Strategies Being Discussed

- implement wait lists on all CAS spring courses to monitor demand in order to meet it in summer
 - Not an indication that more seats will be added
- adding wait lists to CAS winter courses that are expected to be over enrolled to be able to act quickly
- considering altering priority of registration for students taking a course for the second time.

Add'l Strategies Discussed 11/4/09

- require students to have a permission slip signed by the Dept before registering for a course the second time
 - to have an advising opportunity
 - to enable graduating seniors to register for the course
 - ~1500/2500 students in fall/spring
- limit students to registering for 16 credits (now 17 credits) until open registration (Jan 22) when limit is raised to 19 credits
 - ~1000 students/semester register for 17
- not allow students to take an overload (more than 19) of credits (now up to 23 credits allowed)
 - ~300 students/semester
- build more and bigger class rooms (long term)
- offer more classes online (intermediate term, not likely for spring)

Answers to some questions asked 11/4/09

- course prerequisites may be enforced through SOLAR
 - requires Dept (via ATC or UGPD) to put in request through appropriate College staff, eg., Kane Gillespie (CAS) or Elyce Winters (CEAS)
 - will require Dept to work in a timely fashion in mid January (Spring) or June (fall) with transfer advising office (Rick Gatteau) to aid with determining whether transfers have met prereqs
 - according to the Undergraduate Bulletin, a faculty member may request (via the Dept'l coordinator) that the Registrar deregister a student who has not attended class the first week (5 days)

- Action requires that a faculty member has a record of attendance
