The Library Services Committee is heading down a new program path . Are you developing a library research idea or do you have a publication in progress ? Have you explored a topic , developed a proposal, or collected data and now are determining the next steps ? If yes, please consider speaking at this forum. Participants will be given the opportunity to present their projects and then receive feedback from their colleagues in the library . The setting will be informal and all staff are welcome to participate and attend.

Who? Any Staff Member of the West Campus Libraries

Please let William or Cynthia know if you would like to participate . We will keep the # of participants at 3 per forum. Dana (#1 participant) has already started some research with surprising results. If more than 3 staff take the challenge then we can have another forum in April.

What? Library Research Forum

When? Tuesday, March 13, Noon - 1:30 MARK DATE ON YOUR CALENDAR!
