1. All Summer 2006 Classes are in Blackboard... BUT Instructors need to "activate" them

Attention Instructors: You no longer need to request your Blackboard class accounts!

Procedures for requesting Blackboard Course accounts have changed!

If you have not already requested a Blackboard course for Summer and/or Fall 2006, please note that you no longer need to do so.

Effective immediately, all Summer Courses are in Blackboard, but need to be activated by an instructor/TA before students can access them.

All instructors and TA's who are listed as instructors/ta's in Peoplesoft for a course should see that course when they log into Blackboard.

5. Mastering Performance Reviews

Just as faculty members evaluate students on their performance in courses through papers, tests, classroom discussion, etc., managers evaluate employees on the quality and quantity of their work performance. These evaluations are made every day, every week, every month, depending on how closely the manager works with or observes his/her employees. These informal ratings form the basis for what we now call the more formal "performance appraisal" or "performance review".

This program is designed to:

Clarify the manager's role as a communicator, counselor and mentor.

Guide the manager through the process: from preparing for and conducting the appraisal session, to concluding the appraisal session, with follow-up.

Target Audience: Managers and supervisors responsible for managing the performance of others.

Date: May 23rd; Time: 9:30 am - 12:30 pm

7. Positive Communication

Life is full of sticky situations, packed with difficult conversations and loaded with confrontation. Confrontation affects our relationships (both professional and personal), our image and our self-esteem. It is not the confrontation; its what we do with it that makes the difference.

Program Objectives:

Identify how you typically respond when you confront someone

Define Positive Confrontation, and determine when you should use it

Through role play activities, practice using the skills discussed

This is an intermediate workshop.

Date: May 31st; Time: 9:30am - 12:30pm
