

HERE AT STONY BROOK - Monday, Feb. 27, 1984

THEME UP AND UNDER

Hi, everybody.

America appears to be coming out of the recession in [REDACTED] which it was locked the past several years. Franklin Roosevelt had the country singing "Happy Days Are Here Again" when he took office during the Great Depression of the 1930s. [REDACTED] Are happy days here again, in 1984?

Our guest today takes a long view of the economy of New York State and, sad to say, he's not really singing "Happy Days Are Here Again." Dr. Glenn Yago is assistant professor of sociology at the State University of New York at Stony Brook. He's been researching the industrial climate of New York State. And, [REDACTED] Dr. Yago, I guess [REDACTED] it's safe to say you have concluded that New York ought to pay more attention to saving its industry.

INTERVIEW DR. YAGO:

- Overview summary
- Job closures 2X new jobs---why?
- Regional overview: LI
Upstate
Metro
- Foreign competition (Canada, Europe, Asia)
- NYS efforts - describe
- High tech - SUSB and college connection (Sexton)
- Federal aid (same to all states?)
- What's ahead?

BRIDGE MUSIC

Next week, we'll be here to talk about volunteers and what makes them run with the author of a new book, titled, "If Not for Profit, for What?" And we'll talk with the author of a book about Ireland and the Irish...in celebration, of course, of St. Patrick's Day. Until then, this is Al Oickle. So long, everybody.
