1. 2006 University Senate Survey

The University Senate is conducting another survey among the faculty and professional staff in order to determine priority concerns for the University. A similar survey was conducted in 2003, so we will be comparing results with the previous survey to determine changes in campus attitudes and perceptions. All responses are non-attributable, and are only summarized at the highest organizational level (e.g., College).

This year, the survey is available only on-line at <http://naples.cc.sunysb.edu/DoIT/senatesurvey.nsf/survey>

Please take the time to respond. The survey should take only about 15-20 minutes to complete, and a high response rate will make the results more meaningful.

2. Blackboard Instructors - Students will be removed from Fall 2005 Blackboard Courses on March 17th!

March 17th is an important day, not only for the Irish, but for Stony Brook Blackboard users! On Friday, March 17th, we will be deleting all rosters from Fall 2005 Blackboard courses. (Course content will remain, but all students will be removed.)

*IF you are teaching a class that does not follow the normal semester schedule (perhaps it overlaps semesters) , you must contact us before Wednesday March 15th.

When rosters are removed, ALL GRADES, student file submissions and student webpages disappear from your course.

If you have not already done so, download your gradebook and any files that students may have submitted either via the digital dropbox or assignment manager!

For more information on how you can download your gradebook, visit:

6. Employee Assistance Program Lunchtime Learning Have You Ever Wondered What Divorce Mediation Is?

Whether or not you or someone you know is considering ending a relationship, join us to learn about divorce mediation, the gentler, less expensive alternative to the traditional, litigated divorce. Studies have demonstrated that families of spouses who have mediated their divorce fare much better than those who have litigated. Mediation can also be helpful for couples or partners who are not legally married.

At this workshop guest speakers Harriet Gerber, attorney and mediator, and Lawrence Gulino, school mental health practitioner and mediator, will explain what you need to do to get a legal separation and/or divorce in New York, the differences between the mediated and litigated divorce, and how to protect the children.

March 15, 2006 - 12:00 to 1:00 p.m. Wang Center Rm. 101

15. Women's Studies presents Dr. Annemarie Mol, Dept. of Philosophy, University Twente, Netherlands, Thur, 3/2, 4:30 pm Humanities Institute, Rm. 1008

The Logic of Care: Active Patients, Capricious Technology and the Limits of Choice
The ideal of autonomous patient choice has invaded health care a quite remarkable achievement given the fact that patients tend to be bothered by a disease. And diseases happen to us, quite irrespective of whether we want them or have painstakingly tried to stay healthy. The logic of choice (of which the ideal of patient choice is a part) does not only forget the erratic character of disease, but also the erratic character of technology. In this presentation, stories assembled in a Dutch hospital clinic for people with diabetes type 1 will be used to articulate what the logic of care might be about. Sponsored by: The Institute for Medicine in Society, The Department of Comparative Literature and Cultural Studies and the Department of Psychology.

1. BUDDIE Week

Every year, the office of Disability Support Services sponsors BUDDIE Week (BECAUSE U DON'T DO IT EVERY DAY.) The purpose of this activity is to sensitize the Stony Brook campus community on issues surrounding disabilities. Since 1989, BUDDIE Week provides administrators, faculty and staff with the opportunity to learn how students with disabilities experience life on campus. Buddies are asked to accompany a student during part of one of the days, meet for lunch or spend some time together; whatever is appropriate and possible for you and the student. This year, we are recruiting new buddies who would be interested in participating in this important event. If you could set aside an hour or two on the week of March 27, 2006, please call Stephanie Patterson at 2-6748. We hope that you will be able to participate in this activity and look forward to your response. Thanks!

3. Legendary Singer/Songwriter Jack Hardy appears at The University Cafe on Sunday, March 5th at 2 P.M. Antje Duvokot opens.

The University Caf's Sunday Acoustic series (co-sponsored by WUSB-FM) features singer-songwriter Jack Hardy on Sunday, March 5th at 2 P.M.

It is fitting that Jack plays the Cafe just before St. Patrick's Day since his music has a strong Celtic base, although with a real twist. The world of Jack Hardy (as evidenced in his fourteen CD releases) sees themes of the American experience and the ballads and jigs of Celtic ancestors co-existing with powerful songs of trenchant political commentary.

Hardy is well-known for his stewardship of Fast Folk Musical Magazine, where he launched the careers of Suzanne Vega, John Gorka, Shawn Colvin, Richard Shindell and many others.

Antje Duvokot, back by audience acclaim following her recent appearance with Ellis Paul at The Cafe, will open.

Admission is $ 20.00 (student rate of $15.00.) For ticket information/reservations call The University Cafe at 631-632-6027 or e mail (gpalaia@notes.cc.sunysb.edu).

7. Mughal-E-Azam (The Great Moghul) Wednesday, March 1, 7:00 p.m., Wang Theater

Set in the 16th century, the film brings to spectacular life the beloved tale of the doomed love affair between the Mughal Crown Prince Saleem (Dilip Kumar) and the mesmerizing, ill-fated court dancer Anarkali (Madhubala), whose fervor and intensity perpetrate a war between the Prince and his father the great Mughal Emperor Akbar (Prithviraj Kapoor), and threatens to bring an empire to its knees. Opulent and grandiose, this film is one of India's top tens best as well as the costliest. Blending historical fact with popular legend, the tumultuous conflict between passionate love and duty to empire unfolds in grand operatic style. (K. Asif/1960/198

2. Integrative Asthma Care And Prevention

The Division of Wellness and Chronic will be conducting a three-part series on Integrative Asthma Care and Prevention for participants twelve years of age and older.

Participants are examined and evaluated individually to assess asthma severity and current treatment regimen.

Group discussions review state-of-the-art medical management; asthma triggers; prevention; and proper use of inhalers, spacers and peak flow meters. Participants receive information relating to how nutrition with whole foods can modify the symptoms of allergies and inflammation. Also discussed is the value and safety of some nutritional supplements and herbs used for allergies and asthma. Training in basic breathing exercises, yoga postures, self-hypnosis, meditation and guided imagery is included.

The series is scheduled for Wednesdays, March 8, 15, 22, 2006 between 4:30 - 6:30 p.m., 33 Research Way, Stony Brook Technology Park. Most insurance plans accepted with appropriate co-payment for each visit.

To register, please call 631.444.9815.
