Subject Virus Alert

Symantec has issued a level 1 threat advisory for a new virus that is transmitted via email as an attachment. The message may appear to be from Microsoft with text that states that clicking on the attachment will update your computer's operating system and protect it against the blaster virus.
DO NOT CLICK ON THE ATTACHMENT. SIMPLY DELETE THE MESSAGE.

As a general rule you should never launch an attachment without scanning it for potential viruses. For more information, on this and other viruses visit the Symantec web site:
