

Michael Mackiewicz/Lib

10/31/2002 05:12 PM

To Library Staff

cc

bcc

Subject Reminder: System Outage

Dear Staff:

This is a reminder that our production Library Server Magellan will not be available all day on Friday, November 1. The hardware is being upgraded with additional disk space capacity in preparation for installing the next version of Aleph, hosting the Health Science Center Library and improving response time. The hardware upgrade is expected to take about 8 hours and depending how fast the installation proceeds the possibility exists that the system will not be available for part of Saturday, Nov. 2 as well.

There will be no access to the Staff Menu, reports or any modules within the Aleph client. Patrons will not be able to access our catalog. Instead, patrons will be automatically redirected to WorldCat from our Library home page as a temporary measure. The public thin client stations will remain available for Internet browsing only.

Mike
Library Systems
2-1108