

SUNY SIDE UP - March 17, 1982

The name of this program is "SUNY Side Up"; you have just heard a rendition of the song called, "Sunny Side Up."

And before you get ~~too~~ accustomed to that, we are going to introduce you to "Music of the Renaissance." ~~xxxxxxx~~

~~Hi~~ Hi, everybody, this is Al Oickle at the State University of New York <sup>here</sup> at Stony Brook. I will be back in a few minutes to talk with Johannes Hardorp about the concert of Renaissance music he and his group will be performing next week, here at Stony Brook. But let's waste no more time. Here is a selection from that concert, a Germany part song called, ~~Innsbruck, ich muss dich lassen~~ "Innsbruck, ich muss dich lassen," by Isaac. ~~Was haben doch die Gansz getan?~~

MUSIC from recording: 3:00 minutes

AFO) That was just beautiful...a German part song from the repertoire of the group known as The Stellar Consort. ~~xx~~We'll hear two other selections later in the program. Meantime, I'd like to introduce you to Johannes Hardorp, a member of the group we ~~just~~ heard performing. That group is called The Stellar Consort.

Prof. Hardorp, does that title, Stellar, have anything to do with your profession as a professor ~~of~~ whose research interests are in stellar atmospheres and stellar rotation?

INTERVIEW HARDORP

- Intro lute solo at 23:30

(VOICE OVER)

MUSIC from recording at 23:30 -/Baletto for lute...Praetorius, played by Jerry Willard, a professor of music at Stony Brook.

AFO) I suppose if you listen hard enough you can find something familiar in almost all music. Listening just now to Prof. Willard playing the Praetorius baletto on his lute, I was reminded of the selection called "Dueling ~~with~~ Banjos," made popular with ~~the~~ motion picture, "Deliverance." Well, now our listeners can see what they find familiar in our final number, by the Stellar Consort and Jerry Willard. It is by Widmann and it is called, "Was haben doch die Gans getan?"

SUNY SIDE UP - March 17, 1982

MUSIC from recording (3:00)

WRAPUP) ~~again~~ That was a German part song from the concert to be given free next Friday, March 26, at 5 p.m., at the Recital Hall at the Fine Arts Center at the State University at Stony Brook. Prof. Hardorp, thank you for sharing this music, and yourself.

Next week, we will be talking with Prof. John C. Partin, who chairs the Pediatrics Department in the School of Medicine, here at Stony Brook. Dr. Partin has been especially active in several fields of medicine related to young people, both infants and ~~and~~ young adults on the college campus. I hope you will be with us to hear about children's health care, ~~work~~ on Long Island and at Stony Brook.

Until next week, this is Al Oickle. So long, everybody.

xxxxx

CASSETTE

00 - 35 - Innsbruck, ich muss dich lassen - 3:00
36 - 56 - Baletto for lute - 1:50
57 - 81 - Was haben doch die Gans getan? - 2:15