

Campus Announcements - Week of 01/22/01

Campus Announcements for the week of January 22, 2001

Upgrade Lotus Notes Client

There was a great response to last weeks announcement of the need to upgrade to Notes R5. Several hundred upgrades were accomplished, but there are some still using the older version. If you are now running R5, then you have our thanks and you can ignore the rest of this announcement. (If you have the dark green menu bar and the icon and bookmark bar on the far left you are on R5)

For those not yet on R5 the deadline has been extended. Please try the upgrade instructions below. If you encounter problems call DoIT Client Support at 2-9800, someone will help you through any difficulties.

Again, we will be monitoring the status of upgrades and contacting those who are still using the R4.x clients. All Notes users cannot realize all the benefits of Notes R5 until everyone is using it.

First, check to make sure your machine is capable of running R5. It should be at least a Pentium (Windows 95,98,Me, NT, 2000) or PowerPC (Mac OS 8.5 or above) 133 MHz with 32 MB of memory and 200 MB free disk space. Then, use the instructions at <http://naples.cc.sunysb.edu/doit.nsf/pages/r5quick> to do the upgrade.

Computer Music "Earfest" Concert Wed.Feb. 7th, 8 pm At The Staller Center- Free!

Earfest IV: Festival of Tape Music - February 7th at the Staller Center

Beat back the winter blahs with unique sonic visions from established and emerging composers, on Wednesday, February 7, at 8:00 pm in the Recital Hall of the Staller Center for the Arts. The artists, sculpting in sound with computers and electronics, build very personal statements which can reach everyone. By turns heartbreaking and humorous, lofty and loopy -- come hear how expressive loudspeakers can be! Lighthearted commentary from Dan Weymouth, the Music Department's Computer Music Director, will make this a "User-Friendly Production". Admission to the concert is free; donations are accepted at the door.

To receive a free Music Department Concert Brochure or to be added to our mailing list, call and leave a message at (631) 632-7330; fax: (631) 632-7404; or email: music@notes.sunysb.edu.

For a complete listing of upcoming concerts, visit our web page: <http://www.sunysb.edu/music>.

Program In Writing And Rhetoric - Candidate's Talk For Writing Center Director

The Coherent Tourist: Teaching Students the Local Language.
Talk led by June Griffin, Professor of English, University of Virginia.

Date: Friday, January 26th
Time: 10:30 ? 11:30 AM
Place: Conference Room HUM 157

For many students, writing papers in an unfamiliar discipline can be like traveling to foreign lands: bewildering at best and likely produce communication problems. As teachers and tutors we can help our students to avoid many of these communication problems by showing them how an awareness of the relationship between a reader's knowledge (of the topic and of the local conventions) and his or her understanding can act as a guide for their writing. In her talk, June Griffin will describe three components of coherence (one structural, two--roughly speaking--cultural), focusing on how her theories can be useful to classroom instruction and to one-to-one tutoring.
