2. 2010 Stony Brook Program Assessment Institute

Assessment is a crucial component of our educational landscape as Universities face increasing accountability and scrutiny from government, accreditors, and funding agencies. Program assessment focuses on student learning to determine whether students have acquired the skills, knowledge, and competencies associated with their program of study. To meet the needs to improve program assessment, a hands-on Institute facilitated by Dr. Daniel Apple will be held on Feb. 19 and March 19, 2010 at Wang Center.

During this Institute, participants will produce a program assessment that:

Helps meet program goals and standards

Clarifies program processes, systems and structures

Significantly benefits the program

Evidences qualities of the program by key outcomes

Registration is open to Department teams that might include:

Department Chairperson

Undergraduate Program Director
Graduate Program Director
Curriculum Committee Member
Accreditation Committee Member
Faculty
Assessment Staff (e.g., Assistant to Chair, Assessment Coordinator)
To register online, please go to: <https://tlt.stonybrook.edu/Pages/Assessment.aspx>

10. Excellence Without a Soul

A Conversation about Undergraduate Education with Harry Lewis, Gordon McKay Professor of Computer Science, Harvard College Professor

Thursday, February 25, 9:30am - 11am

S1460 Frank Melville Jr. Memorial Library, Faculty Center Conference Room

The talk will be streamed live to The Faculty Center Conference room.

The fundamental purpose of undergraduate education is to turn young people into adults who will take responsibility for society, believes Lewis. Come participate in a discussion about this goal and whether modern concepts of assessment and customer satisfaction, as well as an instrumental approach that students are seemingly forced to take toward learning, have displaced our teaching mission.

5. Wang Center Gift Shop Has Bargains on Laga Bags - Handmade by tsunami survivors

Rarely do beauty, affordability, and doing good come together in one place. But they have, here, in the Laga totes and structured duffels available for amazingly low prices at the Wang Center Gift Shop.

You'll find Abadi totes, in burgundy/cream, for $69 (elsewhere $145), and Utama travel bags in black/cream for $110 (elsewhere $200). These are perfect bags, not seconds, directly from the Laga workrooms.

Laga bags are handmade by women who survived the 2004 tsunami in Indonesia. Each bag is unique, with cream or black embroidery in beautifully complex designs.

We have just a few of each style, and once they're gone, that's it. As one customer put it, "If you're going to use a handbag anyway, why not carry one that helps rebuild lives?"

The Wang Center Gift Shop is open Monday-Friday, from 12 noon to 5pm, right across from Jasmine Restaurant.
