 scores. Sharon Marcus played number four again, after winning last Friday. Marcus won her match in two sets, 6-4, 6-4. She commented that the entire team "played well. Wagner was a tough opponent." Marcus said "the sets in the matches were close."

Playing her first match this season, Jackie Fiore, a transfer student from Ithaca, defeated her opponent, Beth McSheeky, in three sets. Foire dropped the opening set, 6-4. She then came back to tie the match with a 6-3 second set win. In the third and final set she blanked McSheeky, 6-0. Fiore commented on the skill of the Wagner team. "Wagner was a very solid team. I do think the experience we got in the match will prepare us for the next team on their level," she said.

In the final singles match of the day, Debbie Gruskin also battled to a three set finish. Unfortunately, it was her opponent, Jennifer Albrizio, who took the third and final set. The result of the singles competition left the match tied three all. In order to win, Stony Brook had to take two of the three doubles matches.

In the first doubles match, Goodman and Pisano combined to play against Chris Napoli and Mary Mrockowski. Goodman had defeated Mrockowski in their singles competition, and Napoli had beaten Iten earlier in the day. Mrockowski was able to even out the day, when she and Napoli finished out in front of Goodman and Pisano at the end of three sets. In the first set, the Patriots came out on top, 6-3. After that, they lost the second set, 7-5. In the final set of play, they were behind four games to one; they fought to a five to four game point. But after they won their fourth game, Wagner won their sixth to win the match.

In the final two competitions, Stony Brook lost both doubles matches. In second doubles, Marcus and Iten fought a hard three sets. They were swatted in the first, 6-1. They came back and defeated Colleen Abbate and Aubrey Hepburn with a score identical to that of the first set. In the final set, Abbate and Hepburn won six games to the Patriots' four. To follow that disappointment, Gruskin and Michele Caputo lost an eight-game pro-set, 8-3.

The Patriots get their next chance for a match win on Friday when they travel to Schenectady to take on Siena College. Hopefully, they learned enough today to show coach L'Hommedieu how much of his "a lot to learn" they have understood.

PAT FOOTBALL LOSE

By Jimmy Gilligan The Stony Brook Patriots suffered their see ond loss of the young season Friday nigh This time, they traveled to New Jerse where they fell victim to the Devils of Fa leigh-Dickinson University, 36-8. Coach Sa Kornhauser put it best: "it was a disappoint ing loss."

The trouble for the Patriots began early, the Devils began their dominance by scori on their first possession of the game. Or three minutes and forty-five seconds into t game, Devil's quarterback Mike D'Ambros connected with receiver Greg Rutter on 53-yard-pass to put Fairleigh-Dickinson the scoreboard. Devil's kicker Greg Cassi then topped it off with the first of his thr extra points.

The Devils quickly regained possession wh the Patriots' Ralph Tuckett fumbled the kind off return. Fairleigh-Dickinson wound with the ball on their own 18-yard-line. A though they were unable to score this time they capitalized on Stony Brook's poor file position on their next possession by forcithem back into their own end zone, scoring safety. Suddenly, it was 9-0 in favor of t Devils.

The Devils scored again early in the secon quarter with 10:19 left in the half. They us a well balanced mixture of rushing and paing to score on a six-play, 37-yard driv Already the Patriots were down 16-0.

On their next possession, the Devils on again took advantage of their excellent file position. With the help of a Patriot penalt the Devils managed to increase their lead 23-0, when running-back Walt Bucz scored Fairleigh-Dickinson's third touc down of the game.

Before the half was over, the Devils put a other seven points on the board as quarte back Brian Gordon connected on a 43-ya pass to Tony Baglio. The Patriots went in the locker room at half-time trailing by score of 30-0.

though the Patriots played a good second alf, it was not enough to overcome the thirpoint deficit. The Stony Brook defense warkled in the second half, allowing the evils only 12-yards in the air and coming up th two interceptions, courtesy of defensive ack Chris Clay.

p until the final seconds of the game, the ntire second half was all Patriots. After being in the Devil's part of the field and failing o score on three previous attempts, the Paiots took measures that led to their first buchdown of the game. On a five-play, 47ard scoring drive, running back Jorge Tayor crossed the goal-line with Stony Brook's rst touchdown of the season at 12:36 into the third quarter. Quarterback Paul Ryan then connected with Mark Funsch for the two-point conversion and the score now ood at 30-8.

fter the ensuing kickoff the Devils only anaged to get off one play before Chris lay executed his second interception of the ame. The Patriots seemed to be gaining omentum from these two superb plays, but delay-of-game penalty and a sack, which ought with it an eight yard loss, quickly put n end to Stony Brook's hopes of any further oring. With only 28 seconds left in the ame. Fairleigh-Dickinson cornerback D.J. ickles intercepted a Paul Ryan pass and turned it 36 yards for a touchdown. Devils' cker Greg Cassidy missed the extra point at the final score was 36-8.

ccording to Coach Kornhauser "We didn't ay well in the first half. We've got to make e transition from a club team to a Division team and I don't think we've made that ansition yet." Although their record now ands at 0-2, the Patriots can take pride in eir play in the second half. During the third d fourth quarters, their team spirit and maraderie was quite evident.

he Patriot's next challenge will be on Satury, Sept. 29, when they travel to Massachutts to play Lowell University.

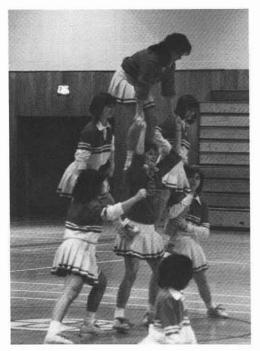

MEN'S X-COUNTRY RACES TO VICTORY

By Jim Passano

The men's cross country team won their second invitational tournament this past weekend when they traveled to Briar Cliff Manor for the King's College invitational meet Saturday.

Seven other teams competed in the five mile race, which ran what Coach Gary Westerfield described as "a hilly 'road' course." Stony Brook, which finished with a 55 point first place standing, entered 12 runners into the competition. Also competing were runners from Adelphi University, SUNY Maritime College at Fort Schuyler and C.W. Post College. In addition to those schools were Monmouth College, St. Thomas Aquinas College, Pace University and Wagner College.

Frances Burdett, from C.W. Post, was the first finisher of the race. His winning time was 25:26. Steve Brown was the first Patriot across the finish line; Brown won third place with a time of 26:36. Sophomore Pat Hardman finished fourth with a time identical to Brown's. The other top finishers from Stony Brook all came in within 1:03 of Brown's finish time. They were Jon Pahta (12th), Gary Paperno (16th) and Dan Ricenda (20th) with a time of 27:39.

Other Patriot finishers included Charles Ropes (26th), Wilco Lagendy (27th) and Gerry O'Hara (30th). The remaining three runners for Stony Brook finished between 35th and 47th place. They were Ray Roderiguez (35th), Bill Oehrlein (41st) and Mike Dunlop (47th).

When the scoring was complete, Stony Brook had its 55 point victory, followed by a 76 point second place finish by Adelphi. Third place was taken by SUNY Maritime with 97 points, closely followed by a 99 point C.W. Post score. St. Thomas Aquinas finished three points behind fifth place Monmouth College, which earned 117 points. Pace earned 166 points for seventh place and Wagner finished eight with 172.

Westerfield has been pleased with the team's performance so far this season, commenting that "this is our second invitational win in as many outings." He also noted the 1:03 separation time between the top five finishers, saying, "That is a good ranking."

Trophies were awarded to the top 15 finishers, which did include three Patriot runners. Stony Brook's next contest will be this coming Saturday, when both they and the women's cross country team travel to Old Westbury for the New York Institute of Technology invitational meet which starts at 11 AM.

CROSS-COUNTRY TEAMS FAREWELL

By Jim Passano

Both the men's and women's cross-country teams competed in the New York Tech Invitational this past weekend. The men's team, unlike previous years, competed in the vasity "A" division, and finished second behind Long Island University (LIU), while the women's team finished first in their race.

Saturday morning, the teams traveled to Old Westbury and competed against the likes of other "A" division competitors, such as Adelphi University, Fordham University, C.W. Post, LIU, and New York Tech, the hosting school.

In the Stony Brook men's race, runner Steve Brown finished first, with a time of 25:18. The first set of finishes were very closely packed. Pat Hardman, who came in sixth, finished with a time of 25:55 on the 5 mile course. In 15th place, Gary Paperno had a time of 26:23. The next Patriot runner to cross the line was Dan Riconda, who finished 22nd, followed closely in 24th place by Charles Ropes, whose 5 mile time was 26:54. The final Patriot finisher was Gerry O'Hara, in 30th place. Jon Pahta, one of the Pats strongest runners since the beginning of the season, didn't finish the race due to an injury.

When the scoring was complete, LIU was first with 55 points, followed closely by Stony Brook, which scored 60 points. Third position went to Adelphi, which had 86 points. Mansfield State University from Pennsylvania took fourth with 90 points. Fordham was fifth with 102 points; Southampton had 163 points. Seventh place, New York Institute of Technology's 168 points. C.W. Post brought up the rear in eigth place with 179 points.

After the Pats earned a respectable pacing in the men's meet, the women helped to make it a red-letter day by taking first in the women's race. Stony Brook was well ahead of second place Columbia University with a score of 21 points. They also beat out Adelphi, NY Tech, Wagner College, and Hunter College.

This was accomplished with the aid of strong performances on the parts of Laura Whitney, Mary Dolan and Donna Lyons. Whitney finished second behind Ellen Block of Westhcester Puma Running Club with a time of 17:35. Taking third and fourth place respectively, Dolan and Lyons finished with identical 17:51 marks.

Maureen Keyes was the next Patriot finisher, as her scarlet and gray jersey crossed the finish line at 18:17, placing her seventh. Megan Brown placed 10th with a time of 18:41 followed by Sue Corrado, who took 11th place. Corrado's time was 18:55. There was a big break between Corrado's finish and that of the next Patriot, Laura Lekich, who finished 33rd. She was followed by Chris Tierney, who finished 37th with 20:46 and Clare Lipponer, who came in 38th place. Kerry Kehoe was next, in 40th place. The final was Liz Kreinsen and Chris Byrne, finishing 47th and 48th respectively.

After Stony Brook, Columbia's second place earned them 66 points, while Adelphi's third place gave them 101 points. New York Tech took fourth place with 114 points. Wagner received fifth place with 125 points, just beating out Hunter, which had 126 points.

After the win, Lyons commented about the race. "It was a fast course, but the competition wasn't that tough," she said. She also spoke about the team and their next meet, the Stony Brook Invitational. "Everybody is improving as the season goes on. Sunken Meadows (course) is a tough course and we'll try to get our best time," she said.

The Stony Brook Invitational will be held on Oct. 7 at Sunken Meadow, the Patriots home course. Race time is 10:30 AM.

The Stony Brook women's tennis team extended their winning streak to three matches yesterday when they buried Farmingdale University with a 9-0 match victory.

WOMEN'S TENNIS TAKES THIRD WIN

To open up the match, first singles Dei Ettus defeated Farmingdale's starting pla in straight sets. Ettus out-strategized Joa Bodden, en route to blowing her off court with 6-1 and 6-0 scores. Chrisse Go man racked up another victory with anot straight set win for Stony Brook. Pat Goodman forced errors on her oppone Elise Orgonas, before winning with ident 6-1, 6-1 scores.

Returning from the injured list and pickup her first singles victory of the season, I Pisano competed for the first time in number three position. She, like Ettus a Goodman, won in straight sets over Farmi dale's Lori Shayew. The final score in t contest was 6-0, 6-1. Sharon Marcus ag played forth singles and continued her w ning ways. She blanked Angela Williamst also in straight sets, 6-0, 6-0. Williams was unable to utilize a good forehand backhand attack during the match.

Jackie Fiore again played in the fifth sing spot. The transfer from Itaca picked up other win as she defeated the left-hand Linda Lark 6-1, 6-0. Debbie Gruskin play singles for the first time in several matc and won handily against a very talkative ponent. Though Gruskin complained of continuous talking of Sumiko Marcell, put her down in straight sets just like the r of her teammates. She won 6-2, 6-1.

After sweeping singles play, the Pats diagain in the doubles competition. In first d bles, Ettus and Goodman combined to down their previous challengers, Bode and Orgonas in an eight game pro-style s which they won 8-1. Gruskin and Fiore th played doubles, which they also won. In co petition against Lark and Marcell, they a won a pro-style set 8-1. In the final mat Marcus and Sharon Nathanson shut out V liamston and Shayew, 8-0. SB MEN'S SOCCER TIES DREW

By Jim Passano

The Stony Brook men's soccer squad battled heir way to a 2-2 tie against the team from Drew University yesterday. Although the Pats scored first, they had to battle for their second score late in the second half to get he tie.

Under cloudy skies, the Pats took the field against what appeared to be two separate eams. In the first half, Drew was far less aggressive than the Pats, and their goal was cored on a penalty kick. The penalty kick was taken by Rob Falvo at 18:40, long after Mike Bellero pushed a batt past Rob Bednar nto Drew's net.

Both squads came out fighting in the second half. Drew was a lot more agressive during the second half of play. They also came out and scored the first goal of the second period at 54:15 by Dan Moylan who gave some butstanding performances during the entire match, according to Head Coach Shawn AcDonald.

tony Brook made up the goal much later at 7:26 when Ed Lee put another shot past prew's Bendnar. In the regulation period, ee's goal was the last as well as the last of he match. There were tow 10 minute overmes, during which there was no scoring.

IcDonald credited Roy Richards and Ed ee for outstanding performances.

fterwards he said that the Pats "controlled big part of the game." He also added that there were a few let downs but overall it as a good game." The Pats will have anothr chance for victory and up their present 4-1 record when they travel to Oakdale aturday for a 1:00 PM game against Dowlg College.

SB RUGBY SPLITS WITH VASSAR COLLEGE

The Stony Brook Rugby squad recently traveled to Vassar College where their "A" team was victorious but the "B" team was shut out.

In the "A" game, Stony Brook dominated but a strong Vassar defense kept the scoring close during the contest. Stony Brook player Mike McKay was credited with one score, one conversion and one penalty kick, which amounted to nine of the Pats total 13 points. Stony Brook was able to limit Vassar to one score and conversion equaling six points. Unfortunately the "B" squad was unable to repeat the performance of the "A" team. Vassar blanked them 11-0. According to John Reinhart, a member of the team, "Vassar did have reasonable control during the game."

Stony Brook's next chance for victory will be Saturday when they travel into Hempstead to take on Hofstra University.

ROADSTERS GEARED FOR SB INVITE

By Jeff Eisenhart

The Stony Brook road runners will be on the move again as both the men's and women's cross country teams will be competing in the Stony Brook Invitational to be held at the Sunken Meadow Park on Sunday afternoon.

Manhattanville College, Long island University (LIU), Nassau Community College, Hunter College, and Southampton College will be competing.

Men's team coach Gary Westerfield is very optimistic about his team's performance during Sunday's event. "Our major competition should be LIU," he said.

Steve Brown and Pat Hardman are two of the Patriot's who figure to lead the pack Sunday. Westerfield believes Brown shuold break the school record for the course. Another bright stop for Stony Brook will be the return of Jon Pahta. Pahta, the talented sophomore, is coming off an injury that he suffered during last week's New York Institute of Technology Invitational.

The Pat's will probably be without the services of Gerry O'Hara, who is listed as doubtful with an ankle injury. The men's race will be held over a five mile course and will begin at 2 PM.

The women's team also figures to do well.

They will be lead by the fleet-footedness of Donna Lyons, Mary Dolan, Laura Whitney, Megan Brown and Sue Corrado. "We have a good chance of winning. Everyone will be there at full strength," said Paul Dudzick, women's team coach. The womens race will begin at 12 noon.

One obstacle the Stony Brook runners will face is the Sunken Meadow course itself, which Dudzick calls "demanding". The course is known for its very steep slopes and its three famous hills - Snake, Hernia and Cardiac. Both Westerfield and Dudzick agreed that their runner's performances will not be hampered the obstacle of the course itself, because all of their runners have trained their before.

Before the men's and women's races, a race will be held for all non-team runners who wish to travel the course. All those who finish the race will receive a medal for completing the race. Registration for the 11AM race will take place in the park's number three lot before 10:30AM that day. There will be a $5.00 registration fee. Students are encouraged to race.

With all the excitement scheduled for Sunday, Westerfield stated, "it should be a good meet."

The Stony Brook women's tennis team came close to winning their fifth straight match yesterday when they traveled into Queens to take on Division I St. John's University. Unfortunately, an ill player, two bad line calls and a coaching mistake cost them the match, 5-4. Deirdre Ettus played her sixth match at first-seeded singles, but unlike her previous five outings, she lost in three sets. Ettus, having an off day, dropped the first set 6-1 to Max Sichter, a talented left-hander on full scholarship to St. John's. After discovering that she was playing a left-hander, Ettus came back to win the second set, 6-4. Sichter then dominated the third and final set, 6-1. Starting again in the second-seeded singles spot was veteran Chrisse Goodman. Goodman played a tough match, but was unable to defeat her opponent, Laura Dremel, who along with Schiter and the rest of the team is on full scholarship. Goodman dropped the first set, 6-2. She played much more consistently during the second set and forced a tie-breaker.

At this point, Dremel called two balls out that spectators said were clearly in bounds. There were no impartial line judges during this game and players were responsible for calling balls that bounced on their respective sides of

PATS BOUNCE PAST MANHATTAN 4-1

The Stony Brook men's soccer team defeated Manhattanville College 4-1 at home yesterday, bringing their record to 5-4-1. Manhattanville previously had won only one match and tied two in 11 contests.

The Pat's first score came at 51:18 by Eddie Lee with an assist by Tony Mazze early in the second half. Soon after, they struck again with another goal by Mike Belero with an assist by Mazze. Later in the second half. Mark Ashman scored the third goal to make it 3-0 at 76:16. The Pat's final goal was scored at 82:14 by Oral Walker and assisted by Pete Zamobni. Manhattanville scored its only goal at the very end of the game.

The Patriots had a more productive offense, yieding 19 shots and 13 shots on goal. Manhattanville had three shots on goal against Matt Mcdade.

The Pat's next match will be Oct. 13 at Kings Park.

TENNIS LOSES ONE TO ST. JOHN'S

their courts.

Playing the first singles spot for the first time this season, Debbie Gruskin, normally the sixth singles player, played a tough match. She was unable to beat her opponent, Robyn Barsky, losing in straight sets, 6-0, 6-2. Sharon Marcus played in the number five position against Theresa Tuzzolo, her opponent. She won handily for the eighth consecutive time this season in straight sets. In the first set, Marcus had to go to twelve games to win, 7-5. In the second set, she had a much easier time, as she blanked Tuzzolo 6-0.

With Gruskin playing in the third position, Ericka Iten played fifth-seeded singles. Iten easily defeated Kim Webster, doing so in straight sets. Like Marcus, Iten was forced to a 12th game, before winning the first set, 7-5. Then she proceeded to pick apart Webster, who was paying more attention to the sidelines than her game. The final score in the second set was 6-2.

In sixth and last singles, Jackie Fiore managed to overcome fearing who she was playing, and walked away with her fifth match win in as many outings. She won the first set, the match over Margaret Benzie in straight sets, with identical 6-1, 6-1 scores. During the match, Fiore was genuinely surprised that she was winning. "I cant't believe I'm winning 4-1 (first set). I keep thinking abo who I'm playing against," she said. Benzie obvious didn't think about who she was playing, as Fiore conce trated, en route to the win.

With the match tied 3-3, Coach Rich L'Hommedie made a decision that may also have cost the Patriots the match. He played Fiore and Gruskinu (normally the fif and sixth seeded players) in the second doubles po tion. Then he played Iten and Marcus (third and four singles) in third-seeded doubles. Fiore and Grusk played a tough match, but lost 8-5 in an eight game pr set. Marcus and Iten won easily 8-2 in third doubles ov Webster and Benzie.

This left the match in the hands of Goodman and Ettu who were playing first singles. They, like Fiore ar Gruskin, played a tough match, but were forced to an 8 tie-reaker. Unfortunately, they lost the tie-breaker 4.

Stony Brook should be commended for a strong performance, despite the loss. The Stony Brook's preserecord is 4-5. After the loss, L'Hommidieu commente "There is no way we should have lost." The Pats will g a chance to even out their record again when they plat home Thursday against Queens College.

VOLLEYBALLERS SPLIT AT HOME

By Lisa Miceli

The Stony Brook Women's volleyball team hosted Queens College and the New York Institute of Technology yesterday. They defeated Queens College 15-2, 9-15, 15-9; but lost to New York Tech 2-15, 14-16.

Disregarding the fact that Queens College is a division II team, the match was hardly a pushover, but it should have been. In the first game, the Pats rolled them over 15-2. The second game had its problems. The women in red were not mentally there. They ended up looking at each other, and looking confused. This is a young team still learning their coverages. The Stony Brook women came back to win the third game by being aware on court. There were many killshots, blocks and defensive plays, especially by Kulhman. Kulhman had an ace to end the game 15-9.

The team overall had 26 killshots with Kulhman having nine, Lafferty seven and Wertz five. The Pats had 91 percent of their serves over the net. Wertz and Lafferty had 100 percent serving.

The next match posed more of a problem. Even though they had a 4-11 record, they were a Division I team that had previousl played high ranking Division I teams. It wa hard to believe this team was 4-11. The crushed the Pats 15-2 by simply overpower ing them with killshots faster than bullets.

In the second game, the Patriots surprise New York Tech by almost winning. It was s close and exciting, especially when Ston Brook is only a Division III team. It was a rea team effort. The Patriots were getting kil shots, recovering and had good service re turns considering the way New York Tec played.

Coach Tiso said, "The team really hung i there" for the last game. "Wendy Williams (freshman) played well and Denise Drisco played good defense," added Tiso. Sh thought both played consistant games. Sh was proud of the team over all.

The pats had 29 killshots with Kulhman hav ing 12 of them. Adriane Springer and Wert had 100 percent serving. The team overa had 89 percent serving.

Stony Brook is now 8-5. Their next hom game is against Brooklyn College on Oct. 22

To continue the Pats win streak Ericka Iten also won in straight sets. In the fourth seeded singles competition, Iten overcame Ayden Ozturk, and like her teammates, won in straight sets. The final score in that contest was 6-1, 6-0.

Jack Fiore won her sixht match in as many outings, when she defeated Stacey Kuo in straight sets. Fiore, despite some difficulty with Kuo's chip shots won straight sets. The score was 6-4, 6-3.

Debbie Gruskin played in the sixth singles spot yesterday, and successfully challenged Queens Robin Reinwitz. After two sets, the end result was 6-3, 6-4 in favor of Gruskin.

The singles sweep insured the Pat's victory. They went on to take two out of the three doubles competitions, to give them a 8-1

SB PATRIOTS GARNER FIRST VICTORY

In first doubles, Iten and Marcus combined to defeat Izturk and Kuo in an eight game proset, 8-0. Fiore and Gruskin did not fair as well, losing to Zuller and Markbreit 8-5 in their pro-set. To finish off yesterday's contest, Patriot's Sharon Nathanson and Michele Caputo defeated Kallinger and Reinowitz 8-3, also in pro-set.

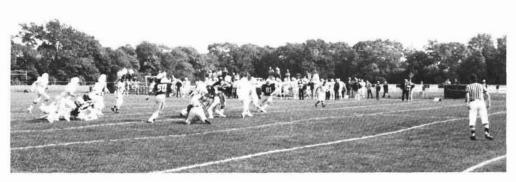

Fiore is optomistic about the Pats next match today. After King's we'll be 555 (percent). We're going to romp," she said.

Coach Rich L'Hommedieu also is optomistic about the Pat's coming contests. "It's going to be a great week for Stony Brook," he said.

Ve're talkin' a big W. We're talkin' exciteent!" Coach Sam Kornhauser's words, oken at Friday night's bonfire, rang true Saturday afternoon as the Patriots defeatthe SUNY/Maritime Privateers by a ore of 34-7. Forget that it was Homecoma. Forget that it was Coach Kornhauser's st victory as coach of the Patriots. Forget at Jorge Taylor ran for over 100 yards. rget that Ray McKenna threw two touchwn passes, had his best game of the sean, and reestablished himself as the leader at his football team so desperately needed their first four games. What made the ference in this game, according to John gimierski, whom Kornhauser calls "the st football player we have", was that "We ally played as a team."

final.

From the beginning, it was obvious that the Patriots weren't going to pull any punches. They meant business and they were out to show it. Only 3:33 into the game, linebacker Ed Plitt decided to start the show for the Patriots and intercepted a pass by Maritime quarterback Rich Mayhew. That put the Patriots at mid-field and they wasted no time in jumping all over the Privateers. Stony Brook, who hadn't drawn first-blood in a game all season, put themselves on the scoreboard early by way of a nine play scoring drive which culminated in a 13-yard touchdown pass from McKenna to sophomore Ragimierski, whose regular position is outside linebacker. The Patriots' place-kicker, Dave Weintraub, then took the stage by booting the first of his four extra points. (Incidentally, Weintraub set two Stony Brook records while in Division III. He broke Mike Quirk's year old records of most points-after-touchdown attempted in one game (3) and most points-after-touchdown made in one game (3) with marks of 5 and 4, respectively).

The Privateers were then able to execute only three plays before having to punt to the Patriots. When punter Chris Swan's knee hit the ground as he was recovering the snap, Stony Brook was awarded the ball on the Privateer's 16-yard line. Only two minutes after scoring their first touchdown, the Patriots crossed the goal line again on a two-yard run by Chris Brown to bring the score to 14-0 in favor of the Patriots.

The Patriots continued their rapid-fire attack only minutes later as Chris Clay recovered a Maritime fumble, putting them on their opponent's eight-yard line. McKenna didn't need much help from his backs this time as he scored the touchdown himself on a threeyard run. As he crossed the goal line, he triumphantly held the ball high in the air, indicating what everyone in the stands already knew. The Patriots time had come and they were not going to blow it.

After the Privateers held the ball for about two and a half minutes, the Patriots figured

The Stony Brook Sailing Club competed this past weekend at the Navy Yawl Invitational, which was held at the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, Md. This year's squad boasts only four returning members; the inexperience hurt them as they finished last among nine teams over the two-day competition.

The Sailing Club, which receives its funding from Polity, is a member of the Middle Atlantic Intercollegiate Sailing Association. The team has been in existence at Stony Brook since 1975. During the past five seasons, Carl Singler has served as the faculty advisor for the organization.

Aside from the U.S Naval Academy and the Stony Brook squad, seven other schools that that was enough. Ragimierski, now back on defense, showed his versatility and intercepted a Mayhew pass, putting Stony Brook on the Maritime 4-yard run by Jorge Taylor, to raise the score to an overwhelming 27-0.

Then, late in the second quarter, the effective team of McKenna and Ragimierski went at it again, repeating the play that put the Patriots on the scoreboard in the first place. Only this time it was a 30-yard pass that enabled the tall transfer student from Lehigh to cross the goal line with his second touchdown reception of the day. After Weintraub's record-breaking kick, the score was 34-0. The Patriots went into the locker room enjoying their first half time lead of the season.

In comparison to the first half, the second half was anti-climactic. If not for a Maritime touchdown, scored on a two-yard run by Leon Tyrell at 5:10 into the third quarter, the game may as well have been over. As it was, most of the remaining play was merely the Privateers futile attempt to save themselves from an embarassing loss. They couldn't even accomplish that as Kornhauser put in his second and third string quarterbacks to finish out the game for a jubilant and proud Mckenna who remarked during the closing seconds of the game, "It's nice to be on the winning side." Whether it was "basically due to the hor crowd" as Ragimierski suggested or becau "We wanted it real bad" as Jorge Tay sheepishly said, there was no denying it. T Patriots had arrived with their first victory the season. Kornhauser's reflections on t game were for the most part full of a served optimism.

"We played a better game," he said. "We were real enthusiastic and homecoming we a big plus. Maritime is a team more our catber . . . (the first four losses) toughened us us . . . they had a positive effect."

On the team's future, Kornhauser sai "Winning big adds to our legitimacy. It hel us show that Stony Brook is for real."

were represented, including Princeton and Cornell Universities. During a series of five races over the course of the weekend, the Pats competed on 44' luders, according to veteran Dominic Eisenger. They also faced adverse wheather conditions, according to Eisinger. "The wind was strong, about 20-30 miles an hour. We had very inexperienced people cut on the big boats," he said.

Despite the inexperience, the Pats did improve during the course of that one weekend. In their fifth and final outing of the contest, the Pats finished fourth.

With the standings complete, the University of Maryland finished first, followed by SUNY Maritime. Third place went to Cornell, with the U.S. Naval Academy taking fourth. Princeton ended up in the fifth place po tion, and in the number six slot was Uni College. The University of Delaware earn seventh and the U.S. Merchant Marine Aca emy finished eighth.

The Pats, as well as other other teams, co peted on a $4\frac{1}{2}$ mile triangular course a hoped to use the experience they learn over the weekend when they compete in tournament hosted by SUNY Maritime ne weekend.

TWO TENNIS GAINS LEAD TO WINNING RECORD

By Jim Passano

r the first time this season, the Stony ook women's tennis team boasts a winning cord. This came as a result of two wins this st weekend over Kings College and Dowlg College.

day afternoon, the Pats defeated Kings by 8-0 margin. Then, on Saturday, the Pats inked the Dowling College team, headed Coach Bill Gertes, 7-0.

e crowning the Pats gave Kings was espelly fitting after they creamed Queen's Cole on Thursday. To open up the contest, risse Goodman was called upon to play st singles in the absence of Deirdre Ettus. odman responded well, defeating Phyllis cucci in straight sets. The final score in ir match was 6-1, 6-0 in favor of odman.

aron Marcus continued her winstreak, takher 10th consecutive match this season. rcus is unbeaten in singles play this seah. She continued her streak with a 6-0, 6-1 h over her opponent, Karen Hagman. cka Iten contributed to the Patriots vicy with another straight sets win. This time defeated Donna Check by a 6-3, 6-1 rgin.

continue the Patriot romp of Kings, Jackiore shut out her opponent, Mary Gargu-Fiore, like Marcus, is undefeated in gles play this season. Identical scores of 6-6-0 ended that match.

bbie Gruskin moved into the number five ded position for the match against Jill npkins. Gruskin performed well, blanking npkins in the first set, and winning 6-4 in second. The number six position was d by team member Sharon Nathanson. In rueling 2½ hour contest, Nathanson best-King's Cindy Brigham in three sets, 5-7, 6-6-4. After the match she commented that was "going to write a book on marathon nis."

ading 6-0 after the singles competitions recomplete, the Pats proceeded into doubles and ended up with two wins. In first doubles, Iten and Marcus defeated Macucci and Hagman in straight sets, 6-3, 6-2. Then Fiore and Gruskin overcame Check and Katy Barber to win in straight sets as well, 6-2, 6-0.

Coach Rich L'Hommedieu was pleased with the team's performance. "We are finally coming together as a team. We had a fairly easy time without our number one player. I hope not to lose any more matches this season," he said.

On Saturday, the Pats pushed their record to 7-5 with another shutout over Dowling. The team L'Hommedieu spoke of earlier did well, despite the absense of the first, third, and fifth seeded players.

The Pats also faced a handicap which affected the Dowling team as well, which was strong wind. Fortunately, the Pats were able to deal with it, according to Goodman. "The conditions today were difficult to play in. There were gusting winds; if the wind is gusting, it's unpredictable," she said, adding that "The team handled the wind. It is a sign of improvement."

Godman again played number 1. She defeated Kate Godfrey in straight sets, 6-3 and then 6-0.

Marcus again played in the number two position, winning easily and taking her 11th consecutive match of the season. She defeated Anna Cannale in two sets, 6-2, 6-3. If that wasn't enough to send Dowling home, Iten picked apart Bonnie Priff, Dowling's third seeded player. The final score in that contest was 6-4, 6-2.

Gruskin was moved from the fifth position where she played her last match to number four when Fiore was unable to play. She played a tough match, destroying Ellen Porter in the process, winning 6-0, 6-2.

Nathanson played in singles competition for the second match; this one was 2¹/₄ hr. She again was victorious, this time 6-7, 6-4, 6-3. Nathanson played tough match, including a seven-point first set tie-breaker, which she lost 10-8.

The Pats also swept the doubles competition. Iten and Marcus combined to beat Godfrey and Cannale 10-7 in a ten game pro-set. The victory marked the first loss for the Godfrey-Cannale team in doubles during the entire season. To insure the Pats sweep, Goodman and Michelle Caputo defeated a second doubles team Porter and Priff 10-1 in a pro-set match.

The Pats next match will be tomorrow against Leman at 3:30 PM. It will be played at home.

SB RIDERS GALLOP OVER ST. JOHN'S

By Jim Passano

The Stony Brook Riding team competed in their second match of the season when they traveled into Jericho for a meet hosted by St. John's University. Stony Brook narrowly edged out a first place victory over C.W. Post College, who also competed.

After placing third in their own competition on Oct. 14, the Pats came bounding back to win the Sunday competition at Old Mill Farm. Besides Stony Brook, St. John's, and Post, there were several other schools represented, including hofstra University, Adelphi University and Suffolk Community College. Dowling College was also involved in the competition, as was Molloy College.

Stony Brook's victory came when team member Raymond wright placed second in the first advance walk competiton as a member of the point riding squad. A team usually has eight members who score the team points, while the rest of the team is competing to attain their own personal bests. The other notable Stony Brook score was a first place finish for Carla Whakman in the challenge cup competition.

STONY BROOK FOOTBALL GARNERS 2ND VICTORY

By Jimmy Gilligan

The Stony Brook Football Patriots picked up their second victory of the season Saturday afternoon by shutting our the Stonehill Chieftains 35-0 The Patriots exhibited absolute dominance over the Chieftains, who are not a Division III team.

Although Stony Brook cannot use Saturday's game in their NCAA records, the game served a more valuable purpoe by boosting the Patriots morale for their upcoming game with Ramapo College.

Jorge Taylor nearly pulled off a one-man show for the Patriots in the first half. Taylor scored Stony Brook's first touchdown on a 21 yard run six and a half minutes into the first quarter. The attempt for the extra point failed because of a poor snap, so the Patriots had an early 6-0 lead. The remainder of the first quarter saw the two teams switching possession of the ball as if neither one of them cold do a thing with it.

After Paul Emmanuel's interception for the Patriots, Stony Brook then had to punt the ball back to the Chieftains. When the Chieftains returned the favor by punting back to the Patriots, Stony Brook really started to exert the total control that they continued to show throughout the game.

During a seven minute possession that brought the game into the second quarter, the Patriots executed a fourteen play scoring drive that brought them across the goal line all the way from the Stonehill 35-yard line. Jorge Taylor scored his second touchdown of the day on a one yard run that took the Patriots three plays to finally get right. It didn't matter much how long the Patriots took because no matter how long the Chieftains took they couldn't get anything right.

After another failed extra point, Stonehill had the ball and moved it down to the Stony Brook 35 yard line. However, the excellent Patriot defense, which made not one mistake in the entire contest, allowed them to get no further and the Chieftains were once again forced to turn the ball back to the Patriots.

This time the Patriots used an aerial attack against Stonehill. And it was just as effective as their rushing game. Only a minute and a half after regainng possession, Patriots' quarterback Ray McKenna unloaded a 55 vard touchdown pass to John Ragimierski, the star of last week's Homecoming game victory over Maritime. The Patriots atoned for their two fumbled point-after attempts by pulling off a beautifully executed fake. With back-up guarterback Paul Ryan holding for kicker Dave Weintraub, Stony Brook managed to score a two point conversion on a Ryan pass to Chris Brown. The score was now an impressive 20-0 in favor of the Patriots

Stony Brook quickly regained possession via an interception by defensive back Joe Emr. The Patriots got the ball at about midfield and once again worked their way deep into the Chieftains' territory. With only eleven seconds left to play in the half, on fourth down and 26, McKenna unleashed a 27 yard touchdown pass to Scott Vighi, making it 26-0 at the half-way point.

Much in the same way that Jorge Taylor, who compiled over 140 yards rushing in the game, took the stage for the first half, Chris Brown stole the show during the third and fourth quarters. Starting with a 44 yard touchdown run which brought the score to 33-0, Brown was well on his way to achieving the 102 yards rushing that he collected in the second half.

After Tom Haltigan tackled Stonehill quarterback Bob Sobolewski in his own end zone, scoring a safety for the Patriots and bring the score to a domineering 35-0, the rest of the game was left in the hands of back-up quarterbacks Ryan and Kevin Giuffrida.

After the game, head coach Sam Kornhauser had this to say about the game: "We're sta ing to play better on offense and on defen Coming home was a real big plus." Abo Ramapo, the Patriots' opponent in ne week's game, Kornhauser commente "They're an excellent football team a they're a lot bigger than us."

Smiling broadly, Kornhauser was the hap est he has been all season. The head coa added, "... thinking about 1985, I've don little recruiting. Also, I have no idea who t quarterback will be next year. Ray McKen has done a nice job and so has the who offensive team. The kids feel good abo themselves now."

Hopefully, the good feeling, along with th continuing outstanding play, will be enou for the Patriots to defeat Ramapo next S urday afternoon in New Jersey.

he Stony Brook men's and women's crosspuntry teams competed in the Public Athtic Championships this past Saturday. Both ams came out first in the competition, hich was held on the team's home course at unken Meadow State Park.

long with Stony Brook, teams such as rooklyn College, Staten Island, SUNY Old estbury and Hunter College competed ver the tough Sunken Meadow course hich includes three difficult hills-Snake, ernia and Cardiac. Queens College, York ollege, SUNY Maritime, United States Meriant Marine Academy, Trenton State and JNY Farmingdale were also represented. The women's race was held first and Patriot Maureen Keyes finishing ahead of Trenton State's Michele Nichol by a fair margin. Gian Williams of Hunter picked up the third position about one second behind Nichol. One second after that Trenton State had another runner cross the line to garner fourth place.

Stony Brook picked up the next four positions as Patriot harriers finished within 40 seconds of each other. Mary Dolan finished for fifth place honors; she was followed by Donna Lyons, Susan Corrado, and Laura Whitney in respective sixth, seventh and eighth places.

The next Pat finisher was Megan Brown, who crossed the finish line at 21:02.7 for a 10th place ranking. Hill and daler Chris Tierney came in at 21:36.0 to claim 12th place. Almost one minute later Laura Lekich finished in the 15th position. Kerry Kehoe, Clare Lipponer and Chris Byrne finished 20th, 22nd and 23rd respectively.

When the scoring was complete the Pats were clearly the winners with 27 points. Trenton State was next with 46; the third place honors went to Hunter College, who accumulated 62 points. The only other squad that qualified for team scoring in the women's

WOMEN SWIMMERS TO START SEASON TODAY

By Karen A. Trank

ony Brook's women's swim team officially gins it's season today with a meet against teens College at 4:30 at home. Head coa-Dave Alexander is anticipating another ccessful year, and is expecting to start it right by defeating Queens College.

e team had a great season last year, finishwith a record of ten wins and only one s, to Fordham University. Stony Brook aced second at the Metropolitan Swimng Championships. This year Alexander pes the team will win at least eight of their meets, and to take first place in the Collete Swimming Championships. Montclaire llege, the winner of Metropolitans last ar, is expected to be Stony Brook's toughcompetition. The NCAA National Chamnships will be held in Atlanta, Georgia this ar. Brenda Carroll, a junior on the team alified for the 1984 nationals. Alexander ieves that there are "at least ten swimrs who are capapable of qualifying for the 85 Nationals," on this years squad. These dictions are not unfeasable based on the ults of the Relay Carnival held at St. nn's University on Nov. 3. Stony Brook s racing against Division I and Division II mmers at the Relay Carnival, but the team was still able to place in four swimming events and two diving events.

The leaders of the team this year are captains Gail Hackett and Linda McGovern Hackett will be swimming her best strokes, butterfly and freestyle, while McGovern will concentrate on her specialty, the intermediate swim (I.M.). Colleen Houston, Nancy Perry and Patricia Lloyd are the other seniors returning to the squad for their last season. There are nine very promising and talented freshman members of the team this year. Among them are All-American swimmer Debbie Dobbs, backstroker Patricia Trainor, freestyler Helen Willebordse, and two exceptional divers; Betsy Winslow and Beth Carillo. Alexander has been head coach of the women's swim team for five years. He has been with the team since it began, and has made it into the tough competitor. John Barroncini is the diving coach for the women's team. He is considered by Alexander to be the "best diving coach on the east coast." Last year, Stony Brook's women divers captured first, second and third place at the Metropolitan Championships.

Alexander said he is very pleased with the progress that the team has made over the last five years. Their overall record is fortythree wins and only ten losses. He is especially happy with this year's squad, and said that they have been working harder than ever before, and there are no weak spots in any event. He plans on leading Stony Brook to their 50th victory this season, capturing a 44th victory tonight.

HOOPTERS DOWNED BY NYU, 79-59

By Jim Passano

Manhattan — Two things are clear about Stony Brook's women's basketball team it has a lot of talent and that talent needs time to get familiar with Division III basketball.

This was evident Monday night as the Patriots continued their 1984-85 season with a twenty-point, 79-59 loss to the New York Unviersity (NYU) Violets, dropping their season record to 1-2.

NYU is a tough Division III school on a threeyear program to Division I status. They have strength, depth and strong shooters — both starters and bench players. One such person is Violet co-captain Chris Robinson, a sophomore, who led her squad with 12 halftime points and converted three three-point plays during the contest. In addition, they have the services of Kim Gallagher, a freshman out of Holy Trinity High School in Hicksville, who was sought by many coaches, including Stony Brook head coach Declan McMullen. He said, "They have three girls that I was trying to recruit, including Gallagher."

Stony Brook for its own part has a lot of quality experience, but many have to have more time playing ball before they can contend with some of the stronger teams. With the exception of the White sisters, Michele and Lisa, and senior Linda Sullivan, the Pats have all first year players.

Last year the Pats trounced NYU 77-62 with a strong shooting game and a balanced guard attack by the White sisters; this year a new and improved Violet team challenged the guards and shut down a large percentage of the Pats scoring. After the win, NYU coach Sherri Pickard had only one thing to say to McMullen: "We've shut down your guards."

At the onset of the contest, Stony brook won the jump, but failed to score, NYU then moved the ball upcourt. Violet Donna Samuels put up a long outside shot and Lisa White took the rebound. Samuels came back on a steal and put the Violets on the scoreboard, 2-0. Robinson added to her team's score with a 10-foot jumper to make it 4-0. Stony Brook finally answered with a score from Patriot Mia Genovesi.

Samuels scored again before Michele White added to Stony Brook' score, making it 6-4, NYU. The Vioets moved the ball downcourt and after Robinson put up the ball, Genovesi took the rebound. Sullivan tried to score, but wasn't hitting the boards. Sophomore Nancy Pajer picked up the rebound, but Genovesi picked the ball from her. Co-captain Janet Quinn fouled Lisa White.

The Pats could not pick up a score on that possession, but got the ball back when NYU forward Cindy Morrel was cited for traveling. Michele White moved the ball to the point, but missed her shot. Robinson again picked up the rebound. Patriot Pat Williams fouled and Robinson went to the line to shoot two. She sunk both and made the score 8-4, NYU. Quinn took over for NYU after the Pats failed to score. NYU did score, however, increasing their lead to six.

The Violets also called upon the services of their 6'3" center, Wanda Davis. Davis came in and scored several points, basically going over the heads of the smaller Patriot defenders. Lisa White scored for Stony Brook to lessen the gap: 10-6 NYU. What came afterwards was a surge of unanswered points by the NYU team.

The Violets were ahead 20-6 when Pat Williams put up her first score. David matched that for NYU, and Genovesi fouled Gallagher. Gallagher sunk one of two to give NYU a resounding 23-8 lead. Michele White and Williams scored for the Pats, while Maureen Buckley and Quinn added points for the Violets.

With the score 29-14 in favor of NYU, Stony Brook forward Pat Montgomery scored, and was fouled on the play by Samuels. She completed the three-point play to make the score 29-17. Montgomery then fouled Robinsor who sank one from the line out of two.

Again the Violets racked up several unar swered points and at halftime the score wa 44-22 NYU. At halftime, the Pat scorin leaders were Michele White and Sullivar who each had six. Robinson was the Viole halftime scoring leader with 12.

The second half was a lot of the same ba game as the first. NYU came out and score unanswered points. The Violets effected ser eral presses on the guards, which shut dow a large part of their game. Robinson conver ed on two three-point plays, which only add ed to the scores the Pats would try to cato up on. She also scored on a fast break an NYU was up by a 67-42 margin.

When the buzzer went off, Stony Brook wa down 20, the final score, 79-59. After th loss. McMullen commented on why the game didn't work as well as some had hope The first thing that he mentioned was th strength of their defense. "Their man-to-ma on our guards was tough, and thier press ge them a few points," he said. According McMullen their shooting game was a facto "Samuels and Robinson hit everything from 20 feet. If they make those open outsid shots, there's not much you can do," McMu len commented. All in all McMullen sai "Tonight's game was a total breakdow They were itimidated by a 6'3" player (D vis) and they didn't fight."

With a team as new and inexperienced as the Patriots, it will take some time before the can compete against the likes of NYU. Whe they did show is their talent, and a lot of that just needs to make the transition fro high school to college basketball. Again, the key word is Time.

The Patriots next challenge will be this F day when they play at home again Hartwick College at 6PM.

SB REDMEN DEVOURED BY LIONS

By Jim Passano

Vest Islip - The Stony Brook men's basketall team dropped their 1984-85 season reord to 1-2 when they lost to Division II anked pwoerhouse, Dowling College. The ats came out on the short end of a 64-56 core in the contest against the Lions held at t. John the Baptist High School.

owling jumped out to an early lead after inning the jump ball. The Lions scored two nanswered baskets. Patriot Kenny Haas as attempting to send the upcourt when it as stolen from him to set up another Dowlg score. Dexter Cummings fouled the scorr, Jesse Fong, in the play, so Dowling went to the line. Fong converted the three-point lay and Dowling led 7-0.

he Lions scored another field goal before aas sunk one to make the score 9-2, Dowlg. Fong hit another field goal for the Lions, ut the Ari Hentunon foulded Patriot Scott Valker. Walker then went to the line to noot two foul shots, converting on both of tem to make the score 10-4.

the next exchange, Cummings fouled mille Blackman. Like Walker, Blackman also converted on both free throws. Hentunon committed his second personal foul, and Dave Burda was given his first foul shooting opportunity. He completed one of two to make the score 13-7, Lions.

During a rapid succession of shots and scoring, with a few fouls in between, the game progressed to the point that Dowling had a 26-19 lead at the half. Duribng the second period of play Stony Brook threatened several times, but Dowling managed to hold onto the lead. Finally, a basket by Burda put the score tied at 27. Dowling remained tough and scored on a field goal. Again, Stony Brook came bounding back. Walker hit the boards for two and tied it up again.

The scoring remained even up until 33-33. Then Lion Erami Rivera hit the boards for two more. To increase Dowling's lead, Rivera scored twice more to increase the Lions lead to six. Cummings scored again for the Pats to cut the lead, 39-35.

Dowling pulled away after that with the game. The Lions scored, but a strong press and off shooting left the Pats behind. Dowling's lead increased to 10 points, but Stony Brook continued the attack. When the game closed, the Pats had lost by an eight-point 64-56 margin.

After the loss, Assistant Coach Jerry Weisman commented about the Pats chances for improvement in play. "our half court game is going to get better, and our first ten games are going to be tough. If we come out 7-3, or 6-4, we'll be alright," he said. Weisman also noted that they Pats were still without the services of two of their starters, who are still serving an NCAA violation penalty. He said, "Frankie (Prantil) and Tabare (Bordon) were out. We're going to get better."

The Pats had a chance to improve on their record last night when they traveled to Kings Point to challenge the United States Merchant Marine Academy.

MARINERS DOWN SP PATRIOTS 79-72

By Jeff Eisenhart

Joe Castiglie has something on his mind. The men's varsity basketball coach is wondering what happened to his team after Tuesday night's game against the United States Merchant Marine Academy. The Patriots outshot their hosts 88-66, and they outrebounded them 61-44. Yet, they were still beaten, 79-72.

"The stats speak for themselves," said Castiglie. The Pats shot a miserable 31-for-88 from the floor for a percentage of .352. On the foul line Stony Brook wasn't much better. There they shot only 59%, as they made only 10 of 17 free throws. According to player Ken Hass, the poor shooting performance was due to the fact that "we didn't hit our shots inside."

It was the play of the Mariner's talented guard Kevin Byrnes that gave Stony Brook problems. Byrnes scored 15 of his game high 26 points in the first half to help give his team a 36-31 lead at the intermission.

Stony Brook had a tough night as they found themselves trailing throughout the contest. After Scott Walker hit an 18 foot jumper with 10:33 remaining in the first half, the Patriots led 17-16. This was the last lead Stony Brook would see for the rest of the evening. With 17:00 left in the contest and the Patriots trailing 38-34, Byrnes and teammates Bob McNamee and Larry Jordan led the Marine Academy on a 18-4 scoring spurt to put the game out of reach, and give the Mariners a 56-38 lead. During that stretch McNamee netted six points, while Byrnes and Jordan added four points.

The Patriots tried one last surge and cut the 16 point deficit to seven points. But the clock ran out on them as they absorbed their third straight loss, 79-72.

The Pat's loss marred a fine effort from Dave Burda. The Stony Brook big man at 6 feet 9 inches scored a team high 25 points including 20 in the second half, while also pulling down 16 rebounds.

Castiglie attributed the loss to some "fundamental breakdowns." We need to work on basics. We have a period of adjustment to get to and that's the bottom line," he said. This loss drops Stony Brook to 1-3. The United States Merchant Marine Academy is now 2-1.

The Patriots will play their regular season opener next Wednesday night at 8:15 against SUNY Purchase in the Stony Brook Gymnasium. The next game will be Saturday night when the Pats will travel to SUNY Albany to meet the Great Danes. Wednesday, Dec 5, 1984

SQUASH BEGINS

By Joel Schoenblum Stony Brook's 1984-85 squash team got o to a very impressive start in its annual Co ecticut trip this past weekend, winning for out of five matches played.

On Friday the team took to the cour against host school Wesleyan College ar Massachussets Institute of Technolog (MIT). Wesleyan, usually good competitic for the Stony Brook squad, was crushed by determined Patriot team by a score of 9-MIT wasn't much better competition for th Patriots, who won decisively, 7-2.

With a record of 2-0, Stony Brook returne to the courts Saturday morning to face a other New York team that isn't usually of their schedule: Stevens Technical College. what seemed to be a repeat performance Friday's blowout of Wesleyan, the Patrio downed Stevens Tech. 9-0, allowing Steven only two games of 29 played. The team hur around long enough to gain yet another co vincing victory, this time over LeHigh Co lege by a score of 8-1.

It was a stronger, more experienced tea that helped Stony Brook so thoroughly pie apart the competition, but even the first-ye players fared well. "Tony (Royek) hit the bi so hard he chipped paint off the wall" sa team member Michael Schumacher. "Coa

By Karen A, Trank

The women's swim team is back on the right track again after defeating Manhattanville College on Wednesday night at home by a score of 76-54. Their record now stands at three wins and one loss. The loss came on November 20th to St. John's University.

The Patriots gave a very impressive show against Manhattanville. Freshman Patti Trainor set a new school record and qualified for the nationals in the 200 yard backstroke with a time of 2:10 minutes. Gloria Mooney also set a new team record for the 200 yard breast stroke. Her time was 2:42 minutes. Diver Ute Rahn will be joining Patti Trainor in Atlanta, Georgia for the nationals in the spring. Ute attained 401.30 points in the diving competition which qualifies her for the NCAA national meet.

The meet began with Stony Brook winning the 200 yard medly relay, and the 100 yard freestyle. Gloria Mooney placed first in the 200 yard freestyle and the 200 yard breast stroke, while Pat Guillen won the 100 yard freestyle and the 100 yard breast stroke.

Captain Gail Hackett took the first place in the 200 yard fly, and Debbie Dobbs won the 100 yard fly. The 500 yard freestyle wa won by Brenda Carroll and the 200 yar backstroke by Patti Trainor. Carroll, Bra ley, McGovern and Mooney finished off th meet by winning the 400 yard freestyle r lay. In the diving competition Patti Lloy placed second and Ute Rahn took first plac

So far this year the women's swim team doing exceptionally well. It is still early in th season and the team is already sending mon members to the nationals than they did la year. The Patriots will be swimming again Kean College at their next meet on Satu day, December 1st at 2:00 at home.

PATRIOTS PUMMEL PANTHERS, 97-47

By Jeff Eisenhart

The Stony Brook men's varsity basketball team ended their four game losing streak on Wednesday night with a whopping 97-47 win over the hapless Purchase Panthers, in the Stony Brook Gymnasium.

It was a game that saw everyone get into the act, including the scorekeeper James Nobles, the Stony Brook official scorer was ejected before the game even started. Purchase head coach Art Epstein protested to the referees saying, "This man is a thief. I refuse to play with him sitting here [the official scorer's desk]. If he stays there my guys are going to leave the court, get dressed, and go home." Epstein was referring to last year's contest when Nobles allegedly miscored the fouls on Purchase's star player, David Gaines, disqualifying him from the game. Although this incident was not confirmed by either involved parties, Nobles was replaced.

Purchase arrived late and the game was delayed for 30 minutes. When they finally arrived, they had only six players.

The game itself was no contest. Stony Brook jumped out to an early 9-2 lead. The game really got broken open midway through the first half, when Purchase led 14-12 at the 12 minute mark of the half, Tab Borbon, and Frank Prantil combined for 14 points in a 19-2 scoring spurt that gave Stony Brook a commanding 31-16 advantage, and still there were eight minutes left to play in the half. By halftime, the Patriots led 45-26.

At the beginning of the second half, the Patriots picked up where they left off. In the first eight minutes of the second half Stony Brook outscored Purchase 20-4, to take a 65-30 lead. By then the bench had cleared and the reserves went to work on the Panthers. Kurt Abrams and Brian Reed came off the bench to score 13 points apiece, as many of them came on Purchase turnovers. "The difference was the trap and we made it pay off," Abrams said later.

In the end the Stony Brook fans took over. During the remaining minute, after the Patriots scored their 90th point, the fans began a chant of "We want a hundred."

The leading scorer for Stony Brook was Borbon with 18 points. Prantil added 13. Purchase foward Maurice Roman led all scorers with 21 points.

Perhaps the happiest Patriot was Elijay Scott. Scott a transfer from Purchase was playing against his old teammates. "It was an exciting experience. I had a great time," he said. "Maybe this will give us a chance to get a streak started."

"We showed some of our potential of how we can play. Hopefully it can continue," said Scott Walker, who came off the bench and added eight points.

"This could be the turning point of the season," Bryan McLoughlin proclaimed.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL LOSES TO MANHATTANVILLE, 57-54

PATRIOTS DROP CLOSE BATTLE; RECORD IS NOW 12.5

By Jim Passano

Manhattanville — They came so close, but yet it was so far. last night the Stony Brook women's basketball team lost a close battle to the Manhattanville College Valiants, 57-54. Trailing by three at the half, Stony Brook managed to stay even with the Valiants in the second half despite serious foul trouble.

Manhattanville's Karen Vercelli paced the Valiants with fifteen points in an effort that raised their team's record to 11-2 and dropped the Patriots to 12-5. In the contest, the Valiants used a strong man-to-man defense that has been effective against several other teams this season. In the first half, the Valiants limited the high-scoring Stony Brook guards Michele and Lisa White to 10 points. Lisa White had converted on three field goals, while her sister two from the floor and two-for-two from the line.

The referees in the contest appeared to be blind to a large number of fouls in both halves of the contest. Said Patriot team trainer Kathy Koshansky after the game, "The refs sucked...too bad they didn't 'see' what could have been a spectacular game."

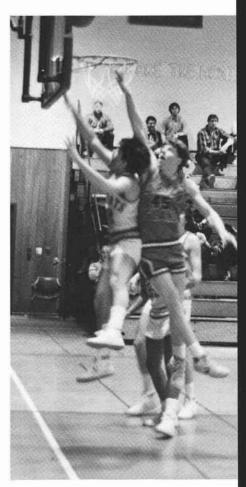

One official stated that he was aware that he and his partner had missed several violations. "I should have worn my contact lenses." said Neil Stephen, the game referee.

The statistics of the contest also showed an even game. Stony Brook hit 23-for-64 from the field and 8-for-13 from the line, while the Valiants hit 22 of 65 attempted field goals and sank 13 of 23 attempted free throws. Manhattanville was recorded to have taken 39 rebounds to the Patriots 38, and Stony Brook was charged with 22 personal fouls to Manhattanville's 17.

The Valiants were unlike any of the other teams that Stony Brook has faced this season. They are very aggressive and play a man-to-man defense. Some of the Pats upcoming challenges will include some squads that are equally if not more aggressive than Manhattanville. Stony Brook in the next few weeks will be facing the University of Rochester, Nazareth College, King's Community, a Division II school, and New York University, who is presently on a three-year program transition to Division I. All of these will be tough challenges, according to Head Coach Declan McMullen. "There is no sure win on the rest of our schedule. We will playing all tough schools," he said.

Some of the other statistics from the contest are indeed heartening. Freshman Sue Hance had nine rebounds for her efforts in last night's contest. Donna Lundy matched that number, and Pat Williams added another six. With a litle bit more boxing out and continued consistency from the foul line, Stony Brook should have a good chance at going the full distance this season, including regional qualification.

The Patriots' first stepping stone will be coming on Friday when they travel upstate to take on the University of Rochester during their second road trip in two weeks. Also on the weekend agenda will be a challenge at Nazareth College.

ICE HOCKEY TEAM SKATES TO 10-6 WIN OVER CW POST

By Jackie Fiore

If you were not one of the countless number of fans who crowded into the Freeport Recreation Center on Jan. 24 to see Patriot ice hockey, then you missed one exciting hockey game.

There was a hat-trick, a new all-time point record set, penalties, and even brawls. This game had it all. The Stone Brook Men's ice hockey club exploded onto the ice last Thursday night, trauncing a tough C.W. Post, 10-6, for its fourth straight win.

In the first period, senior defenseman Kevin Cavallo kicked things off for Stony Brook scoring an unassisted goal on a power play. But before the end of the period, Post had also scored twice, tying the game at two. It was Bonfiglio, assisted by sophome Andy Kinnier, who scored the first of fo Stony Brook team goals in the second pe od. Repeating his scoring performance in t first period, co-captain Kevin Cavallo put a other one in the net, assisted by Chris Par tier and co-captain Marty Schmitt. Schmit assist broke the all-time point record pre ously held by Chris Callagy in 1983. dnesday, February 6, 1985

STONY BROOK ROLLS OVER COMPETITION

By Jeff Eisenhart

's a great win for us, but we work so hard practice we should be ready to play anyly,' said Stony Brook men's varsity basball Coach Joe Castiglie, after his Patriots eated tha Panthers of Westbury College, 58, last night.

Westbury College was not just "anyly." The Panthers came into last night's ion with a 14-3 record in the state among ision III colleges, but for the second time season the Patriots beat their highly hered opponents. It was also the fourth time he past five meeting that the Patriots uped in the Panthers.

a night belonged to the biggest Patriot of m all, Dave Burda. The 6'9" junior pivot on a show for the home crowd. Burda ly led all scorers with a career game 32 hts, as he connected on 13 for 16 from field and hit six for eight from the foul . The Pat's big man drove the crown into enzy twice in the second half on an alley stuff, and a two-handed reverse dunk.

Patriots took command midway through first half with Stony Brook trailing 12-9. y Scott started a 8-0 spurt, when he sunk rner jump shot with 12:45 remaining in half. When the spurt was over, Stony ok would have a 17-12 lead and an adtage they would never relinquish. At halft, the Patriots would go up 36-32.

Patriots and the Panthers exchanged tets for the first 10 minutes of the second Then Stony Brook exploded. Led by Abrams' six points, the Patriots went on -2 tear that broke the game wide open. da capped off the surge and rocked the nasium when he drove down the middle slammed home a two-handed reverse with 6:23 remaining in the contest. By Old Westbury was finished for the night. final score ending in Stony Brook's fa-77-58.

la had a great game but he received a lot upport from backcourtmen. Kurt ams, who led that game-breaking secondhalf surge, scoring 16 points, said, "I just tried to make something happen. Instead of talking, I just went out and did it."

Burda, who was the talk of the night and has been on a tear lately, praised teammates and friends after the game. "We practiced very hard, but if it weren't for Dan Lowell and Brian McLoughlin, my inside game wouldn't have developed. Kurt Abrams and I seem to gel. We gave a good effort against Old Westbury." He added, "I would like to thank my friends for being there."

The Patriots half-time court shooting contest for Eddie Murphy tickets had no winners. The contest continues at the half-time of the Patriots next home game Saturday night against Manhattanville. Game time is 7:30PM.

The junior varsity men's team clinched it's second victory last night against Lehman College (6-10) by a score of 81-74.

Despite Lehman's slight height advantage, the Patriots were agressive and explosive on the court. Lehman trailed about the whole game and the closest they came was within seven points at the 4:24 in the second period. Stony Brook was wearing down but retained enough energy and smarts to run out the clock.

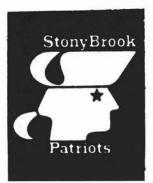

Coach Mike Atkinson felt two keys to the game were the number of foul shots and free throws; Stony Brook 32 free throws while Lehman had only 12. This is a great improvement from the last game where the Pats had only five free throws, and 39 for Kingsborough Lions. "We shot 50% and we had 20 more free throws. When we can shoot more than 50% and have more free throws, 80 to 90% of the time, we'll win the game. It was a very satisfying win for the team." the coach added. Offensively for the Patriots, Quincy Troupe lead the scoring with an impressive 19 points with help from teammates Todd Parish, Andy Gottlieb and Heslin who scored 15, 14, and 12 points respectively. "Troupe played one of the best games all year." added Atkinson. Teammate Horace Moore felt it was also a good game for him.

Defensively, Gottlieb had a remarkable 16 rebounds. The team overall had 11 steals. Having 17 turnovers didn't have the same effect as the last game. Todd Parrish thought, "defensively, we played well. We made a lot of mental mistakes like passing the ball at the wrong time and missed layups."

The Pat's will go against a tough Suffolk team on Friday night in an away match. These two teams have met before in which Stony Brook had trouble with a big height difference. The Pats will then play at home against Suffolk West on Saturday.

PATRIOT RACQUETEERS WIN ONE, DROP ONE

By Joel Schoenblum

The Stony Brook's men's squash team improved their record 8-5 this past weekend when they clashed with teams from Cornell, Amherst and host Wesleyan University. The squashers were 2-1 in the round-robin event, defeating Cornell and Wesleyan and losing to Amherst University, who is presently ranked 12th in the nation.

The Patriots took to the cold Wesleyan courts for the second time this season last Friday night, when they suited up to challenge Cornell University. Although Cornell easily defeated the Patriots last year, the Ivy League team suffered a rude awakening as they were squashed by Stony Brook's "men in red" by a score of 8-1. The real test came for the team on Saturday when they met Amherst University, the country's 12th ranked collegiate squash team. The winner of the Amherst-Stony Brook confrontation would claim to the Wesleyan Cup, traditionally given to the team with the weekend's best record. As Wesleyan and Cornell looked on, Stony Brook and Amherst's nine best players took center stage, one on one, to do battle for the prized Cup. Amherst edged the Patriots with a 6-3 victory, winning several close matches. One closer than close match Amherst didn't win was taken by Stony Brook's 1983-84 most improved squash player, Bob Parker. Parker outlasted his Amherst counterpart in a five game marathon that went to the very end, leaving both players exhausted. "Everybody's looking forward to playing Amherst again . . . " said Parker, "not me" he added.

Later on Saturday, the Patriot squashers played Wesleyan for the second time this season. Wesleyan was clearly outclassed by the Patriots and fell for a second time, 8-1. Leading the way for the Patriot squashers was freshman Rob (Knob) Bruno. Bruno's record in the number one position is now an impressive 10-3. An extraordinary effort was also given by junior Jon Sack, who was 3-0 for the weekend. "I played beyond myself," Sack said. Going into the final weeks of the seas some Patriot Squashers see Stony Brook 1984-85's most improved squash te "Who else should get it?" said senior Yi Joannides. Joannides, a student from prus, is the team's second-seeded playe

The squash team will play its only he match of the season today at 5PM. The I will be meeting Fordam University for second time this season. Stony Brook def ed Fordham in their first meeting earlier season.

L'ONG HORNS DOWN PATRIOT JV

SUFFOLK WEST STEERS WAY TO 96-69 VICTORY

By Lisa Miceli

Well, you can't win them all. Although the Suffolk West Longhorns had a height advantage in Saturday night's home contest, the Stony Brook junior varsity basketball team's inability to execute the fundamentals left them on the short end of a 96-69 score.

Coming off a win against Lehman College, the Pats couldn't seem to pull themselves together. Stony Brook started the half by winning the tip but losing possession. In the first four minutes, both teams kept swapping possessions which kept the score close. The closest the Patriots came was within 1 point at 13:68 of the first half. Stony Brook didn't score until about 6 minutes later. Gottlieb scored with 9:50 left in the half. On the next possession, Todd Parrish sunk an 18-footer to make the score 29-13. By the end of the half, the Pats trailed 50-26. In the second half Stony Brook picked up a little speed, but Suffolk West stripped them of the ball at every turn which led to a lot of Patriot fouls. It was the same thing happening over and over. The Pats would get the ball, turn it over to Suffolk West and then the Long horns would score.

Despite an inconsistent offense, Danny Heslin racked up 27 points while fellow teammates Todd Parrish and Horace Moore scored 14 and 12 points respectively. The team as a whole shot 55% from the line.

Head Coach Atkinson said the team "did a poor job of executing the fundamentals. We didn't box out on the defensive boards. There was problem with turnovers and the team just didn't shoot well from the field." In most of their losses, the Patriots have let the opponent get a 10-15 point runs. The coach also added "we get ourselves out of game."

Next Saturday, the Pats will try for a against C.C.N.Y. in an away game at 2 and then come home to compete ag New Paltz on Saturday, February 2: 5:30PM.

HOOPSTERS MAKE IT THREE STRAIGHT

PATRIOTS PUT AWAY MANHATTANVILLE VALIANTS 68-50

By Sharon Marcus

The Stony Brook Men's Varsity Hoopsters unk in another victory Saturday night enoute to a three-game winning streak with a inal score of 68-50 over Manhattanville Colege. This brings their season's win-loss record up to a strong 13-9.

stony Brook coach Joe Castiglie said Mannatranville, alias "The Valiants," played a comparatively more structured, solid have igainst the Pats, which kept both teams mip ind tuck during the first half. However, given that three Manhattanville players fouled but of the game, Castiglie added that there was a strong indication that their opponent's name was generally "underhanded"

Stony Brook's high scorers were 6'9" center Dave Burda, the team's tallest player, who pasketted a grand total of 23 points, and ophomore Frank Prantil, who sank 17 shots or the Pats. Sophomore Kurt Abrams and unior Eljay Scott followed up with impresive scores of 9 and 7 points, respectively.

'In the first half we were trying to steal evrything," explained sophomore Scott Walker, who alone managed to strip Manhattanville of the ball four time. Yet stony Brook slipped behind aggressive maniattanville at the end of the first half. Just as he Pat's center "Big Burda" missed and atempted field goal, the buzzer went off, leavng the Pats down 30-28.

n order to entertain the screaming masses luring half-time, the Stony Brook basketball pansors have cleverly created "Half-count shoot Out". For a mere dollar a shot, all over-zealous and aspiring hoopsters from the tands can attempt a basket from the halline, to win, if not instantaneous fame and nomentary are from the rest of the fans, podies such as free Stony Brook concert ickets. Saturday night's game had two lucky vinners: Greg Bellantone from Kelly D (a ormer high school player), and Jim Lowell, stony Brook center Dan Lowell's father. Congrats to them both. The Patriots began the second half with an entirely new strategy. As Walker described, "We beared down and dictated the tempo."

Senior forward Tabare Borbon also noticed a new force in the Patriot strength, commenting, "We challenged their jump shots in the second half, but they just didn't make them. They were trying to slow down the tempo." Stony Brook rose to the occassion, quickly edging past the opposing Valiants 36-34 in the beginning of the first half. Coach Costiglie said that the "more intelligent playing" of the Pats during the second half put them "more in control once they had the lead."

With ten minutes left to go in the final half, the Patriots were either tired or scared, because they needed to kill some time. Junior guard Eljay Scott yelled "Georgetown, Georgetown!" to the rest of the team, and the players ran around as if in another drill, passing the ball back and forth across the court while stalling.

Stony Brook had the last few minutes in full control. Burda posed the ball for a tapped-in winner by Prantil, and then, as if that wasn't enough, Prantil quickly scooped up the ball shot, and scored again within seconds.

Then with only one minute left on the clock, Scott Walker hit two free throws, and five more successive points, so easily it was as if he were on empty court. Finally, Brian McLoughlin spurred off a winner in the remaining seconds of the game.

Stony Brook basketball fans showed overwhelming participatory levels at Saturday night's game, blowing trumpets, stomping in time with the cheerleaders, and harassing Manhattanville with catcalls (in suprisingly good unison) as often as possible. Friday, February 15, 1985

WOMEN'S TEAM INJURY PLAGUED

By Jeff Eisenhart

To have a successful basketball team one ususally has to have a lot of talent and a lot of healthy players. After coaching the Stony Brook women's basketball team to post season play for the second year in a row, Coach Declan McMullen knows he has talent, but he's got to wonder where all the healthy players are.

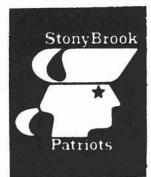

The playoff bound Patriots, who are practically assured a post-season berth in the New York State Championship Tournament, ended their regular season on a short unlucky note. Before a home crowd, with starter Lisa White injured with a cracked rib, the Patriots suffered defeat at the hands of New York University Violets, 53 - 46. Another starter, Donna Lundy, also fell to injury. Lundy received a big gash above the eye and had to sit out the rest of the game. She is the lastest casualty in an injury plagued season for the Pats.

The Patriots held control early, as they had a 18 - 14 halftime lead. Stony Brook seemed on the verge of breaking away with 15 minutes to play. Led by Christine Robinson and Wanda Davis, who combined for 10 points in a 12 - 0 spurt, N.Y.U. jumped out to a 30 - 24 advantage. After that, Stony Brook had to play catch up basketball. The Pats closed to within two, 33 - 31 following a Sue Hance basket with 9:28 remaining in the game. After that the Patriots were finished, N.Y.U. won 53 - 46.

Michele White led all scores with a game high 19 points, Patriot Linda Sullivan hauled in 8 rebounds and teammate Williams pulled down 7 boards.

It was Wanda Davis who did the most damage. The 6'3'' native of Los Angeles, scored 15 points and grabbed 15 rebounds. Christine Robinson scored a team high 16 points.

N.Y.U. is now 15-6. The Patriots end their regular season with a 15-8 record. They are now awaiting for a post season bid.

Patriot Basketball Coach Joe Castiglie's wildest dreams have come true. Despite saying that his only goal was "to win 15 games," Castiglie now has a team a a chance at an Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference playoff title.

Coming off a 16-10 season, the Pats are seeded seventh in a field of eight teams. The first round of the competition commences Saturday when the Pats challenge the College of Staten Island Dolphins, a team they lost to by a 10-point, 91-81 margin during the regular season.

Stony Brook is coming off a 101-69 blowout victory over the New Paltz Hawks Saturday, when Pats starting center Dave Burda grabbed a career-high 25 rebounds, one less than the record set by Arthur King during the 1971-72 season. Team Captain Tabare Borbon will get at least one more chance to wear a Patriot jersey before his graduation in May.

If the Patriots win on Saturday, they will face the winner of the contest between third seed King's Point and sixth-rated John Jay, both of whom had an 18-8 record for the season.

PATRIOTS MAKE ECAC CHAMPS

Although the Patriots fell short when they played the Dolphins earlier this season, their chances for victory are good. In the first contest against Staten Island, Burda scored 25 points. If Burda and Borbon can each score that number, which is in line with their game averages, then the Pats have a much more serious chance at blowing the Dolphins off the court. Burda and Kurt Abrams each had 10 rebounds in the game. They were the high rebounders. If the Patriots continue to show their domination of the boards, as they have in recent contests, then it will be a much closer battle.

This is how two teams matched up in the last competition. Offensively, Patriot Dave Burda was team high scorer with 25 points while the Dolphin's were paced by Cy Deas' game high 36.

On the defensive side of the court, Burda and Abrams had 10 rebounds while Anthony Petososa had 10 for Staten Island. Overall, Stony Brook had 33 boards as compared to the Dolphins 34, even though the Pat's outmatched Staten Island in height.

Under the guidance of Coach Castiglie, the Patriots have made themselves a team of the future. But in the mean time, nobody shou count out the possibility that they can go a the way. Despite the 16-10 record, the Pa have had a satisfying season. Of their 2 games, four were lost by less than 10-poin margins. Included in this was a three-poin loss to Division I St. Thomas Aquinas Co lege and a six-point loss to Hartwick Colleg one of the top-ranked teams.

All in all, this sends out a message to all th teams in the tourney, look out for the Patr ots of Stony Brook.

The Stony Brooks mens track team participated in two championship meets last weekend. Stony Brook's race walkers again dominated the Patriot's efforts.

On Friday, February 22 the men traveled to New York City where they competed in the Athletics Congress National Indoor Championships. Junior race walker, Tom Edwards placed fourth in the 3000 meter walk. Coach Gary Westerfield thought that this was "an off night" because he had been seeded second.

The following night at the Collegiate Conference Indoor Championships held at Yale University, Edwards lived up to his coaches expectations. With a time of 11:33.3. Edwards broke his own school record of 11:35.2, which he put on the record books earlier this year. He was out in the forefront and passed the 1600 meter mark in 5:52, breaking his own as well as the old meet records. The Patriots race walking team earned 17 out of Stony Brook's total 26 points for the meet.

While the walkers had a good night, injury and illness plagued many of their teammates. Gerry O'Hara with only 130 meters to go tripped while running the 1500 meter. At the pace he had set he possibly could have broken a time of 3:56. Damien Hinds faced the high jump weighted down with a case of the flu. A turned knee and a jump of 6'6'' were the results of his efforts. There were some brighter moments duri the competitions at Yale. According to Co ch Westerfield, Dan Riconda, "ran a just s per 5000 meter."

Westerfield also singled out a few other in viduals performances for honorable me tion. He said that Charles Ropes in the 300 meter, Ben Golfaud in the 800 meter a freshmnan Curtis Fisher in the walk, all ga outstandingf performances.

Next week the men head upstate to Schene tady to participate in the Union Colle Invitationals.

BRUNO TAKES MET CHAMPIONSHIP

By Joel Schoenblum

Freshman Rob Bruno of the Stony Brook quash team won the 32nd annual Metropolian Squash Championships at Steven Instiute of Technology on Saturday, becoming he first freshman Stony Brook squasher to vin the event in the 18 years in which the eam has participated.

Equash teams from Fordham, Columbia, Stony Brook and Stevens University entered heir top four players in the contest, making up a 16-man draw. Representing the Stony Brook Squad was Bruno, Yiotis Joannides, Captain Gregg Foos, and Bob Parker. Bruno vas the top seed of the tourney, based on his 4-5 intercollegiate record in Stony Brook's umber one singles position.

As Bruno stepped onto the Squash Court for is first match against Stevens' Fritz Kramer, e knew that in order to win the tournament, e would have to survive four straight matchs, practically back-to-back, against players n the Metropolitan area. Bruno breezed nough his match with Kramer, winning 3-0, nd took a quick breather to prepare for his econd round match with Fordham's Tim rown.

ollowing Squash Coach Bob Snider's adice, Bruno disposed of Brown as quickly as ossible in a lopsided win of 15-6, 15-10, 15-'I told him not to fool around," said Snider. "Four matches is a long day and you might as well get off [the court] as soon as possible," Snider said.

The third round of the tourney was the semifinal. At this point in the contest, the four players who have gone the distance of the first two rounds have already played squash for over four hours. It is needless to point out why Coach Snider advised Bruno not to "fool around." Bruno's next victim in the semifinals was Fordham's best squasher, Dave Reiss.

Reiss had beaten Stony Brook's Bob Parker in the first round, which was his toughest match en route to the semi's. Bruno already had defeated Reiss twice during the regular season, and had no reason to blink an eye on this occasion, as Reiss went down in three straight games, 15-8, 15-10, 15-10. At about the same time, one Stefan Niedzwieski (also from Fordham) had just successfully completed his semifinal round. This set the stage for the 32nd Metropolitan Squash Championship final.

Even though Bruno was confident going into the final round, he was a bit fatidued after winning nine straight games in the previous three rounds. "After three matches prior to a final, anything can happen," Bruno said. "All you want to do is go relax and have a few beers." As the squash court gallery filled nearly to capacity, Bruno and Niedzwiesky battled for Metropolitan supremacy. Although the Fordham squasher displayed some dazzling squash,the top-seeded Stony Brooker was clearly in command of the match. Bruno defeated his counterpart in four games, 15-12, 14-16, 15-4, 15-9, becoming Stony Brook sixth Metropolitan Squash Champion.

Bruno took up squash when he was 13 years old. That year, he entered his first tournament and placed second. It was then that he became serious about the game and began taking lessons from the Club Pro at The Toledo Club in Ohio, about 10 miles from his suburban home in Sylvania.

It wasn't by chance that Bruno came to Stony Brook. At the end of high school, Bruno had his sights set on the Naval Academy at Annapolis, but changed his mind quickly as he realized the military was not for him, Bruno needed to find another college. "I definitely wanted to go to a school that had squash," he said, "and I heard a lot of good things about Stony Brook and Long island in general."

Bruno's immediate goal in squash is to become Stony Brook's third All-American squash player. After a 14-5 freshman season, it seems quite likely that Bruno will achieve his goal within the next three years. As Coach Snider put it, "I'd bet my house he'll make it before he graduates."

was the meet they geared for all season. n the surface it may have seemed to be a sappointment, but when you look past the nal score, they still came out winners.

en's swimming coach John DeMarie was ss than satisfied with the pool. "It was a ow pool, and not food for a championship eet," DeMarie said. He was not alone in his elings. "The whole Conference was upset th the treatment we received," he added.

nce the team got over their anger at the inditions, it was time to put emotions aside, id get down to business. In all, the memers of the team set 15 personal best times. orn Hansen finished first in the 400 meter dividual medley, and third in the 200 idiviial medley. Co-captain Tom Aird finished first in the 100 and the 400 medley relay team finished second.

STONY BROOK SWIMS WITH BEST

What was more impressive, was that both Hansen and Aird, both seniors, were the recipients of the Joe Stetz Award, given for career accomplishment in the Conference. This marks the first time the award was given to two swimmers from the same team.

What loomed even larger was how the Patriots displayed class in accepting their third place finish. "We finished ahead of two Division I schools, and considering that we lacked depth, we did real well," DeMarie said. He went on to say, "any other year we would have been ecstatic with third, but after you finish first, where else can you go?"

To make up for the slow pool, the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy held a qualifying meet on Tuesday, in which Stony Brook qualified five more swimmers for the NCAA championship at Emory University on March 21. (That ties a record,for the most swimmers who qualified for the NCAA meet.) The Patriots will try to get more All-American honors, as Hansen and Aird try to repeat. Also travelling to Georgia with dreams of All-American status are diver Kevin Flaherty and swimmers Artie and Charlie Schemet, and Gary Leshinski. (The first twelve times in the competition qualify for All-American status.)

WOMEN'S TRACK FLYING HIGH

By Doreen Eng

The Indoor Division III Nationals for Track and Field were held at Bates College in Maine on March 8 and 9. It was at this meet where the Women's Track team put themselves in the annals of Stony Brook history placing 4th among the schools represented, their highest finish ever in National competition. Four team members qualified for the meet. They are Caryl Senn, Marie Benard, Cheryl Hunter and Barbara Gubbins. This was the first time that the NCAA has held a Division III "Indoor" Nationals and the Stony Brook team rose to the occassion, peaking at the season's climax and in so doing producing and or equaling new personal and some school records.

Gubbins placed second in the 3000m run coming through in a record breaking time of 9:56.7. Benard, competing in the 800m run placed 3rd with a blazing time of 2:12.95, also setting a new school record. She was nipped in the last 10m of second place. Hunter placed third in the shot put, sending the shot 43'5". In her first attempt for a personal record. Senn, not having the pentathlon to compete in, placed 7th in the 55m hurdles in 8:73, just missing sixth in a photo finish.

Stony Brook came away with three All-Americans. They are Gubbins and Hunter. Unlike other NCAA teams, only the top six finishers in track and field become All-Americans.

Prior to the NCAA competition, the women's indoor Track team competed in State and Regional meets. Each year the team gets better and better and this year's finishes were their best ever under the guidance of Rose Daniele, the new women's head coach.

The NYSAIAW meet was held on Feb. 22 and 23 at Hamilton College in Utica, N.Y. Stony Brook placed third as a team with 63 points, losing second to the University of Rochester by two points. Cortland State was first with 136 points. Having a team of only nine members, both coach and team were pleased with the outcome. There were three state champions, Benard, Senn and Gubbins, and seven team members placing in the top six in their event, were named to the "All-Championship" team. They are Mary Dolan, fifth in the 1500m, Sue Yarsinske, second in the 300m, Danielle Hingher, third in the high jump, Hunter, second in the shot put, Benard, first in the 800m. Gubbins was first in the 1000m and Senn first in the pentathlon, third in the triple jump and sixth in the high jump.

Records continued to fall as they had all season. Benard set a state, field house, and school record in the 800m with a time of 2:13.89, as did Gubbins in the 1,000m with a time of 3:01.35. Senn set a new school record in the 300m with a time of 42.56 seconds, and the mile relay of Mary Dolan, Donna Lyons, Yarsinske and Benard, broke the school record with a time of 4:12.45.

The following weekend ECACs were held at Tufts University on March 2 and 3. Stony Brook placed sixth in the Region as a team and six team members were named to the "All-ECAC" team. They were Senn, Hunter, Benard, Hingher, Lyons and Yarsinske.

Meet results were a first place finish in he pentathlon with 3126 points, and a new regional record by Senn a second place finish by Benard in the 800m with a time of 2:14.3. A tie for third place in the high jump between Hingher and Senn both came on jumps of 5'1". A fifth place finish in the 3,000m came from Lyons with a time of 10.42.6. Dolan finished seventh in the 1,500m with a time of 4:54.6. A seventh place finish was made by Senn in the triple jump with a jump of 33'3" an 11th place finish by Megan Brown in the 3,000m with a time of 10:56.8, a seventh place finish and a new school record in the 4 x 400m relay was feated by Dolan, Yarsinske, Senn and Benard, with a time of 4:11.9.

The teams indoor season was remarkably sucessful and they can look forward to an outdoor season of equal, if not greater, success. Their first outdoor meet is at C.W. Post on March 30.

LACROSSE STRIKES VICTORY, 10-5

By John Buonora

Following on the heels of a heartbreaking over-time loss to Gettysburg on Saturday, the lacrosse team bounced back with a 10-5 victory over the Potsdam Bears on Monday.

Against Potsdam, there would be no need for come from behind heroics, as the Pats led from the middle of the second period to the final whistle. On Saturday however, the Pats came from seven goals down to tie with 35 seconds left in regulation time. With 26 seconds gone in the overtime period. Gettysburg ended the Pat comeback and seriously damaged their hopes of an NCAA playoff bid.

The Pats (showed signs of Saturday's tough loss) in their play against Potsam, they were sloppy and were flagged for numerous penalties. But what the Pats did do well, was play exceptionally in special situation. They converted on all three man-up situations in the first half. By games end, the Pats had converted on 4 of 6 man-up situations. Ray McKenna scored the first man-up goal at 10:36 of period one. Chris Scaduto and John Warrack added man-up goals later in the half, to help add to the Pats 6-3 halftime lead.

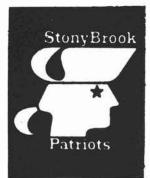

What kept the Pats ahead in the penalty ridden contest was the exceptional play of goalie Marcel Fisher. "He played his best game today," said head coach John Ziegler. "He kept us in it," he added. Fisher came up with 30 saves in the game, many at crucial times. Several of his saves were followed by Patriot goals, as rebounds were scooped up and converted into the fastbreak. The defense turned in another fine performance but especially when Potsdam had the man-up advantage. At one point late in the third period, with the Pats up by five Stony Brook was faced with simultaneous penalties. The Pats played with two men down for nearly a minute and a half, and Fisher and the Man Down team took the Bears by the throat and cut them off.

As in Saturday's game, the Pats had trouble when the ball went on the ground. Coaches and players alike commented on the poor ground-ball play. But what the Pats did do well in both games was to find the open man. "We did a great job today finding the open man," said assistant coach Shawn McDonald. The Pats exploded for 33 goals in the past three games, since more ball movement was introduced into the offense.

In the second half, the Pats scored four more times as Potsdam could manage to beat Fisher only twice, bringing the final to 10-5. The Patriots will play today at home vs. Dowling at 3:30 PM, and then prepare to play number three ranked Wesleyan on Saturday at 1:00. The coaching staff is looking at the Wesleyan game as a must if the Pats are to make the playoffs. Some of the players seemed a little dissappointed that contest falls on Easter weekend. "The large turnout on Saturday was great," agreed Don McRea and Kevin Sheehan. "They get you psyched, and make us play better." They added, "This is going to be the best game on Long Island.'

PATRIOTS SPLIT DOUBLE HEADER

By Lisa Miceli

The Women's softball team opened their season last Saturday by splitting a double header with the College of Staten Island.

The Pat's lost the first game 2-1 with a nonproductive offense. Staten Island had a lot of opportunities to score runs. In the second inning with two outs, they had the based loaded by the Patriots managed to get the third out, ending the inning. The bases were loaded again in the next inning and this time Staten succeeded in scoring. The Pats were lucky enough to get the final two outs before their opponent scored any more runs.

Stony Brook started to create their own noise in the sixth inning when Cherie Christie bunted her way on base. With two outs, Christie advanced to second on a passed ball. Then, Terri McNulty looped a double to score Christie and tie it up.

The game went into an extra inning (softball plays only seven innings). Staten Island opened the eighth inning as Lisa Bonivita, a stron hitter, pounded out a single. The next two batters advanced the runner to second and then third. The Stony Brook second baseman bobled a line drive and the throw was late, letting a run score.

Next it was Stony Brook's turn at bat. Betsy Zatarian had a solid hit to get things started. She then stole second. With two outs, Staten Island struck out Debra Alfano on a 3-2 count to end the game; the final was 2-1, Staten Island.

In the second game, the Patriots did a complete offensive turnaround. Staten Island got an early 3-0 lead in the top of the second with a triple and an error by Stony Brook and increased it to 5-0 in the third inning on a double and another Stony Brook error.

The Patriots started things going in the fourth inning after an error by Staten Island's leftfielder. With the bases loaded, the error started a fave run comeback that gave the Patriots a 6-5 lead, the leadoff batter got on base and three batters later, the bases were loaded. Laura Fuller punched a shot to leftfield, which the fielder dropped, allowing one run to score. A double by Janice Barsha and Christie produced four more runs.

Staten Island stole the lead with three runs in the fifth, making the score 8-6. In the bottom of the fifth, Alfano hit a tripple and advanced home when the Staten Island shortstop dropped a pop fly, giving Janet Morgan a double.

Stony Brook regained the lead and kept the score 8-7, Staten Island throughout the remainder of the game, when McNulty lined a single to left to advance the runner, tying up the score at 8, and loaded the bases. Two runners went home when the Staten Island second baseman committed a serious error, by dropping the ball. Morgan ended up with a double. Stony Brook 10, staten Island 8 was now the score.

Now all the Pats had to do was get three quick outs to win. The lead batter got a base hit, but the Patriots managed to get three outs to end the game.

PATRIOTS SLAUGHTER LIONS EFFORTLESSLY

By John Buonora

The Stony Brooks lacrosse team buried the Dowling Lions by the score of 19-2 on Wednesday. Nine players tallied in the goal column for the Pats, as they upped their season mark to 5-3.

It was never really a contest, as Dowling only competed with 11 players. The ball rarely left the Dowling end of the field, as the Pats bombarded the Lion cage with shot after shot, and that resulted in 19 Pat goals (Most goals this season.)

Bruce Pollack scored his frist goal of the year after returning from the injured list. At 4:45 of the first period, with the Pats ahead 2-1 Pollack scored unassisted (He later added two more goals and two assists.) Fellow attackmen John Warrack anf Brian Rielly added four and three goals respectively.

Pollack wasn't the only Pat to get into the goal column for the first time this year, Dor McRea scored his first of the season at 11:02 of guarter two, and sophomore Carl Cham bers netted his first late in the final guarter The Pats didn't start off well, playing sloppi ly for the first five minutes. "I hope we play better on Saturday than we did today," said head coach John Ziegler. Most of the Pat didn't seem too enthused at playing the game in the cold and rain. "It wasn't the most exciting game of the season," said Pau Emmanuel. Before the game, the player said they weren't looking past Dowling to Saturday's game vs. Wesleyan, afterward was another story. ''There is no doubt tha we're excited for Saturday," said Kevir Sheehan

The Pats may not have wanted to play in the rain, but the mood on the sideline was light and obviously the score reflected that they did do something right. What they did do right was find the open man. The Pats seemed to walk into the Dowling end at will The Pat defense did relatively little work and Fisher had to come up with only three saves in the entire contest.

The Pats handled the game in a very profes sional manner, doing their work and ther setting their sites on Saturday's challenge This is going to be a crucial game if the Pats are to make the playoffs. Many players fee that if they can beat Wesleyan (No. 3 in the nation), then get past Division I Notre Dame they have an excellent chance at cracking into the Division III rankings.

It will be a very intense game, and the Pats seem ready and confident. They do however have the challenge in proper prospective Said Chris Scaduto, "10 guys are going to have to play out of their heads on Saturday."

By Doreen Eng

The Stony Brook women's track team began heir outdoor season with a bang on March 0 at the C.W. Post Relays. They placed econd in a field of 23 teams finishing ahead f a number of Division I schools; Fordham, Vagner, St. John's, Columbia, Barnard and Ianhatten being among them. The top three eams were New York Tech first with 95 oints, Stony Brook second with 65 points nd L.I.U. third with 60 points.

he Pats took their record breaking streak utdoors, setting four school records at the leet. Records were set by Donna Lyons, econd in the 5000m run with a time of 8:37.4, besting the old record by 39 secnds; from Cheryl Hunter, third in the javelin row bettering her old mark to 119'7"; by ue Yarsinske speeding to fourth in the DOm with a time of 26 seconds and Mary olan, second in the 3000m with a cruising ne of 10:34. Also in the 3000m were Lau-Whitney who placed fourth with a time of 0:46.8 and Megan Brown who was fifth with a time of 10:58.4.

Other results were a fourth place finish by Charlene Landrum in the 100m dash with a time of 12.9 seconds along with a sixth place finish in the long jump with a 14'4" effort. Marie Benard placed third in the 1500m run with a time of 4:45.2, just missing the NCAA qualifying time of 4:44, then came back to win the 800m with a time of 2:17.3 and Hunter was first in the shot put with a throw of 42'2" and was second in the discus with a throw of 128'6".

The women's track team will be without the benefit of two time All-American Caryl Senn for the Outdoor season, having gone through a successful four years of collegiate competition. Her absence will certainly be felt. Now competing for Island Track Club, Senn was first in the javelin with a throw of 121'4", second in the 400m hurdles with a time of 67.0 and second in the 400m hurdles with a time of 15.9. The team's next meet will be the "Red Men" Invitational at St. John's University on April 14.

ith 11 unanswered goals in the third quarr, the Stony Brook lacrosse team blew per a 4-4 tie and coasted to a 17-6 victory ver SUNY Maritime Wednesday. The Patrioffensive blitz deflated a Maritime team at threw a scare into Stony Brook for the st two quarters.

aritime came into the game with the buren of proving that their record was no uke. The Pats drew first blood only 45 secnds after the opening face-off, as Ray Mcenra connected on a pass from Chris caduto. Scaduto then added two unassisted als of his own, and with 6:24 left in the being quarter, it looked as if Maritime ould not live up to their press clippings. he two teams swapped goals, but suddenly aritime came to life.

aying with intensity, Maritime swarmed the triot goal and took two point blank shots. arcel Fisher came up with two big saves, t then made a bad pass which led to the second Maritime goal. With shortly under five minutes remaining in the half, Maritime lit the light again to make the score 4-3 in favor of the Patriots. Maritime's Kevin Marrix knotted the game with two minutes remaining in the half. The half ended with Maritime flying high and the Patriots dazed and confused.

Coach John Ziegler collected is troops at half time, and settled them down. Ziegler would not be specific as to what he told his players at the break, but whatever it was it worked. As the second half started, the Pats closed the book on the Maritime upet.

With 50 seconds gone in the third quarter, Warrack lit the fuse on the Pat explosion as his bounce shot scooted past Maritime goalie Bob Devlin to put the Pats in front 5-4. It was the first of an 11 goal explosion. It was an explosion that saw six different Patriots score, and Maritime could only respond with one shot on goal. In the spree, Warrack scored three, Bruce Pollack, Brian Rielly, and Scaduto netted two apiece and Danny McNaughton and McKenna added a goal each. When the smoke cleared, the Patriots owned a commanding 15-4 lead, "When we want to click, no one is better," said defenseman Jeff Strumeyer.

Those six players may have lit the fuse, but the man who provided the gun powder was face-off man Don McCrea. In the third quarter McCrea won 6 of 7 face-offs, and finished the day winning 16, and losing 5. The biggest difference in the two halfs was McCrea's performance at the face-off circle. At half-time, McCrea had a dismal 5 wins, 4 losses. His second half spree was almost as impressive as the goal scoring explosion.

Maritime must be given credit for never giving up. They scored twice more, and responded to the thrashing by going to the body. The Pats retaliated with hits of their own, and the score, the second half was fun to watch. Unfortunately for Maritime, the score is never disregarded.

PATRIOTS SCORE CRUCIAL VICTORY

By John Buonora

John Warrack scored eight goals and added four assists as the Stony Brook Lacrosse team defeated the South Hampton Colonials by the score of 20-8. Warrack tied his own record for most goals in one game, and fell one point short of equalling his record of most points in one game.

The win should prove critical if the Patriots are to make the playoffs. "If we don't make the ECAC playoffs, it's ludicrous," said head coach John Ziegler. "We feel the win should give us the first seed," said mid-fielder Danny McNaughton. The Pats will have to wait for the selection committee to meet on Monday, to see if their season shall continue. If they make the playoffs, they will go up against other Division III teams from the New York New Jersey area.

The Patriots turned a 3-1 first guarter lead into an 8-2 halftime lead, on goals from Don McCrea, Bruce Pollack, Brian Reilly, and two from Warrack. One key factor in the game was the fact that the Patriots were able to find Warrack open on many occasions. Reilly and Pollack in particular did a fine job of finding the Patriot sharpshooter, allowing for Warrack to unlease His shot. Warrack himself did an excellent job of getting off the shot when it wasn't open. He also showed tenacity when he attacked Colonial goalie Gerard Nigro on a clear, and forced him to fall. When Nigro hit the ground, the ball squirted free. Warrack scooped up the ball and deposited it in the open goal.

"The real John Warrack has emerged the past four or five games, and you can see the difference," said Ziegler. Not only has Warrack come to life, but Pollack and Reilly have also responded well in recent games. "Don't forget the second mid-field," added Ziegler. "Give Danny McNaughton a slap on the back for holding the second mid-field together."

The Pats have played as a solid unit in the past few games, and it is reflected in their high goal output, and low goals against. These are all crucial for the Pats to succeed in the playoffs. They need Marcel Fisher to continue his spectacular play in goal, and they also need the consistant play of the "big stick line", of Eric Stern, Avi Mosden, and Joe Alamino. If the defense plays as well as it has all season, the Patriots will have an excellent chance at winning the tournament, if they get in. "It's all up to the selection committee now. If we don't make it, there's something wrong," said Ziegler.

FRISBEE TEAM FLIES OVER OPPONENTS

By Lisa Miceli

Most people think that the idea of playing frisbee is to toss it around on a sunny day with a couple of friends. Many times you will see that on the Stony Brook campus, whether it is in front of the lecture center or outside the dorms. A fact that students may not know is that we do have a serious frisbee team.

The game they play is a fast-paced highly emotional sport that combined elements from soccer, hockey, football and basketball.

Whether known as "frisbee football" or "Ultimate frisbee", the game is played on a 70 by 40 yard field, in which the team tries to receive the frisbee in the opponents endzone.

The game involves passing the frisbee from teammate to teammate. (Once the frisbee is caught, the receiver must stop and attempt to pass it to another teammate). Meanwhil the defending team tries to create a turnove by either intercepting or deflecting th frisbee.

So far this season, the frisbee team has com piled a 7-3 record which enabled them to g to the sectionals which were held last Satur day and Sunday. The Patriots breeze through and won all their games. There wer 11 teams in the meet in which the toughes components were Wesleyan Columbi (which the Pats lost to earlier in the season and Yale.

Next week they will go to compete in th regionals at Amherst Massachusettes when they will meet the No. 1 ranked team in th northeast region, University of Massach settes at Amherst. The Patriots know it w be tough to beat this team because previou ly during the season, they lost to the No. team 15-10. Also, it is possible they migh meet up with Cornell who beat them by th same score. The Frisbee team might have a advantage if either one or both of thes teams are eliminated in the regionals, by they will have outstanding offensive and d fensive players like Pieter Smit and Ara Flores on their side.

Some might wonder who came up with the idea of a frisbee team. Co-captains Ivan Y and Mike Kilzelbach started the team three years ago. Both were active in high school This season has been their most successf season. Previously funded by the Polity Pr gram and Services Council (PSC), and the members themselves, the team has been line ited by lack of money, academic priorities transportation problems and key personn losses.

If the team makes it through the regiona the next step up is the Nationals and th indeed will be an accomplishment for three-year-old team. e State University of New York at Stony vi ook. re tin amed Athletes of the Year were Cheryl P

COMMENCEMENT MESSAGE

Welcome to Stony Brook's 25th Commencement. This milestone in our brief history provides the occasion to assess past accomplishments and consider plans for the future, just as each of our graduates is doing on this day.

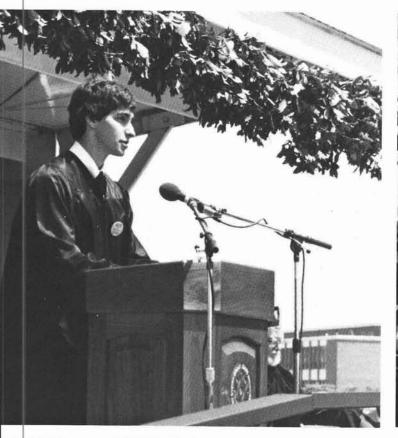

The difference between the assessment of a university and that of an individual graduate is that our graduates go on to new environments. The educational process has had its effect, and the future is one of taking advantage of what skills and insights have been gleaned during several years of labor here. If you are graduating today, your image of Stony Brook is a snapshot of the campus as it exists now. In 20 years, you will still remember favorite teachers, themes, and campus problems and triumphs that are current now, and you will think of Stony Brook as having stayed the same while you have grown away from it.

It is true that Stony Brook never graduates to a new life and a new career, but our campus must nevertheless continually devote itself to renewal. We must grow, too, to keep pace with the changing demands of society as well as to fulfill our mission and accommodate ourselves to new knowledge and new modes of gaining knowledge. We shall change as surely as you will, and we shall be as influenced by our history as you will by your experience on this campus.

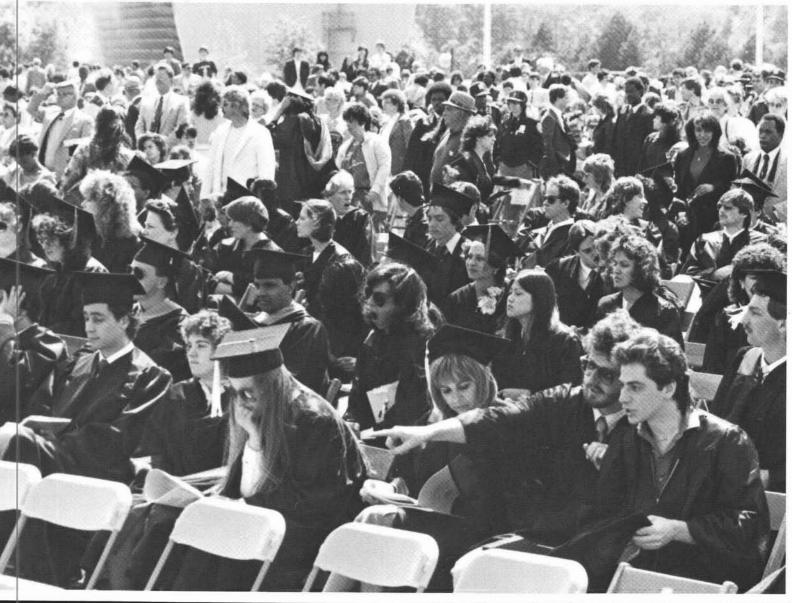

One thing that will not change at Stony Brook is our commitment to quality. Despite all pressures and problems and pains of growth and change over our 25 years, we have continued to insist that our faculty have an impact on their fields and that our students live up to standards of intellectual achievement that can only be attained by hard work and ingenuity. A Stony Brook degree is respected throughout the world as a certification of excellence. We know that our nearly 40,000 alumni count on us to maintain the quality of their degrees, and we have accepted that responsibility.

That commitment should work reciprocally. The respect that Stony Brook receives from others depends very much on the success and dedication of our graduates. Our record is good to date in part because our alumni are doing well. Your struggle to excel in your future endeavors reinforces our resolve to insist that the Stony Brook experience be one of excellence. It's a big responsibility. Keep us to it.

Honorary Degree Recipients

SALO WITTMAYER BARON Doctor of Letters

Salo Baron was the first scholar to hold a chair in Jewish history at a major university in thi country; he was appointed at Columbia in 1930 and remained there until his retirement. He continues working on his Social and Religious History of the Jews, of which 18 volumes have already been published. He has written many other works and has served as editor of Jewis. Social Studies and as consulting editor of the magisterial Encyclopaedia Judaica. The majo themes in his work have been the understanding of the interaction of Jewish communities with their environments and of the Jewish world center in Israel with Diaspora communities. Dozens of Prof. Baron's disciples now hold academic posts in their own right in the discipling that he pioneered. Now a third generation of "Baron products" is making significant contributions to the study of Jewish history.

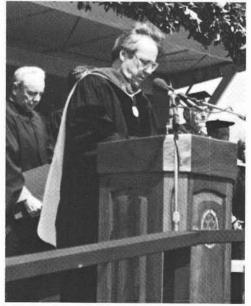

E. MARGARET BURBIDGE Doctor of Science

One of the pre-eminent women scientists of our time, E. Margaret Burbidge accomplished pioneer work in the study of galaxy dynamics that she later expanded in her book, Synthesi of the Elements in Stars. Since 1979, she has been Director of the Center for Astrophysic and Space Sciences at the University of California at San Diego. In addition to her scientific contributions, Prof. Burbidge has played a vigorous role in the creation of science policy. She is a member of the Science and Public Policy Committee of the National Academy o Sciences and past President of the American Association for the Advancement of Science Ever a strong supporter of women and minorities in science, she is also eloquent in champion ing the peaceful uses of space.

SHIING-SHEN CHERN Doctor of Science

Regarded as one of the world's greatest living mathematicians, Shiing-Shen Chern was a member of the Institute for Advanced Studies at Princeton during his first visit to the United States. He returned to the Institute briefly after the collapse of the nationalist government o China in 1949 before assuming professorships, in turn, at the University of Chicago and the University of California, Berkeley. He is now Professor Emeritus of Mathematics at Berkeley The father and reigning figure in the field of differential geometry, Professor Chern discov ered the existence of certain "characteristic classes," now called "Chern Classes." His six books and over 125 articles are testimony to the breadth and significance of his contribution to mathematics. With Stony Brook's Einstein Professor of Physics, C.N. Yang, Professor Chern has been instrumental in establishing strong and lasting contacts with the scientific community in the People's Republic of China.

BETTY FRIEDAN

Doctor of Humane Letters

Publication of Betty Friedan's book, The Feminine Mystique, in 1963 marked the beginning of the contemporary women's movement. After graduating summa cum laude from Smith College and attending the University of California, Berkeley, on fellowship, she led the conventional life of wife and mother until, her children raised, she became troubled by the limited horizons of her world and began systematically collecting information that revealed a widespread malaise among women in similar circumstances. Her book and her subsequent work gave form and focus to a previously unorganized sense of dissatisfaction, enabling women to present effective opposition to the political, legal, and social barriers that have stood in the way of equality. She founded the National Organization for Women and served as its first president. She became the intellectual and personal source of the movement of women whose goal has been to participate equally with men in all aspects of American life.

HENRY TAUBE Doctor of Science

In 1983 Henry Taube was awarded the Nobel Prize for his contributions to chemistry. And this year he was named recipient of the Priestley Medal, the American Chemical Society's high est honor. His revolutionary work over the span of 30 years serves as the basis for much of modern chemistry's understanding of chemical reactivity and of the chemical properties of transition metal ions and their complexes. Professor Taube's achievements lie not only in the area of research and discovery. A sought-after lecturer, writer, seminar leader and symposium participant, he is also known as a teacher of teachers. Among his former students and co-workers are members of Stony Brook's chemistry faculty. Since its inception, Henry Taube has played a deeply supportive role in the development of the Department of Chemistry at the State University of New York at Stony Brook.

ACADEMIC ATTIRE

The costume of those in the academic procession has a specific symbolism which dates back to at least the 14th century. Academic institutions in the United States adopted a code of academic dress in 1895 which has been revised from time to time. The dress of institutions in other countries varies, and there is not a worldwide code, but the basic elements are present in all academic costumes.

Gowns The bachelor's gown has long, pointed sleeves; the master's gown has an oblong sleeve open at the wrist (or some older gowns may be open near the upper part of the arm); the doctor's gown is fuller than the others with velvet panels full length on the front, and three velvet crossbars on each sleeve in black or in the color distinctive of the subject to which the owner's degree pertains. The gowns are black except for the doctor's, which in a few instances are of a color representing the institution which conferred the degree.

Hoods The hood, draped over the shoulders and down the back, indicates the subject to which the degree pertains and the university that conferred the degree. The level of the degree is indicated by the size of the hood. The hood for the bachelor's degree is three feet long; for the master's it is three and one-half feet long; and for the doctor's it is four feet long. The binding of the hood is of colored velvet designating the subject of the degree, and it is two inches, three inches, and five inches wide for the bachelor's, master's, and doctor's degrees respectively. The colors associated with some of the subjects are as follows:

Arts, Letters, Humanities, White Commerce, Accountancy, Business, Drab Economics, Copper Education, Light Blue Engineering, Orange Fine Arts, including Architecture, Brown Law, Purple Medicine, Green Pharmacy, Olive Green Philosophy, Dark Blue Physical Education, Sage Green Public Administration, including Foreign Service, Peacock Blue Science, Golden Yellow Social Work, Citron Theology, Scarlet

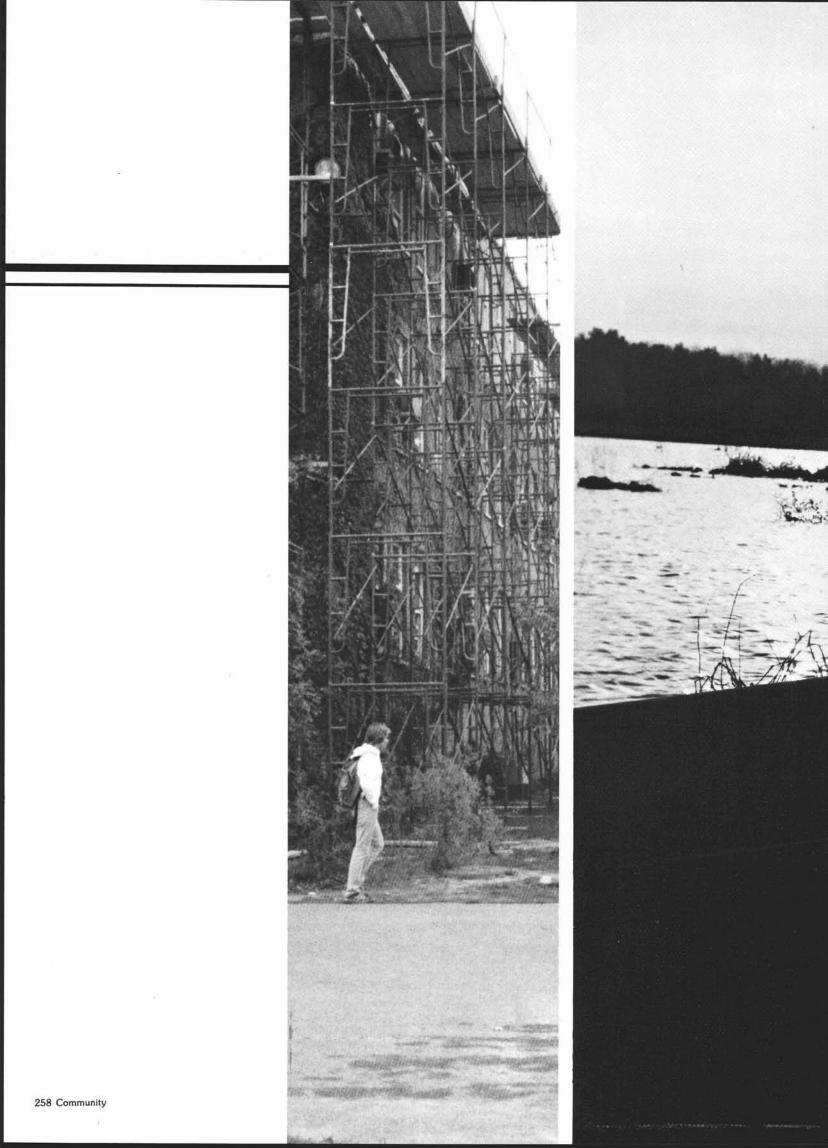

The lining of the hood is of the color or colors of the institution conferring the degree. The lining of the doctor's hood is revealed more than in the master's hood, and much less of the lining is revealed in the bachelor's hood.

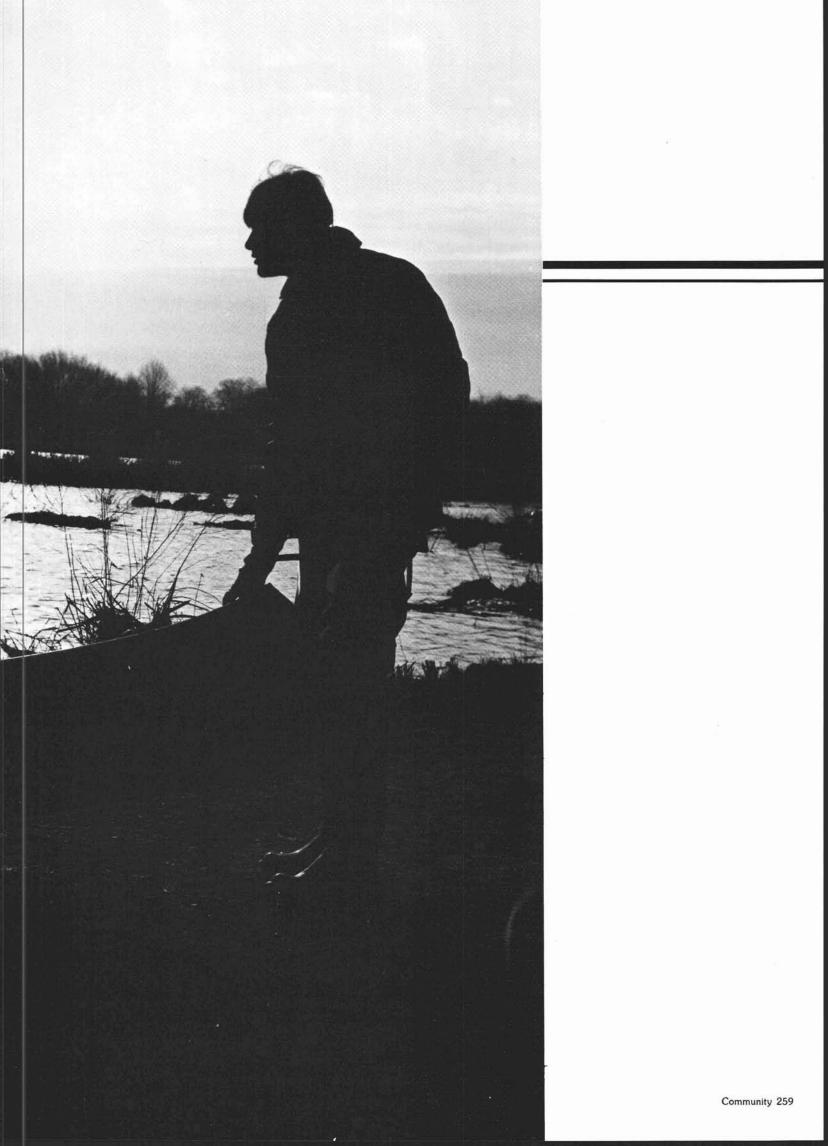

Caps In the United States, the black mortarboard is most commonly used. The tassel fastened to the center of the cap is normally worn in the left front quadrant of the cap and is black, although it may be of the color appropriate to the subject of the degree. The tassel for the doctor's cap may be of gold thread.

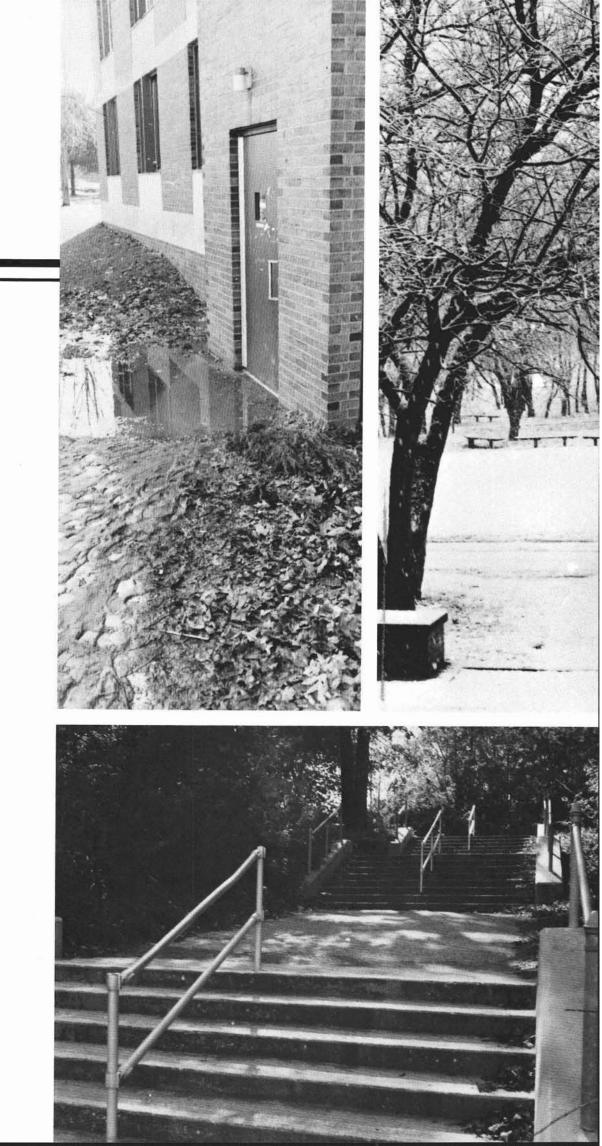

COMMUNITY

hile Stony W Brook University Is Only Twenty Five Years Old, It Is Set In A Community Which Is Rich In Early American History. The Starkly Modern Architecture Of The University Hospital Contrasts Sharply With The Picturesque Design Of The Stony Brook Post Office Shopping Center And With Many Of The Houses Which Are Protected By The Historical Society And Designated Landmarks. In All, Stony Brook, The University And The Town Are A Mix Of Something Old-Something New.

EVENTS OF THE YEAR

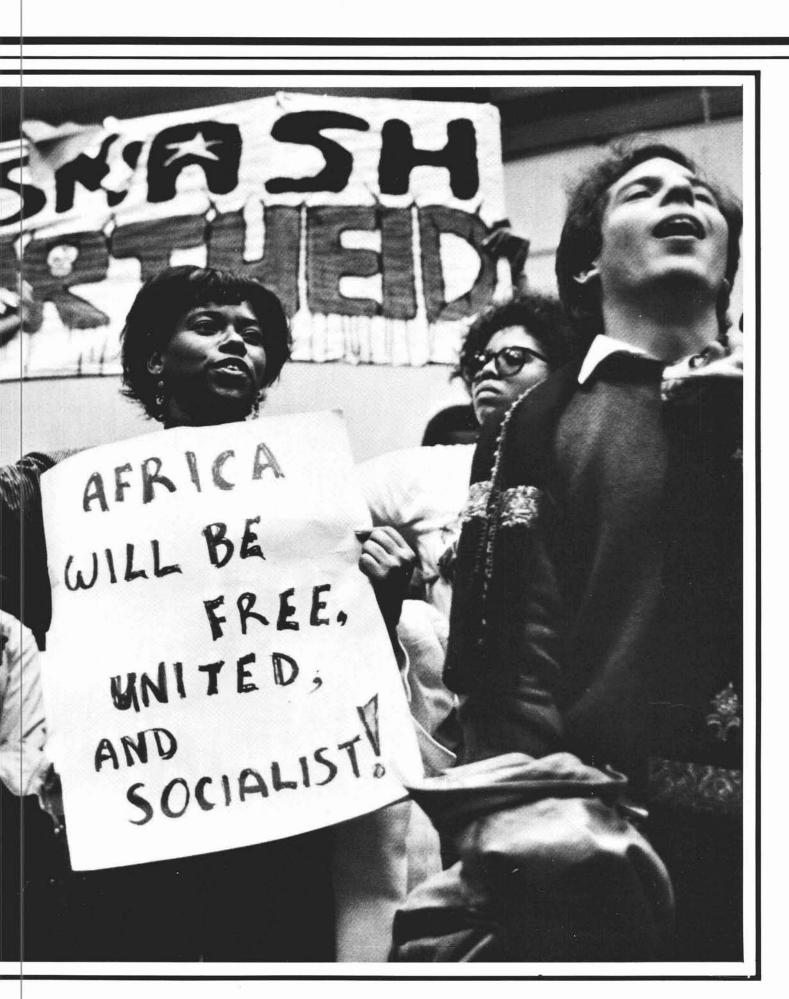

allies, Sit-ins, Sleep-ins and Demonstrations were the ways that students at Stony Brook expressed themselves against apartheid. Urging the University's divestment, students converted the Administration building into Mandella Hall. These photos are of the demonstration that took place during Commencement as are those on the next two pages. The passive occupation of the Administration building was reminiscent of rallies held on campus in the late 60's and early 70's. The organization against apartheid showed that students were not concerned only with themselves but, with the plight of others less fortunate. In the course of major events there was Something Old and Something New. This was true on campus and off.

T he Statue of Liberty celebrated her 99th birthday in 1985 and began to show her age. The Statue has been worn by constant pummeling by wind, salt air and acid rain, and the iron ribbing supporting the thin copper skin was badly corroded. A two year restoration program began July 1984. The Statue will receive a new gold-plated torch. The restoration program is being financed by big and small alike, with school children pledging dollars and large corporations pledging everthing from materials to tools and money. The "face-lift" is scheduled to be completed for a July 4th 1986 super ceremony.

The photos show the scaffolding surrounding the Statue as it went up. This scaffolding will enable the workers more complete acess for neccessary repairs and reconstructions. A fter years of civil war, elections were held in El Salvadore in 1984. Jose Napoleon Duarte was elected president in what international observers called the most open and free elections in that country in fifty years. The photo shows a soldier reading a newspaper at the Rio Lempa checkpoint near El Salvadore, the headline was "There is Faith in the Electoral Process."

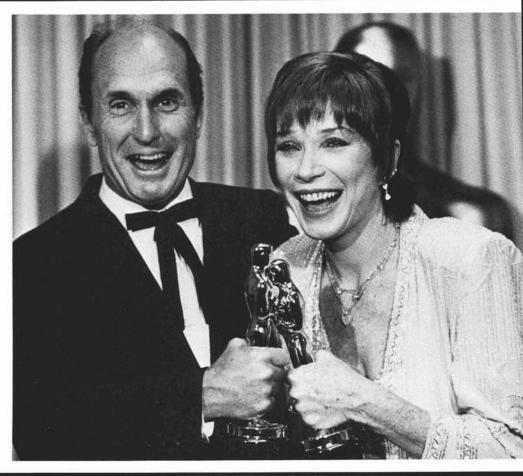

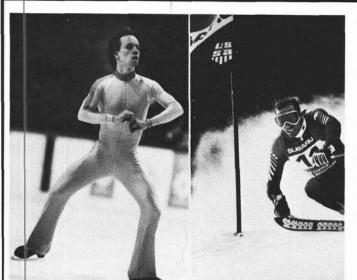

U nited States Marines arrived in Bierut in 1982. Lebanon was torn by civil war and foriegn invasion. In 1984 when the Marines left, more than 260 Marines were dead, Lebanon was still at war with most of its territory occupied by foriegn troops and its government tottering. The price of President Reagan's commitment was too high and the Marines left. M ichael Jackson conducted his so-called Victory Tour to more than a dozen cities. The original ticket policy, which had required fans to mail in $120 postal money order for four tickets (with no guarantee that they would receive tickets), was shelved after much criticism.

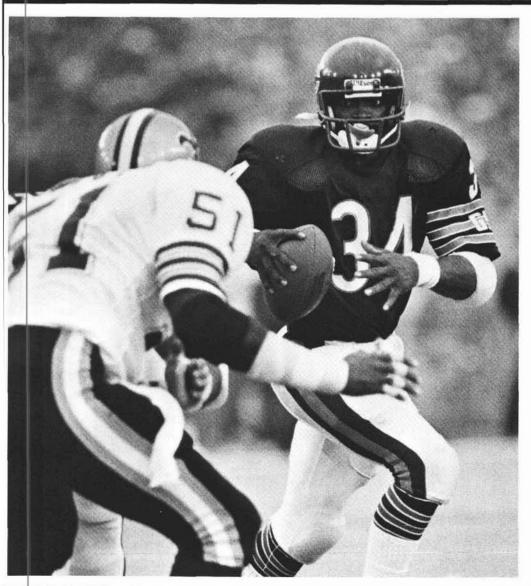

obert Duvall received an R Oscar for his role as a washed-up country singer who overcame alcoholism in the film "Tender Mercies." Shirley Mac-Laine won for best actress and Jack Nicholson won best supporting actor as an eccentric mother and a pot-bellied ex-astronaut in "Terms of Endearment," which also won for the best picture award, the best supporting actress Oscar went to Linda Hunt for her role in "The Year of Living Dangerously." The photo shows MacLaine and Duvall the night of the Oscars.

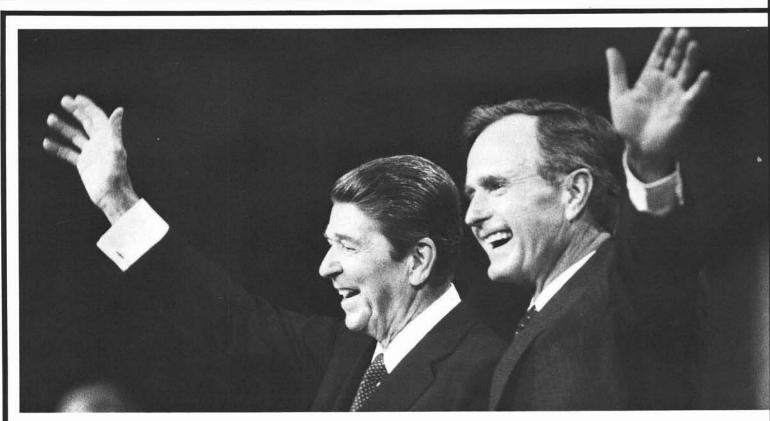

T he Winter Olympics in Yugoslavia saw the United States winfour gold and four silver medals. Scott Hamilton won a gold in the men's figure skating and Steve Mahre won the gold medal in the Giant Slalom skiing event.

At the Summer Olympics held in Los Angeles, Mary Lou Retton won the all-around gold medal and led the gymnastic team to a silver medal; she also won bronze medals for the floor exercise and uneven parallel bars and took a silver medal for the vault. Carl Lewis won four gold medals in Track events - the 100 meters, the 200 meters, the four by 100 meter relay and the long jump.

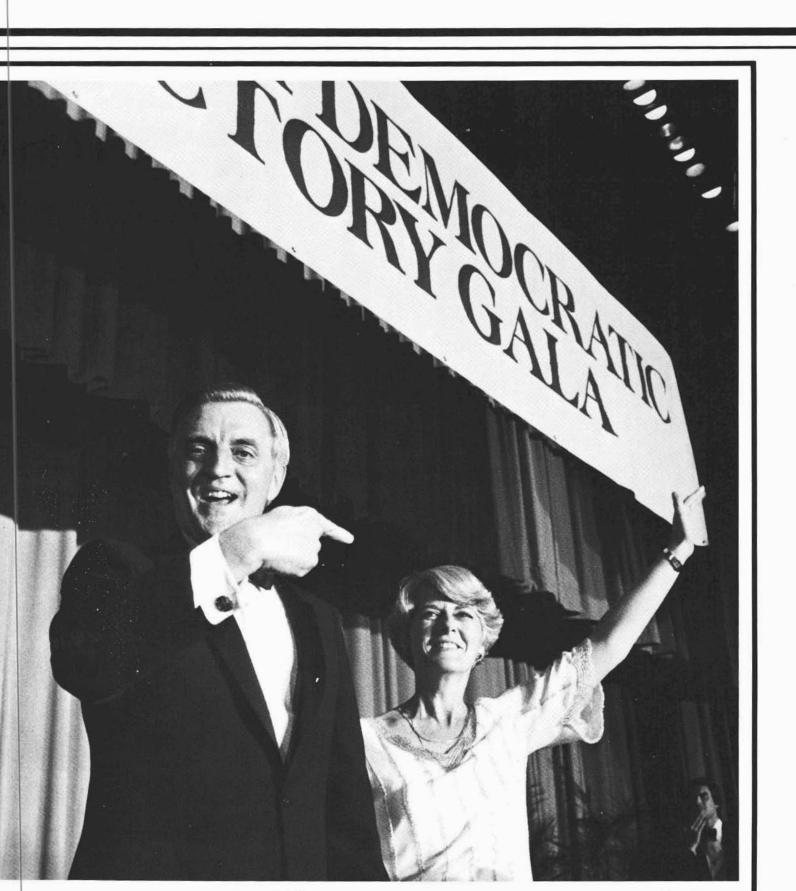

C hicago Bears' Walter Payton eyes New Orleans Saits' Whitney Paul as he carries the ball on his way to setting the record for rushing. He broke the record of 12,312 held by Jim Brown.

P resident Ronald Reagan and Vice President George Bush sought re-election in 1894. He vowed not to raise taxes and ran on his record of the previous four years.

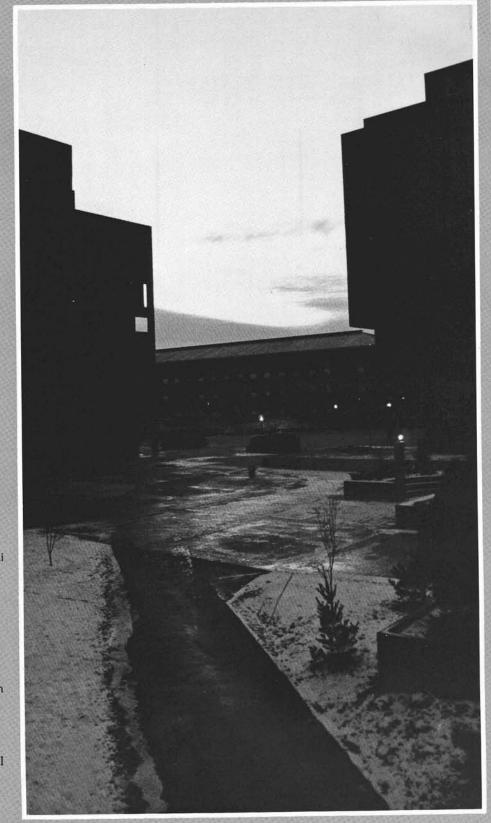

President Reagan won re-election with the biggest electoral vote in the nation's history. He won 49 states with 49% of the total vote. Photo shows President and Mrs. Nancy Reagan at the victory celebration on election night November 6, 1984.

D emocratic presidential candidate Walter Mondale made history when he chose a woman, Geraldine Ferraro, as his vice presidential running mate. Mondale and Ferraro were nominated on the Democratic ticket at the party convention in early July.
