3. October is Domestic Violence Awareness Month

Domestic Violence affects the lives and compromises the safety of thousands of New York State employees each day. Stony Brook University is committed to creating a safe work environment for all employees. If you have a question or concern about yourself or a coworker, contact our EAP staff and/or University Police for information and support. We are here to help. To support victims of domestic violence you can place your personal cell phone that is no longer used along with charges, and batteries in the boxes located at the Human Resource Services offices. You can also visit the informational tables at various locations. For details and resources, please click on the EAP Web site.

5. Film Research

So you want to write about movies? We'll show you how interesting and wide-ranging film research really is. Find where the peer-reviewed articles on film are - and aren't, searching for films and scenes by image, sound and keyword, online film archives, finding reviews, organizations, schools and institutes, film buffs, film blogs, film nuts and number crunching, and what's a movie, anyway: TV, video and the internet. Wednesday, October 13 @ 1:30 PM. Register @ <http://www.library.stonybrook.edu/workshops>.

6. Education Research Skills at the Graduate Study Level

If these statements sound familiar, you need to attend this workshop. "I've been attending this school for 5 years but I've never been up to the stacks." "I'm starting to write my graduate thesis and I'm not sure where to start." "My professor gave back my thesis outline and said that I have to use only scholarly sources." "Can you please read over my paper to check it for spelling and grammar?" Learn how to: narrow down your subject areas, do a literature review in your field, find books in STARS, use the library's education subject guide databases to find articles, do a search of the above databases with a federated search engine called Galaxy, and find other library resources such as e-books, research guides by subject area. Wednesday, October 13 @ 6 PM Online and On Campus. Register @ <http://www.library.stonybrook.edu/workshops>.

5. Confucius Institute Presents The Sixth Generation Directors:Urban Themes in Contemporary China "Suzhou River"Free Film and Discussion Wednesday 10/13/10

Suzhou River is a film noir by writer/director Lou Ye, a provocative love story set in contemporary Shanghai. The film is an example of "Sixth Generation" Chinese Filmmakers in its subject matter of present day China's gritty urban experience.

A videographer whose girlfriend, Meimei, has left him, once again, wanders the streets of Shanghai, narrating stories about the people he sees around the Suzhou River. He relates the story of Mardar, a motorcycle courier, who has just been released from jail for kidnapping his teenage girlfriend, Moudan. Having discovered that Marder betrayed her, Moudan jumped into the Suzhou River. The devastated Marder refused to believe Moudan had drowned and eventually thinks he's found her, now performing a mermaid act in a nightclub. But the narrator of the story tells him she's his Meimei. Which of them is right?

3. Hand-Forged Padlocks (yep, padlocks) at the Wang Center Gift Shop

Some of the more unusual items found recently at the International Gift Fair were some beautiful, hand-forged padlocks from India, and we have just a few in the shop. Padlocks, you wonder? Why padlocks?

Well, you've got to see them they're works of art! They gleam, they're sturdy, and they work. Each has a pair of handmade keys. And one is a masterpiece with a trick locking mechanism. The best part is: they're priced from only $15 to $23 apiece!

These are some of the most unique items we've ever had and they won't last long, so come for them ASAP.

Every day we offer free samples of special tea to sip as you look around. The shop is open Tuesday - Friday, from 12 noon to 4pm. Hope to see you soon!
