To Whom It May Concern:

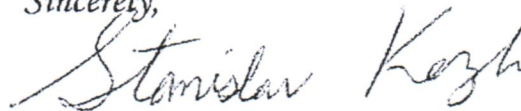

Daniel Yarusso has completed the CPR Re-certification course at S.U.N.Y., Stony Brook in the summer 2010. The material taught includes CPR and First-Aid skills, and the certifying agencies may be delayed in getting the certifications to me.

Therefore this letter is designed to attest to the fact that the above mentioned Individual has completed the requirements for each of the following credentials as of August 16, 2010:

*ARC- CPR for the Professional Rescuer
ARC- First-Aid: Responding to Emergencies*

I will issue the certificates to the student as soon as the certificates arrive from the certifying agencies. If you have any questions, feel free to contact me. (631) 632-4133.

Sincerely,

Daniel Yarusso truly is the lynchpin that has consistently brought Stony Brook Rugby to higher standards both on and off the field. With his guidance Stony Brook has been able to advance to Division 1 after an undefeated season, by focusing on the individual development of each player. Coach Yarusso opens doors for players and guides them to higher levels of play which they may have not found on their own. Last year 8 players were selected to represent Stony Brook as members of the METNY all star select team, more than any other university in our division. From that pool, 3 players were selected to represent the MET NY in all star team representing the entire northeast in the collegiate championships, again, more than most other universities. Finally, one player was even invited to represent his native country's national team. Truly Coach Yarusso is invaluable to this team and this university by creating the best student-athletes Stony Brook has to offer.
