

HERE AT STONY BROOK - Monday, Oct. 18, 1982

THEME UP AND OUT

The Middle East is much in the news. The delicate efforts to find a permanent homeland for the Palestinians ~~xxxxxxxx~~ has kept that tinderbox of the secure and the insecure, the wealthy and <sup>the</sup> poor, the modern and the underdeveloped nations at war, and seldom at the peace table.

Hi, everybody, this is Al Oickle with the program, "Here at Stony Brook." This week, we'll be talking about the Middle East with the venerable former United States Senator from New York, Jacob Javits. Senator Javits has been working ~~xxxxxxxx~~ at the State University of New York at Stony Brook, helping to select an archivist for the vast collection of public papers he has presented to the University. Later in the program, I'll talk with ~~the~~ Professor Aldona Jonaitis, who heads the Department of Art, here at Stony Brook, and Sue Risoli, my colleague in the Office of University News Services, will interview Denise Coleman, director of the Stony Brook Alumni Association.

THEME UP AND FADE UNDER

Koppel

Senator Jacob Javits was born in New York City in 1904. Early in his public career he was a member of Congress for five terms. He served as New York State's attorney general in the mid-1950s and was elected then to four terms as a United States Senator. He's 78 years old now and ailing. But his spirit overcomes his infirmities, and his mind is as sharp as the day he passed the bar exams 55 years ago. He comes to Stony Brook from time to time to oversee the arrangements for his gift to the University. ~~Last week,~~

HERE AT STONY BROOK Oct. 18, 1982 - page 2

Last week, he took a few minutes off to talk with me about the Middle East.

TAPE: AFO INTERVIEWS JAVITS - concludes with "thank you, thank you" 4:30

THEME UP AND OUT

AFO LIVE: The Fine Arts Center at the State University of New York at Stony Brook is an intriguing place to visit. One of major attractions of that large and busy place is the Art Gallery. The 5,000 square feet of the Gallery are filled now with the unusual works of Alan Shields. That exhibit was arranged in cooperation with the Department of Art, here at Stony Brook. Coming soon is another ~~unusual~~ exhibit-----an invitational show by alumni of the University. It seems only natural then that I should be talking with Aldona Jonaitis, who is both a graduate of the University and the head of the Department of Art. You received your bachelor's degree at Stony Brook and your Ph.D. at Columbia University, didn't you Professor Jonaitis.

INTERVIEW JONAITIS - Art Department
Art Gallery

THEME UP AND OUT

SUB RISOLI

THEME UP AND UNDER

That's most topical subjects
AFO LIVE: Next week, Here at Stony Brook will be talking about economics with Professor William Dawes, and we will celebrate Halloween by discussing witchcraft with Professor David Hicks of the Anthropology Department and by visiting a ...classroom in a cemetery with Gaynell Levine. Join us, won't you? Next Monday at 6 p.m. on WUSB. Until then, this is Al Oickle. So Long, everybody.
THEME UP AND OVER/ID 23:00