Subject Provost's Lecture: The People Speak

Colleagues,

This Wednesday the Provost's Lecture Series will feature "The People Speak: America Debates its Role in the World" at 12:40 p.m. in Lecture Hall 2 of the Wang Center.

A panel of experts on global affairs will lead a debate on a number of issues promoted by the recent events in Iraq, including the pros and cons of military intervention and the significance of international law. David Hicks, Associate Provost and Professor of Anthropology will serve as moderator. The panel will include James Klurfeld, Vice President and Editor of Editorial Pages of Newsday, Daniel Varisco, Chair of the Anthropology Department at Hofstra, and Stony Brook's Mario Mignone, Department of European Languages, Literatures and Cultures, Wolf Schafer, Department of History, and Michael Schwartz and Jackie Smith, Department of Sociology.

A reception immediately following the panel discussion will be held in the Wang Center Chapel.

Please pass along this announcement to anyone you feel may be interested in attending.

Thank you,
Robert McGrath, Provost & Executive Vice President for Academic Affairs
