Polity Calls in DA; Jackson Subpoenaed

FRANK JACKSON

By MIKE KORNFELD

Frank Jackson, the former Polity Vice President and Freshman Representative, whose conflicts with Polity's legal system made news consistently for the last two years may soon have an imbroglio with a far more serious legal establishment—the Suffolk County District Attorney's Office.

On Wednesday night, the Polity Senate authorized Executive Director Bill Camarda to turn over to the District Attorney's office all evidence of Jackson's alleged misappropriation of Polity funds. And this was in addition to a summons issued to him by the Faculty Student Association (FSA) which is attempting to recover the money garnered from a bad check cashed by Jackson at the FSA check cashing facility in May 1977.

Jackson is charged with misappropriating monies from the Polity bail fund on two occasions last year and with misappropriating $500 from the Treasury of the Black Students Union (BSU) this year. Jackson is currently Treasurer of BSU.

According to evidence released by Linnea Osth, the Chairwoman of a special Senate committee investigating the charges, Jackson and Polity Treasurer Randy Brown illegally contributed $500 to the New York City Housing Authority Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP). Under the law, Polity can have many bank accounts but only one voucher system; no money withdrawn from those accounts can be deposited into any other bank account. According to Osth's written statement to the Senate, the manager of the Stony Brook branch of the Suffolk County Savings Bank said that Jackson and Brown opened a $500 account in the name of NAACP. At the time that the check was deposited, Jackson was president of the Youth Branch of that NAACP Chapter.

BSU so far has refused to release any information about this affair. "BSU has unconditionally refused to submit any information to us pertaining to minutes of the Finance Committee or Executive Council," said O'Neill College Senator Dave Weisberg, a member of the committee. BSU spokesmen were unavailable for comment late last night.

The strongest charges levied upon Jackson by the committee deal with $200 missing from the bail fund, and allegedly taken by him. According to records obtained by the committee, Hank Izzard on January 15, 1978, was bailed out of jail by Marilyn Chapman with her own money. Jackson withdrew $50 from the Polity bail fund the next day, in order to reimburse her, but Chapman maintains that she never received the money.

"On another occasion," wrote Osth, "January 5th, Mr. Jackson withdrew $150 from the bail fund." Jackson told the Senate at its November 1st meeting that he had used the $200 to bail out Michael Croombs. Commuter Senator John Piazza, a committee member, informed the Senate that he had spoken with Croombs, who denied any knowledge of this and said Jackson had never bailed him out at any time.

When asked afterwards for his reaction, Jackson said "Three weeks ago, the Senate set up a committee to investigate what were from the start baseless political charges. The committee itself could not put together any type of legitimate document, therefore the Senate ran amok."

Jackson said he was "ecstatic" that they have turned the matter over to the District Attorney and indeed he cast a proxy vote for Randy Brown in favor of taking such action. Jackson maintains that the charges are "warmed-over impeachment charges." He added that he was found innocent then and "no respectable legal body has the time to play our political games."

"The DA won't hear these charges," he said. "It was done to create headlines, and I hope that once this is accomplished, this whole matter will end."

Summons

As if his troubles with Polity were not enough, Jackson has also been issued a summons by the FSA. According to FSA President Joel Peskoff, Jackson was the sole signator on a check cashed by FSA Check Cashing, which was returned from the bank in May 1977 because it required two signatures. Peskoff noted that FSA was now forced to use legal means: a summons for Jackson to appear in First District Court in Hauppauge in order to recover the money. Bookstore employee Sharon Wagner volunteered to present Jackson with the summons. And, according to former Student Assembly delegate Bill Harts, she did so after the Polity Senate meeting of Wednesday, October 25.

Polity Fights Against Parking Fee

By DAN ROTH
and JACK MILLROD

Polity President Keith Scarmato announced the beginning of a "multi-pronged attack" and "media campaign" to prevent the proposed parking registration fee from being imposed on the campus population.

The climax of these operations will come at the November 28 meeting of the State University Board of Trustees, who will decide whether or not the Administration will be permitted to charge this fee.

"We're hitting the legislators; we're doing an out and out signature drive", Scarmato said regarding a petition among students protesting the fee. In two days, over 2000 students have signed. "I want 10,000 minimum by next Wednesday", Scarmato added, saying also that the protest was supported by the Civil Service Employees Association (CSEA) and the faculty.

Other methods of protest include the preparing of testimony for the preliminary meeting of the Trustees on November 27, informing the neighboring community that the fee may cause students to park off campus on side streets, and a massive letter sending campaign to inform students and their families of the actual consequences of such a fee. "We will consider drastic means if they do go ahead and impose the fee," said Scarmato, specifying these means as legal action and a campus-wide strike.

Last month, the Administration brought their case to the Trustees, who postponed their decision for one month until they could receive more information. The registration fee would cost faculty and staff $2.50, and students $5, half of which, according to University Business Manager Robert Chason, would cover the cost of registration, and half for maintaining the University bus service, which currently runs at a deficit. When asked if it would be used for related expenses, such as road

YOU CAN WIN $100

In Statesman's "Ace Reporter Contest"

TO ENTER Come down to Statesman (Room 058) in the Union and complete two reporting assignments, one must be a hard news article. You will then be eligible to win the first prize of $100, or either of the two $25 second prizes

To get assignments, see or leave message for:
 NEWS EDITOR RICH BERGOVOY
 FEATURE EDITOR CHRIS FAIRHALL
 ARTS EDITOR JOEL CHRISS
 SPORTS DIRECTOR LENN ROBBINS

Specifications

The articles that you submit must be typed, triple spaced, between three and five pages long, submitted in duplicate, and in time to meet the assignment's deadline. Any articles not in compliance with these specifications may be disqualified. Suitable articles will be published in Statesman throughout the remainder of the semester. With the exception of Statesman editors and former editors, all undergraduate students are eligible.

Judging

A panel of three professional newspapermen will evaluate each article on the basis of how well it is written, and how well it is researched. The panel will consist of:
 IRVIN MOLOTSKY, NY TIMES LI BUREAU CHIEF
 MITCHELL FREEDMAN, NEWSDAY REPORTER
 MICHAEL HART, THREE VILLAGE HERALD EDITOR

Entries will be accepted between October 20 and December 11, 1978

Winners will be announced in the first issue of the Spring semester

So come down and get your assignments and start writing!

Salisbury, Rhodesia (AP) — Rhodesia's transitional government, following days of internal bickering, declared last night that the country's handover to black majority rule is being delayed four months until April 1979.

In terms of the Salisbury agreement between white Prime Minister Ian Smith and moderate local black nationalist leaders, the first universal suffrage elections to choose a black government were scheduled for December 31 of this year.

National

Washington (AP) — There has been a sharp drop in CB radio license applications since last spring, according to the latest Federal Communications Commission (FCC) figures.

Although there were about 14 million licensed CBers at the end of September, FCC figures show, only 106,000 people applied for new licenses that month.

This compares with 465,983 applications last January, and with nearly 1 million at the peak of the CB boom in January 1977.

New York (AP) — A regulation approved yesterday by the city Board of Health affords dairies an extra day to deliver pasteurized milk.

The city health commissioner, Reinaldo Ferrer, announced that the time milk may be sold after pasteurization was changed from three to four days.

There is no health hazard in adding a day to milk's shelf life if the produce is properly

Nuclear Energy In the Future?

By CHRIS FAIRHALL

A nuclear power plant is under construction in Shoreham and is expected to be completed in 1980. There are two nuclear power plants which may be built in Jamesport; these have projected completion dates in the early 1990s. Much controversy has surrounded the use of nuclear energy throughout the country and last night the subject was debated here at Stony Brook.

The Union auditorium was filled to capacity last night from 7:30 PM until 11:00 PM and the audience listened intently to four persons as they discussed many topics, including the effects of nuclear energy on the environment and ways to dispose of radioactive waste.

Speaking in favor of nuclear power plants were Shoreham Nuclear Power Station Project Manager Joseph Novarro and Richard Holland, a Licensing Engineer in Nuclear Safety from Westinghouse.

Taking the stand against nuclear power plants were Chemistry Professor Theodore Goldfarb and Warren Liebold, head of the Long Island Safe Energy Coalition and a former student here who was working to attain a Masters degree in Biology.

Midway through the debate, Goldfarb said, "it's difficult for all of us to make judgments on this." He cited the different interpretations of publications by experts in the nuclear energy field after he said this.

Holland, at the end of the debate said that people outside of the nuclear energy field should have input as to what happens involving construction and utilization of nuclear power plants.

The idea that individuals should participate in deciding whether or not nuclear power plants should be constructed was brought up by Red Balloon Collective member Steven Push. "At some point we have to make a decision. It's not up to people from LILCO and

WARREN LIEBOLD AND THEODORE GOLDFARB speak on reasons against nuclear reactors.

Westinghouse to decide whether we'll have nuclear power. It's not to be left to the scientists. It's the workers whose lives are being decided," he said.

When Goldfarb was asked what other viable energy alternatives there are for the near future, he mentioned solar and windmill energy. He also said that California has a "master plan with alternate sources" and agreed that "coal plants are high polluting."

Novarro said that the "cheapest way to do things is to use nuclear power plants." He said that Goldfarb's idea concerning solar heating was contingent upon having enough electric energy to manufacture the aluminum and glass needed for solar heaters. Goldfarb rebuffed, noting that it takes a small amount of energy to recycle aluminum to use for solar heating.

Referring to the Shoreham Plant, Novarro said that the cooling system discharges hot water a mile off shore in such a way that no damage will be done to the environment.

Negative Effect

Liebold, addressing the possibility of two power plants in Jamesport said that the thermal pollution would have a very negative effect on the local area there.

"We live in a radioactive world but nuclear power will increase that amount of radioactivity. How much additional radiation can humans and other organisms take?" Liebold asked the crowd.

Holland explained how there will be little more radiation absorbed by the general public in comparison to what they receive normally from sunlight and other types of

Manson Denied Parole

California (AP) — Mass murderer Charles Manson was denied parole from his life sentence yesterday after he told the state parole board that he should not be released from prison because he is "totally unsuitable for that world out there." He also denied ever killing anyone.

"I didn't kill nobody and I didn't order nobody to be killed," said the bearded, shaggy-haired Manson, who regaled the Community Release Board with his comments for some three hours.

However, Manson added, "I'm totally unsuitable for that world out there. I don't fit in at all."

The 44-year-old Manson, speaking out for the first time since his 1971 conviction in the Tate-LaBianca murders, alternately sat and stood, waved his arm in exclamation and even sang during his presentation.

"I'm mad," said Manson. "I'm mad; I'm indignant. I'm mad to every bone in my body that I have to come back to the penitentiary when I didn't break no law."

He denied, as he had at his trial, that he ordered members of his roving "family" to murder actress Sharon Tate and six other persons in August 1969.

"If I wanted anyone killed," he said softly, "I'd kill them myself. But I don't want anyone killed because I love my own life. Does that make sense?"

Manson, was originally sentenced to die but his sentence was commuted to life when the death penalty was outlawed in California. He is currently serving nine concurrent life sentences. Prisoners in California are required to appear before the parole board after their first seven years, and then yearly thereafter.

Political activism is not dead at Stony Brook, and the Iranian Students Society intends to prove it next Monday when it demonstrates outside of the Union. The rally set for 11 AM is planned as a measure of solidarity with the struggles of the Iranian people for independence and democracy. Political strife has plagued Iran for the past few years. Many Iranians have been struggling for their political rights since 1953. In 1953, the Shah's power was restored, after a CIA-inspired plot was successful in overthrowing the popular government of Dr. Mossadegh. For the past several months thousands of Iranians have participated in mass demonstrations against what they call the Shah's tyrannical fascist rule. The Iranian students here on campus are angered that the U.S. has armed the Shah, and consistently praised his government, while he denied the Iranian people the basic freedoms that Americans hold dear. —Mike Kornfeld

Polity Fights Fee

upkeep or paying security officers' salaries, Chason answered "No."

However, Scarmato and Stony Brook Council student member Mitchel Grotch, said that money acquired from the fee as it is now proposed, could be used for any items which the Administration might desire, and that the $5 was not a ceiling figure, but could be raised at will in the future. "A hidden tuition hike," Scarmato called it.

Another area of dissent between Chason, and Scarmato and Grotch, is the jurisdiction of the Parking Policies Committee, which rejected the fee scheme by a vote of 7-0. While Scarmato and Grotch saw the Committee's approval as necessary for the plan, Chason pointed out that there had not been a quorum at that meeting, and that the Committee's approval was not needed since, "It's only a consultory body".

Controversy

Further controversy surrounds the October 31 meeting of the Stony Brook Council, on whose agenda was the registration fee as one of the final items. To Scarmato and Grotch, the Trustees, who had formerly been unaware of any opposition to the fee idea, intended for it to be discussed in the "appropriate constituencies and circulated through State channels as required," according to the Council memorandum, meaning discussion by the campus community. Chason said that the student leaders were given notice of the open discussion meeting, "but they chose to send only their student council representative."

Grotch and Scarmato, however, claimed that only Grotch had received adequate notice, which came to him one day before the meeting was held. The memorandum did not specifically describe an allocation of the fee, but stated that excess revenues generated were "to be directed toward the improvement of the campus bus service." When Chason was asked to detail these improvements, he said he was unaware of this later statement.

"No Right"

At the meeting, the parking fee issue arose just before one council member had to depart, and he motioned to table the item. Grotch, a non-voting council member who has the power to second motions, did so. Suddenly, he was interrupted by Richard Kahn, a university attorney, who claimed that Grotch had no such right, while Acting University President T.A. Pond insisted that the Council decide on the "revision" that night. "I couldn't argue with five administrators in two minutes" said Grotch. The motion thus failed, and the fee authorization then passed. Grotch also pointed out that the appropriate budget wasn't presented. "Why isn't there dissemination of information?" he asked. "Open discussion never occurred."

Chason warned that should the Trustees refuse to authorize the parking registration fee, bus service would have to be cut back drastically. Yet Scarmato vows that, in this event, demonstrations will take place similar to those planned should the fee be approved. In the meantime, the emphasis is on the November 28 meeting. "If we can get the money together, we'll sponsor a bus going there," Scarmato said. He said also that he had given a letter of protest to Governor Carey during Carey's visit to Stony Brook two weeks ago. "Seeing as how he did a lot better in Suffolk [in the election] than he expected, it would be nice if he answered his constituents," Scarmato said.

Low Blackmail

Despite the uproar over the proposal to implement a parking registration fee at Stony Brook officials here are still intent on having the plan approved and forcing it down the unwilling throats of the students, faculty and staff of Stony Brook.

The approach the University has taken throughout its quest for another defacto tuition hike has been farcical to say the least. When the Trustees frowned upon the concept of charging a parking fee when the University could not guarantee spaces (which it can't), the University, undeterred, proceeded to request a "registration fee" to bring in new income. In the final analysis, though, if the new fee would not be a parking fee, then what would it be?

"We need the new fee to run the bus service," cried administrators. But busing on this campus is a necessity not a privilege, and the University by dangling it before our eyes is resorting to the lowest form of blackmail. Stony Brook administrators are literally saying, "Give us a parking fee or we'll stop the buses."

And it is "only" a $5 fee they are telling us; but in fact, if the State University Board of Trustees approves the proposal when it meets November 28, it provides authorization to charge the fees but places no ceiling upon the amount of the fees. Conceivably, the University could return next year with a proposal for hiking the fees because busing costs have gone up, or more precisely, the budget deficit has grown wider.

Students are showing their contempt for the proposal, faculty members have voiced opposition and the Civil Service Employees Association (CSEA) has firmly come out against it. No one here wants the Administration's parking fee and despite that, the University intends to have it implemented, with callous disregard for those who would be forced to pay it.

Statesman encourages students to voice their indignation over this abominable plot and tell the administration what it can do with its parking fee.

Survival

For the last few years, Stony Brook has been a relatively quiet University where the students and faculty have been busy pursuing knowledge, particularly in natural science and technology. Many of tomorrow's finest physicists, engineers and technicians may be training at Stony Brook right now.

But they may never get the chance. For, not 20 miles away, sits a big keg of dynamite. It is a force so powerful, that the most advanced technology and science can't control it. That danger is the Shoreham nuclear power plant, which is almost completed. But the story does not end there. The Long Island Lighting Company, which owns and will operate the Shoreham plant, wants to build two plants at Jamesport in the next ten years.

The holocaustic dangers of nuclear power plants are well documented. To begin with, there is always the possibility of leaks. More importantly, there is absolutely no way to dispose of nuclear waste. It's not as if there is no "safe way" as the corporations and corporation-owned scientists would have you believe. There is just no way, period.

But there are alternatives. Although the corporations would have you believe otherwise, energy can be derived from the sun, windmills, and through geothermal devices. These methods are not as profitable as nuclear energy. But someday the world leaders will have to realize that people will have to take first place over profits if this planet is to survive.

Taking the long range view, the only alternative is solar energy. Nuclear energy will kill us through attrition and oil will run out. But the sun will outlive mankind. So it is time to begin heavy funding of research and development of solar energy, not just for home heating but for general use. Statesman challenges Stony Brook with all its technical expertise, to lead the movement toward solar energy.

Cold and Callous

To the Editor:

The University administration has shown a great fuss and public concern in the past two months over the unusually high attrition rate at Stony Brook this year. So far, roughly 1,100 undergraduates have dropped out. Naturally, the administration has shown concern. Each undergraduate is worth about $3,000 in state revenue for the University. Clearly there is something grossly wrong with a University that cannot retain its own students past their first year here.

Polity, as a student government, has continually attacked the administration over the years for directly propagating the cold, unresponsive atmosphere that characterizes Stony Brook. They have continually stressed "reputation" over quality of education.

A recent University survey bares out our contention that students drop out of Stony Brook primarily because of its cold, impersonal atmosphere and students' inability to benefit from a positive "learning experience."

While the University publicly shows concern over the rising "dropout" rate, their behind-the-scenes actions follow the usual path of cold, callous elitism in major decision-making. The proposed registration/bus fee [i.e. Parking Fee] is a clear example of administrative decisions being made by and for the benefit of the administration without formal consultation with students, faculty and staff.

Stony Brook is situated in an environment with no public transportation. Commuting and owning a car on campus is a necessity not a "privilege" as University Business Manager Robert Chason has claimed. Commuters may only park in P-Lot — roughly two miles from Main Campus. A bus service therefore is essential on a campus this size, especially during winter months.

The administration, in essence, is seeking to charge students an additional fee to get an education. This constitutes a hidden "tuition hike" and should be paid out of state funds not students' pockets. If the University is truly concerned about their image, perhaps this might be a good place to start.

The proposed fees will affect faculty and staff as well as students. Polity, the CSEA (Civil Service Employment Association) and the faculty will stand firm and fight the imposition of these fees. If you have any questions or wish to join the cause feel free to contact me at Polity 6-3673.

Iranian Students Outraged At Shah

We are calling upon all of you to raise your voices in support of the heroic struggle of the Iranian people against the regime of the Shah of Iran and in condemnation of the continuing American government support of a regime that has remained in power only by the force of American arms, terror and oppression.

We are asking you to write to your newspapers and show your dissatisfaction with the American news media's untrue reports about Iran. We want to tell the people of the world that the Iranian people are not against modernization and liberalization but are against the Shah's fraudulent modernization, knowing that it is not in the nature of the regime to bring about a true liberalization in Iranian society. Finally we wish to tell everyone that Iranians are being called fanatics because they want a democratic and prosperous Iran, an end to the Pahlavi dynasty's fifty year rule and an end to foreign, especially American, intervention in their country. The people of Iran are struggling and dying to bring about liberty, justice and true progress in Iran.

We are calling upon you to expose the recent savage crimes of the Shah's regime:

- 1) The arrest and killing of thousands of people all over Iran during the past ten months alone.
- 2) The burning alive of 700 men, women and children in the Rex cinema in Abadan.

3) The shooting down of 10,000 people in the streets of Teheran, Sept. 8, known as Bloody Friday.

4) The death of more than 26,000 Iranians in an earthquake in the city of Tabas, which could have been largely prevented if the people's shelters were not made of mud and straw.

5) The killing (of an unknown number) of students in Teheran University and people in the streets of Teheran since last week.

And much, much more has occurred!

People of America, the Iranian people are fighting for a just cause and they need your support in every possible way. They want you to know that they are in solidarity with the American people but that they are against the government's support of the Shah, the sale of arms to Iran, which are used to kill their best sons and daughters, the economic chaos brought about by the activities of American corporations in Iran, the exploitation of Iran's resources by American monopolies and the creation of another 'Vietnam War' in their country.

It is the duty of all concerned humanity to support the courageous struggle of the people of Iran and to condemn and put pressure on the repressive regime.

We must:

- stop the blood bath in Iran,
- end the military government and unlimited martial law and
- free the more than 100,000 political prisoners.

Most Important of all, we must:

- demand an end to American government involvement in Iran and its support of the fascist shah's military government. Without the support of the American government and corporations, the Shah's regime could not stay in power one single day.

People of America, we, the Iranian students, as the voice outside Iran of the Iranian people, shake your hands and ask for your genuine support for the people's just struggle in Iran.

Here are some things you can do:

- 1 — Write letters to the editors of your local newspapers.
- 2 — Bring up the Iranian issue in public gatherings.
- 3 — Write letters of protest to the Iranian embassies and consulates.
- 4 — Write letters of protest to your congressmen.

Long Live the Solidarity of the American and Iranian People!

Anti-KKK March in Boston

By JERRY SCHECHTER

"Death, death, death to the Klan! Power, power, power to the workers!" Three hundred voices rang out in unison through the streets of Roslindale, Hyde Park, and Jamaica Plain in Boston as the International Committee Against Racism and Progressive Labor Party marched against the Ku Klux Klan on Saturday, November 11.

In the past few months in the aforementioned neighborhoods there have been numerous cross burnings, firebombings, and physical attacks on black and immigrant workers by racist gangs associated with, or inspired by, the KKK. Signs such as "Up the KKK, death to CAR" have appeared on walls in these areas. It was here that we marched. InCAR is calling for multi-racial and militant opposition to fascist groups like the Klan and to racist attacks, and for 30 hours work for 40 hours pay and for more jobs! PLP is marching for socialist revolution as the answer to racism and the growing threat of fascism and world war. We explicitly saluted the valiant masses of Iran, millions of whom are in battle daily against the fascist forces of the Shah, who is openly backed by Jimmy KKKarter and the United States ruling Klan.

As the buses from New York City pulled into Roslindale, where the march began, we were met by the Boston "Klan in blue" — the cops. Hundreds and hundreds of them. Their first move was to frisk everyone on the buses — for weapons — before allowing us to disembark. They were worried we would do to the Klan what we did at a planned KKK rally on October 14 at the Boston Commons. That day over 80 InCAR and PLP members sent two Klansmen, and about 10 South Boston Marshalls (the paramilitary wing of the anti-busing movement) and cops to the hospital, as many onlookers cheered us on. The cops knew that if the racists were foolish enough to start trouble, InCAR and PLP would finish it — and them. Thus, the frisking. Then, as an added touch of harassment, they ransacked our buses. But that ended the cops' bluster. The rest of the day belonged to anti-racism and revolution.

Racist Drivel

As hundreds watched our march and rally, we issued a call for people to join with InCAR and PLP in fighting the fascists. Hundreds of InCAR newspapers (The Arrow) and PLP newspapers (Challenge) were sold along the march route. A handful of racist teenagers and red-nosed drunks, the only people who would respond to a KKK leaflet calling for "all whites" to stop our march, drove racist and anti-communist epithets at us. We simply marched past this vermin, who were only emboldened by the presence of the cops. Dozens and dozens of onlookers asked us to contact them about how to join InCAR and/or PLP, and dozens of marchers joined on the spot. Of the 10 people who came from Stony Brook, four joined InCAR and one joined PLP.

The lessons of multi-racial unity and militance were driven home in a very concrete fashion by this march. In order to effect much needed societal change, we need to join together and fight back. What this means for Stony Brook is the following: InCAR, with the help of PLP members, is conducting a campaign against racism and the growing seeds of fascism at Stony Brook. First, we need to fight the growing threat of the elimination of minority students, faculty, and workers by demanding an increase in the number of minorities, at least equivalent to the percentage of minorities in the state population. Second, we need to sever all Stony Brook's links to fascist nations — specifically South Africa and Chile. With South Africa, we're demanding the elimination of all McGraw-Hill books from the bookstore (McGraw-Hill produces over one million books in its South Africa plant) and an end to recruiters from corporations in South Africa (such as IBM on November 15). With Chile, we have been demanding an end to the exchange program between Marine Sciences and Chile. If you agree with this program, become a member of InCAR.

Capitalist Evils

In addition to this, PLP members point out how all the above evils are rooted in capitalism and how only through changing the class structure of society, by socialism, can we hope to finally end racism and fascism.

The fight against fascism extends from Teheran to Boston...to Stony Brook. Join with us. For information, you can contact me at the Psychology Department.

Jackson Charged

 last night, Jackson remarked, I have an attorney, and once this matter is resolved, and I'm proven innocent, as I have been in the past, he will immediately file libel suits against any person that these slanderous statements can be attributed to."

Jackson noted that to the best of his knowledge, "We [NAACP Council] used some of FSA's services, and the check was used to recompensate them. The situation is a year old, and has already been cleared up. It's just more mud to sling," he said.

Pope Gets Down on Nuns

Vatican City (AP) — Pope John Paul II urged nuns to look like nuns, to always wear their "simple and apt" habits to demonstrate their religious status. He warned them against being overwhelmed by "public opinion, even an ecclesiastic one."

Addressing about 600 mother superiors of religious orders, the pope said nuns should not permit any feminist claim to overshadow their call to a chaste, poor and obedient life in the Catholic Church.

A Worm A Day...

Chicago (AP) — The owner of Earthworms Inc. said yesterday that he is adding "Wormburgers" to the 100 recipes he has for using protein-rich dried worms as food supplements.

A fast-food chain has denied rumors that it used ground red worms in its hamburgers. But Darrell Richards, owner of Earthworms, said it's only a "question of time before dried worms will take their place on the diet."

People already eat snails, oysters, octopus, squid and shrimp, and dried worms will mix with any kind of cooking, he said.

Richards, 43, said he cooks worm cookies and worm cakes at home about once a week. "I like them and so do my two children who are nine and 11. But my wife doesn't go for it yet."

"For dinner tonight, I'm going to mix one-tenth cup of dried earthworms to a quarter pound of hamburger and call it a "Wormburger," he said.

Richards said he sells about 1.5 million worms a week at his suburban Elk Grove operation for a variety of uses — like eating up sludge — and has received about 50 inquiries about using them as food for humans.

"The main thing in their preparation is to boil them for five or six minutes to remove the dirt. Then put them in a 350-degree oven for 15 minutes," he said.

"They come out crispy, like a french fry. I like to eat them just like that."

THE FACTS:

1 HUNDREDS OF THOUSANDS OF WOMEN USE ENCARE OVAL.

Encare Oval™ was introduced to American doctors in November 1977. Almost immediately, it attracted widespread physician and patient attention.

Today, Encare Oval is being used by hundreds of thousands of women, and users surveyed report overwhelming satisfaction. Women using Encare Oval say they find it an answer to their problems with the pill, IUD's, diaphragms, and aerosol foams.

2 EFFECTIVENESS ESTABLISHED IN CLINICAL TESTS.

Encare Oval™ was subjected to one of the most rigorous tests ever conducted for a vaginal contraceptive. Results were excellent—showing that Encare Oval provides consistent and extremely high sperm-killing protection. This recent U.S. report supports earlier studies in European laboratories and clinics.

Each Encare Oval insert contains a precise, premeasured dose of the potent, sperm-killing agent nonoxynol 9. Once properly inserted, Encare Oval melts and gently effervesces, dispersing the sperm-killing agent within the vagina.

The success of any contraceptive method depends on consistent and accurate use. Encare Oval™ is so convenient you won't be tempted to forget it. And so simple to insert, it's hard to make a mistake.

If pregnancy poses a special risk for you, your contraceptive method should be selected after consultation with your doctor.

3 NO HORMONAL SIDE EFFECTS.

Encare Oval™ is free of hormones, so it cannot create hormone-related health problems—like strokes and heart attacks—that have been linked to the pill. And, there is no hormonal disruption of your menstrual cycle.

Most people find Encare Oval completely satisfactory. In a limited number of cases, however, burning or irritation has been experienced by either or both partners. If this occurs, use should be discontinued.

4 EASIER TO INSERT THAN A TAMPON.

The Encare Oval™ is smooth and small, so it inserts quickly and easily—without an applicator. There's none of the bother of aerosol foams and diaphragms. No device inside you. No pill to remember every day. Simply use as directed when you need protection.

You can buy Encare Oval whenever you need it...it's available without a prescription. And each Encare Oval is individually wrapped to fit discreetly into your pocket or purse.

5 BECAUSE ENCARE OVAL IS INSERTED IN ADVANCE, IT WON'T INTERRUPT LOVEMAKING.

Since there's no mess or bother, Encare Oval gives you a measure of freedom many contraceptives can't match.

The hormone-free Encare Oval. Safer for your system than the pill or IUD. Neater and simpler than traditional vaginal contraceptives. So effective and easy to use that hundreds of thousands have already found it—quite simply—the preferred contraceptive.

What is the evolution of O'Keefe according to Darwin?

First, there was the idea. A brew with a hearty, full-bodied flavor. A quaff smooth and easy going down. A tankard with a head full of pride. That is the origin of the species O'Keefe. Having adapted and differentiated itself, O'Keefe prospers and proliferates throughout the land. It's a perfect example of the survival of the fittest. And it's also because, "It's too good to gulp."

New Energy Forms

radiation.

Both sides cited different figures for what it costs to establish nuclear power plants, but both agreed that it is expensive to maintain them after two to three decades, after which time the plants must be disassembled due to unsafe radiation levels.

Fission

The plant at Shoreham and the two at Jamesport work by a principle called nuclear fission, which utilizes the energy attained from splitting radioactive atoms. Both sides agreed that fusion, which utilizes energy from joining radioactive atoms, will not be used in the near future because it is too expensive and too hazardous.

Opportunity

The debate was coordinated by the Nuclear Debate Committee, whose members come primarily from ENACT and Red Balloon. According to Jim Strom, both Navarro and Holland "jumped at the opportunity" to speak at Stony Brook.

Get High on Athletics

What do people think of when they hear the name Stony Brook? I'll tell you one thing, it's definitely not its teams.

People here at this tremendous university give a damn only about how they did on their organic chemistry test or where they could get the best deal on some Columbian pot. They don't give a damn about how the athletic teams are doing. They probably wouldn't know, or if they did, wouldn't care if the Patriot Basketball Team overwhelmingly defeated the New York Knicks.

Teams in this school generally lack enthusiasm because there is usually nobody to give them any. If people took time out to cheer for their teams, who by the way, represent all the students and faculty in this university, maybe they would have enough incentive to go out and give the people some entertainment.

What else do you have to do around here? When people aren't studying they are either just bumming around or are some place getting high. If you want to get high, get high watching our basketball team, a high you won't have to smoke for.

That's right, our basketball team. Mine, yours and ours. They represent our school and the community.

The basketball team is not the only exciting team on campus. There's the hockey team. They just defeated St. Francis by the score of 16-4. 16 goals, now that's got to be exciting (definitely more exciting than organic chemistry). Their next game is promised to be a good one. They play against a tough Southern Connecticut State team at the Superior Ice Rink, which in case if you didn't know, and most of you probably don't if you go to Stony Brook, is our home rink.

A TYPICAL SIGHT: Stony Brook basketball players practice while no one is there. It is unfortunate that there is not a much better turnout for the games.

That's not all that Stony Brook athletics offers. We have an excellent squash team and a good swimming team. They both are expected to have excellent seasons. They are worth checking out.

Not being a male chauvinist, I feel that women's sports should be supported as well. That means that both men and women should go see the Women's Basketball Team. I bet that some of the girls on the team could take on any male in this school.

Watch Them Play

A university should be more than a place for academics, it should be a place for athletics and other extra-curricular activities. The intercollegiate varsity teams appreciate students who come watch them play, just as you do when you play your intramural sports.

Monroe Sparks Knicks' Victory

Ohio (AP) — Earl Monroe, known in National Basketball Association circles as "The Pear," added polish to his status as a gem. The 34-year-old guard for the New York Knicks, playing in only his second game since ending a contract dispute that kept him sidelined through the first month of the season, came off the bench to spark the Knicks to a 97-93 victory over the Cleveland Cavaliers.

The spindly-legged veteran tossed in 15 of his 17 points in the second half, helping the Knicks erase an 11-point, third-period deficit and keeping them close until forward Toby Knight's basket and two free throws in the final 1:20 of play sealed the victory.

"I didn't expect to play that much, but we had foul problems and there I was," Monroe said, a happy smile creasing his tired face. "I felt like I was wearing a lead jacket."

"I think I'm in terrible condition. It's going to take another two weeks to get in good condition. And there's a big difference between being in condition and being in game condition," he added.

Very Surprised

Coach Red Holzman, whose Knicks are 3-0 since he took over the reins from Willis Reed, smiled knowingly when asked about Monroe. "I was very, very surprised he was able to do all that. He got bumped around pretty good and he had to reach down a little."

The struggling Cavaliers suffered their 12th loss in 13 games, including six in a row — four straight at home.

"I've done just about everything there is to do," said Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch with resignation. "Five in a row was bad enough to make me do whatever it was that I might do now. We're just going to practice, wait for everybody to jell one night and get a big win, get our center injured Elmore Smith back and we'll get it going again.

"What we're doing right now is going back to basics and waiting for it to work. We don't have time to be inventive, we just have to work hard. The last thing you should do in this type of situation is sit back and wait for miracles. Hard work will make them."
