7:21 p.m.-

A male resident reported that he had "something" in his pants. He said it "looked cool"

11:34 p.m.-

Two male residents at Schick reported that they were "spanking their monkeys." Residents were gone upon arrival of police. □

New Names to Remember

The L.G.B.T.A. (Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual and Transgender Association) has changed its name, but retained its acronym. The group will now be known as the Lost Girls and Boys Transit Authority.

Teaching Assistants (TAs) will now be known as DAs (DumbAsses). In a related story, graduate assistants (GAs) will be known as ODAs (Older DumbAsses).

The Faculty Student Association has taken on a new name. The new acronym and name will be the FRUSSIA — the Faculty Rules and the Students Simply suck Association.

Women is spelled women. Not womyn. Not wimmin. Not wymyn. WOMEN! (And "girl" is "girl" — not grll, not gurl. GIRL!) ... bunch of idiots.

The president's office in the Administration Building will now be known as the Kremlin. DA! It's true. (Editor's Note: The reporter who broke this story has disappeared. Perhaps that's because University Police has been renamed the KGB.)

The Student Polity Association (SPA) is also changing its name. It will now be called TMIOANOIY — This Money Is Ours And None Of It's Yours. Said current Polity president Annette Hicks, "Nothing changes, really. It'll be the same as it's ever been. The students are really stupid."

The Latin-American Student Association (LASO) is keeping its name, but is undertaking a new theme: The Old West. As a result, they are indiscriminantly changing their acronym to LASSO.

HSO, AASO, and all the other _SOs are forming a union called the United Students Association — the USO.

SB-VAC (no one know what it actually stands for) is changing its name. It will now be known as the LSRH — Last Stop on the Road to Hell.

The Italian-American Club will now be known as We Are People, Too (WAP II).

The Chinese American Student Board (CASB — kaz'-bè) announced that their beliefs that Americans are all "decadent" was wrong. As a result, they are changing their name to WANNA-B.

Environmental Health and Safety admitted they have fire drills at 2 a.m. for nothing but "shits and giggles" said Stony Brook Fire Marshall Bill. "Let me show ya suntin'!" he screamed as we briskly walked away.

Club India, in light of the constant eruption of violence at their numerous events, is renaming themselves Club Indians. Said president Ali Baba Hannoush Jihad Islama (pretend you're in 7-Eleven), "What do you want me to do? I am only one person. My family has been disgrace by this disturbing impropriety."

Polity has announced the formation of the Short, Fat, Balding White Guy Association. According to PSC chair "My Dear" Nadira Chandan, there's nothing she can do to prevent the group from forming. Polity president Annette Hicks said, "White people suck. Word to th' mutha. Pow'r t' th' brutha! You go, grll! Kick dat flava! Fool!"

Finally, Hicks has announced the formation of the "I Hate White People" Organization. The group now has nearly 2,000 members, all of which hold some paid position in Polity. □

Polity Elections: Rosner Wins Everything³

By DOM BARSTEAD
Latesman Staff

After endless hours of torture by NYPIRG and other groups of flaming liberals, the votes in this year's Student Polity elections have been cast and tallied.

This year's big winner is current Polity vice-president, Nicole Rosner. Rosner swept the voting, being written in for every position up for election.

In the race for president, Rosner outpaced ballot candidates Keren "the Big Red" Zolotov and newcomer Kedar "I'm Going to Bomb That Place" Desai. Rosner captured 53 percent of the vote as a write-in. Zolotov received 22 percent and Desai received 1 percent. Sixteen percent of the students voting wrote "who cares" in the write-in section of the ballot. The other 8 percent of the responses were unintelligible.

Zolotov said, "I dink dat de elect-yones were feexed. Dees reeley sahks. I must return to Red Square to plaht my revenge." Desai could not be reached for comment because he was sleeping in class.

In the only other contested race, Rosner again beat out ballot candidates Monique "Overnight" Maylor and Joshua "Never Say" Prever. Rosner received more than 99 percent of the votes. A Latesman exit poll showed that students believe Rosner is the only Polity officer who has done anything in the last five years — perhaps longer.

Maylor received just under 1 percent of the vote and later said that the results were impossible because she had stuffed the ballot box. Prever could not be reached for comment, but his campaign spoke volumes.

For the position of secretary, unopposed candidate Kelvin "O.J.'s Not" Inocent also fell to Rosner by a 17 percent margin. You do the math. Inocent said nothing. He just shook his head and silently wept.

Rosner was also elected Senior Representative, edging co-write-in candidate Raoul "David" Duke and crushing no name "Dear" Abbey Nyamekye. Rosner tallied 41 percent of candidate Lata "Alligata" Jani. Only seven people voted in this race. Rosner claimed majority by a four to three margin.

Hail to the almighty victorious Nicole Rosner!

the votes; Duke, 37 percent; and Nakamichi, 14 percent. Duke said, "Rosner can lick me." Miyagi said, "Uhhh....can you spell my name right, please?"

The Junior Representative race was won by Rosner. She beat unopposed

The result was so embarrassing, we cannot report the numbers. Despite the shellacking, Ali said, "I am greatest! I am the greatest! I'm pretty. I'm so pretty!"

Referenda Items Go to Rosner

Finally, in an unprecedented turn of events, Rosner also won all the referenda items. The Roth Regatta increase, the Statesman increase, the USSA increase, the NYPIRG continuation, the PSC continuation, the SPA Security continuation, the 3-TV continuation, and the Hicks Embezzlement Fund all passed but somehow were credited to Rosner who will receive approximately $200,000 next year.

Rosner plans to start her own media conglomerate next year, including a newspaper (The Rosner Report) a radio station (WROZ) and a television station (Me-TV). The sole purpose of all Rosner's media outlets will be to promote Rosner and to campaign for the continuation of her referenda — kind of like NYPIRG, USSA, SPA Security and PSC.

"This rules!" said Rosner.

Other Exit Poll Results

The Latesman asked 4,500 of the 3,089 students that voted a number of questions. Here are the results.

As to whether they are getting the most out of their Student Activity Fee, 37 percent of the students said, "hell, no"; 28 percent said, "go to hell"; 35 percent just looked at us angrily (one woman kicked me in the 'nads) and Annette Hicks said "as long as I get my cut, who cares?"

When asked if they thought Polity was doing a good job, 26 percent said, "like it matters what I think" 68 percent said, "those thieves should be tarred and feathered"; 34 percent said "isn't Polity the name of that pirate's parrot?" and Hicks said, "as long as I get my cut ..."

Finally, when questioned regarding the election process, 24 percent just giggled, rolled a 'J' and started inhaling; 17 percent said Mickey Mantle; 35 percent said "go hang yourself"; 14 percent said "what election process?" 12 percent said "Crazy" Jimm Cronninn was a mentally masturbating lunatic; and Hicks said, "as long as I ..." □

Senate Passes Provost's Academic Plan

By CRACKER JACK
Latesman Staff

Provost Rollin Richmond flashed an enormous smile (among other things) after his Academic Plan unanimously passed vote the University Senate with hardly any discussion by a 42-17 at yesterday's SUNY Board of Trustees' meeting.

The plan becomes ineffective immediately and calls for the elimination, integration and humiliation of the University's arts and humanities departments, which included Africana Studies and History, in addition to the Art, English, Music, Theatre Arts and Road Paving.

"The plan's goal [editor's note: to be read "my bullshit line"] is to fulfill our beloved President Kenny's Five Year Task Force Plan of Stony Brook becoming a leading research institution in the nation," commented a shit-eating-grinning Richmond.

In addition, millions of dollars will be saved [editor's note: to be read "wasted on other useless projects"] from the elimination of these departments, Richmond said. "Tons of money can now be allocated to the sciences, which conduct valuable research that will make Stony Brook [editor's note: to be read "me"] famous."

With the elimination of these departments, Richmond, Va. outlined major changes that will occur in the fall. One of them is the giant 40-foot screen at Staller Center, where theatrical productions were before, will be used for slide shows of microbiology lectures and pornography showings for the older Physics faculty. "Those fascinating viruses will be humongous and would look awesome," Richmond added.

The plan will also enforce campus beautification; a well-kept lawn throughout the campus will be maintained, especially the center of the academic mall, which will be mowed mandatorily once a week. "I think we'll plant tulips, roses, and daffodils," described Richmond, waving his hands around like some kind of nutcase. "It's going to be bright and colorful. We'll have trimmed hedges in different shapes. Such a pretty sight I'm sure would attract new students to this university." Richmond batted his eyelashes several dozen times as he looked off upward into the distance.

"I'm so pleased Rollin's plan passed," Kenny said, pounding her fist on her desk in the Kremlin and cackling.

"Finally, we get rid of those departments that don't bring in research grants to this University. They don't help pay my maid service, limousine service, rent, massages, manicures, weekly new wardrobe, wet bar, hashish habit, et cetera."

Kenny [Alber[t]] continued, "Now, with all the millions in research grants these science departments will bring in, I might be able to get a regular escort service." □

Bill and Al Die; Newt Is New President

Washington, DC - Saturday at midnight, as the nation changed its clocks back one hour, the nation suffered a major loss. The President and the Vice President of the United States suffered major injuries in a car accident, and died, a senior Capitol Hill reporter said.

They were heading back to the White House, after eulogizing the recent 33 deaths from the tragic plane crash. Now, the nation has two additional people that will be missed and mourned. The person who shall be the President, is House Speaker Newt Gingrich (R-GA).

Speaker Gingrich has recently announced that he shall appoint Rep. Sonny Bono (R-CA) as his Vice President. Even though Bono was reluctant at first, he decided to be the Vice President anyway. As one political commentator put it, "Sony Bono has really sang himself into Washington." The fear within the Beltway is that now with Gingrich being President, and most Washingtonians knowing how vociferous he is, there is a good chance that he will be assassinated and Sony Bono will be President.

This is the first time in the nation's history both a President and Vice President died, and enabled the Speaker of the House of Representatives to emerge as President. According to a statute passed by Congress, when both the President and Vice President dies in office, the Speaker shall then become the President.

Now that Gingrich will be the president, he announced that he shall resign as Speaker, effective immediately. Gingrich's inauguration will be at noon today. The House Republican Conference then immediately nominated the House Majority Leader, Rep. Dick Armey (R-TX) as the new Speaker.

Now this is the first time in about half-century that the GOP has been able to dominate the US Government; it is virtually assured that most of (if not all) the ten legislative items, as spelled out in "The Contract with America" will be enacted.

Sen. Bob Dole, with all of these political developments, announced that he will not seek to be the Republican Nominee for US

President. In fact, he gave his unequivocal support to the new President, Newt Gingrich. It looks like that all of Dole's delegates will be supporting Gingrich's nomination for President.

With a Republican in the White House and Republicans in Congress, the Democratic Party cannot find themselves a good enough candidate to challenge President Gingrich. As the Democratic National Chairman, Sen. Christopher Dodd (D-CT) said, "We cannot find anyone. I think we will end up in a brokered, deadlock convention in August. It will be the worse convention than our 1924 convention, where it took us 103 ballots to nominate a candidate."

It looks like the Republican Party will be dominating the legislative agenda in the foreseeable future. Good Luck President Gingrich!

The Stony Brook Latesman Tuesday April 9, 1996 - or is it?

Maybe our students are smarter, or maybe they're just better prepared. The Princeton Review is the nation's fastest growing LSAT course. And for good reason.

We keep our classes small (8 to 15 students) so you're guaranteed plenty of personal attention. If there's a concept that you don't understand, our teachers will work with you until you do. And four practice exams given under actual test-taking conditions will help get you ready for the real thing.

Look at our students' average final test scores, and you'll see how we measure up against the competition.

Give us a call if you'd like your score to climb off the charts.

"When Noah gathered all of the animals two-by-two, did he also have to gather all the fish?"

- Thomas F. Masse

Vote Us Down? Go Screw Yourself!

So, you didn't like the news and stuff we were printing, eh? So, you want the truth, but you can't handle the truth, eh? So, you take out all your ignorance and stupidity on us, do ya?

Well, go screw yourselves.

If you think we're going to come down here, day in and day out, and work our asses off to supply you with an informative paper — YOU'RE WRONG! Would couldn't give a shit less.

You don't want to hear about Polity stealing your money and going on trips and buying their books and paying their travel expenses? Good. We're not going to tell you anymore.

From now on, the Latesman will just write about poster sales and how great parking is and all the "glorious, glorious" stuff happening at Stony Brook. We'll all be happy as pigs in shit. No more truth. No more of what's really happening at Stony Brook.

As far as we're concerned, you can all pull the sheets over your heads, close your eyes, accept your worthless, state-funded, piss-ass degrees that won't get you a job as fry-boy and shove them so far up your asses you taste the cheap paper its printed on.

And when you go on your stupid little interviews for jobs you can never hope to obtain, your perspective employer will say, "Stony Brook? What a bunch of morons! Home of the Death of the First Amendment! Get out, you Communist!"

So there you have it. The Latesman will take on a whole new meaning: The Latest gossip. The Latest happy horse-shit. The Latest non-news. And it's all your fault — you lazy, good-for-nothing, who-cares-if-they-raise-tuition Stony Brook students.

And do you know why we really don't care? Because it'll hurt you more than it'll hurt us. Like we said, your not-employers will laugh you out of their offices. But we have connections.

We'll be so far up President Kenny's ass she'll write us recommendations on gold leaf. Every administrator, dean and professor will just love the phenomenally lavish press we give them. We're guaranteed high-paying jobs — hopefully as your bosses so we can fire your sorry asses.

Not laughing anymore, are you? Yeah, the joke's on you, isn't it? Thought Annette Hicks was looking out for you, didn't you?

You were wrong.

We all look forward to laughing your dumb asses out of our offices.

And a final note to those of you who thought voting against our referendum would mean the end of the Latesman, in the words of Obi-Wan Kenobi: "Strike [us] down now, and [we] will become more powerful than you could ever imagine!"

LET EACH BECOME IN FEAR!

The Incredibly True Adventures of Dave and Nicole

Well, it had to happen. He couldn't resist his adoring fans forever. In a moment of passion, David Samuel Shashoua, former crack (no, we mean "really good," not the drug) columnist, sensual Senior Staff Member, and Playgirl Man-of-the-Year, 1996 gave in the the lustful advances of Polity Vice President Nicole Rosner and took the wench, right in our very own office.

This issue raises some very important questions. First of all, what took so long? The two claimed that nerves caused them cold feet. Sure, like we believe them. After three years of dancing around the subject, anyone would have caved in.

But no, Dave and Nicole had to wait, and wait, and wait for the right time to consummate their relationship. In this day and age, why wait all this time? Find the nearest bed and get it on!

That brings us to the next issue. Dave and Nicole did decide to get it on — under one of our desks! We are still trying to figure out whether we can sue for the stains on the floor.

And can you believe that Dave invited a camera crew to take pictures? It wasn't good enough to have half of American women wanting his baby — he had to go and publicize his manhood for all to see. (Of course, we were happy to oblige — and we could hardly believe our eyes! You wouldn't have believed the size er... um... oh... sorry.)

This leaves Ms. Rosner in a predicament to end all. What does she do now? Not only is she Dave's Red Light Special, she is also future Polity President (and Vice President, and Secretary, and Senior Representative...) How does she handle the pressures, both public and private (of course, the private pressures aren't all that bad), of juggling all of these positions — and, boy, do we mean positions! — that she has been elected to? This remains to be seen. At 11 p.m., on the Spice channel.

All in all, the Polity Love Schism is just in its beginning stages. We'll be keeping a close eye (and camera lens) on this one for the rest of the semester.

Cronninn (Finally) Confesses!!!

To the Editor:

Good! I'm GLAD you lost your referendum. The Latesman! Sheesh! All that false CRAP you publish about good, hardworking people, myself (obviously) not included.

Now, about this Francis thing. As you know, I VEHEMENTLY DEFENDED the women's basketball team and their coaches because of that COMPLETELY FALSE article you published about them. Since then, I've had DOZENS of people come to me and ask me who on the women's basketball team I was sleeping with.

Well, the answer is — it wasn't anyone actually on the TEAM. It was the COACH. And, believe me, we did a lot of SLEEPING! (You know that premature ejaculation thing is always a problem!) Eventually, she dumped me and went back to her ex, BUT WHO CAN BLAME HER!

That guy who wrote the article was probably just jealous that he didn't get to bed her. Him and that Chuckie guy! Besides, there is only truth in what I say — forget what dozens of others who have nothing to gain have to say. They're all LIARS.

Anyway, I just wanted to set the record straight. Because a lot of people wanted to know. They especially wanted to know why LATESMAN would quote "a number of players" saying bad things about the coach, but when I, the coach's ex-boyfriend, asked them, they said they didn't say anything.

I tell them I had 10 girls CRYING in my office. CAN YOU BLAME THEM EITHER!?!? Especially after I individually GRILLED them, HARRASSED them and BULLIED them into saying Coach Francis is a great coach!

And after all is said and done, I stand victorious. I single-handedly convinced the ENTIRE student body to vote against your referendum for nothing other than my own PERSONAL DELUSIONS! I HAVE THE POWER!

Ha. Ha. Ha! All this power and I'm just the "Facility Manager" of the Sports Complex. I'm a nothing but a GLORIFIED JANITOR!

And if you try printing any cheap stuff, I'm going to call a bunch of lawyers and SUE you for libel, label, ladle, slander, salamander, salad shooter, and any other ludicrous (I had to look that one up!) offense I can contrive (I had to look that one up, too!).

So, BEWARE — you haven't heard the last of "CrAZy" Jimm Cronninn.

Sincerely,

"CrAZy" Jimm Cronninn

Ed. note: Thank you for your confession, you skanky, bitchy fish stick.

THE DAY OF RECKONING IS UPON US!!!

To the Editor:

The time for the great coup of Polity is upon us. Within a week, we will seize the student government office and use the student activity fee for our own purposes (sounds like the way it is now). We will then take over the Student Union which will serve as our base of operations for taking over the rest of campus — then, the world.

The plan of accomplishing this is as follows. Next Tuesday, at around 1:00 PM EST, we will invade the Polity office and take all those inside hostage. We will immediately behead the President, Annette Hicks, and hang her head by its weaves in Staller Pit as a symbol of our great power. The rest of the members of Polity will swear allegiance to us or they will be tortured in the worst possible way, by being locked in the CSA dungeon and made into David Samuel Shashoua's sexual pets.

With the Polity office taken over, we will then conquer the rest of the Student Union. With Polity money, we will buy weapons to take over the other buildings. All administrators will be impaled in the entrance of the Administration Building. Professors will be incinerated in South P, parking police will be drowned by disgruntled students in Roth pond, and President Kenny will be locked in the basement of Physics and fed ARA food until she dies of overpricing. We cannot think of a worse torture for her.

With Stony Brook serving as our HQ, we will use school funding to buy weapons of mass destruction. Soon Stony Brook will be powerful enough to take over the world. Join us in our glorious effort to achieve greatness. You will be greatly rewarded. If you are interested in joining our legion, email us at: fukpolity@ccmail.sunysb.edu

Sincerely,

The ex-Polity Assassin, the psycho janitor from Physics, and the other Minions of Doom

The Wrestling Match That Skippy Lost

To the Editor:

I have a tragic story of sexual abuse to tell and if you don't believe it can happen to you, it can. I was working my usual shift at McDonalds when two huge women walked in. I recognized them as pro-wrestlers on TV — and yes I like pro-wrestling; it keeps me company on lonely Friday nights.

They came up to the counter and ordered two #2s, 4 #5s, 3 #1s, and 2 Diet (!) Cokes to go. One of them said to me, "Hi gorgeous, how would you like to have a wild ride tonight?" I politely told them, "No thank you," and continued to do my job."

The other grabbed me, picked me up, and carried me out to their pickup truck; the fatter one grabbed the food and ran out. In the truck, they duct-taped my mouth and arms together and knocked me unconscious. I woke up to find myself handcuffed to a bed. I was scared — I wish I could just banish myself from the room, just open up a portal and teleport out of there. But I couldn't.

The evil wrestlers Fat and Fatter then took out a whip and beat me. They took turns having their way (and everyone else's way) with me. Then they insulted the [very] little man downstairs by calling him tiny and short and not worth anything [ed. note: don't forget invisible — let's get the story straight, Skip]. This hurt more than anything else.

The fatter one hit me over the head with a club. Later, I woke up naked on the street. I found a police officer and told him what happened. He laughed at me and told me, "Go home, small fry!" I lost it, and cried a river of tears. He left me stranded alone, abused, beaten, and degraded to the lowest extent.

Well, at least I lost my virginity! I have spent many hours in therapy wondering, "why me?" Only now have I got up enough guts to tell my story. Just remember... it can happen to you.

Insincerely,
Skippy

PS: Where was the rest of the team when I needed you most!

Ed. note: You are fuckin' disturbed. End of story.

Begone, You Teleporting Freak!

To the Editor:

What on earth are you babbling about, you peon?!? Why must I be relegated to the position of caretaker for the immature, assinine imbeciles that exist in this group? Have I not served my sentence?

I was prisoner of a circle of demons, held captive by an omnipotent warlord, and have defended a world that fears and hates me time and time again, only to become part of a group of mutated misfits that pride themselves on promiscuity, bloodlust and self-hatred! To use the vernacular: this SUCKS!

I am the fusion of mind, body and soul of a half dozen creations, each fighting for control of my being. The last thing I need is the rantings of one so loathsome as yourself. By the fire! — have you not learned your lessons from the past? To debase myself once more: your oh-so-jubilant ex humped and dumped you! Not everyone on the planet is interested in hearing your self-lamenting cries of sorrow!

Some words of advice: Go back to your lonely quarters and leave your teammates be! Sate the sexual urges of the one pathetic soul who actually finds pity on you: yourself!

S-Man

P.S. By the fire! — use your left arm this time! At least even them out!

Rosner's Response

To the Editor:

There are rumors spreading rampantly throughout Polity that David Samuel Shashoua and I have engaged in wild trysts in various campus locations. Allegedly, we've been seen in the editorial offices of The Stony Brook Latesman, in the Union Fireside Lounge, in Javits — well, um, uh, I guess everywhere imaginable. [Ed. note: we didn't know that! Thanks for the scoop!]

These rumors are absurd! True, but absurd! How can I expect to rule Polity next year if I don't have the total ignorance of the student body! I must keep the whitey Senate stupid enough for me to do as I please! I demand immediate satisfaction from your editors and a total retraction of your pictures and editorials! Otherwise, I will exercise my might and crush you all!

Nicole Rosner

The Date Is Irrelevant.

Nicole Rosner Finally Says "I Do" — Polity VP to Wed Statesman Stud —

By EVE GARDNER

We Don't Know Who The Hell She Is

After three long years it finally happened. Since the fall of 1993, current Polity Vice President Nicole Rosner has been pursuing Statesman's own Dave Shashoua for a romantic involvement, and he finally gave in. The two will be married on May 13 — a great graduation present for Shashoua.

Senator Bob Dole, 1996 presidential hopeful, will be the best man and Senior Rep. Erika "Willing and" Abel will be the Matron of Honor.

Dole said that he couldn't be happier for the couple. He expressed reassurance that if he should be elected to the presidency and die in office, that the nation would be safe in Shashoua's hands. He also thought that Rosner would make a cute first lady.

Abel thought it was about time that the two get together and was surprised that it took them so long to express their mutual love.

Shashoua explained that he thought Rosner was "too much woman" for him and was intimidated to ask her on a date. Rosner finally chalked up the courage and invited him to a C.O.C.A. movie, after which they danced the night away at Tokyo Joe's.

The rest is history.

Members of the Polity Senate noticed the flirting and sexual tension that had existed. They weren't surprised when the agendas began being cut shorter and shorter. They also noticed that Shashoua and Rosner, two commuters, began parking in back of the Union for faster access after the senate meetings. When the car is a rockin' don't come a knockin'.

At the last senate meeting before the student vote, Rosner motioned that the wedding be put on the referendum, but it was then decided that a portion of the student activity fee could be used for expenses.

Rosner and Shashoua will be married at President Shirley Strum Kenny's house by the Reverend Jessie Jackson. Rosner will be wearing her infamous bellbottom-like brown pants while Shashoua will wear his Bob Dole For President hat and a g-string.

The happy couple will honeymoon in Washington D.C. where a celebrity party will be waiting with such centerfold studs as Bob Dole, Rush Limbaugh, and Newt Gingrich.

Statesman staff members realized that Shashoua wasn't around the office and he divulged that it was because Rosner was jealous if he spent time with anyone other than her. "She has no reason to worry, she's the only little politician for me," Shashoua said.

Rosner admitted that one reason she didn't run for Polity president was because she wanted to dedicate all of her time to her man. She said, "I don't care where life takes me, as long as it takes me with Dave."

Sorry Stony Brook Women, this stud is taken. □

Dave and Nic flash coy smiles after being caught in a compromising position under a table at The Statesman's offices.

Nicole Rosner, in her usual impeccable dress, tries to hide her love for David Samuel Shashoua by covering a lettre d'amour she was writing for him on the computer. She has since sent that letter and thought she had deleted it. Alas, she thought wrong. Through the use of technology much too complicated to explain, we have recovered the letter from Macintosh oblivion and proudly share it with all of you. Scruples be damned!

My Dearest Darling Delicious David,

Never in all my little life have I ever met someone as "right" as you are. The way you moan when we watch "Mr. Smith Goes to Washington" puts the denim back in my second-hand jeans.

I dream of us walking together around the Lincoln Memorial, feeding the pigeons and talking about Alexander Hamilton. And, in this dream, when everyone goes home, I watch you erect your own Washington monument. But there's so much more to you than that.

The nights we have shared watching "Crossfire," the Newt Gingrich spaghetti whippings, the Rush Limbaugh Taco-fests: all of these define what is so special about us.

You'll always be my little Alex Keaton.

Eternally yours in Reaganomics,

Nic

All This Stuff Sucks And Anyone Who Likes It Can Kiss My ASS

Have you ever wanted to take an album, smash it into little pieces and flush it down the dumper?

I have plenty of them. I have reached the point where I have to let it out and everyone who disagrees can kiss my ass.

Pucker up. I'm ready to spew crap and piss thunder. These bands really blow.

Transsexual Lamp Lovers' debut album, I Wish My Balls Were Yummy, is as exciting as syphilis. And, while I know Shamus (vocals, stand-up oboe) and Tony (accordion, lead guitar), the album will be taken seriously by two kinds of people — the dead and the retarded. Their drummer Vishnu Cockogrande couldn't play the garbage can. If I get a chance to see them play again, I will light him on fire. This post-traumatic toilet-hugger isn't even worthy of being played in elevators or K-Mart.

I do have to give them some credit for their track "Handful Of Bush," which has a cool title. It ends there. The song

ROLL IT UP
PASS THE HEMP

will give you genital warts and drive you insane. Also, the tracks "Feel My Happy Spot" and "Get Your Grubby Hands Off My Weed" have cool titles. But the songs blow and so does the album. So they can blow me.

Another cancer that is stinking up my music collection is Sloppy Dump. This truly is a pile of shit. The album, Tiny Treasures Projected From Rectal Origins: Collection 4, has some piano playing from Alzar Slowbeef that will make dogs screw cats and mothers eat their children. I hate this colon cancer worse than Richard Simmons, wet bread and the runs. Jonny 'the dirty midget' Jones doesn't have a clue. He was quoted as saying, "I like to play the conch the best." Let me tell you something, bro. I like to play with myself the best and I can play better music with it than you — figuratively, of course.

"I Like Box" starts off the album with 'the dirty midget' going tandem with 'piss boy' on drums and Jack 'the nutty gardener' on the blues harp. I do think that Jon Wod plays a pretty mean guitar when he gets a chance to separate himself from this band of merry idiots. This crop of can-lickers have found a way to mangle the blues. We can all hope that it won't continue. Maybe we'll get lucky and they'll all die horribly — and B.B King will, if he gets a whiff of this moldy foot. I can just see the poor old bastard sitting at his table chain-spooning himself with grits dripping from his chin and a look on his face that would seem to suggest that an animal was crapping in his plate. I'm real bitter. Isn't it cool?

One band that actually knows that they should jump off the nearest bridge is We Suck What The Fuck, who are the first to admit their stench. Bassist Yargus Strovkov had this to say, "I hate all these assholes and I hate you. Yeah, we're all miserable bastards. But the greatest thing about it is the fact that we do suck. So shut up, fuck off and pass me my Prozac."

Their debut album, If I Had A Dollar I Would Pay Someone To Kill You, lives up to its hype. This one guerrilla-sucks. They claim the real thing that draws in the crowds at Dudlie's tabernacle and rib shack in Siberia, is their stage gig. Vocalist Lesbo Deva said, "I get all doped up and dance with an Albacore Tuna while Jay (lead guitarist) rides around on a donkey with a shaved ass." The best quote came from Stinky (drums): "Fuck your mother. Fuck your mother. Fuck your mother. I did."

They claim that the crowds dig the new material like "Eat Your Hair" and "Piss On The Cat" — shying away from older favorites like "The Gushing Menstrual Flow Of A Girl Named Mary." I trashed this one with a smile.

Special thanks to Zake over at Pull My Finger and Foot from Loose Rectum Records. See you next time.

Oh yeah. April Fools. Fools. ☐

We Suck What The Fuck's debut, If I Had a Dollar, I Would Pay Someone To Kill You.

Men and Food Are Evil

— (So, what else is knew?) —

A MATTER OF OINK

J. TIBERIUS KIRK

While many were sunning in lands far, far away, Spring break was a time for much civil unrest here on campus.

It all started when ARAMARK announced that as part of a newly imposed Affirmative Action quota, no men could be hired to work in their cafeterias until the ratio of men to women became less than 1:3.

Ms. I. M. Manly, director of Campus Comestibles, a subsidiary of the Faculty Student Association, stated that "[t]he quota is important because otherwise women will stop eating and therefore won't be able to perform their everyday scholarly activities — and women need to have equal opportunity."

"Its bad enough that the food is indigestible, but the all-too-common presence of men only serves to force women toward bulimia," continues Manly. "The entire concept of food was one created by men as a thinly guised plot to subordinate women, and successful at that, has lived through since ancient times, where women are still often found in kitchens. It is men who make women feel fat so that they can sell us products to make us thin."

Upon notice from Ms. Manly, Mr. Markus Brownit, director for campus ARAMARK services, took the pro-active route and hired 30 more women to the positions of cooking and cleaning.

Shortly thereafter, problems began when students complained about the quality of the food. Unbeknownst to the newly hired workers, these complaints were nothing personal but an enduring five-year-long habit of cafeteria-goers that has shown to be consistently unyielding, explains Stew Nogud, a student activist and regular complainer. "Perhaps next year we won't have to follow through with this tiresome ritual," Nogud adds.

Despite the complainers attempts at consolation, the new femworkers insisted that it was just another attempt at making women feel inferior, and maintained their assumption that the complaining was on the sole basis of their gender — not the poor quality of the food.

In response to these attacks, the femworkers marched inside the lobby of Kelly cafeteria chanting, "We are women, hear us roar; if you don't like our food, then go to the store!"

The situation almost turned gruesome when four public safety officers appeared on bicycles and attempted to move the protest outside. With their trusty firearms at side, our fearless finest managed to control the situation by playing the death scene of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet," as the state budget did not allow for tear gas.

To put an end to the incessant bickering of cafe-goers, Project WHAM (Women who Hate the Average Male) hosted their second annual meeting, debating on the virtues of military jackets over combat boots as part of the new image of women cafeteria workers.

However zealous, their resolving efforts proved fruitless and it was settled that either combat boots or a military jacket would be good, but that both would be better.

Taking the higher ground, an article in FOCUS, the campus feminist journal, entitled "Why We Eat: New Theories on an Old Habit," discussed many of the common misconceptions about eating, posing that the desire to eat might be innate, using the term "hunger" when referring to this craving. It was also suggested that the food on campus, which does not seem to solve the said problem of "hunger," might not be the food of choice for persons wishing to control their weight.

So there you have it, up to date. At this point, all this writer can say is that it is still anybody's game. After what has transpired in the past week, it is virtually impossible to predict where this case is going. Will the new workers take over the cafeterias? Will they take over Stony Brook?

The best advice, still, would be to stay away from the cafeteria. If the food doesn't get you, THEY will. □

DIVISION OF CAMPUS RESIDENCES ROOM SELECTION 1996 - 1997

In order to participate in the room selection process all residents must pay a $200 deposit and clear their University account in full. Following are the payment instructions for this years process. You are strongly encouraged to read and follow these instructions carefully in order to successfully select a room assignment for the 1996 - 1997 academic year. Should you have any questions about the room selection process Campus Residences staff will be available in the second floor lobby of the Administration Building between April 8th and April 19th.

PAYMENT INSTRUCTIONS:

Listed below is a payment schedule for this years room selection process. Review the information and identify your scheduled payment period. At your scheduled payment time you must:

1. Bring your room selection application to the Bursar's office in the Administration Building.
2. Pay a $200 room deposit to the Bursar. Make checks payable to the the University at Stony Brook. The Bursar will also accept payments in the form of cash, money order, Visa, Mastercard, or Discover card.
3. If your University account indicates that monies are owed, the Bursar's Office will notify you of the outstanding balance. You will be provided with an account balance and requested to pay that balance as well.
4. Once your deposit is paid (and your account is cleared), the Bursar will validate your application and return it to you.
5. Place your validated application in a safe place until you are ready to select your 1996-1997 room assignment.

6. SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR AIM/EOP STUDENTS:

Although AIM/EOP students are not required to pay a $200 room deposit, their housing application must be validated, and they must clear their University account if monies are owed. To validate your housing application, bring your application to the Office of Campus Residences between 10am and 4pm, April 8th - April 12th or April 15th - April 19th. A Campus Residences staff member will validate your housing request. If you owe a balance to the University, the staff member will direct you to the Office of Student Services to obtain a bill, and subsequently to the Bursar to pay the bill.

7. SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR 1996 - 1997 RA s:

Although RA s are not required to pay a $200 room deposit, their housing application must be validated, and they must clear their University account if outstanding monies are owed. To validate your housing application, bring your application to the Quad Office where you will be an RA next year between April 8th - April 12th and April 15th - April 19th. The Quad Secretary will validate your housing request. If you owe a balance to the University, the staff member will direct you to the Office of Student Services to obtain a bill, and subsequently to the Bursar to pay the bill.

STONY BROOK
STATE UNIVERSITY OF NEW YORK

To Blow or Not to Blow

Ever wonder if you should swallow or spit?

Well, you're not alone. Many USB students face the same dilemma day in and day out. In the past, there weren't any health professionals readily available to discuss students' concerns. But that situation has now been (e)rectified.

The University Counseling Center, located on the second floor of the Student Health Center, has established "Fun With Fellatio," a weekly support group that will address concerns and allay fears regarding oral sex. All are invited to attend. Topics of discussion will include different techniques of oral pleasure, the 1001 uses of the tongue and why swallowing is so much better, if for no other reason than to avoid the mess.

"Fun With Fellatio" will meet Monday nights, immediately following the "Crazy Over Cunnilingus" seminar. □

BRADY BUNCH RE-CAST

In a surprise last minute casting decision, Tri-Sun Pictures has fired the cast of The Brady Bunch Movie and has replaced them with a motley group of college students for the sequel, A Very Brady Sequel.

Rumors are flying, but inside sources indicate that the inexperienced students were cast because of their refreshing faces, positive attitudes, and, in some cases, shiny bald heads.

"We are extremely excited about these new Brady's," says Sherwood Shwarz, creator of the original show. "Here's why: The new Mike and Carol are a beautiful couple; Greg is finally the hippy we always meant him to be; Peter's high voice will now be easily explainable; Bobby is, well, Bobby; Alice was getting boring; and as for Marcia, Jan and Cindy, well, heck, that Cube guy can do it all." □

The Division of Physical Education, Athletics and a Few Other Things has announced the formation of it's first co-ed sports team.

Dean of Athletics "Little" Dick Laskowski said that the University could not add another men's team without adding another women's team because of the NCAA's gender equality regulations. In a stroke of genius, Marc "Father Spirit" Newmark suggested forming one team for both men and women.

The result is the Bongs new Rod and Rifle Team. The new group will compete nationally on the Division I level since, like squash, it is the only NCAA level for this sport.

While it's not clear in what segment of the sport Stony Brook will compete, the three possibilities are pictured here.

(Above) Shooting Eva in a Cube; (Left) Shooting food service representatives in the Union bi-level. Should the Division choose none of the above, we have a few recommendations up in the Polity suite.

At this point, the fishing portion of the program has not been discussed. We get the feeling "rods" has something to do with "large mouths" but nothing to do with "bass."

Latesman Photos by up to three people. We're not really sure. We never keep track of this stuff - especially since funding cuts. Do YOU have the time?

something with that friggin pool. [Mimicing] 'The water's too warm.' 'The water's too cold.' 'The water's too fuing green.' That's all I hear all day. I'm sick of it. I tell you, if John Ramsey would have told me how much of a pain in the ass this job is I would have told Laskowski to go cram the pool up his!" The rest of DeMarie's comments were lost in the echo of the cavernous pool area. Just as well. Seems DeMarie went—shall we say—"off the deep end?" Well, that kind of thing can happen to a guy. All that pressure, people complaining to him all the time.

Stadium Site Located (or is that Location Sighted?)

According to low-placed sources in the Division of Physical Education, Athletics and a Few Other Things, the new $140 million football stadium will be located in the current location of the new Student Activities Center.

The report was confirmed by a guy standing in the lobby of the Administration building who said, "They've been building that [expletive] [Student Activities Center] for three years and still haven't finished," Ceil Cleveland said. "We decided to just scrap it and build the stadium there."

The adjacent Earth and Space Science Building will be converted into a parking garage since it already looks like one, he said.

Since the University is changing its athletic name and logo (again), the name of the new stadium will be the Bong Pavilion.

NO JOY IN MUDDSVILLE

On a recent trip to Muddsville, the baseball team swept the host Marauders 15-9, 15-12, 15-3 in an unprecedented triple-header that more resembled a volleyball game than a baseball game. Perhaps because all the players were cute chicks with short, tight shorts on and the games were played on a hardwood floor indoors.

At any rate, that boosts the team's record to 16-3.

"Not bad for the first year in Division IIA.5," said head interim head women's basketball coach Joan Gandolf. "We're looking for a great recruiting year, but hopefully I'll be coaching next year."

The tide turned in the bottom of the eighthth when, with two outs and the bases loaded, "Mighty" Casey struck out.

Final note: there was no one in Muddsville named Joy.

MEN'S TRACK TEAM RUNS AWAY WITH IT

The men's track team piled into one of the University's red and white team vans and headed west. They have not been seen since. A note left at the Dean's office yesterday read, "...and if you're not careful, they'll find you with a shoe shoved up your ass, too!"

According to Dean Laskowski, the team is in big, big trouble. "This sucks," he said.

The van is estimated to be worth about 450 bucks, not including the optional AM radio.

SOFTBALL WRAPS UP ANOTHER TITLE

After last year's exhibition defeat of the New York Yankees, the softball team was looking for another way to make big news. Under the leadership of first-year head coach Jim "Papa Smurf" Murphy, the softball team has shut out every team its faced. Stony Brook is currently the number-one ranked Division II softball team in the country with a record of 18-0.

Kinda makes you wonder why it's buried on this page at the bottom of Sports Briefs.

Murphy is leaving Stony Brook for prison after the season. He will be replaced by former major league baseball umpire John McSherry.

LACROSSE FINALLY BREAKS TOP 20

The Bong lacrosse team beat the North Carolina Tar Heels and the Virginia Cavaliers last week to break into the NCAA Division I top 20 for the first time ever. In their victory of Penn State, the Stoners scored three and a half times over a 15:49 stretch to put the game away. Later against Va. Tech. University College, the Bongs took a 1-0 lead which they never relinquished in a 14-2 rout of the number two team in the country.

Head coach John 'the John' Espey said that his team was really good and that they have been really practicing very hard in preparation for these two games that may have been the most important in Stony Brook history especially considering that Stony Brook usually gets crushed by these teams and never really competes on the same level-but Espey added, "It's still a long season and anything can happen especially considering Stony Brook has never played 32 games in one season as they are doing this year."

BY THE WAY

Cross-country and track coach James Meegan was found dead Wednesday at his second job in a local sporting goods store. Police say the death is "suspicious" and are continuing their investigation. They refused to explain the brand or location of a basketball shoe protruding from one of Meegan's orifices. □

John Espey Buys ESPN for $2.3 Billion

By Mike Showoff
Latesman Sports Wrath

Head lacrosse coach John Espey announced yesterday that he is going to purchase ESPN for 2.3 billion dollars and turn it into the "best goddam sports network in the nation."

Espey says that the station sort of bears his name so its only fitting that he own it. "As soon as the station becomes mine, I'm going to do big things with it," said Espey. Espey feels that he can put his lacrosse team in the limelight not only by televising every game, but also by giving his team specific ownership rights to the network. "Every one of my guys are going to come out of Stony Brook with a great lacrosse experience, a great education, and some extra cash in their pockets."

The network wants to bring in some lacrosse guys to run the show, well, because this is "Espey's station and thats the way he wants it." Some of them are noted below.

Espey will name Ian Rosenblum of Levittown as his President in Charge of Operations. "Ian had a great lacrosse career at Mac Arthur H.S. and seems to know the game inside out."

The Gait brothers of Syracuse who are well-known for their lacrosse savvy, will be the play-by-play men for all USB lacrosse games.

Scott "The Cube" Lewis, the former Latesman Sports Editor, will bring the "Laxbackers Club" onto the air as a lacrosse call-in show. Espey feels that since his career at Latesman is over, he might as well "try something new."

Overall, this seems to be a great proposition that will put a little bit of extra cash in Espey's pocket as well. The only question is just who did Espey buy the station from anyway? It seems to have changed so many hands, no one remembers who owned it previously.

Probably Disney, those...

USB to Dump Seawolves Logo and Nickname "Stoners" Brook to Welcome New Identity with a 'Bong!'

By MIKE SHOWOFF

The Stony Brook Seawolves, or we should say now the Stony Brook Bongs, are looking to dump their Seawolves logo and nickname in an attempt to salvage the school's reputation. The USB Athletic Department announced the proposal over the spring break.

USB is following suit with the New York Islanders, who just last week announced that they are abandoning the Gorton's Fisherman logo in order to put to rest the taunts and jeers from opposing teams and fans. All of Stony Brook's athletic teams have experienced the wrath of opposing teams on their road trips as well. These games have been marred with "dog calling" and chants of "Sea Scrubs" as well as a few others that cannot be printed due to censorship laws.

Staff Associate Greg Economou consulted with Dean of Athletics Richard Laskowski over the spring break and decided to appeal the NCAA to switch logos and nicknames. Laskowski commented "We're sick and tired of those @$%^&* fans ranking us out on road trips and making us feel like low pieces of %#. We needed a logo and nickname that fits the school's tradition, something that the students can associate with." (Stony Brook was the first university to fall victim to a major drug bust in the 1960's) Economou added "The Seawolves name was getting really lame and just plain stupid. If we were going to have a Division I program, we can't have a name like that. I mean- what the hell is a Seawolf anyway?"

The idea for the new nickname came from a secret and covert questionnaire that was passed out during the Fall semester by a group of students who were interested in seeing whether or not the student body felt that the current nickname was really representative of the school they attend. Most students were unsure of what a Seawolf was. Others felt that Stony Brook was a school of tradition, which required a nickname that fits that tradition.

Once it was clear that the students felt this way, the proposal was brought before the Athletic department for approval. Once it was approved, it was recommended that the students

Stony Brook Pillagers, the Stony Brook Cockroaches, and the Stony Brook Rolling Rocks. However, the contest winner was the Stony Brook Bongs. The temperament of the student population- cool!, S.A.T. word, dude!"

The new nickname and logo will go into affect, uh or is it effect (puff), on July 1, 1996. Sweatshirts, hats, and other merchandise will hit the shelves university-wide on July 15th. The new stadium, slated for completion in 1998, will be a domed stadium named the Bong Pavillion. So roll it up and pass it on!

themselves come up with a nickname and a logo.

A contest was held in which many suggestions came flooding in from Stony Brook students. Some of the suggestions were the Stony Brook Brew Crew, the winner of the contest was Ipheal Blhunted, a seventh- year senior from Euphoria, Illinois.

Mr. Blhunted commented "I feel that, like, since everyone is like getting stoned and stuff, that the name that I picked fits the

Senk Fined by NCAA

Baseball manager Matt Senk was fined 500 dollars last week by the NCAA. Senk was involved in an incident the NCAA Umpire's Union describes as one of the ugliest displays of unsportman-like behavior it has ever dealt with.

Senk was ejected by umpire Please McScrewme last Tuesday in the fifth inning but the manager refused to leave the ballgame. McScrewme, who has been highly sensitive in the past to certain kinds of references to his name, tossed Senk after seeing him adjusting his crotch in the Bong's dugout. Senk infuriated by the ejection, ran onto the infield in a rage. After arguing futilely with the umpire for several minutes, he then ran into the outfield and appeared to search for something. He then returned to the infield with a rabbit and brought it over to McScrewme and said, "Maybe you can get some tonight."

In a surge of anger he then turned towards the bleachers, raised the rabbit high over his head like a football and hurled it 50 yards passed the stands. Then turning back to McScrewme and pointing in the direction of the rabbit he said, "Hurry, hurry she's getting away!"

After the game McScrewme said of Senk, "If he doesn't like my decision he can just go..." He broke of his sentence abruptly in mid sentence and declined further comment.

Director of Athletics Sandy Weeden in a released statement apologized for the manager's action. In it she said: "The University is sorry for the unfortunate statements made by coach Senk. We hold nothing but the highest regard for the men and women of the college umpires association and the sexually challenged. I for one should be sensitive to this issue." □
