

HERE AT STONY BROOK, Monday, Oct. 24, 1983

THEME UP AND OUT

Hi, everybody. Today we are taking on two common subjects that are certainly of general interest and often controversial. They are sex and alcohol. Later in the program, we'll talk about alcoholism and alcohol abuse with Douglas Little, who as a campus police officer is involved in an alcohol awareness campaign. But first, let's meet Dr. Joseph LoPiccolo. He is professor of psychiatry and head of the Sex Therapy Clinic at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. Dr. LoPiccolo has earned ~~the~~ a reputation for his work at Stony Brook. He is nationally recognized for forwarding the development of techniques for the treatment of sexual dysfunction.

Dr. LoPiccolo, I suppose we've come a long way from Adam and Eve, and fig leaves in the Garden of Eden. Or have we?

INTERVIEW LoPICCOLO:

- History of scientific investigation of sexuality
- Kinsey Report
- Masters and Johnson
- SUSB 1974
- Clinic as education, research, public service
- Media roles in creating "super-sex"
- Advice to couples in general

13:00
THEME UP AND OUT

"This one's for you," goes a popular beer commercial. There's been a change in some circles recently and you seldom hear anyone suggest tee-totalism...that is, not drinking alcohol. "This one's for you" is OK, if it's only one. But what about those who can't get through the day without a few drinks. Are they alcoholics?

MORE

HERE AT STONY BROOK - Oct. 24, 1983 - page 2

Douglas Little is community relations ~~an~~ officer with the Department of Public Safety, the University Police, at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He has been active in an alcohol awareness program at Stony Brook this fall. But, Officer Little, I guess it goes without saying that alcohol awareness activity cannot be confined to a single week each year.

INTERVIEW LITTLE;

- Who's drinking today?
- What self-abuse problems do they cause?
- Crimes and other problems from drinking
- What is "responsible drinking"?
- What is being done to promote resp. drinking?
- What else can be done in education?

Next week we'll be talking about a subject of major importance at this time of the year for many high school students and others, including parents. That subject is: What to say and ask at a college admissions interview. In the weeks ahead, we'll be talking about the local elections coming up in November and especially about 1984---the George Orwell version of 1984. Until then, this is Al Oickle. So long, everybody.