Subject Two Events in the Provost's Lecture Series This Week

Colleagues,

There will be two events in the Provost's Lecture Series this week.

On Tuesday, April 1st, Murray Gell-Mann will speak on "Simplicity vs. Complexity, Regularity vs. Randomness" at 4:15 in Harriman Hall 137. Gell-Mann is a Nobel Laureate in Physics, a Distinguished Fellow at the Santa Fe Institute, and the author of "The Quark and the Jaguar: Adventures in the Simple and Complex."

On Wednesday, April 2nd, Francois Noudelmann, President of the College International de Philosophie, Paris, will speak on "French Anti-Americanism and the Question of the Shoah/Holocaust" at 4:30 in SAC 302.

The calendar of events for the Provost's Lecture Series can be found on the web at www.stonybrook.edu/sb/provlec.shtml.

Please pass along this information to any students you feel may be interested.

- Robert L. McGrath, Provost and Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs
