This Week at Stony Brook Southampton

3/2/09-3/8/09; vol. 3, issue 6

Quote of the Week: "This is just training for the 'real' work. Our vegetable seeds come in two weeks, and this is all we can do to get prepared. We've expanded and were able to get everything we wanted this semester. ... There are over 80 varieties of fruits and vegetables coming. Until then, there are well over 2000 plugs of petunias and impatiens to be transplanted. But without all the help on such short notice, none of this would be possible."

—Julia Hryvniak (pictured, right), President of the Organic Garden and Greenhouse Club, about getting ready for springtime plantings on campus. Numerous students helped with the project this past Thursday and Friday at the Greenhouse.

Did You Know??

The NYS Safe Boating Course will be held at the Southampton Marine Station, Tuesdays, March 17, 24, and 31, from 6 to 9 p.m. This is a required course for those wishing to take out SoMAS boats for research/class purposes, and for all those wishing to sign out recreational boats at Southampton. The cost is $10 for the certificate. The instructor is an experienced Town of East Hampton Constable, Capt. Dale Petruska. You will learn the rules/procedures of the safe operation of boats and personal watercraft. After the course, we will provide training on our boats. Please let Richard McIntyre know if you will attend; x2-5020. Pictured: SBS's Freedom 45 sailboat.

From the Kitchen: The suggestion box is now an e-mail address! Write to SBSouthampton.Chef@gmail.com for any of your kitchen needs.

Have you been caught Green-handed? Eco-Reps around campus will be on the lookout for students fulfilling their green good deeds. Recycling, picking up litter, or simply any form of promoting the ways of green life will help get you a "Greenbuck," which can win you a prize at the end of RecycleMania. The more you obtain, the better for you -- and the environment!

The Writing Center has reopened! The spring schedule is as follows: Monday 2-5, Tuesday 4-8, Wednesday 4-8, Thursday 12-8. Writing coaches are available in room 106 of the Technology Center (right across from Chancellors Hall) to help students with academic and extra-curricular projects. Writing coaches are also available to help faculty incorporate writing into their courses. For more information, or to schedule an appointment, visit: <http://www.stonybrook.edu/sb/southampton/writingcenter.shtml>

Tutoring Schedules are being set up, Mondays through Thursdays, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in Atlantic Hall. Information for all available class tutors, days, and times are located at the front desk. Come sign up today!
