102 Faculty Workshop

Tabler Center for Arts, Culture, and Humanities

December 5th, 2008

9:00 am - 9:15 am Welcome

Mark Aronoff, Vice-Provost for Undergraduate Education

Break-out Sessions

In the two concurrent sessions, faculty members experienced in teaching the 102 first-year seminar will discuss their experiences with setting goals of the seminar, matching student expectations to theirs, teaching and grading techniques. Additionally, presenters will be prepared to discuss changes made to curriculum once semester began, challenges they faced, and the rewards of teaching the first-year seminar.
