Wednesday, May 2, 12:40: p.m.-2:10 p.m.

Join us on the Academic Mall For this special day of food, fun, and festivities.

In its second year, Fountain Fest is already becoming one of the premier events of the spring semester. Its a time when students, faculty, and staff celebrate the return of warmer weather, indulge in strawberry treats, and rediscover a commonality with their fellow campus community members. A host of varied activities, as well as demonstrations by Stony Brooks many clubs and organizations, make it a festive and culturally rich university experience unlike any other.

Strawberry Fest - Opens at 11 a.m. From shortcake to frappes, indulge in fresh strawberries.

Diversity Programs - Enjoy The Color of Helping Hands, a rich, multi-cultural experience, from a variety of student groups.

Wellness Fair - See sports demonstrations and get free blood pressure screenings.

WBLI Live Broadcast - Dance to todays hottest hits, win prizes at giveaways.

Stony Brook Big Band Jazz Ensemble - Hear acclaimed saxophonist Dan Faulk and his group of talented musicians.

Volunteer Opportunities - Find out how you can make a difference from representatives of local service organizations.

15. Rescheduled Robin Becker Poetry Reading

Tuesday, May 1, 2001 at 4:30pm
The Poetry Center at Stony Brook
Humanities Building, Room 239

This is the rescheduled March 6, 2001 reading which was canceled due to snow.

Robin Becker will be reading from her latest book The Horse Fair, part of the Pitt Poetry Series from the University of Pittsburgh Press. Becker asks questions about citizenship and participation in the marketplaces -- of bodies, of ideas, of objects ? in which we function. She investigates how individuals marginalized by gender, religion, and sexual preference negotiate public and private spheres while inventing sustainable communities.

Becker's fourth collection, All-American Girl, won the 1996 Lambda Literary Award in Lesbian Poetry. She has also won the 1997 Virginia Faulkner Prize for Excellence in Writing from Prairie Schooner magazine. Her poems and book reviews have appeared in publications including American Poetry Review, Gettysburg Review, and Ploughshares. For info call 631-632-9983 or e-mail aunger@notes.cc.sunysb.edu.
