Budget Cut Worries SB Administrators; Future Uncertain

University officials are worried about the uncertain effects of a $26 million SUNY budget cuts requested by Governor Hugh Carey's 1980-81 executive budget.

Vice-President for Finance and Business Carl Hanes said that he doesn't "have the slightest idea" how much money could be cut from Stony Brook's budget. He said the decision will be made "by the SUNY administration and the Board of Trustees. We hope to have the opportunity to participate in the process in some way."

Hanes also said that he doesn't know when the cuts will be made, but the decision will be made before April 1, the beginning of the 1980-81 fiscal year.

The SUNY budget requires elimination of 1,125 positions as part of $12 million of the total $26 million reduction. The remaining $14 million will come from a re-evaluation of existing programs.

Initial specific budget information for Stony Brook indicated that the campus will receive funding for the continuation of jobs established during 1979-80 for both the main campus and the Health Sciences Center. Hanes said he does not expect the cuts to effect the opening of the University Hospital, but said "it remains to be seen."

Stony Brook's total proposed budget for the 1980-81 year is $113.6 million, an increase of $8.3 million over the 1979-80 year. The increase is due to a $5.2 million increase in utility prices and funding for the opening of the new apartment housing complex and mandated salary increases.

Acting University President Richard Schmidt said he hoped to set up a committee consisting of faculty and students to consult on the possible reductions.

Schmidt said "the campus has no specific plans as yet for meeting these mandated cuts. We will be striving to preserve quality in our programs and meet the needs of our students within the mandate of the campus."

THE POLITY SENATE'S VANDALISM SUBCOMMITTEE prepares for the Stony Brook Council's hearing on vandalism.

Polity Committee Prepares For Vandalism Hearing

By NANCY HYMAN

In preparation for the University's governing body's public hearing on vandalism, a Polity committee met last Thursday to discuss the campus-wide problem.

The hearing before the Stony Brook Council, according to Leonard Eichenholtz, chairman of the body's student affairs committee, will be held "to receive testimony and statements from concerned members of the University community about the general problem of vandalism of campus facilities and property." Eichenholtz invites students and others to testify before the body and to make suggestions to curtail vandalism on campus especially in the residence halls.

Those who attended the Polity Senate's Vandalism Subcommittee meeting discussed the causes of vandalism and brought

Hit and Run Victim Hospitalized

By NATHANIEL RABINOVICH

An early morning hit and run accident near Roth Quad Friday sent a Stony Brook student to the hospital with a fractured spine.

Senior Phyllis Schiffman, a Cardozo College resident, suffered a fractured third vertebra when the car in which she was riding, after missing a turnoff from South Loop Road to a parking lot, was hit twice from behind. Schiffman, according to her mother, Addie, was taken to Mather Hospital in Port Jefferson, where she remains under intensive care. The other passengers, Hendrix resident Tracy Edwards, Cardozo resident Alisa Davidofsky, and Nancy Levy, were also taken to Mather, but suffered only minor injuries and were released later that morning. Michael Ziegelbaum, the driver, was released Saturday.

Davidofsky provided the following account of the accident: After leaving the Benedict Saloon when it closed at about 2 AM, the five riders headed up South Loop Road toward the entrance to a parking lot behind Whitman College. However, Ziegelbaum, who does not attend Stony Brook, drove past the entrance to the lot, approaching an intersection where the road forks toward South Campus and Tabler Quad. After being told of his error, he slowed the car, a white Volkswagen Beetle, and prepared to back toward the entrance. "I turned to see how far we should [back up], and then we saw the headlights,"

Davidofsky said. The car collided with the Volkswagen, shattering the rear window, and pushing it forward. Their car was then hit again, she said, and it lurched forward, crossing the island in the middle of the intersection. It settled in a ditch on the opposite side of Loop Road (see diagram).

Ziegelbaum, according to Davidofsky, "blacked out" after the first collision, and could not control the car. The driver of the other car did not stop after colliding with the Volkswagen.

Edwards then climbed out of the vehicle and ran to Cardozo, where she telephoned the Volunteer Ambulance Corps, and the five were rushed to Mather.

Although Schiffman managed to crawl from the vehicle, she will remain in traction in the intensive care unit at Mather for at least two weeks. "She was just a hairsbreadth away from not being here," said Mrs. Schiffman.

None of the riders were wearing seat belts or shoulder harnesses when the accident occurred, Davidofsky said.

Hospital officials were unavailable for comment yesterday.

Although they observed flecks of blue paint on the Volkswagen, Davidofsky said they were unsure of the type of car with which they collided. She added, however, that she was told by Campus Security officers that they found a Pontiac emblem at the scene of the accident.

Security officers handling the case were unavailable for comment.

Boycott Gathers Support

Washington (AP) — The Senate is expected to follow the House in supporting President Jimmy Carter's stand on the Moscow Olympics, but not before next week.

There were only 12 dissenters — as opposed to 386 in favor — when the House approved a resolution Thursday supporting a possible U.S. withdrawal from the summer games.

But quick Senate concurrence was stymied when the chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee ignored a White House appeal for full congressional approval before this weekend.

Instead, said Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, his Foreign Relations Committee will stick to its plan to hold hearings on the resolution next week.

The resolution urges the U.S. Olympic Committee to honor Carter's request and seek to have the Olympics moved from Moscow or canceled if Soviet troops are not out of Afghanistan by Feb. 20.

It would urge athletes from the United States and other nations to boycott the Olympics if they are held in Moscow while Soviet troops stay in Afghanistan.

The White House had asked congressional leaders to complete approval of the resolution before the committee's executive board meets on Carter's request this weekend in Colorado.

Church, while predicting Senate approval, stuck to his plan for hearings next week. He said, "It is my strong belief — and I anticipate that of the Foreign Relations Committee — that the Soviet Union has made itself unfit to host the Olympic Games."

Senate Majority Leader Robert Byrd of West Virginia already has predicted approval of the resolution by the Senate.

A possible boycott also won support Thursday from ALF-CIO President Lane Kirkland, who charged that the U.S. Olympic Committee was arrogant in opposing Carter's proposal. "The committee has become big business, with financial interests rather than human concerns," Kirkland said. He accused the committee of "prostitution of Olympic ideals in order to gain corporate sponsorship."

NEWS DIGEST

International

Cairo, Egypt — American and Egyptian warplanes teamed up recently for exercises in "Saudi Arabian skies," Egypt's authoritative October magazine reported.

It said the "maneuvers" were carried out with the "knowledge and consent" of the Saudi government. The Saturday report gave no other details and there was no immediate U.S. comment on it.

The Pentagon has said the U.S. and Egyptian air forces took part in joint exercises last month. It was assumed the maneuvers had taken place in Egyptian airspace.

Egypt said at the time the operation was in the context of the Iranian crisis and was meant to familiarize the Americans with Egyptian facilities in anticipation of possible joint military cooperation in the Mideast.

Abolhassan Bani-Sadr, whose apparent victory in Iran's first presidential election has been taken as an encouraging sign for the American hostages in Tehran, said yesterday a solution to the crisis "becomes attainable" if the United States does not meddle in Iranian affairs.

Unofficial returns reported Bani Sadr had received a whopping 75 percent of votes cast in Iran's first presidential election. Official returns were expected today. Iran has 22 million eligible voters.

A solution will come, Teheran radio quoted Bani-Sadr, when the U.S. tells the world that it will "desist from expansionist policy and domination over other nations and when it concedes the right to our people to pursue criminals anywhere in the world." He did not elaborate.

West Point — While the nation debates on whether women should be required to register for the military draft, more than half of the graduating female cadets at West Point have opted for combat units, The New York Times reported yesterday.

This year's graduating class at the U.S. Military Academy will be the first with women. Some of them admitted that they preferred to avoid combat and are in fact barred from specialties which would be likely to involve close combat.

However, mostly at their own choosing, 37 of the 62 will enter branches which are either combat support or likely to see action if there is military conflict. All were assigned to the various branches in "roughly the same proportions as the men," the Times said.

Washington — President Jimmy Carter's "get tough" stance with the Soviet Union is entering a new phase with the announcement of possible sales of military equipment to China.

The U.S. officials, who asked not to be identified, said Defense Secretary Harold Brown told the Chinese during his recent visit to Peking that the United States is "prepared to consider on a case-by-case basis" such sales.

Although no decision has been made on what specific military goods might be sold, Defense Department Thomas Ross told reporters that the equipment could include trucks, communications gear and "certain types of early warning radar."

Cafe Threatened With FSA Takeover

By NATHANIEL RABINOVICH

The University may require the Sanger Wine and Cheese Shop to operate through the FSA, Faculty Student Association, if the establishment's management does not offer a suitable sponsor for the renewal of Sanger's liquor license.

Sanger Wine and Cheese's two-year license is scheduled to expire at the end of February. The existing arrangement, in which Helen Ackley, former Sanger program coordinator, has served as sponsor, is "not an agreeable arrangement," said John Williams, University Assistant Business Manager. A sponsor, he explained, must be a 25-year-old member of the University community who would take responsibility for any damages the business incurs, as well as take part in its daily operations. Ackley, however, is no longer affiliated with the University, and Williams has required Sanger to find another sponsor or be sponsored through the FSA.

Sanger Wine and Cheese remains the only dormitory liquor outlet run entirely by residents. The Benedict Saloon and Whitman and James Pubs are operated directly through the FSA, and Baby Joey's in Irving College is run by SCOOP, a student business cooperative, which is subcontracted by the FSA.

A janitor who works in Sanger has offered to serve as sponsor for Wine and Cheese, said Michael Scholnick, a co-manager. But though management considers her an appropriate sponsor, Scholnick said Williams told him "that he would reject her" for the position.

Williams, however, said he was only interested in seeing "something that tells us" that the janitor, whose name Scholnick would not provide, was suited to serve as sponsor. If Williams rejects her resume, "there's still many avenues left to take," Scholnick said. Final approval of the choice rests with Paul Madonna, University business manager, who indicated that he would probably abide by Williams' decision. Asked why the present arrangement was allowed to continue after Ackley left the University, Williams said that Madonna's predecessor, Robert Chason, did not assign anyone to monitor student businesses, and the arrangement went unchecked until Williams was given the position. He said he told Wine and Cheese management that they must find another sponsor when the license was up for renewal; otherwise, the FSA would have to sponsor the business.

Williams called such an arrangement "an ideal way to go because that is what [the] FSA" is used for. But FSA President Julie Schulman said, "As a general practice, I don't think the [FSA] board is interested in taking over all the businesses on campus." Schulman said she feared that if Sanger Wine and Cheese were operated through the FSA, a greater temptation would exist on the part of management to pocket income. Campus bars operated through the FSA have in recent years lost money "in the tens of thousands," she said, which has necessitated closer FSA scrutiny of inventories and the institution this semester of a new purchase order system.

"There's no way in hell that a bar can lose money unless, of course, they're stealing," Schulman said.

Although a meeting scheduled for tomorrow night between Williams and Sanger residents was canceled, Scholnick said he expected that they would get together soon.

Polity Committee Plans for Hearing

up proposals to curtail it.

The student government's committee was formed in October 1979 to investigate the vandalism problem which has been a major issue on campus for some time, and has been on the rise during recent years. Just last week, vandals destroyed a Benedict College bathroom causing $2,750 of damage, and vandalism on that hall last year lead to the relocation of all its residents at the beginning of this academic year. A Benedict student was arrested Wednesday for the former act of vandalism.

Mace Greenfield, the founder and a former chairman of the subcommittee, said it was established to show the University Administration that students care. He said, "If the students don't care, why should administration?"

Students present at the committee's meeting said they blame Residence Lifewith at least part of the vandalism problem. Polity President David Herzog said that Residence Life's poor preventative maintenance, low upkeep of facilities, erratic cleaning and "various procedural snags" have lead to vandalism.

Among suggestions brought up to curb vandalism were those by committee chairman Steve Traum, a Polity Senator from Dreiser College. He proposed that the Orientation Office distribute anti-vandalism pamphlets to incoming freshmen and transfer students and that signs be put up in dormitories, bathrooms next to fire alarms, etc. with the message that "this is your home, respect it."

The Stony Brook Council will meet in Lecture Hall 100 from 7:30 to 10 PM. Those who wish to testify before the council must reserve a place on the agenda by calling 246-5940.

CAMPUS BRIEFS

Life-Drawing Class

The Stony Brook Union Crafts Center is sponsoring a life-drawing class on Wednesdays at 7:30 PM at the Union Gallery, beginning Jan. 30. The fee for each two-hour session is $1. Six-week workshops beginning Feb. 4 at the center include Ceramics-Throwing, Ceramic Sculpture and Beginning and Advanced Photography. Workshops to begin later in February include Basketry, Batik, Blacksmithing, Ceramics, Chinese Cooking, Drawing, Film-making, Lace-making, Leatherworking, Quilting and Applique, Silkscreen Printmaking, Stained Glass, Watercolor Painting and Weaving. A Crafts Center brochure is available upon request. Inquiries may be directed to 246-7101 or 246-3657.

Guidance Symposium

"The Counselor as Liaison Between the Minority Student, the Community College and the University" is the theme of a day-long guidance counselor/community counselor symposium which will be held Thursday, Jan. 31 at the University.

Co-hosts are the admissions offices of Suffolk Community College and Stony Brook. Co-chairmen are Natalie Brown, psychology professor at Suffolk, and Lloyd Sargeant, admissions counselor at Stony Brook, who notes, "This is the second of what we hope will be a series of symposia on increasing minority enrollment for Black and Hispanic youth in higher education on Long Island."

Among those expected to attend, says Sargeant, are guidance counselors in schools with high minority populations—particularly in the Long Island area; community counselors and organizational representatives with social concerns that deal with minority populations; clergy with Black and/or Hispanic congregations and other persons who are interested in higher education opportunities for minorities.

Acting University President Richard Schmidt will convene the conference. Discussions will focus on the utilization of campus resources in the retention of minority students and the utilization of community resources for employment opportunities and career development.

Wilson Fellow

Mark Granovetter, associate professor of Sociology, has won a $4,000 grant in the 1979 Faculty Development Competition sponsored by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

One of 12 winners selected from among more than 100 northeastern college and university faculty members, Granovetter was awarded the grant to develop his proposed new graduate and advanced undergraduate course titled "The Relevance of Economic Theory for Sociology."

The grants, made to former Woodrow Wilson Fellows who have "demonstrated imagination and flexibility in their teaching," are to cover released time and costs for research needed in the development of new undergraduate courses.

In making the awards, Hans Rosenhaupt, foundation president, said, "The best way to improve undergraduate education today is to provide teachers with a new challenge and support for creative activities."

Granovetter, who lives with his wife and infant daughter on Emerson Street in Port Jefferson, has been a member of the Stony Brook faculty since 1977. He holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from Princeton University and a Doctor of Philosophy degree from Harvard and has taught at Harvard and at Johns Hopkins Universities.

Sexuality Study

Heterosexual men or women or women are sought for a federally-funded study on relationships and sexuality which is being conducted through the University's Psychiatry and Behavioral Science department. Inquiries may be directed to David Rowland between noon and 3 PM weekdays at 246-2464.

LAWYER
by Will Bernard

"Garb of Innocence"

If clothes make the man, do prison stripes make the criminal?
This question grew out of a murder trial at which the defendant appeared in striped overalls, with the words "COUNTY JAIL" stenciled on the back. The jury found him guilty, but on appeal a higher court threw out the verdict.
"The presumption of innocence," said the court, "requires the garb of innocence."

Generally speaking, a person on trial should be dressed in ordinary civilian clothing. The law recognizes that prison attire may unfairly color the thinking of the jury.

Similar reasoning has been applied not only to defendants but also to other participants in the trial.

In one case, a lawyer who also happened to be a clergyman wanted to wear his clerical collar in the courtroom. He argued that this was part of his religious freedom guaranteed by the Constitution.

But the court disagreed, expressing a fear that the clerical collar might lend an extra measure of credibility to his client's side. The court said a minor limitation on his religious freedom was justified by the major benefit of keeping the trial fair and impartial.

Still, this kind of precaution will not be carried too far. In another murder case, the jury was taken to the bedroom of a prosecution witness who was too feeble to come to court. The defense attorney noticed with dismay that the room was adorned with religious pictures and artifacts.

Raising an objection, he argued that the pious atmosphere would mutely - and improperly - reinforce whatever testimony the woman might give.

But the court overruled the objection. The court said this was one of those extraordinary circumstances in a trial that just can't be avoided.

A United Attack On Disgusting Vandalism

The Stony Brook Council will hold a special public hearing Thursday on vandalism; a subject which is being discussed in all corners of this campus these days. Statesman believes that this hearing is a great idea and hopes that something constructive will come out of it.

We can no longer sit back and see this campus go to pot. If it is looked at through the proper perspective, it can be aesthetically pleasing. Why can't people leave their damn hands off property which is here for all of us to enjoy both visually and practically? And, besides, the property we are talking about belongs to the public via the State of New York and not totally to those who destroy it.

The vandalism in the dormitories is disgustingly outrageous. How can people live in some of those places which look like a tornado hit?

How can people live in residence halls which have walls that have been torn apart? How can people use bathrooms where the toilets have been destroyed? How can people use hall phones which were pulled from the wall? Etc., Etc., Etc.

We urge all members of the campus community to become involved with this issue in one way or another because the level of vandalism on this campus has steadily been on the rise. It must be stopped!

If you can't make the hearing, which will be held from 7:30 to 10 PM in Lecture Hall 100, then perhaps a good idea may be to send a letter to the Council. We're sure your recommendations to solve this problem will be considered helpful.

Or perhaps you can get involved with a committee like the Polity Senate's vandalism subcommittee. However, it would be nice to be part of a committee which is going to do something. We don't mean to attack Polity for they have been trying to constructively deal with the situation, but, as usual, Polity is wrapped up with nonsense.

The idea behind the Senate's committee is a good one; however, its discussions Thursday night proved that it was being bogged down with meaningless discussion. Hardly anything suggested at this meeting will solve the problem. As usual, Polity people tried to bring everything into the picture, everything but the immediate problem, its cause and solution.

For one, Polity President David Herzog suggested that student complaints with Residence Life has lead to vandalism. How ridiculous, Dave. When are you going to stop lumping everything together? Oh, yes, Dave, remember the rallies, why do you think Polity didn't accomplish as much as it should have? You guys lumped everything together all the time. For instance, relocation, tripling, coffeehouse closings, inadequate parking and towing were usually all packaged into one great complaint session.

By doing so, Polity only weakened its arguments, for none had a strong focal point. Of course, some of these problems were eventually resolved, but we feel it would be more efficient if issues were attacked and resolved.

Probably one of the more irrelevant points made at the committee's meeting was the suggestion that vandalism is in part due to dissatisfaction with residence hall directors. Vandalism is not a phenomenon unique to Stony Brook, and certainly not unique to Stony Brook residence halls. Vandalism is caused by more underlying problems going on in the minds of those who cause it.

Proposals such as having the Orientation Office distribute anti-vandalism pamphlets to incoming freshmen and transfer students and to put up signs that read "this is your home, respect it," will never solve or reduce the problem. Even if freshman and transfers bother to read an anti-vandalism pamphlet, it is not the law-abiding, conscientious student who reads and obeys such "moral" statements that is going to go out and destroy an end-hall lounge.

The head of the committee is not looking at the total picture. We hope, Polity, that when you go to that vandalism hearing, you will stick to the problem and help solve it instead of trying to solve everything else along with it.

Let's all fight the problem together and stamp it out.

NFC Captures Pro Bowl

Honolulu (AP) — Chuck Muncie of New Orleans ran for two touchdowns and threw a 25-yard halfback option pass to Dallas' Tony Hill for another score yesterday to lead the National Conference to a 37-27 victory over the American Conference in the Pro Bowl.

The victory was the third in a row for the NFC and gave it a 6-4 edge over the AFC in this game, which comes one week after the Super Bowl and officially closes the National Football League season.

Muncie, selected the most valuable player in the game, had gained 1,198 yards for the Saints this season, broke a 3-3 tie on a 1-yard run with 1:41 gone in the second period, then swept in from 11 yards out with 5:14 gone in the fourth quarter for the NFC's final touchdown.

The Saints' Archie Manning put the NFC ahead again 16-10 by capping a 12-play, 80-yard drive with a 13-yard scoring pass to Detroit's David Hill.

With 1:50 to go in the half, three plays after linebacker Harry Carson of the New York Giants intercepted a Bradshaw pass, Muncie took a Manning pitchout, rolled to his right and lofted his 25-yard TD strike to Tony Hill, who caught the ball in the right corner of the end zone. Another interception of a Bradshaw pass, this one by

New Orleans' safety Tom Meyers, preceded Muncie's 11-yard scoring run.

Philadelphia's Wally Henry electrified the Aloha Stadium crowd of 48,060 with an 86-yard punt return for a 30-10 NFC lead early in the third period. Houston's Earl Campbell scored the AFC's final two touchdowns on runs of 2 and 1 yards.

Two Records Set

Two scoring records were set in the game — the 37 points by the NFL eclipsing the 33 by the AFC in 1973, and the 64 points by both teams surpassing the 61 in that 33-28 AFC victory.

But the game started off quietly.

In the first period, each team managed only one field goal, a 37-yarder by Washington's Mark Moseley for the NFC and a 19-yarder by Toni Fritsch of Houston for the AFC.

Fritsch's field goal came after San Diego's Dan Fouts had completed passes of 22 yards to Pruitt and 16 yards to Chargers' teammate Charlie Joiner.

But Jim Youngblood of Los Angeles returned Fritsch's kickoff 32 yards to the AFC 43-yard line. Three plays later, Manning scrambled away from pressure and completed a 26-yard pass to Philadelphia's Wilbert Montgomery. Three plays after that, Muncie went over for the score.

Campus to Host Special Olympics

By IRA HORANSKY

The Special Olympics is Suffolk County's largest volunteer sporting event, and once again, Stony Brook will host this unique happening. The Stony Brook campus has been the site of these Olympics for the past seven years, except for last year, when they were held in Hauppauge.

Scheduled for Sunday, May 4, Special Olympics is held to give mentally retarded children in Suffolk County a chance to compete in sporting events. They are classified according to age and skill level to make the competition as fair as possible. Winners here will qualify for the state championships.

According to Henry von Mechow, Chairman of the Physical Education Department and University Representative for the Special Olympics, the day is kicked off at 9:30 AM with a parade of the athletes and local high school bands. It is followed by events in track and field, swimming, gymnastics, bowling and physical fitness.

Volunteers Needed

"I highly encourage volunteer participation," said von Mechow. He stated that volunteers are needed for aiding the athletes, as aides to the officials, and to direct traffic.

There will be a meeting for the Special Olympics today at 7:30 PM in the Stony Brook Union, Room 231. Said von Mechow, "Students interested in volunteering are urged to attend."

SPORTS DIGEST

DePaul Still No.1 Irish Nip Terps

No. 1 DePaul defeated Evansville 105-94 as Mark Aguirre scored 27 points and Terry Cummings added 19 to pace DePaul over Evansville. The Purple Aces made a run in the final minutes, but came no closer than 10 points to the Blue Demons, who won for the 36th straight time at home.

Oregon State beat California 86-55 to remain no. 2 in the nation when Ray Blume scored 20 points to lead Oregon State past California for the Beavers' 13th straight victory. The Beavers improved their record to 18-1.

No. 3 Duke whipped Pittsburgh 78-69 when Mike Gminski hit six free throws as Duke converted 14-of-14 from the foul line in the final two minutes to beat Pittsburgh. Gminski led all scorers 23 points.

Kelvin Ransey hit eight points in less than one minute Sunday, rallying fourth-ranked Ohio State to a 70-65 victory over No. 17 Virginia.

Ransey, a senior guard scored in double figures for the 80th straight game.

No. 5 Kentucky stopped Georgia, 56-49 as Sam Bowie and Fred Cowan scored 18 points apiece to lead the Wildcats. The Bulldogs kept within range of the Wildcats throughout with a slowdown game.

"There's no way you can come to Lexington and hope to win if the score is up in the 80s or 90s," said Georgia Coach Hugh Durham. Georgia lost to Kentucky, 95-69 earlier this year.

Syracuse Coach Jim Boeheim credited noisy Manley Fieldhouse fans with giving his sixth-ranked Orangemen the emotional lift they needed to come from behind and beat a scrappy Connecticut basketball team, 99-89.

The victory was Syracuse's 54th straight at home and Boeheim said "When the crowd gets going, we get going."

With Kelly Tripucka out of the lineup, Notre Dame basketball Coach Digger Phelps needed all the help he could get against Maryland.

He suggested a variation of the Pittsburgh Steelers' spirit-lifting "Terrible Towels," asking Notre Dame students to bring old socks and wave them during the game.

But the biggest help he eventually got were Maryland lapses, one on defense and the other on offense.

The first one allowed Notre Dame to come roaring down the court and score the go-ahead basket with five seconds left. The second one wasted the remaining time on Maryland's last shot, allowing the eighth-ranked Irish to beat the 15th-ranked Terps 64-63 Sunday.

Darrell Griffith scored 27 points to lead

Connors Takes Third Open Title

Philadelphia (AP) — Top-seeded Jimmy Connors, showing no evidence of the groin pull that plagued him all week, ousted second-seeded John McEnroe in five sets Sunday 6-3, 2-6, 6-3, 3-6, 6-4 to win an unprecedented third straight singles title in the US Pro Indoor Tennis Tournament.

The match was an exciting cat-and-mouse struggle between Connors, the world's No. 2-ranked player and McEnroe, rated third best among all professional tennis players.

The 27-year-old Connors equaled Rod Laver's record in winning this tournament for the fourth time. He earned $40,000 for his second triumph of 1980.

In five appearances in this week-long contest, Connors has won 26 of 27 matches, his only loss was to Dick Stockton when Connors finished second in 1977.

seventh-ranked Louisville to a 79-73 victory over Florida State Sunday in a foul-plagued Metro Conference basketball game.

A total of 47 fouls were whistled in the game, with all 10 starters having at least three fouls apiece and three players, including Griffith, fouling out.

No. 9 St. John's defeated Villanova 81-75.

Wayne McKoy and Ron Plair teamed up for 39 points and 22 rebounds as St. John's defeated Villanova. The victory was the 15th straight for the Redmen, the longest winning streak in 50 years at the New York school.

The number 10 ranked team in the nation, Missouri was idle.

Bruins Appeal Ziegler's Decision

Boston (AP) — The Boston Bruins, frustrated in a court bid to delay suspensions of three stars, go back to the National Hockey League to try to at least reduce the penalties imposed by NHL President John Ziegler.

General Manager Harry Sinden said Sunday the team will tell "our side" of the case Wednesday to the NHL board of governors, one representative from each team, at a special meeting, possibly at an airport motel, in Chicago, selected as the most central location for all concerned.

"We want to present the full facts," Sinden said, "We're going to try to let the league know what happened, what didn't come out in Ziegler's release."

Walker Sixth Pat to Hit Point Mark

During this surge, Coach Dick Kendall was using a three guard offense, with Joe Grandolfo and Paul Santoli complementing Walker as the other two backcourt men. "I didn't do it intentionally," said Kendall. "I just put in fresh players that were better than theirs [Hunter College]."

Combination Works
Intentional or not, it worked. "With that combination we get a little more control outside," said Santoli.

Pats Lead by 24

In the second half, Rich Malave scored nine points and Keith Martin scored seven as the Patriots led by as many as 24.

Walker has a total of 1,005 points, three more than Myrick's total. Arthur King is fourth on the Stony Brook all-time scoring list with 1,200 points. Walker is seventh in the nation in field-goal percentage in Division III at 65 percent.

Patriots Win Tenth Walker Breaks 1,000

By PETER A. WISHNIE

Every move he makes and every jump shot he takes looks as fresh and crisp as the one before.

He gives his opposing defender a slight head fake, and with the grace of a fawn, he will leap into the air to score.

For three years, this sight has become a routine for senior guard and co-captain, Mel Walker. So frequently has it been that when Walker hit two free-throws at the end of the first half during Thursday's game, he became the fifth leading scorer in Stony Brook history, surpassing Bill Myrick.

However, that wasn't the only feat that Walker achieved that night. At 4:15 in the first half, Walker dribbled around Gerard Myrthil of Hunter College to score his 14th and 15th points of the game, giving him a total of 1,001 career points. At that moment, Walker became the sixth player in Stony Brook history to score 1,000 or more points.

"I am thrilled," said Walker. "I consider it a great achievement, especially when I only scored 51 points in my freshman year."

Walker's game high of 19 points gave the Patriots their tenth win in 14 games as they defeated the Hawks, 88-67.

The 21-point margin is very deceiving. The Patriots showed a tremendous amount of sluggishness in the early going of the game. In the first 14 minutes the score was even on seven occasions while the lead changed hands six times. However, Walker hit a five-foot jumper with six minutes left in the half to break a 29-29 tie. Stony Brook finally woke up as it outscored Hunter 22-10 to take a 14-point half-time lead.

Pats Versus Staten Island: Do-Or-Die For Playoffs

"It's too bad that the whole season is coming down to one game," said Mel Walker.

Walker, Stony Brook's basketball team co-captain, was talking about the upcoming game against Staten Island College Tuesday night. The winner of this game will probably be the team that will go to the NCAA regional playoffs Feb. 29.

"The first three teams are practically decided," said Ray Stallone, Stony Brook's Sports Information Director. "The fourth team is between Staten Island and Stony Brook and as long as the winner doesn't fall apart at the end of the season, they will be going to the regionals." Stallone receives his information directly from the NCAA.

The three teams are undefeated Potsdam, Albany State, which the Patriots beat this year, and St. Lawrence College.

Stony Brook is playing its best ball of the year, having won seven of its last eight games. "We are ready to play anybody right now," said co-captain Heyward Mitchell. "From here on in it is going to be easy breezing except maybe for Tech. We are going to destroy Staten Island."

The Patriots have lost only one home game this year and only two since the '77-'78 season. "I'm sure glad that the game is at home," said coach Dick Kendall. The game begins at 8 PM. —Peter A. Wishnie
