Stasia Nikas Adds to Collection of Honors

By MARCO AVENTAJADO

Predictions of her winning her second consecutive Athlete of the Year ran rampant after receiving the American Volleyball Coaches Association Co-Player of the Year as well as being named all-American.

Stasia Nikas, though, did not give in to those predictions.

"I didn't know that I was one of the finalists until one of the [athletic] trainers said it to me," said Nikas.

Her competition for the award was tough, junior basketball star Joan Gandolf and "super-frosh" Julie Bonura gave Nikas a run for her money but in the end it was the senior from Bay Shore who would garner the accolade.

"It ends an excellent year for us," said Head Coach Teri Tiso who also walked away with her second straight Coach of the Year plaque, and third in four years. And what a year it was.

The Patriot volleyball team compiled an awesome record of 37-4 on its way to becoming the No. 3 team in the nation.

Nikas was an integral part of the team, leading the squad in digs (266), kills (503), kill percentage (.332) and aces (61) while also keeping her G.P.A. at 3.0 in her multi-disciplinary major.

During the 1992 campaign, Nikas was named to one all-tournament team to another while also snatching a few MVP's along the way.

Aside from having a great 1992 season, Nikas' collegiate career in Stony Brook has been all too memorable. Nikas became the all time leader in kills for the Patriot volleyball program. "She is one of the best players I've coached," said Tiso.

Aside from her work with the volleyball team, Nikas was also a part of the Patriot Athletes, Trainers and Students Club (P.A.T.S. Club), as well as serving as an official for the Intramural department.

After graduation, Nikas has several options. She was invited to try out for the Team USA volleyball team competing in the 1996 Olympics which will be held in Atlanta, Georgia.

She also was recently was contacted to play along with other exceptional American volleyball players touring Europe. She is also considering a job as an assistant coach at a Division I school.

Roger Gill Lets Feet Do All The Talking

By MARCO AVENTAJADO

After being snubbed during his freshman year, junior Roger Gill won this year's Athlete of the Year.

"I was surprised, happy and all of that," said Gill. He was an all-American in his rookie campaign in the 200 meter dash.

This year, Gill was a 400 meter all-American during the indoor season.

"He is really competitive, yet so quiet," said track Head Coach Steve Borbet. "He is deserving of the award."

This year, Gill was just superb during the season. Most worthy was his part in the University record setting 4 x 400 relay team when he ran the anchor leg in a stunning 46.9.

"It was a great race," said Borbet.

The team comprised of Jerry Canada, Chris Paul and Dan Tupaj qualified for the National Championships with a time of 3:16.6 in the CTC Championships.

Gill can also earn another all-American certificate for the outdoor 400 and 200 meter.

"We're trying to get him qualified for the 200 meter also," said Borbet. The magical time that Gill is shooting for is 21.90 and in his closest time was 21.95. In his freshman year, Gill ran 21.63 when he earned his all-American.

The accolades for Gill have been bountiful this year. He was named Most Valuable Performer in the ECAC championships and the MVP for the indoor and outdoor Patriot team.

Gill foretells his future next year. "I'm going to be National Champion in the 400 meter," said Gill.

Not like Joe Namath or anything but Gill is very confident of his chances and barring any injuries, Gill can make his prophecy a reality.

The Patriot SportSignal is devoting this last issue of the semester to year-end final statistics for all the teams spanning the three seasons as well as each teams' most valuable and most improved players.

We'll take a look back at pictures that were featured in the SportSignal throughout the year.

Samson and Tiso Gain Coaching Honors

The Stony Brook athletic department honored two its own this past Monday as male and female coach of the year were announced.

On the women's side Teri Tiso captured to honor. It was her second consecutive and third in four years. Tiso led the women's volleyball team to national recognition and third place in the National Championships. The Patriots compiled a mark of 37-4 over a long season of action.

The Patriots advanced all the way to the NCAA "Final Four" in St. Louis, Missouri after defeating number one east seed Juniata in three straight sets at the Indoor Sports Complex. The Patriots fell to eventual champion UC-San Diego in the national semifinals, but picked up the third place game with a grueling five-set match win over Calvin of Michigan.

"It feels really good to be recognized," said Tiso on winning her award. "It was a team effort."

Nick Samson claimed honors for the men. He led the men's soccer team to one of their finest showing in years. They posted a 7-9-2 mark and 3-1-1 record against Skyline Conference opponents, which is a vast improvement after going just 2-15-1 several years ago when Samson came in.

The Patriots had a successful year in the Skyline Conference as did Samson, he was honored by the league as their coach of the year as well as at Stony Brook.

ECAC MERIT MEDAL WINNERS

Jennifer Cunniff, Women's Swimming

Jennifer Cunniff of the women's swimming team was named an ECAC Merit Medal winner for her achievement in both athletics and academics this past year.

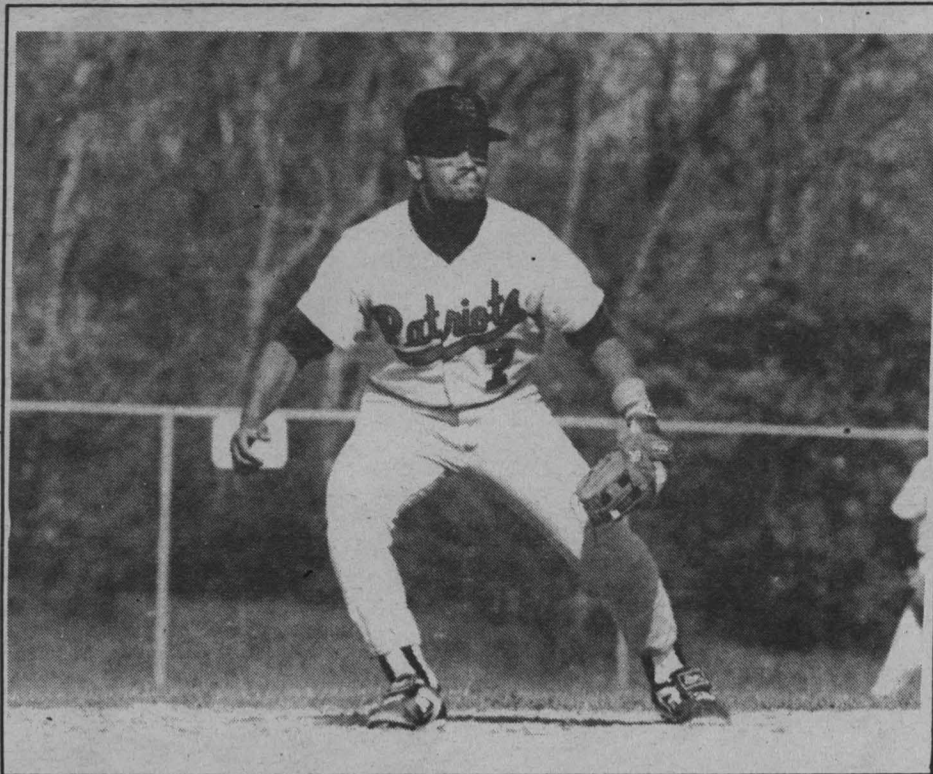

Cunniff is a nursing major at the University with a 3.38 grade point average. She set career best times this season in the 500 freestyle and the 200 individual medley. She served as team captain and took on the task of rebuilding a program that had experienced its first losing season in 13 years.

According to head coach Dave Alexander, Cunniff applied a lead by example approach to her role as captain and made every practice that her academic program allowed. She took an active role in all aspects of the team and was one of the key factors in bringing in a winning season.

Kenny Kortright, Baseball

Kenny Kortright of the baseball team also was honored with the ECAC Merit Medal. Kortright has a 2.86 grade point average in business management. In addition to being a member of the baseball team, he works part time in the sports information office. Kortright also serves as shot clock operator for men's and women's home basketball games.

According to baseball head coach Matt Senk, "Kortright is simply stated a coach's dream. He combines outstanding ability and talent with tremendous desire, dedication and worth ethic, which is rarely seen in athletes today. He is the personification of leadership by example. Kenny will be sorely missed by myself and my team."

Kenny Kortright, the ECAC Merit Medal winner.
