03. Workshops/Courses/Training

1. How to Use EBSCO Multiple Database Search

The library's new combined search system, Galaxy, allows you to search over 100 library resources simultaneously. Learn how to use Galaxy to quickly and effectively locate the information you need. In this workshop, you will: understand the power of Galaxy as a research and discovery tool, construct effective and productive searches in Galaxy, navigate from citations in Galaxy to the full-text available elsewhere, and email and print information from Galaxy. Monday, April 12 @ 12:30 PM. Register @

<http://www.stonybrook.edu/library/services/instruction/workshops.htm>.

Submitted by: Yuet Tran/Lib

2. Small Business Development Center Free Monthly Series

The SBDC is presenting a workshop on biodiesel/ethanol, the fourth in a series. Research and business experts will share their experiences and product innovations with the public. The workshop will take place on Wednesday, April 14, from 9:00 am to noon in Building 17, Room 145 in the Research and Development Park. Registration is at 8:30 am. Sponsors include the Bethpage Federal Credit Union, Brookhaven National Laboratory, and H2M. For advance registration call (631) 632-9837 or e-mail Leslie.Rurup@stonybrook.edu. All workshops are free.

Submitted by: Glenn Jochum/UAff

3. Film Research

So you want to write about movies? We'll show you how interesting and wide-ranging film research really is. Learn the followings: find where the peer-reviewed articles on film are - and aren't, searching for films and scenes by image, sound and keyword, online film archives, finding reviews, organizations, schools and institutes, film buffs, film blogs, film nuts and number crunching, and what's a movie, anyway: TV, video and the internet. Tuesday, April 13 @ 1:00 PM. Register @ <http://www.stonybrook.edu/library/services/instruction/workshops.htm>.

Submitted by: Yuet Tran/Lib

4. Extra! Extra! Become an Expert at Finding New & Historic Newspaper Articles!

This session examines ways to find current and historical articles in newspapers. We'll look at newspapers available online through the library, what's on the web, and at hundreds of historic newspapers available on microfilm. In this workshop, you will: become familiar with the odd nature of newspaper indexing, effectively search online newspaper resources, effectively use print resources for locating older articles, find, display, and print articles from the library's online newspaper collections, and find, display, and copy articles from the library's microform collection of newspapers. Thursday, April 15 @ 3:00 PM. Register @ <http://www.stonybrook.edu/library/services/instruction/workshops.htm>.

6. EAP Lunchtime Learning: Identity Theft

Identity theft is the unlawful use of an individual's personal identification information. Identity thieves steal information such as your name, social security number, driver's license information, or bank and credit card accounts and use the information to establish credit, make purchases, apply for loans or even seek employment. The Attorney General's Office representative will go over tips consumers can apply in everyday life that will help protect their personal information.

Guest speaker, Brian Herrington

9. Sign Up for Upcoming Safe Space Training! April 15, 2010

A Safe Space is a place where Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, Queer and Questioning (LGBTQ) people can be themselves, be supported, be respected, be valued and receive the appropriate information and resources. A safe Space is a place where it is not acceptable to use biased language or to judge people. Why get Involved? The truth is that we are not as sensitized to LGBTQ biases in the same respect we are of biases against other minority groups. Many times biases against LGBTQ people slip under the radar. Safe Space Training will give you the tools to recognize these biases and ensure that Stony Brook continues to become a more inclusive place for everyone. Take the First Step! Become a Member on April 15, 2010 starting at 1pm-5pm at schomberg Commons. Register at <http://naples.cc.sunysb.edu/training/hrclasses.nsf/wc0042>

10. Graduate Grant Writing Workshop

Today's economic climate is just one example of how it is becoming increasingly important for those in graduate degree programs to have a working knowledge of the grant process. This workshop will feature two Stony Brook faculty members: Michael Hadjiargyrou, Associate Professor of Biomedical Engineering, Genetics, and Orthopaedics and Associate Vice President for Research and Robert Crease, Chairman of the Department of Philosophy. Also represented on the panel will be a member of the Research Foundation and three graduate fellows who have been successful in obtaining either National Science Foundation or Fulbright Grants. The workshop is designed to provide the graduate students an overview of the grant process and a forum to ask and discuss the various components that are involved in creating a successful proposal. Both the Sciences and Humanities will be discussed and all are encouraged to attend. Tuesday, April 20 at 2pm in SAC 303

6. Tom Russell, legendary singer-songwriter, at The University Cafe Sunday June 6th at 7:00 P.M.

Next to Bob Dylan, Tom Russell may well be the outstanding singer-songwriter of our time. His songs have been recorded by Johnny Cash, Nanci Griffith, Iris Dement, Ian Tyson, Jerry Jeff Walker, Dave Van Ronk and many others. His twenty-five albums bear witness to his songwriting craft and his latest release, Blood and Candle Smoke, emerged on many critics "best of" lists for 2009. Five appearances on David Letterman have acquainted television audiences with this national treasure of a performer.

Advance sale at www.universitycafe.org for $22 until Wednesday, June 2nd with no service charge. Tickets at the door (if available) $ 27.00
