HEALTH SCIENCES CENTER JUNE 2007 CLASS SCHEDULE:

You may find some short classes that meet one time in the attached schedule. Here are a couple - Finding Information About Physicians and Other Healthcare Providers This class gives sources that help us to make an informed decision about choosing a provider.

Photoshop (one class Introduction and one Intermediate) These classes deal with preparing photos for inclusion in PowerPoint presentations for work and home presentations!

HABITAT FOR HUMANITY:

Beginning next week you will notice posters all over the library (also at other locations on campus!) about Stony Brook House '07. The Library is participating and selling raffle tickets beginning on May 30 - payday. The prize is MONEY!

2 GRAND PRIZES OF $1,000 2 SECOND PRIZES OF $500
8 THIRD PRIZES OF $250

The cost of each ticket is $10.00. Although there is room for one name on the ticket stub for drawing it could be split between a couple of people. Then the cost would then be $5.00. You can write the share holders names on your part of the ticket and make a copy of the number for everyones records!

See you on payday when we all have some money available. Maryanne and another member of our library staff TBD will be selling tickets!

MEMORIAL DAY:

A day to memorialize those who fought for the USA and were involved in any role for the military. A day to hang our flags. A day to participate in parades. A day to prepare picnic food and get together with family + friends. A day to remember our freedom. A day to hope for an end to war. A day to try to settle our differences with words instead of weapons.

Enjoy whatever you do!
