Subject Provost's Lecture this afternoon

Colleagues,

Who Owns Ideas?, the final event in the Provost's Lecture Series for this semester will take place this afternoon at 4:30 in the SAC Auditorium. Four prominent experts will participate in a panel discussion on intellectual property and electronic publishing. The speakers are Donald Lindberg, Director of the National Library of Medicine; Martin Blume, Editor-in-Chief of the American Physical Review; Kenneth Richieri, General Counsel of New York Times Digital; and Siva Vaidhyanathan, cultural historian and author of Copyrights and Copywrongs. The moderator will be Peter Williams, Vice-Dean for Academic Affairs, School of Medicine.

Please pass this information along to any students you feel may be interested in attending.

Thank you,
Robert McGrath, Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs
