Health & Safety Workshop Oct. 13th

The theme for this year's first H&S workshop is "Wellness QPR.. Ask a Question..Save a Life" will at the Wang Center rm 201 @ noon presented by Kate Valerio from our Student Health Services group and talks about the QPR (Question, Persuade, Refer) as an emergency mental health invention which teaches people to recognize and respond positively to someone exhibiting suicide warning signs and behaviors. It is not a form of counseling or treatment, but is intended to offer hope though positive action and is open to all UUP members, not just mental health professionals. Come & join us in learning about this timely topic at Stony Brook University, presented by one of our own SBU members.

Let's Fight Hunger - Second Annual October Food Drive

Stony Brook University, UUP Community Services Committee and Long Island Cares are again joining together to help fight hunger this October.

With increased demand for food after tropical storm Irene and with hurricane season just beginning we need to help each other more than ever.

Let's make this food drive even bigger and better than last year!

So please bring non-perishable boxed and canned food items to one of the L.I. Cares Food Donation Bins that will be located throughout West Campus and East Campus.

Please check expiration dates and no glass items. Locations will be listed on <http://www.uupsbu.org/>. You can bring nonperishable items to the General Membership meeting on 10/25/11 and deposit in one of the L.I. Cares food donation bins. Contact the UUP Office at 632-6570 or Nancy Gaugler at 632-6241 if you have any questions or for a more detailed list of food items.
Together We Can Make a Difference!

Stony Brook Stitchers - Stony Brook Cancer Patients

With the cold weather quickly approaching Stony Brook Cancer Center Patients would appreciate any donations of full-size afghans.

If you sew, knit, or crochet or know anyone who does please help our patients undergoing treatment. You can contact either Shakeera Thomas or Melissa Donnelly at 632-1522.

Please join the Stony Brook Stitchers, UUP Community Services Committee, and Sister Elizabeth Meehan.
