

11:44:10
11:17:30

26:40

HERE AT STONY BROOK, Monday, April 18, 1983

THEME MUSIC UP AND ~~OUT~~ UNDER

AFO: This, this is our land, this is our people,
This that is neither a land nor a race. We must reap
The wind here in the grass for our soul's harvest:
Here we must eat our salt or our bones starve.
Here we must live or live only as shadows.
This is our race, we that have none, that have had
Neither the old walls nor the voices around us,
This is our land, this is our ancient ground,
The raw earth, the mixed bloods and the strangers...

THEME MUSIC OUT

The words are those of the late American poet, Archibald MacLeish, as written in his poem, "American Letter/ for Gerald Murphy." That poem, the sentiments, have important parts in a new American history written by David Burner.

Hi, everybody. This is Al Oickle. I'm with the Office of University News Services at the State University of New York ~~at~~ Stony Brook. And this program is called, "Here at Stony Brook." In a moment, we'll talk with David Burner about his new book, called "An American ~~P~~ Portrait." Later in this program, we will talk with Nancy Rothman and Judith Wishnia about a special program coming up, here at Stony Brook, called "School for a Day."

THEME UP AND OUT

David Burner is professor of history at the State

MORE

HERE AT STONY BROOK - April 18, 1983 - page 2

University of New York at Stony Brook. His earlier works have included a study of the Democratic Party in the 1920s study of and a/Herbert Hoover. His latest book is called "An American Portrait" and subtitled, "A history of the United States." It is a most unusual book. Recently, Dr. Burner and I sat down in an office on the ~~Stony Brook~~ campus, here at Stony Brook. Telephones were ringing, and ~~typewriters~~ ^g clicking away as we spoke.

PICK UP PRERECORDED TAPE 18:50

PICK UP PETE SEEGER DISC with "We Shall Overcome"...play about 1 minute and MUSIC UNDER

AFO: Pete Seeger's singing of "We Shall Overcome" was recorded in 1963 at a live concert at Carnegie Hall. The ~~words lyrics~~ lyrics are published as part of the historical record in "An American Portrait," a new history by David Burner of the Stony Brook faculty.

~~SEGER MUSIC UP AND OUT~~

~~THEME UP/PICK UP PRERECORDED TAPE 18:50~~

AFO: College, everybody knows, is for kids, right? Wrong. College is for people who want to expand their experiences in education... more than at any age. Indeed, ~~more than~~ 10 per cent of the undergraduate student body at the State University of New York at Stony Brook is 25 or older.

Nancy Rothman, a counselor in the Office of Undergraduate ~~Studies~~

Studies, heads up the Returning Students Network. And ^{Dr.} Judith Wishnia assistant

^{is herself a former returning student.} professor in woman's studies, To help encourage the older student to consider returning to college, they are planning the annual

"School for a Day" program.

PICK UP PRERECORDED TAPE 8:20

HERE AT STONY BROOK April 18, 1983 - 3

THEME UP AND UNDER

Next week, Here at Stony Brook will talk with the Russian violinist, Lazar Gosman, who has joined the music faculty, here at Stony Brook. We'll also talk with Lester Paldy, dean of continuing education, about a special spring program that is bringing to campus three officials from the Soviet Mission to the United Nations. I hope you'll join us then. Until next week, this is Al Oickle. So long, everybody.

XXXXX

HERE AT STONY BROOK, Monday, April 18, 1983

THEME MUSIC UP AND ~~DOWN~~ UNDER

AFO: This, this is our land, this is our people,
This that is neither a land nor a race. We must reap
The wind here in the grass for our soul's harvest:
Here we must eat our salt or our bones starve.
Here we must live or live only as shadows.
This is our race, we that have none, that have had
Neither the old walls nor the voices around us,
This is our land, this is our ancient ground,
The raw earth, the mixed bloods and the strangers...

THEME MUSIC OUT

The words are those of the late American poet, Archibald MacLeish, as written in his poem, "American Letter/ for Gerald Murphy." That poem, the sentiments, have important parts in a new American history written by David Burner.

Hi, everybody. This is Al Oickle. I'm with the Office of University News Services at the State University of New YORK AT Stony Brook. And this program is called, "Here at Stony Brook." In a moment, we'll talk with David Burner about his new book, called "An American Portrait." Later in this program, we will talk with Nancy Rothman and Judith Wishnia about a special program coming up, here at Stony Brook, called "School for a Day."

THEME UP AND OUT

David Burner is professor of history at the State

HERE AT STONY BROOK - April 18, 1983 - page 2

University of New York at Stony Brook. His earlier works have included a study of the Democratic Party in the 1920s study of and a/Herbert Hoover. His latest book is called "An American Portrait" and subtitled, "A history of the United States." It is a most unusual book. Recently, Dr. Burner and I sat down in an office on the ~~Stony Brook~~ campus, here at Stony Brook. Telephones were ringing, and typewriters clicking away as we spoke.

PICK UP PRERECORDED TAPE 18:50

PICK UP PETE SEEGER DISC with "We Shall Overcome"...play about 1 minute and MUSIC UNDER

AFO: Pete Seeger's singing of "We Shall Overcome" was recorded in 1963 at a live concert at Carnegie Hall. The ~~wordaxlyritex~~ lyrics are published as part of the historical record in "An American Portrait," a new history by David Burner of the Stony Brook faculty.

~~SEGER UP AND OUT~~

~~SEGER UP/RISE UP PRERECORDED XROTHMAN/WISHNIA XENTREVIEWX~~
AFO: College, everybody knows, is for kids, right? Wrong. College is for people who want to expand their experiences in education... more than at any age. Indeed, ~~10~~ 10 per cent of the undergraduate student body at the State University of New York at Stony Brook is 25 or older. Nancy Rothman, a counselor in the Office of Undergraduate ~~Studies~~ Dr. Studies, heads up the Returning Students Network. And/Judith Wishnia assistant a/professor in woman's studies. To help encourage the older student to consider returning to college, they are planning the annual "School for a Day" program.

PICK UP PRERECORDED TAPE 8:20

HERE AT STONY BROOK April 18, 1983 - 3

THEME UP AND UNDER

Next week, Here at Stony Brook will talk with the Russian violinist, Lazar Gosman, who has joined the music faculty, here at Stony Brook. We'll also talk with Lester Paldy, dean of continuing education, about a special spring program that is bringing to campus three officials from the Soviet Mission to the United Nations. I hope you'll join us then. Until next week, this is Al Oickle. So long, everybody.

~~THEME UP AND ^{XXXXX} OUT~~

~~RECORDED ID~~